

Dear SEC,

I disagree and do not support the adding of abusable exemptions to this rule.

The exemptions do NOT help the market but instead help the people who are damaging the market to further damage the market.

Creating new loopholes for the market makers is not serving the public interest and is disgraceful ethically.

William Lloyd

Household Investor