INVESTOR INFORMATION

Name: Mr. Jess Costanzo

The markets have lost thousands of points and trillions of dollars of wealth have been lost. Short sellers have ruled the day all the market experts are requesting the return of a new modernized uptick rule. When will you reinstate this and why has it not been reinstated. Shall we wait until a few more trillions are lost. The Fed chairman also hinted that it may be useful at this point but if we wait too much longer it won't matter.
