Dear Ms. Quarles,

We are writing on behalf of the Republic of Peru (the “Republic”) to request an interpretive letter that would facilitate the process by which the Republic conducts public offerings of its debt securities in the United States.

Present Procedures

The Republic is a “seasoned” Schedule B issuer eligible to use the procedures for delayed and continuous offerings of securities set forth in Release No. 33-6240 dated September 10, 1980 and Release No. 33-6424 dated September 2, 1982 (the “Releases”).

In accordance with the Releases, the Republic currently has on file with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the “Commission”) an effective shelf registration statement (Registration No. 333-196690), which includes a basic prospectus (the “Basic Prospectus”) containing all of the information required by Schedule B under the U.S.

Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the “Securities Act”) and other information deemed material to investors. The Basic Prospectus is currently required to be updated and delivered to dealers at least annually during any period when offers or sales are being made, and is distributed to prospective investors as required by the Releases. Specific securities are offered by a prospectus supplement (or, if pursuant to a medium-term note program that the Republic may establish in the future, by a prospectus supplement and a pricing supplement, or “sticker”) (all such documentation with respect to any offering, a “Prospectus Supplement”) which, together with any free-writing prospectus, contains the terms of the securities being offered and a description of any material recent developments.

The Prospectus Supplement and any issuer free-writing prospectus, together with the Basic Prospectus, are delivered to purchasers, and all necessary filings are made pursuant to Rule 424 under the Securities Act. The Republic has filed with the Commission an Annual Report on Form 18-K (an “Annual Report”) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the “Exchange Act”).

The Proposal

The Republic hereby requests an interpretive letter permitting it voluntarily to follow the procedures described below for those periods during which it is considering offerings of its securities to the public in the United States.

1. The Republic will annually file an Annual Report with the Commission during any period when it desires to have access to shelf registration procedures. Such Annual Reports would include, as of their respective dates: (i) all of the information and exhibits called for by Form 18-K, and (ii) as additional exhibits thereto, any additional information required under Schedule B to be included in a Schedule B registration statement under the Securities Act (except as set forth in the next paragraph) together with additional information deemed material to investors. The resulting description of the Republic would be substantially as comprehensive as that currently included in the Republic's Basic Prospectus (included in the Republic's registration statement on Schedule B, Registration No. 333-196690, pages ii and iv, 1 through 121, and 145, and Annex A) and such information would be presented in substantially the same format as in that Basic Prospectus.

The Annual Reports would not include certain Schedule B information, such as the description of securities and plan of distribution, which would continue to be included in the applicable basic prospectus and prospectus supplements containing the terms of any offering.

2. The Republic's basic prospectus and any prospectus supplement with respect to any offering of securities would contain a description of the securities offered thereby (including the Republic's obligations with respect to such securities), the plan of distribution, the application of proceeds, the debt record of the Republic, the name and address of its authorized agent in the United States and the names and addresses of counsel who will pass upon the validity of the securities. The basic prospectus, which could be used with respect to both continuous offerings, such as medium-term note programs, and delayed offerings, such as shelf take-downs, would incorporate by reference the most recently filed Annual Report of the Republic (and all exhibits thereto) and all amendments thereto filed on Form 18K/A (and all exhibits thereto).

In order to implement the proposal outlined in this letter, the basic prospectus (or the prospectus supplement, if any, circulated together with such basic prospectus) would contain an undertaking to deliver upon request a copy of the Annual Report and any other information incorporated by reference. The Republic's shelf registration statement in the form it was declared effective currently includes undertakings identical to the undertakings set forth in Item 512(a)(1), (2) and (3) and Item 512(i)(1) and (2) of Regulation S-K. The undertakings included in the Republic's shelf registration statement, in the form it was declared effective, obligating the Republic to file post-effective amendments (i) to include prospectuses required by Section 10(a)(3) of the Securities Act and (ii) to reflect in the Basic Prospectus any facts or events arising after the effective date of the Republic's shelf registration statement (or the most recent post-effective amendment thereto) which, individually or in the aggregate, represent a fundamental change in the information set forth in such registration statement, will be modified so as not to apply if the information required is included in a report under the Exchange Act that has been incorporated by reference into the Republic's shelf registration statement. The agreement to provide legal opinions in post-effective amendments would be modified so as to permit the Republic to furnish such opinions by filing an amendment on Form 18K/A to the Annual Report.

As a result of the foregoing, except as required by the modified undertakings to be included in the Republic's shelf registration statement, the Republic would not be required to file annual post-effective amendments to its shelf registration statement under the Securities Act.

3. At the time when any registered securities are offered to the public, whether on a delayed offering basis or as part of a continuous offering, the basic prospectus, together with a prospectus supplement and any issuer free-writing prospectus, would be delivered to all purchasers. Any material recent developments subsequent to the date of the basic prospectus or the most recent Annual Report, would either be included in (i) a subsequent Annual Report, or in a Form 18-K/A amendment, that is incorporated by reference into the basic prospectus or (ii) the prospectus supplement itself.

4. The Republic will amend its Annual Report through the use of Form 18-K/A as often as is necessary to disclose material information contained in official budgetary, financial and statistical information or any other material information or developments. The Republic anticipates that the timing for the filing of such Annual Reports and such amendments will correspond to the periodic release of official budgetary, financial and statistical information which will provide the basis for the Annual Reports and amendments thereto. At present, it is expected that the Republic's Annual Reports typically would be filed no later than September of each year after the Republic's budgetary information for the previous year has become available, and that amendments would be filed on Form 18K/A at such other times as other material official budgetary, financial or statistical information, if any, may be released, and otherwise as necessary to reflect any other material developments.

5. The information and documents that, under current procedures, must be filed by post-effective amendment at the time of an offering (the terms of the underwriting, any terms agreement, the list of names and addresses of the underwriters, an itemized list of expenses and legal opinions with respect to the securities) would instead be filed on, and incorporated into the shelf registration statement by means of an Annual Report or an amendment thereto on Form 18-K/A.

6. Upon offering any securities, the basic prospectus, prospectus supplement and any issuer free-writing prospectus would be delivered to all purchasers of registered securities, and the Republic would, pursuant to the undertaking to be included in the basic prospectus, provide to each recipient of such basic prospectus, prospectus supplement and issuer free-writing prospectus who so requests, a copy of the most recent Annual Report, together with all exhibits and amendments thereto. If the Republic elects not to offer any securities in a given year, unless it chooses to do so, the Republic would not make an annual public distribution of the Annual Report, or of the exhibits or amendments thereto, or of the basic prospectus to dealers or prospective investors as contemplated by the Releases.

Benefits of Proposal

We believe this proposal has several benefits to investors and to the Republic:

A. The Republic would be able to use shelf registration procedures more similar to those available to foreign private registrants eligible to use Form F-3 and Rule 415, in accordance with the policy underlying the Releases.

B. Up-to-date information with respect to the Republic would be made available to investors in the United States by procedures that are significantly less burdensome and expensive than present procedures.

C. Since the Republic would have the most recently available information on file, it would be in a position to access the United States markets at any time without undue effort or delay.

Timing and Implementation

As described above, the Republic currently has on file an effective registration statement on Schedule B (Registration No. 333-196690), including a Basic Prospectus with a full description of the Republic and its finances. The Republic desires to implement the proposal outlined in this letter as soon as possible by incorporating herein by reference (i) the Annual Report for the Republic's fiscal year ended December 31, 2014, which includes changes and additional information described above that was previously included in the Basic Prospectus, (ii) the new shelf registration statement to provide for the changes to the Basic Prospectus described above and for the incorporation by reference of the Republic's most recent Annual Report and all amendments thereto filed on Form 18-K/A, and (iii) the amendments to the undertakings in Part II of the Republic's new shelf registration statement accordingly, each as filed with the Commission on July 15, 2015.

We believe that the procedures described herein are in accordance with previous interpretive letters issued by the Staff of the Division of Corporate Finance in a number of no-action letters. Conclusion

For the reasons set forth above, we believe our proposal presents an efficient, cost-effective mechanism for the Republic to properly update its shelf registration statement. We therefore request permission for the Republic to file voluntarily with the Commission Annual Reports under the Exchange Act and amendments to such reports on Form 18-K/A, and to incorporate such filings by reference into the Republic's shelf registration statement, all as described above.
