

Dear Sir or Madame:

Regarding the subject line above, you people never cease to amaze me.

Are you so desperate to keep your government job that you continue to dream up ways to perpetuate your unnecessary tax dollar paying jobs and ways?

Please get out of the government industry before you lose all respect for yourselves, as the taxpayers have. I have vowed to vote against any incumbent. I am conservative by political philosophy, but I realize that you are all corrupt. Only when we can limit terms and have decent, intelligent people run for office and win, rather than those with the most money and backing by those who benefit from dooping the American taxpayer, will we have decent, trustworthy government.

I would be embarrassed and ashamed if I were you. You people are absolutely ruining our country because you have no conscience.

Sincerely,
Mike Myers
