Re: Bank of America Corporation
Incoming letter dated January 26, 2011

Dear Mr. Gerber:

This is in response to your letters dated January 26, 2011 and February 14, 2011 concerning the shareholder proposal submitted to Bank of America by Kenneth Steiner. We also have received letters on the proponent's behalf dated February 1, 2011, February 14, 2011, and February 15, 2011. Our response is attached to the enclosed photocopy of your correspondence. By doing this, we avoid having to recite or summarize the facts set forth in the correspondence. Copies of all of the correspondence also will be provided to the proponent.

In connection with this matter, your attention is directed to the enclosure, which sets forth a brief discussion of the Division's informal procedures regarding shareholder proposals.

Sincerely,

Response of the Office of Chief Counsel
Division of Corporation Finance

Re: Bank of America Corporation
Incoming letter dated January 26, 2011

The proposal relates to acting by written consent.

We are unable to concur in your view that Bank of America may exclude the proposal under rules 14a-8(b) and 14a-8(f). In this regard, we note that Bank of America raises valid concerns regarding whether the letter documenting the proponent's ownership is "from the 'record' holder" of the proponent's securities, as required by rule 14a-8(b)(2)(i). However, we also note that the person whose signature appears on the letter has represented in a letter dated January 21, 2011 that the letter was prepared under his supervision and that he reviewed it and confirmed it was accurate before authorizing its use. In view of these representations, we are unable to conclude that Bank of America has met its burden of establishing that the letter is not from the record holder of the proponent's securities. Accordingly, we do not believe that Bank of America may omit the proposal from its proxy materials in reliance on rules 14a-8(b) and 14a-8(f).

We note that Bank of America did not file its statement of objections to including the proposal in its proxy materials at least 80 calendar days before the date on which it will file definitive proxy materials as required by rule 14a-8(j)(1). Noting the circumstances of the delay, we do not waive the 80-day requirement.

Sincerely,

Carmen Moncada-Terry
Special Counsel

DIVISION OF CORPORATION FINANCE
INFORMAL PROCEDURES REGARDING SHAREHOLDER PROPOSALS

The Division of Corporation Finance believes that its responsibility with respect to matters arising under Rule 14a-8 [17 CFR 240.14a-8], as with other matters under the proxy rules, is to aid those who must comply with the rule by offering informal advice and suggestions and to determine, initially, whether or not it may be appropriate in a particular matter to recommend enforcement action to the Commission. In connection with a shareholder proposal under Rule 14a-8, the Division's staff considers the information furnished to it by the Company in support of its intention to exclude the proposals from the Company's proxy materials, as well as any information furnished by the proponent or the proponent's representative.

Although Rule 14a-8(k) does not require any communications from shareholders to the Commission's staff, the staff will always consider information concerning alleged violations of the statutes administered by the Commission, including argument as to whether or not activities proposed to be taken would be violative of the statute or rule involved. The receipt by the staff of such information, however, should not be construed as changing the staff's informal procedures and proxy review into a formal or adversary procedure.

It is important to note that the staff's and Commission's no-action responses to Rule 14a-8(j) submissions reflect only informal views. The determinations reached in these no-action letters do not and cannot adjudicate the merits of a company's position with respect to the proposal. Only a court such as a U.S. District Court can decide whether a company is obligated to include shareholder proposals in its proxy materials. Accordingly a discretionary determination not to recommend or take Commission enforcement action, does not preclude a proponent, or any shareholder of a company, from pursuing any rights he or she may have against the company in court, should the management omit the proposal from the company's proxy material.

2 Rule 14a-8 Proposal
Bank of America Corporation (BAC)
Written Consent
Kenneth Steiner, $60,000 Shareholder, One Decade of Stock Ownership

Ladies and Gentlemen:

This responds further to the January 26, 2011 company request (supplemented) to avoid this rule 14a-8 proposal.

The company is attempting to take maximum advantage of a situation beyond the control of the proponent who has been a shareholder for more than a decade: A broker in the process of transferring his accounts to another broker after nearly two decades in business.

The broker provided broker letters for many years. This may explain why the company negligently ignored the 2011 broker letter when it was received and at which time any potential issue could be resolved in a timely manner according to rule 14a-8 procedures.

The proponent and his agent were not in favor of the broker transferring his accounts to another broker after nearly two decades. However the broker is an independent businessman and he made his own decision.

Mr. Steiner continues to own the required stock and will receive a ballot for the 2011 annual meeting. Mr. Steiner has a powerful incentive to continue to own the same stock that he has owned more than a decade because he will not be able to submit a rule 14a-8 proposal for 2012 unless he does.

The company implicitly claims that it can take advantage of this situation and furthermore not even follow proper procedure in doing so.

The company is in violation of rule 14a-8 if it wishes to avoid this proposal on a procedural issue for which the company was required to give the proponent party advance notice of.

The company no action request provided evidence that the company received the broker letter on October 15, 2010. However the company never asked for the broker letter and the company never responded to the broker letter after it was received according to the company evidence provided.

Re: Stockholder Proposal Submitted by Kenneth Steiner (Chevedden)

Ladies and Gentlemen:

By letter dated January 26, 2011 (the "Initial Letter"), on behalf of Bank of America Corporation (the "Corporation"), we requested confirmation that the staff of the Division of Corporation Finance (the "Division") would not recommend enforcement action if the Corporation omitted a proposal (the "Proposal") submitted by the Kenneth Steiner (the "Proponent") from its proxy materials for the Corporation's 2011 Annual Meeting of Stockholders (the "2011 Annual Meeting") for the reasons set forth therein. In response to the Initial Letter, the Proponent submitted a letter (the "Chevedden Letter") dated February 1, 2011 to the Division indicating its view that the Proposal may not be omitted from the proxy materials for the 2011 Annual Meeting. The Chevedden Letter is attached hereto as Exhibit A.

As counsel to the Corporation, we hereby supplement the Initial Letter and request confirmation that the Division will not recommend enforcement action if the Corporation omits the Proposal from its proxy materials for the 2011 Annual Meeting. This letter is intended to supplement, but does not replace, the Initial Letter. While we believe the arguments set forth in the Initial Letter meet the necessary burden of proof to support the exclusion of the Proposal as provided therein, the Corporation would like to address the matters raised in the Chevedden Letter. A copy of this letter is also being sent to the Proponent.

DISCUSSION

Compliance with Rule 14a-8. The Chevedden Letter claims that the Corporation failed to comply with Rule 14a-8 because it "never asked for the broker letter and the company never responded to the broker letter after it was received” As noted in the Initial Letter, the Proponent is not a record holder and his initial submission dated October 6, 2010 did not include any ownership verification. However, prior to the Corporation making a request for ownership verification (and before the expiration of the 14-day window under Rule 14a-8(f)), Mr. Chevedden submitted the DJF Letter¹ to the Corporation on October 15, 2010. The Corporation initially determined that the DJF Letter appeared on its face to satisfy the eligibility requirements of Rule 14a-8(b) and, accordingly, no further documentary requests were made of the Proponent or Mr. Chevedden with respect to the Proponent’s eligibility to submit the Proposal. The Corporation relied in good faith on the DJF Letter, and there did not appear to be any reason to send the Proponent or Mr. Chevedden a defect letter requesting additional ownership verification. The Corporation should not be penalized, as suggested by Mr. Chevedden, for initially relying in good faith on the DJF Letter.

Securities and Exchange Commission
February 14, 2011

The Ownership Verification Process used by Messrs. Chevedden and Filiberto is Highly Suspect.

The Chevedden Letter fails to address the primary issue raised in the Initial Letter — that the Proponent has not submitted an affirmative written statement from the record holder of his securities and demonstrated his purported ownership of the Corporation’s stock. The Division has repeatedly required that share ownership verification be provided directly by the record holder and not indirectly by a proponent. See Section C.1.c, Staff Legal Bulletin No. 14 (July 13, 2001).

The Chevedden Letter states that the DJF Letter was prepared “under the supervision of Mark Filiberto who signed the letter” and that “Mark Filiberto reviewed and approved the 2011 broker letters that have his signature for the company and for other companies.” The Chevedden Letter also attaches a January 21, 2011 letter signed by Mr. Filiberto (the “Filiberto Letter”). The Filiberto Letter does not specifically reference either the Corporation or the DJF Letter submitted by the Proponent to the Corporation. The Filiberto Letter states that “(e)ach of the DJF Discount Brokers letters for Mr. Kenneth Steiner’s 2011 rule 14a-8 proposals were prepared under my supervision and signature” and that “I [Mr. Filiberto] reviewed each letter and confirmed each was accurate before authorizing Mr. Steiner or his representative to use each letter.”

The Proponent’s and Mr. Filiberto’s explanations do not address or remedy the core issue of satisfying Rule 14a-8’s share ownership requirements. In fact, their statements raise more questions regarding the DJF Letter. In the Filiberto Letter, Mr. Filiberto indicates that he ¹ The term DJF Letter was defined in the Initial Letter as the October 15, 2010 facsimile sent by John Chevedden of a letter dated October 12, 2010 purportedly from DJF Discount Brokers (“DJF”).

Securities and Exchange Commission

verified the DJF Letter. However, it is unclear how Mr. Filiberto was able to verify, on behalf of DJF, that the Proponent was the owner of the Corporation's shares on the date of the letter since it appears that the date was filled in on the DJF Letter after Mr. Filiberto signed the letter. (The Initial Letter contains more discussion on this point.) It is also unusual that Mr. Filiberto would sign the DJF letter prior to reviewing it for accuracy instead of concurrently with his review and authorization to Mr. Chevedden to use the form.

Following Mr. Chevedden's argument, the Division and the Corporation are expected to believe the following: 1) Mr. Filiberto provided numerous blank form letters to Mr. Chevedden, each dated October 12, 2010 and each executed in advance by Mr. Filiberto; 2) Mr. Chevedden communicated with Mr. Filiberto (presumably) at a later date to obtain the correct ownership information for a specific company; 3) Mr. Chevedden, under the "supervision" of Mr. Filiberto, would then complete the pre-signed forms; and 4) Mr. Chevedden would transmit final, completed forms to Mr. Filiberto so that he could "[review] each letter and [confirm] each was accurate before authorizing Mr. Steiner [i.e., Mr. Chevedden]" to use each letter. This process seems highly suspect and quite inefficient. In particular, we note the unusual and questionable practice of a broker sending a client blank, signed forms in which to complete information — a process that could easily be manipulated and abused. We further emphasize that neither Mr. Chevedden nor Mr. Filiberto deny the conclusion reached by the handwriting expert and discussed in the Initial Letter that Mr. Chevedden photocopied and filled in the DJF Letter after Mr. Filiberto signed one form letter.

Even if one accepts the above argument, the DJF Letter is still not an affirmative written statement from the record holder. This is true because a statement prepared by the Proponent (i.e., Mr. Chevedden) does not constitute an affirmative written statement from the record holder, even if the broker "supervised" and "authorized" the Proponent's actions. See Staff Legal Bulletin No. 14, Section C.I.c.2 (July 13, 2001).

In light of the facts and the suspect processes surrounding the DJF Letter, we believe that the Proponent has not satisfied his burden of "proving his or her eligibility to submit a proposal to the company" as required under SLB 14.

Messrs. Chevedden and Filiberto Lack Meaningful Independence and Require Greater Scrutiny.

Messrs. Chevedden and Filiberto (as well as Mr. Steiner) have a longstanding relationship that requires closer scrutiny. Messrs. Chevedden and Filiberto lack the normal independent relationship one expects from an investor and his broker. Mr. Filiberto has been a part of Mr. Chevedden's network of professional stockholder proponents for several years. For example, like Mr. Steiner, Mr. Filiberto, directly and through partnerships owned by him, has submitted proposals under Rule 14a-8 and appointed Mr. Chevedden as his proxy and/or representative. See e.g., American International Group, Inc. (March 16, 2009); Alcoa Inc. (February 19, 2009); Pfizer Inc. (February 19, 2009); and The Coca-Cola Company (February 4, 2008) (submitted by The Great Neck Capital Appreciation LTD Partnership, Mark Filiberto as General Partner) Excerpts of these letters, including Mr. Filiberto's proxy grant to Mr. Chevedden are attached as Exhibit B. In addition, a website called Corporate Governance News has chronicled Mr. Chevedden's efforts. Pages from this website are included in Exhibit B. One entry on this website states, "John Chevedden & associates continue their relentless quest" and a second entry states that "John Chevedden and his associates have been busy and report the following votes at annual meetings[.]" (emphasis added) Corporate Governance News: June 2008, available at http://corpgov.net/?page_id=4098, and Corporate Governance News: April 2008, available at <http://corpgov.net/news/archives2008/april.html>.

Securities and Exchange Commission

In both an April 2008 and a June 2008 posting under the caption "Chevedden Reports," Mr. Filiberto is listed as one of Mr. Chevedden's "associates." Finally, an article in Crain's New York Business (the "Crain Article") from February 2009 discusses the relationship between Messrs. Chevedden and Filiberto. The Crain article is also included in Exhibit B. The Crain Article states that:

Mr. Chevedden's work has introduced him to a network of like-minded investors who consult with each other on which companies to target. The group includes Kenneth Steiner, an investment manager from Great Neck, L.I., who is also the son of a veteran activist. The Steiners' work attracted their financial advisor, Mark Filiberto, president of a small brokerage firm in Lake Success, L.I.

While the protection of stockholder rights is critical to the Division, so is the enforcement of the Commission's rules and regulations. As discussed above, the processes surrounding the DJF Letter and Mr. Steiner's ownership verification are questionable. Further, while we believe and support the Division's general inclination to give deference to stockholders to protect stockholder rights, in light of the pre-existing relationship between Messrs. Chevedden and Filiberto such deference is not appropriate.

Based on the foregoing and the discussion in our Initial Letter, we believe that the Proponent has not satisfied his burden of proving his or her eligibility to submit a proposal to the company. The Proponent has not provided an affirmative written statement from the record holder in the form and manner contemplated by Rule 14a-8 and Division interpretation. Accordingly, the Proposal may be excluded under Rule 14a-8.

On the basis of the foregoing and on behalf of the Corporation, we respectfully request the concurrence of the Division that the Proposal may be excluded from the Corporation's proxy materials for the 2011 Annual Meeting. Based on the Corporation's timetable for the 2011 Annual Meeting, a response from the Division by February 25, 2011 would be of great assistance.

Bank of America Corporation (BAC)

Kenneth Steiner

Ladies and Gentlemen:

This responds to the January 26, 2011 company request to avoid this rule 14a-8 proposal.

The company is in violation of rule 14a-8 if it wishes to avoid this proposal on a procedural issue for which the company was required to give the proponent advance notice of.

The company no action request provided evidence that the company received the broker letter on October 15, 2010. However the company never asked for the broker letter and the company never responded to the broker letter after it was received according to the company evidence provided.

Rule 14a-8 states (emphasis added):

f. Question 6: What if I fail to follow one of the eligibility or procedural requirements explained in answers to Questions 1 through 4 of this section?

The company may exclude your proposal, but only after it has notified you of the problem, and you have failed adequately to correct it. Within 14 calendar days of receiving your proposal, the company must notify you in writing of any procedural or eligibility deficiencies, as well as of the time frame for your response.

The company does not claim that the Apache case said the above rule was defunct.

The broker letter for the company was prepared under the supervision of Mark Filiberto who signed the letter. Mark Filiberto reviewed and approved the 2011 broker letters that have his signature for the company and for other companies. Attached is an additional letter from Mark Filiberto, President, DJF Discount Brokers from September 1992 until November 15, 2010.

This is to request that the Securities and Exchange Commission allow the resolution to stand and be voted upon in the 2011 proxy.

Sincerely,

John Chevedden

By doing this, we avoid having to recite or summarize the facts set forth in the correspondence. Copies of all of the correspondence also will be provided to the proponent.

In connection with this matter, your attention is directed to the enclosure, which sets forth a brief discussion of the Division's informal procedures regarding shareholder proposals.

1 Rule 14a-8 Proposal
Bank of America Corporation (BAC)
Written Consent
Kenneth Steiner

Ladies and Gentlemen:

This responds to the January 26, 2011 company request to avoid this rule 14a-8 proposal.

The company is in violation of rule 14a-8 if it wishes to avoid this proposal on a procedural issue for which the company was required to give the proponent advance notice of.

The company no action request provided evidence that the company received the broker letter on October 15, 2010. However the company never asked for the broker letter and the company never responded to the broker letter after it was received according to the company evidence provided.

Rule 14a-8 states (emphasis added):

f. Question 6: What if I fail to follow one of the eligibility or procedural requirements explained in answers to Questions 1 through 4 of this section?

The company may exclude your proposal, but only after it has notified you of the problem, and you have failed adequately to correct it. Within 14 calendar days of receiving your proposal, the company must notify you in writing of any procedural or eligibility deficiencies, as well as of the time frame for your response.

The company does not claim that the Apache case said the above rule was defunct.

The broker letter for the company was prepared under the supervision of Mark Filiberto who signed the letter. Mark Filiberto reviewed and approved the 2011 broker letters that have his signature for the company and for other companies. Attached is an additional letter from Mark Filiberto, President, DJF Discount Brokers from September 1992 until November 15, 2010.

This is to request that the Securities and Exchange Commission allow the resolution to stand and be voted upon in the 2011 proxy.

Sincerely,

John Chevedden

Re: Stockholder Proposal Submitted by Kenneth Steiner (Chevedden)

Ladies and Gentlemen:

Pursuant to Rule 14a-8 promulgated under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"), and as counsel to Bank of America Corporation, a Delaware corporation (the "Corporation"), we request confirmation that the Staff of the Division of Corporation Finance (the "Division") will not recommend enforcement action if the Corporation omits from its proxy materials for the Corporation's 2011 Annual Meeting of Stockholders (the "2011 Annual Meeting") the proposal described below for the reasons set forth herein. The statements of fact included herein represent our understanding of such facts.

GENERAL

The Corporation received a proposal and a supporting statement dated October 6, 2010, as revised on November 4, 2010 (the "Proposal") from Kenneth Steiner (the "Proponent") for inclusion in the Corporation's proxy materials for the 2011 Annual Meeting. The Proposal is attached hereto as Exhibit A. The 2011 Annual Meeting is scheduled to be held on or about May 11, 2011. The Corporation intends to file its definitive proxy materials with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "Commission") on or about March 30, 2011.

SUMMARY OF THE PROPOSAL

The Proposal requests that the board of directors undertake such steps as may be necessary to permit written consent by shareholders entitled to cast the minimum number of votes that would be necessary to authorize the action at a meeting at which all shareholders entitled to vote thereon were present and voting (to the fullest extent permitted by law).

BACKGROUND

The Proponent submitted the Proposal to the Corporation in a letter dated October 6, 2010, which the Corporation received via email on October 6, 2010. On November 4, 2010, the Proponent submitted a revised proposal via email. On October 15, 2010, John Chevedden sent by facsimile a letter (the "DJF Letter") dated October 12, 2010 purportedly from DJF Discount Brokers ("DJF") as the "introducing broker for the account of Kenneth Steiner . . . held with National Financial Services LLC" certifying that, as of the date of such letter, the Proponent was the beneficial owner of 4,452 of the Corporation's common shares since February 7, 2000. After initial review, the Corporation determined that the DJF Letter appeared on its face to satisfy the eligibility requirements of Rule 14a-8(b). Accordingly, the Corporation relied in good faith on the legitimacy of the DJF Letter to satisfy Rule 14a-8(b), and no further documentary requests were made of Mr. Steiner or Mr. Chevedden with respect to Mr. Steiner's eligibility to submit the Proposal. A copy of the DJF Letter is included in the materials as part of Exhibit A.

REASON FOR EXCLUSION OF PROPOSAL

The Proposal May Be Excluded Under Rule 14a-8(b) and Rule 14a-8(f)(1) Because The Proponent Failed To Provide The Requisite Proof of Continuous Stock Ownership.

The Corporation may exclude the Proposal under Rule 14a-8(f)(1) because the Proponent failed to demonstrate his eligibility to submit the Proposal under Rule 14a-8(b). The Proponent has not submitted an affirmative "written statement from the 'record' holder" of his securities that demonstrates his purported ownership of Corporation stock. Specifically, the evidence of ownership is defective because (1) Mr. Chevedden, and not a DJF representative, filled in the information in the DJF Letter and (2) the DJF Letter contains a photocopied signature from DJF's authorized representative (i.e., DJF's President). The DJF Letter therefore has not satisfied the Proponent's burden of proving his eligibility to submit a proposal to the Corporation.

Rule 14a-8(b)(1) provides, in part, that "[i]n order to be eligible to submit a proposal, [a stockholder] must have continuously held at least $2,000 in market value, or 1%, of the company's securities entitled to be voted on the proposal at the meeting for at least one year by the date [the stockholder] submit[s] the proposal." Staff Legal Bulletin No. 14 (July 13, 2001) ("SLB 14") specifies that when a stockholder is not the registered holder, such stockholder "is responsible for proving his or her eligibility to submit a proposal to the company." A stockholder may deliver this proof in one of the two ways provided in Rule 14a-8(b)(2). See Section C.1.c, SLB 14. Rule 14a-8(b)(2) provides that if a stockholder is not a registered holder and/or the stockholder has not filed with the Commission, with respect to the company, a Schedule 13D, Schedule 13G, Form 3, Form 4, and/or Form 5, the stockholder must prove ownership of a company's securities by "submit[ting] to the company a written statement from the 'record' holder . . . verifying" ownership of the securities. The Division has reiterated the need for stock ownership verification to be provided directly by a record holder and not indirectly by a proponent. Thus, the Division has stated that "a shareholder must submit an affirmative written statement from the record holder of his or her securities that specifically verifies that the shareholder owned the securities" and has concurred that "monthly, quarterly or other periodic investment statements" do not sufficiently demonstrate continuous ownership of a company's securities, even if those account statements repeatedly show ownership of a company's shares and do not report any purchases or sales of such shares during the one year period. Section C.1.c.2, SLB 14 (emphasis added); see Duke Realty Corp. (February 7, 2002) (noting that despite the proponent's submission of monthly statements in response to a deficiency notice, "the proponent ha[d] not provided a statement from the record holder evidencing documentary support of continuous beneficial ownership" of the company's securities for at least one year prior to the submission of the proposal). Likewise, the Division has for many years concurred that documentary support from other parties who are not the record holder of a company's securities is insufficient to prove a stockholder proponent's beneficial ownership of such securities. See, e.g., Clear Channel Communications, Inc. (February 9, 2006) (concurring in exclusion where the proponent submitted ownership verification from an investment adviser that was not a record holder).

In the instant case, as discussed below, the Proponent failed to submit an affirmative written statement from the record holder of his securities to the Corporation. As the Division has stated, in "the event that the shareholder is not the registered holder, the shareholder is responsible for proving his or her eligibility to submit a proposal to the company." Section C.1.c, SLB 14 (emphasis added). While the Division has accepted proof of ownership from brokers, such as DJF, since 2008 to satisfy this requirement, it has not deviated from the requirement that there be an “affirmative written statement from the record holder.” As set forth in more detail below, the attached report from Arthur T. Anthony, a recognized certified forensic handwriting and document examiner (“Handwriting Expert”), concludes that a portion of the October 12, 2010 DJF Letter was, in fact, completed by Mr. Chevedden. Therefore, the DJF Letter does not constitute an “affirmative written statement from the record holder” as required by the standards set out in SLB 14. Section C.1.c, SLB 14

The submission of no-action request letters by International Paper Company (filed January 14, 2011), The McGraw-Hill Companies, Inc. (filed January 13, 2011), and Allstate Corporation (filed January 7, 2011) caused the Corporation to question the validity of the DJF Letter submitted as proof of the Proponent’s ownership of shares of the Corporation. As a result, the Corporation retained the assistance of the Handwriting Expert to analyze the DJF Letter. The Handwriting Expert has prepared a report (the “Handwriting Report”) detailing his analysis of the DJF Letter and other related documents, which is attached to this letter as Exhibit B. The Handwriting Report concludes that the information specific to the Proponent’s ownership of the Corporation’s securities (including the name of the Corporation, the number of shares allegedly beneficially owned, and the date since which the shares allegedly have been held, hereinafter collectively referred to as the “Corporation Specific Information”) is written in different handwriting than that used to provide the information evidencing the Proponent’s account with DJF (specifically, the Proponent’s name and account number and the date of the DJF Letter, hereinafter together referred to as the “Proponent Specific Information”). As the Handwriting Report explains, the Corporation Specific Information in the DJF Letter is in Mr. Chevedden’s handwriting. The Handwriting Report further explains that the Proponent Specific Information in the DJF Letter is an identical reproduction of that appearing on DJF letters submitted to numerous other companies dated the same date (i.e., October 12, 2010), indicating that a single blank letter was signed and then reproduced, presumably with the Corporation Specific Information filled in thereafter.

The Handwriting Report provides numerous examples of DJF ownership verification letters similar to the DJF Letter. See Exhibits #2-7, Handwriting Report. Additional October 12, 2010 letters not included in the Handwriting Report are attached hereto as Exhibit C (the letters found in Exhibits #2-7 of the Handwriting Report and those attached hereto as Exhibit C are collectively referred to at the “October 12 Letters”). Upon comparison of the October 12, 2010 letters, all of them contain the following similarities:

- The date “12 October 2010” is written identically in each letter;
- The second handwritten instance of Mr. Steiner’s name in each letter contains a final “r” that extends over the next word “is”;
- A similar sequence of black marks/smudges appears above the “Sincerely” signatory line;
- Each letter contains the company ticker in parentheses after the company name. This marking is unique to the DFJ Letter and the other October 12 Letters as compared to letters provided by DFJ in prior years;
- The scratched out word “Corp” and insertion of “LLC” appears identical in each letter; and
- Each letter was faxed to the respective company on October 15, 2010.

As with the DJF Letter, the October 12 Letters show one hand was used to complete the name “Kenneth Steiner,” Mr. Steiner’s account number, and the date, while another hand was used to complete the name of the company, the number of shares allegedly beneficially owned, and the date since which the shares allegedly have been held. The only differences on the October 12 Letters is the ownership information that is specific to each company, which appears to have been inserted by Mr. Chevedden, all as detailed herein and as supported by the conclusions contained in the Handwriting Report.

Accordingly, the Corporation believes that, for purposes of Rule 14a-8(b), the Proponent has not satisfied his burden of submitting an affirmative written statement from the record holder of the Corporation’s shares specifically verifying the Proponent’s ownership of shares of the Corporation. Mr. Chevedden’s provision of the name of the Corporation, the number of shares held by the Proponent, and the date since which the shares allegedly have been held does nothing more than represent Mr. Chevedden’s personal and unsupported assertions of the Proponent’s ownership of the Corporation’s securities. In addition, based on the Handwriting Report, it appears that Mr. Chevedden was provided with a single executed “form” letter from DJF and that Mr. Chevedden then made photocopies of this letter and filled in the Corporation Specific Information. The DJF Letter is therefore not a sufficient statement from the record holder verifying the Proponent’s ownership of the Corporation’s securities.

The history of Rule 14a-8 and its minimum ownership and holding period requirements indicates that the Commission was well aware of the potential for abuse of this rule. The Commission has further indicated on several occasions that it would not tolerate such conduct. The Commission amended Rule 14a-8 in 1983 to require that proponents using the rule have a minimum investment in and satisfy a minimum holding period with respect to a company's shares in order to avoid abuse of the stockholder proposal rule and ensure that proponents have a stake "in the common interest of the issuer's security holders generally." Exchange Act Release No. 4185 (November 5, 1948). Moreover, subsequent Division guidance demonstrates that it is not sufficient to submit written statements of a proponent's ownership of a company's securities other than from the record holder of such securities. As noted above, in SLB 14, the Division expressly stated that when a proponent is not the record holder of a company's securities, the written statement of ownership "must be from the record holder of the shareholder's securities." The same guidance confirms that evidence of ownership provided by a proponent, such as brokerage firm account statements, and a written statement from someone who is not the record holder, such as an investment adviser, is insufficient proof with regard to the minimum ownership requirements. See Section C.l.c.1, SLB 14.

The Commission's concerns about abuse of Rule 14a-8 are relevant to the present situation. The Proponent has not satisfied his burden to provide clear and sufficient evidence verifying the Proponent's purported shareholdings. Accordingly, because the Proponent has not fulfilled his responsibility to prove his eligibility to submit the Proposal, the Corporation believes it may properly exclude the Proposal from the proxy materials for its 2011 Annual Meeting pursuant to Rule 14a-8(b) and Rule 14a-8(f)(1).

On numerous occasions the Division has permitted the exclusion of a stockholder proposal based on a proponent's failure to provide satisfactory evidence of eligibility under Rule 14a-8(b) and Rule 14a-8(f)(1). See Union Pacific Corp. (January 29, 2010) (concurring with the exclusion of a stockholder proposal under Rule 14a-8(b) and Rule 14a-8(f) and noting that "the proponent appears to have failed to supply, within 14 days of receipt of Union Pacific's request, documentary support sufficiently evidencing that it has satisfied the minimum ownership requirement for the one-year period required by rule 14a-8(b)"); Time Warner Inc. (February 19, 2009); Alcoa Inc. (February 18, 2009); Yahoo, Inc. (March 29, 2007); Johnson & Johnson (January 3, 2005); and Moody's Corp. (March 7, 2002).

Generally, Rule 14a-8(f) provides that a company may exclude a stockholder proposal if the proponent fails to provide evidence of eligibility under Rule 14a-8, including the beneficial ownership requirements of Rule 14a-8(b), provided that the company timely notifies the proponent of the problem and the proponent fails to correct the deficiency within the required time. The Proponent is not a record holder and his initial submission dated October 6, 2010 did not include any ownership verification. However, prior to the Corporation making a request for ownership verification (and before the expiration of the 14-day window under Rule 14a-8(f)), Mr. Chevedden submitted the DJF Letter to the Corporation on October 15, 2010. As noted above, the Corporation initially determined that the DJF Letter appeared on its face to satisfy the eligibility requirements of Rule 14a-8(b) and, accordingly, no further documentary requests were made of Mr. Steiner or Mr. Chevedden with respect to Mr. Steiner's eligibility to submit the Proposal. As the Corporation relied in good faith on the DJF Letter, there did not appear to be any reason to send the Proponent or Mr. Chevedden a defect letter requesting additional ownership verification. We believe that the Proponent should not, at this time, be provided an opportunity to provide legitimate ownership verification based on the Corporation's decision not to request additional ownership verification in reliance the DJF Letter.

The verification of proof of ownership in Rule 14a-8(b)(2) is a central feature of the Commission's stockholder proposal process. In addition to the issues raised by the DJF Letter and the other October 12 Letters, a recent federal district court case involving Mr. Chevedden and the Apache Corporation also points to concerns about Mr. Chevedden's actions. In that case, the court noted that Apache had "identified grounds for believing that the proof of eligibility [was] unreliable." Apache Corp. v. Chevedden, 696 F. Supp. 2d 723, 741 (S.D. Tex. 2010). Here, even more so than in Apache, due to the conclusions of the Handwriting Report and the facts upon which the Handwriting Expert's analysis is based, we believe that the proof of eligibility submitted by the Proponent does not establish the Proponent's eligibility pursuant to Rule 14a-8(b)(2).

We do not believe that the rules, regulations, and interpretations of the Commission and the Division permit Mr. Chevedden (who is not a record holder) merely to write in information in a stack of pre-signed and partially completed forms from DJF in order to satisfy the ownership verification requirements. Regardless of what Mr. Chevedden may argue for the source of his information, there is no way to verify with any certainty the ownership information provided by Mr. Chevedden in the DJF Letter. Because the DJF Letter is insufficient proof of the Proponent's eligibility to submit a proposal to the Corporation pursuant to Rule 14a-8(b)(2)(i) and the Division's guidance in SLB 14, the Corporation requests that the Division concur with its view that it may exclude the Proposal from the proxy materials pursuant to Rule 14a-8(b) and Rule 14a-8(f)(1).

WAIVER OF 80-DAY SUBMISSION REQUIREMENT

We further request that the Staff waive the 80-day filing requirement as set forth in Rule 14a-8(j) for good cause. Rule 14a-8(j)(1) requires that, if a company "intends to exclude a proposal from its proxy materials, it must file its reasons with the Commission no later than 80 calendar days before it files its definitive proxy statement and form of proxy with the Commission." However, Rule 14a-8(j)(1) allows the Division to waive the deadline if a company can show "good cause." As discussed above, the Corporation initially relied upon the purported verification of ownership in the DJF Letter. We believe that good cause for a waiver exists because of the subsequently obtained information demonstrating that the DJF Letter is not sufficient verification and because the current situation raises fundamental questions regarding the legitimacy of a stockholder's ability to submit a proposal and the integrity of the process under Rule 14a-8. We therefore believe that the Corporation has "good cause" for its inability to meet the 80-day requirement, and we respectfully request that the Division waive the 80-day requirement with respect to this letter.

CONCLUSION

On the basis of the foregoing and on behalf of the Corporation, we respectfully request the concurrence of the Division that the Proposal may be excluded from the Corporation's proxy materials for the 2011 Annual Meeting. Based on the Corporation's timetable for the 2011 Annual Meeting, a response from the Division by February 17, 2011 would be of great assistance.

A copy of this letter is also being sent to the Proponent as notice of the Corporation's intent to omit the Proposal from the Corporation's proxy materials for the 2011 Annual Meeting.

If you have any questions or would like any additional information regarding the foregoing, please do not hesitate to contact me at 704-378-4718 or, in my absence, Craig T. Beazer, Deputy General Counsel of the Corporation, at 646-855-0892.

Thank you for your prompt attention to this matter.

Very truly yours,

Andrew A. Gerber

[BAC: Rule 14a-8 Proposal, October 6, 2010]

3 [Number to be assigned by the company] – Shareholder Action by Written Consent RESOLVED, Shareholders hereby request that our board of directors undertake such steps as may be necessary to permit written consent by shareholders entitled to cast the minimum number of votes that would be necessary to authorize the action at a meeting at which all shareholders entitled to vote thereon were present and voting (to the fullest extent permitted by law).

This proposal topic won majority shareholder support at 13 major companies in 2010. This included 67%-support at both Allstate (ALL) and Sprint (S). Hundreds of major companies enable shareholder action by written consent.

Taking action by written consent in lieu of a meeting is a means shareholders can use to raise important matters outside the normal annual meeting cycle. A study by Harvard professor Paul Gompers supports the concept that shareholder dis-empowering governance features, including restrictions on shareholder ability to act by written consent, are significantly related to reduced shareholder value.

The merit of this Shareholder Action by Written Consent proposal should also be considered in the context of the need for improvement in our company's 2010 reported corporate governance status.

Please encourage our board to respond positively to this proposal to enable shareholder action by written consent – Yes on 3. [Number to be assigned by the company.]

Notes:

The 2010 annual meeting proxy was misleading or confusing due to information arranged in reverse order. In two instances the agent was given priority ahead of the rule 14a-8 proponent.

Please note that the title of the proposal is part of the proposal.

This proposal is believed to conform with Staff Legal Bulletin No. 14B (CF), September 15, 2004 including (emphasis added):

Accordingly, going forward, we believe that it would not be appropriate for companies to exclude supporting statement language and/or an entire proposal in reliance on rule 14a-8(l)(3) in the following circumstances:

- the company objects to factual assertions because they are not supported;
- the company objects to factual assertions that, while not materially false or misleading, may be disputed or countered;
- the company objects to factual assertions because those assertions may be interpreted by shareholders in a manner that is unfavorable to the company, its directors, or its officers; and/or
- the company objects to statements because they represent the opinion of the shareholder proponent or a referenced source, but the statements are not identified specifically as such.

We believe that it is appropriate under rule 14a-8 for companies to address these objections in their statements of opposition.

[BAC: Rule 14a-8 Proposal, October 6, 2010, Update November 4, 2010]

3* – Shareholder Action by Written Consent

RESOLVED, Shareholders hereby request that our board of directors undertake such steps as may be necessary to permit written consent by shareholders entitled to cast the minimum number of votes that would be necessary to authorize the action at a meeting at which all shareholders entitled to vote thereon were present and voting (to the fullest extent permitted by law).

This proposal topic won majority shareholder support at 13 major companies in 2010. This included 67%-support at both Allstate (ALL) and Sprint (S). Hundreds of major companies enable shareholder action by written consent.

Taking action by written consent in lieu of a meeting is a means shareholders can use to raise important matters outside the normal annual meeting cycle. A study by Harvard professor Paul Gompers supports the concept that shareholder dis-empowering governance features, including restrictions on shareholder ability to act by written consent, are significantly related to reduced shareholder value.

The merit of this Shareholder Action by Written Consent proposal should also be considered in the context of the need for improvement in our company's 2010 reported corporate governance status:

The Corporate Library (TCL) www.thecorporatelibrary.com, an independent investment research firm, rated our company "D" with "High Governance Risk," "High Concern" takeover defenses and "High Concern" in executive pay with $29 million for Thomas Montag. Also alarming was the news that our company planned to make discretionary year-end incentive awards.

The Corporate Library said our company now has a risk committee, but Committee Chairman Frank Bramble had management ties: he was Vice Chair of MBNA Corporation, which our company bought in 2005. Furthermore, CEO Brian Moynihan was an insider who served at FleetBoston under former BAC Chairman Charles Gifford (who led FleetBoston before BAC acquired it, and who sat on the search committee that tapped Moynihan).

Mr. Gifford remained on the board along with two other directors (Thomas May and Thomas Ryan) who served together at FleetBoston. It seemed that a FleetBoston "old guard," including the CEO and his former boss, remained as the real power center of the new board.

Virgis Colbert (Chairman of our Nomination Committee) was marked as a "Flagged (Problem) Director" because of his directorship at Delphi Corporation immediately preceding bankruptcy. Charles Gifford (an inside-related director) and Thomas May were marked as "Flagged (Problem) Directors" due to their involvement with the FleetBoston board, which approved a major round of executive pay rewards even as FleetBoston was under investigation for multiple instances of improper activity.

Problem directors Colbert and May were given seats on our Nomination committee. Six of our directors received 9% to 22% in negative votes.

Notes:

Kenneth Steiner,  FISMA & OMB Memorandum M-07-16  sponsored this proposal.

The 2010 annual meeting proxy was misleading or confusing due to information arranged in reverse order. In two instances the agent was given priority ahead of the rule 14a-8 proponent.

Please note that the title of the proposal is part of the proposal.

* Number to be assigned by the company.

This proposal is believed to conform with Staff Legal Bulletin No. 14B (CF), September 15, 2004 including (emphasis added):

Accordingly, going forward, we believe that it would not be appropriate for companies to exclude supporting statement language and/or an entire proposal in reliance on rule 14a-8(l)(3) in the following circumstances:

- the company objects to factual assertions because they are not supported;
- the company objects to factual assertions that, while not materially false or misleading, may be disputed or countered;
- the company objects to factual assertions because those assertions may be interpreted by shareholders in a manner that is unfavorable to the company, its directors, or its officers; and/or
- the company objects to statements because they represent the opinion of the shareholder proponent or a referenced source, but the statements are not identified specifically as such.

We believe that it is appropriate under rule 14a-8 for companies to address these objections in their statements of opposition.

Re: Handwriting Analysis – DJF Discount Brokers Letters

Dear Mr. Gerber:

On January 24, 2011, I was supplied with various electronic copy documents for handwriting analysis. I was requested to examine and compare questioned handwriting entries on a DJF Discount Brokers letter (Exhibit 1) in an attempt to determine whether or not John Chevedden prepared those questioned entries. For comparison purposes I was supplied with several examples of John Chevedden's known standard handwriting. I was also requested to examine and compare handwritten entries on additional questioned DJF Discount Brokers letters in an attempt to determine if some of the handwritten entries in Exhibits 1 through 7 are identical. The following is a detailed description of the submitted documents and the results of my findings.

EXHIBITS:

I.

DJF Discount Brokers - Questioned Documents

1. Photocopy of DJF Discount Brokers letter, dated 12 October 2010, for 4,452 shares of Bank of America Corp (BAC) and signed by Mark Filiberto containing questioned handwritten date "12 October 2010," the "LLC" entry and the "Kenneth Steiner" account and certification names. Note that the attached Post-It Fax Note on this document contains the known standard handwriting of John Chevedden.
4. Photocopy of DJF Discount Brokers letter, dated 12 October 2010, for 700 shares of Fortune Brands Inc. (FO) and signed by Mark Filiberto containing questioned handwritten date "12 October 2010," the "LLC" entry and the "Kenneth Steiner" account and certification names. (VZ) and signed by Mark Filiberto containing questioned handwritten date "12 October 2010," the "LLC" entry and the "Kenneth Steiner" account and certification names. Note that the attached Post-It Fax Note on this document contains the known standard handwriting of John Chevedden.
6. Photocopy of DJF Discount Brokers letter, dated 12 October 2010, for 3,200 shares of Bristol Meyers Squibb (BMY) and signed by Mark Filiberto containing questioned handwritten date "12 October 2010," the "LLC" entry and the "Kenneth Steiner" account and certification names. 15. Photocopy of a Fidelity letter, dated November 21, 2007, to Ray T. Chevedden. Note that the attached Post-It Fax Note on this document contains the known standard handwriting of John Chevedden.

REQUESTS:

A. Whether or not John Chevedden prepared any of the handwriting on the questioned Exhibit 1 DJF Discount Brokers letter.

B. Whether or not any of the handwritten entries on the questioned DJF Discount Brokers letters, Exhibits 1 through 7, are identical.

FINDINGS:

It is my professional opinion that John Chevedden prepared the questioned handwritten "4452" share entry, the handwritten "Bank of America Corp (BAC)" entry and the handwritten "2/7/00" date entry on the questioned DJF Discount Brokers letter in Exhibit 1.

Further examination reveals that the questioned handwritten "12 October 2010," date, the handwritten "Kenneth Steiner" account and certification names, the handwritten "LLC" entry, and the "Mark Filiberto" signature on Exhibits 1 through 7 are all identical reproductions of each other and originated from the same source. These questioned handwritten entries were not prepared by John Chevedden.

REMARKS:

The above findings can be demonstrated through enlarged illustrative charts. If testimony is required, please allow sufficient time for the necessary preparations.

A curriculum vitae outlining my experience in the field of forensic document examination is attached to this report.
