

Subject: Climate Disclosure
From: Mark Bartleman
Affiliation:

Jun. 09, 2021

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the organization. Do not click links or open attachments unless you recognize the sender and know the content is safe.

Chair Gary Gensler,
I'd like to see corporate greenwashing stopped. For too long, corporations and banks have hidden their contributions to the climate crisis and misled the public about their ability to play a role in stopping it.
The Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) has an opportunity to stop corporate greenwashing by requiring meaningful disclosure. The SEC should require companies and banks to reveal information about their climate risks, contribution to climate change (including total direct and indirect greenhouse gas emissions), and other sustainability issues like fair treatment of workers and communities, diversity, equity, and inclusion, environmental and economic benefits and harms, and political spending.
Thank you.
Mark Bartleman

