

August 1, 2008

The world now knows that the markets are rigged and anyone who has half a brain can see what is going on. The SEC is no longer seen as an overseer of governance in these markets. It is time to do something now before jail time becomes part of the job description.

Craig