

Submitted: 2009-03-05

INVESTOR INFORMATION

Name: Mr. Ken Kapushinski

Chairman Schapiro,

Can you please get off of your duff and do something about the crisis? SKF (the ETF) is killing banks unjustly. If they are going to zero, fine, but there is no good reason to accelerate the process with the SKF and other shorting. Get rid of shorting banks entirely. OK, at least the reinstitute the UPTICK rule. This crisis is an anomaly, why exacerbate the issue by letting the shorts rule the world. It's like a mathematical singularity that will kill everything in banking if you let it go like this. Don't listen to professional shorts that may say otherwise. It's sort of a bubble in reverse. It feeds on itself and cannot keep going without intervention.

Thanks,

Ken