Re: Pay Ratio Disclosure, File No. S7-07-13

Dear Ms. Murphy,

I am an investor.

I strongly support regulations that would require publicly-traded companies to disclose CEO-to-median worker pay ratios. As income inequality reaches unprecedented heights, the public has the right to know which corporations are fueling the yawning gap between rich and poor.

Disclosure of CEO-to-worker pay ratios are also crucial for investors. This information is important for determining whether corporations are diverting resources to executives at the expense of long-term investments and workforce development. Additionally, investors need to be able to gauge whether executives' compensation is falling in line with their performance.

Corporate greed is killing our country. I want to know if the company I am buying into is going to keep America strong for my children or create barriers to their success and happiness. EVERYONE deserves at least a living wage and to share in the prosperity their works creates. I want to know which companies put that into practice.

Sincerely,

Jean Schmisseeur
