

Oh Great and wise DTCC wizards behind the curtain, please read the following :

After reviewing your letter attempting to CON-vince everyone that your "No more paper" campaign is the way of the future I say to you consider this,

First : I personally am a victim of NSS manipulation which until recently did not exist according to those paid to protect our investment dollars namely the DTCC and SEC . One of the many reasons for the illegal non-existent NSS finally coming to the forefront is a company called CMKX which I along with several friends and family members own stock. Contrary to what the DTCC implies in the "No more Paper campaign scam" we as a united front finally have achieved market transparency and see right through your paperless scheme. The proposed paperless "electronic Securities certificates" is yet another way of manipulating a market which for years has been plagued with crafty organized manipulative deceit, fostered by greed from brokers, bankers, hedge funds, market maker's as well as those sworn and paid to protect it.

Second : All the while "We The People" have lost any form of control over our investment dollars primarily because of our failure to "see to it" that those entrusted with the power to enforce and regulate the marketplace have failed miserably in doing what "We The People" pay them for. That is about to change as evidenced by the current situation you and your accomplices' find yourself in, hence this last ditch effort by the DTCC to push for "Electronic Securities Certificates". We genuinely appreciate your concern for trying to help us little people via this very efficient new wave paperless securities system but feel you have done enough to the investing public already. However if in your wisdom you insist on making things more efficient we feel your time and our money would be better spent in other directions so kindly perfect the current infected system ridding it from the filth that resides there first. Then once that has been accomplished by all means move on to the "new and improved" Paperless system. After all we are in the new millennium aren't we?

Third : Be forewarned "We The People" will not stand idle any longer allowing this bold blatant attempt of the DRS to be substituted giving the DTCC further and far stronger control over our investment dollars. The writing is on the wall so kindly cease and desist this futile attempt towards a paperless system. The Jig is up ! "We The People" and voting public have drawn the line in the sand do you really want to cross it? Think about it this way "it may be your court.... but it's our ball" The time to do the right thing is now!

CMKX bona fide certificate holder (paper certificate in hand and proud of it)
