Dear Sir:

I think stock brokers and insurance salespeople should be much more tightly regulated. Brokers have become the butt of jokes for late night comedians on tv. Jay Leno often says in his monolog
"The Bankers & Wall Street people just don't get it". 67% percent of the American people are angry at the Wall Street, Bankers, and Big Business people.

The serious economic downturn has made average Americans angrier than they normally would be. The Wall Street Journal has horror stories regularly of rich people being ruined by bad rogue brokers. I can go on and on. One of the best things the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt did was create the S.E.C.
Best wishes to all at the S.E.C.

Sincerely,

Gregory Sinkler
