INVESTOR INFORMATION

Name: Mr. Wesley A. Shields

Once again, I am asking that the SEC reinstate the uptick rule on short selling.

Since the removal in 2007 it is clear that short selling has been a major factor in driving down stock prices.

In the era of instant computerized trading huge amounts of money can be thrown against any stock in any company in a flash and cause havoc in the stock of such a company and the economy.

I understand this rule is under consideration again and urge reinstatement be given quick and serious attention.

Sincerely,

Wesley Shields
