Sec. 10 Trading Sessions

(a) Days and Hours of Business. Except as otherwise provided in this Rule or under unusual conditions as may be determined by Nasdaq Regulation, transactions in index options may be effected on NOM between the hours of 9:30 a.m. and 4:15 p.m. Eastern time. With respect to options on foreign indexes, Nasdaq Regulation shall determine the days and hours of business, except that transactions in options on the MSCI EAFE Index and MSCI EM Index may be effected on NOM between the hours of 9:30 a.m. and 4:15 p.m. Eastern time. With respect to the MSCI EAFE Index, transactions may be effected on NOM until 11:00 a.m. Eastern Time on the last trading day prior to expiration.

(b) To begin trading at 9:30 am, an opening shall be held in each class of index options as provided in Section 8 of Chapter VI of these Rules (Opening the Market).

(c) Instituting Halts and Suspensions. Trading on NOM in any index option shall be halted or suspended whenever trading in underlying securities whose weighted value represents more than twenty percent (20%), in the case of a broad based index, and ten percent (10%) for all other indices, of the index value is halted or suspended. Nasdaq Regulation also may halt trading in an index option when, in his or her judgment, such action is appropriate in the interests of a fair and orderly market and to protect investors. Among the facts that may be considered are the following:

(1) whether all trading has been halted or suspended in the market that is the primary market for a plurality of the underlying stocks;

(2) whether the current calculation of the index derived from the current market prices of the stocks is not available;

(3) the extent to which the opening has been completed or other factors regarding the status of the opening; and

(4) other unusual conditions or circumstances detrimental to the maintenance of a fair and orderly market are present, including, but not limited to, the activation of price limits on futures exchanges.

(d) Resumption of Trading Following a Halt or Suspension. Trading in options of a class or series that has been the subject of a halt or suspension by Nasdaq Regulation may resume if Nasdaq Regulation determines that the interests of a fair and orderly market are served by a resumption of trading. Among the factors to be considered in making this determination are whether the conditions that led to the halt or suspension are no longer present, and the extent to which trading is occurring in stocks underlying the index. At the end of a halt, trading in each class of index options shall resume as provided in Section 4 of Chapter V of these Rules (Resumption of Trading After A Halt).

(e) Circuit Breakers. Section 5 of Chapter V of these Rules (Trading Halts Due to Extraordinary Market Volatility) applies to index options trading with respect to the initiation of a marketwide trading halt commonly known as a "circuit breaker."

(f) Special Provisions for Foreign Indices. When the hours of trading of the underlying primary securities market for an index option do not overlap or coincide with those of NOM, all of the provisions as described in paragraphs (c), (d) and (e) above shall not apply except for (c)(4).

(g) Pricing When Primary Market Does Not Open. When the primary market for a security underlying the current index value of an index option does not open for trading on a given day, the price of that security shall be determined, for the purposes of calculating the current index value at expiration, based on the opening price of that security on the next day that its primary market is open for trading. This procedure shall not be used if the current index value at expiration is fixed in accordance with the Rules and By-Laws of the Clearing Corporation.

Sec. 11 Terms of Index Options Contracts

(a) General.

(1) Meaning of Premium Bids and Offers. Bids and offers shall be expressed in terms of dollars and cents per unit of the index.

(5) A.M.-Settled Index Options. The last day of trading for A.M.-settled index options shall be the business day preceding the last day of trading in the underlying securities prior to expiration.

The current index value at the expiration of an A.M.-settled index option shall be determined, for all purposes under these Rules and the Rules of the Clearing Corporation, on the last day of trading in the underlying securities prior to expiration, by reference to the reported level of such index as derived from first reported sale (opening) prices of the underlying securities on such day, except that:

(i) In the event that the primary market for an underlying security does not open for trading on that day, the price of that security shall be determined, for the purposes of calculating the current index value at expiration, as set forth in Section 9(g) of this Chapter, unless the current index value at expiration is fixed in accordance with the Rules and By-Laws of the Clearing Corporation; and

(ii) In the event that the primary market for an underlying security is open for trading on that day, but that particular security does not open for trading on that day, the price of that security, for the purposes of calculating the current index value at expiration, shall be the last reported sale price of the security. The following A.M.-settled index options are approved for trading on NOM:

(A) Nasdaq 100 Index.

(B) Mini Nasdaq 100 Index.

(C) PHLX Oil Service Sector SM.

The current index value at expiration of the index is determined by the last reported sale price of each component security. In the event that the primary market for an underlying security does not open for trading on the business day prior to expiration, the price of that security shall be the last reported sale price prior to expiration. The following P.M.-settled index options are approved for trading on NOM:

(A) MSCI EM Index.

(B) MSCI EAFE Index.

(b) No Change

(c) Procedures for Adding and Deleting Strike Prices. The procedures for adding and deleting strike prices for index options are provided in Section 6 of Chapter IV of these Rules (Series of Options Contracts Open for Trading), as amended by the following:

(1) The interval between strike prices will be no less than $5.00[:]; provided, that in the case of the following classes of index options, the interval between strike prices will be no less than $2.50:

- (i) Nasdaq 100 Index, if the strike price is less than $200.
- (ii) Mini Nasdaq 100 Index, if the strike price is less than $200.
- (iii) PHLX Oil Service Sector SM, if the strike price is less than $200.
- (iv) PHLX Semiconductor Sector SM, if the strike price is less than $200.
- (v) PHLX Housing Sector TM, if the strike price is less than $200.
- (vi) MSCI EM Index, if the strike price is less than $200.
- (vii) MSCI EAFE Index, if the strike price is less than $200.

(2) New series of index options contracts may be added up to the fifth business day prior to expiration.

(3) When new series of index options with a new expiration date are opened for trading, or when additional series of index options in an existing expiration date are opened for trading as the current value of the underlying index to which such series relate moves substantially from the exercise prices of series already opened, the exercise prices of such new or additional series shall be reasonably related to the current value of the underlying index at the time such series are first opened for trading. In the case of all classes of index options, the term "reasonably related to the current value of the underlying index" shall have the meaning set forth in Paragraph (c)(4) below.

(4) Notwithstanding any other provision of this paragraph (c), NOM may open for trading additional series of the same class of index options as the current index value of the underlying index moves substantially from the exercise price of those index options that already have been opened for trading on NOM. The exercise price of each series of index options opened for trading on NOM shall be reasonably related to the current index value of the underlying index to which such series relates at or about the time such series of options is first opened for trading on NOM. The term "reasonably related to the current index value of the underlying index" means that the exercise price is within thirty percent (30%) of the current index value. NOM may also open for trading additional series of index options that are more than thirty percent (30%) away from the current index value, provided that demonstrated customer interest exists for such series, as expressed by institutional, corporate, or individual customers or their brokers. Market-makers trading for their own account shall not be considered when determining customer interest under this provision.

(d) – (i) No Change
