Please help me understand the reasoning behind continuing to allow the shorting of stocks by traders and hedge funds? Does the US government not know this was one of the major problems in the stock market in the late 1920's that inturn caused the great depression?

Good companies stocks are being ridden into the ground by short selling. Let's look to history to tell us short selling is destructive, and will destroy some good companies along with investors hard earned money.

It should be your job to protect the average Joe investor, not the profits of professional traders and hedge funds.

Thank you,
