II. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

In its filing with the Commission, the Exchange included statements concerning the purpose of and basis for the proposed rule change and discussed any comments it received on the proposed rule change. The text of these statements may be examined at the places specified in Item IV below. The Exchange has prepared summaries, set forth in sections A, B, and C below, of the most significant aspects of such statements.

A. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

1. Purpose

The Exchange proposes to amend Rule 6.1A regarding Extended Trading Hours.³ Current Rule 6.1A(k) states the Exchange will not report a value of an index underlying an index option trading during Extended Trading Hours, because the value of the underlying index will not be recalculated during or at the close of Extended Trading Hours. Currently, there are two indexes underlying options approved for trading during Extended Trading Hours: the Standard & Poor's 500 ("S&P 500") (underlying options on the S&P 500 (SPX), p.m.-settled options on the S&P 500 (SPXPM) and options on the mini-SPX index (XSP)), and the CBOE Volatility Index ("VIX") (underlying options on the VIX).⁴ The reporting authorities for these indexes currently do not calculate index values during Extended Trading Hours, and thus the Exchange determined it would not be useful or efficient to disseminate to Trading Permit Holders the same value repeatedly at frequent intervals. However, it is possible that one or more reporting authorities may begin to calculate and disseminate index values during these hours.

CBOE, in its capacity as reporting authority for VIX, recently announced plans to calculate and make available current values of VIX every 15 seconds during Extended Trading Hours in March 2016. In order to contemplate this Extended Trading Hours index calculation, the proposed rule change amends Rule 6.1A(k) to provide while it may not be calculated and disseminated at all times during Extended Trading Hours,⁵ current values of VIX will be widely disseminated at least once every fifteen (15) seconds by the ⁴ Currently, SPX, SPXPM and VIX options are listed for trading during Extended Trading Hours (no XSP series are currently listed).

⁵ There may be times when a current value is not available, such as if CBOE (as reporting authority) does not begin making current index values available until after a certain amount of time has passed following the open of the Extended Trading Hours trading session (for example, to ensure sufficient quotes in series used to calculate the index values) or if there are technical issues preventing CBOE (as reporting authority) from calculating index values. During the times the current value of VIX is not available (and thus not disseminated) during Extended Trading Hours, VIX options may continue to be listed for trading during that trading session (as they are today).

Options Price Reporting Authority (“OPRA”)⁶ or one or more major market vendors during that trading session.⁷ To the extent the reporting authority for an index underlying an index option trading during Extended Trading Hours does not calculate or make available current values of that index during that trading session (or part thereof), no current index value will be disseminated during Extended Trading Hours (which is the case today).

The Exchange notes, pursuant to Rule 6.1A(j)(vi), Trading Permit Holders must continue to disclose to customers the risks associated with trading during Extended Trading Hours, including among other things the possibility of the absence of an updated underlying index and lack of regular trading in the securities underlying the index. No current index value underlying any other index option trading during Extended Trading Hours will be disseminated during or at the close of that trading session, as is the case today.

2. Statutory Basis

The Exchange believes the proposed rule change is consistent with the Act and the rules and regulations thereunder applicable to the Exchange and, in particular, the requirements of Section 6(b) of the Act.⁸ Specifically, the Exchange believes the proposed rule change is consistent with the Section 6(b)(5)⁹ requirements that the rules of an exchange be designed to prevent fraudulent and manipulative acts and practices, to promote just and equitable principles of trade, to foster cooperation and coordination with persons engaged in regulating, clearing, settling, processing information with respect to, and facilitating transactions in securities, to remove impediments to and perfect the mechanism of a free and open market and a national market system, and, in general, to protect investors and the public interest. Additionally, the Exchange believes the proposed rule change is consistent with the Section 6(b)(5)¹⁰ requirement that the rules of an exchange not be designed to permit unfair discrimination between customers, issuers, brokers, or dealers.

⁶ CBOE does not expect to disseminate current VIX values during Extended Trading Hours through OPRA; however, this proposed reference is included to accommodate the possibility that changes in the future.

In particular, the proposed rule change does not modify trading rules applicable to Extended Trading Hours. The proposed rule change contemplates the expected calculation of current values of VIX during Extended Trading Hours, which additional information regarding options trading during that trading session removes impediments to and perfect the mechanism of a free and open market and a national market system. The proposed rule change states that the current values of indexes underlying other options trading during Extended Trading Hours will continue to not be disseminated, and thus has no impact on those options.

B. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Burden on Competition

CBOE does not believe that the proposed rule change will impose any burden on competition that is not necessary or appropriate in furtherance of the purposes of the Act. This proposed rule change has no impact on the trading rules applicable to Extended Trading Hours; there will just be additional information available to market participants regarding one product that trades during that trading session. The proposed rule change merely reflects CBOE's plans (as reporting authority for VIX) to calculate and disseminate the current values of VIX during Extended Trading Hours. CBOE understands that one or more major market data vendors (e.g. Bloomberg and Reuters) will widely disseminate the current VIX values during Extended Trading Hours, providing Trading Permit Holders and other market participants with access to those values through those vendors. As CBOE is currently the only U.S. options exchange with Extended Trading Hours, and the only U.S. options exchange on which VIX options are listed for trading, the proposed rule change has no impact on intermarket competition.

B. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Comments on the Proposed Rule Change Received from Members, Participants, or Others

The Exchange neither solicited nor received comments on the proposed rule change.

III. Date of Effectiveness of the Proposed Rule Change and Timing for Commission Action

Because the proposed rule change does not (i) significantly affect the protection of investors or the public interest; (ii) impose any significant burden on competition; and (iii) become operative for 30 days from the date on which it was filed, or such shorter time as the

Commission may designate, the proposed rule change has become effective pursuant to Section 19(b)(3)(A) of the Act¹¹ and Rule 19b-4(f)(6) thereunder.¹²

The Exchange has asked the Commission to waive the 30-day operative delay so that the proposal may become operative on the date that VIX values may become available during Extended Trading Hours, which is expected to be April 15, 2016. The Commission believes that waiving the 30-day operative delay is consistent with the protection of investors and the public interest. The Commission notes that the proposed rule change merely allows VIX values to be disseminated during Extended Trading Hours in the same manner as during Regular Trading Hours and therefore, does not raise any unique or novel issues. Accordingly, the Commission designates the proposed rule change to be operative as of April 15, 2016.¹³

At any time within 60 days of the filing of the proposed rule change, the Commission summarily may temporarily suspend such rule change if it appears to the Commission that such action is necessary or appropriate in the public interest, for the protection of investors, or otherwise in furtherance of the purposes of the Act. If the Commission takes such action, the Commission shall institute proceedings to determine whether the proposed rule should be approved or disapproved.

¹¹ 15 U.S.C. 78s(b)(3)(A).

¹² 17 CFR 240.19b-4(f)(6). As required under Rule 19b-4(f)(6)(iii), the Exchange provided the Commission with written notice of its intent to file the proposed rule change, along with a brief description and the text of the proposed rule change, at least five business days prior to the date of filing of the proposed rule change, or such shorter time as designated by the Commission.

¹³ For purposes only of waiving the 30-day operative delay, the Commission has also considered the proposed rule's impact on efficiency, competition, and capital formation. See 15 U.S.C. 78c(f).
