

The Dark Triangle of Conflict Minerals in the Eastern DRC

Principality of Exploitation
& impenetrable barrier on the Southern-Africa development outreach route between
Cape Town and Kisangani

- Hampering free association and travel for spontaneous Southern-Africa local economic development.
- Isolating Kisangani and the people in the whole region of the Dark Triangle.
- Preventing the development of Kisangani as a central Africa hub port and economic zone.
- Deminishing the potential for village co-operatives, transport and maritime development along the Congo River and navigable tributaries.
- Denying 18 million isolated people along 14 000 km of navigable rivers access to medical missions and better health management against such scourges as River Blindness.
