Elizabeth M. Murphy
Secretary of the Commission
Securities and Exchange Commission
100 F Street, NE
Washington, DC 20549-1090

Dear Ms. Murphy:

The undersigned associations appreciate the significant efforts of the Securities and Exchange Commission (the “Commission”) and its staff to take a holistic and thoughtful approach to the treatment of cross-border security-based swap activities, as evidenced by the detailed and comprehensive proposed cross-border rules (the “Cross-Border Proposal”) and the Commission’s actions to re-open comment periods for its previously proposed security-based swap rules and policy statement (the “Reopened Proposals”). The associations recognize the Commission’s ongoing commitment to open dialogue... with security-based swap market participants on these proposed rules, and its important efforts to coordinate with other regulators, both outside and inside the United States.

The associations are currently working to prepare comments on the Cross-Border Proposal and to consider the Reopened Proposals. Comments on the Cross-Border Proposal are due August 21, 2013 (90 days after publication of the Cross-Border Proposal in the Federal Register). Comments on the Reopened Proposals, however, are due July 22, 2013 (60 days after publication of the relevant notice in the Federal Register).4

Given its length and complexity, we appreciate the Commission providing a 90-day comment period for the Cross-Border Proposal. We also appreciate the Commission’s foresight in reopening the comment period for the Reopened Proposals in light of the significant impact that the Cross-Border Proposal could have on the application of those rules. However, we are concerned that the 60-day comment period for the Reopened Proposals may be insufficient. We anticipate that the process of analyzing and preparing comments on the Cross-Border Proposal will shed additional light on the potential consequences of the Reopened Proposals. As a result, we expect that it may take additional time for interested parties, including our members, to analyze the various implications of the Cross-Border Proposal on the Reopened Proposals.

Therefore, we respectfully request that the Commission extend the deadline for comments on the Reopened Proposals until September 20, 2013, which is 30 days after the deadline for comments on the Cross-Border Proposal (i.e., 120 days after publication of the Cross-Border Proposal in the Federal Register). We believe this will afford us sufficient time to first analyze and prepare comments on the Cross-Border Proposal and then to consider the implications of the Cross-Border Proposal on the Reopened Proposals. In the alternative, we respectfully request that, at a minimum, the two comment deadlines be aligned to expire on August 21, 2013, 90 days after the publication of the Cross-Border Proposal in the Federal Register.

4 These comment period end dates are those provided on the SEC’s website as of the date of this letter. Should the actual comment period end dates differ from these anticipated dates, we request any extension be aligned with the actual comment period end dates.
We thank the Commission for its consideration of our request.

Respectfully submitted,
