Dear Sir, Madam,

Re: File No. S7-08-15

A proposal to have all our financial investment information transmitted to me or other investors via the web is a very bad idea. Our investments that we have worked so hard to earn and will depend upon to retire must not be transmitted via the web, exposed to hackers who will utilize this data to negatively affect us in multiple facets. The potential for illegal movement of our investments is of great concern. The wide spread knowledge of our financial status can also be used to our adverse effect. The U. S Mail is a secure and trusted means that we all rely upon to keep us posted of monthly statements and other most important communication between the investor and the investment house/ broker.

Please do not allow for this internet alternative to be implemented.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "James C. Minton".

James C. Minton
