I scheduled the hearing to begin on July 16, 2018, and ordered the parties to submit a proposed prehearing schedule. Based on the parties' agreement, I ORDER the following schedule:

 - May 4, 2018: Deadline for non-expert depositions
 - May 11, 2018: Deadline for exchange of rebuttal expert reports
 - May 25, 2018: Deadline for expert witness depositions
 - June 1, 2018: Filing of Rule 250(c) motions, which must be accompanied by a motion for leave to file the motion for summary disposition
 - June 22, 2018: Filing of oppositions to Rule 250(c) motions
- Deadline for requests under Rule 232 for subpoenas requiring the attendance and testimony of a witness at the hearing

- June 29, 2018: Filing of replies in support of Rule 250(c) motions
- July 6, 2018: Filing of prehearing briefs, stipulations, and admissions of fact
- July 11, 2018: Exchange of premarked exhibits and final witness lists
- A final telephonic prehearing conference will be held at 2:00 p.m. EDT

The parties have advised that they will meet and confer to set a briefing schedule for motions in limine. The parties' proposed schedule should provide me time to rule on the motions in advance of the hearing, giving due regard to the number and complexity of the motions.

The guidelines described in the May 26, 2017, scheduling order remain in effect.
