	discretionary basis with client funds. Client funds are deposited in either a brokerage firm or a bank custodian account. Compensation provided to Registrant is negotiable and varies, but typically consists of the following components. First, Registrant typically charges an annual fee of 2% of assets under management, which amount is payable in advance in quarterly installments at the beginning or end (depending on the provisions of each client's account agreement) of each calendar quarter based on the net market value of the client's account on the date the fee accrues and becomes payable. Second, Registrant typically receives from each individually managed account a performance fee equal to 20% of net profits of the account (including both realized and unrealized gains and losses), and is allocated from each limited partner in an investment limited partnership a performance allocation equal to 20% of net profits (including both realized and unrealized gains and losses) otherwise allocable to that limited partner. Performance fees and performance allocations are assessed in arrears on a quarterly or annual basis, and are only applied to profits that exceed the cumulative losses previously incurred by or allocated to the respective clients. Registrant complies with Rule 205-3 under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended, to the extent required by applicable law. Registrant believes that its fees are competitive with fees charged by other investment advisers for comparable services. Comparable services may be available, however, from other sources for lower fees than those charged by Registrant. Registrant generally requires a minimum of $10 million to open an individually managed account, but reserves the right to waive this minimum. Limited partners in Registrant's investment partnership clients are required to invest a minimum of $1 million, but the general partner of such partnerships reserves the right to waive the minimum. Except as may be otherwise negotiated in particular cases, a client may terminate an individually managed account by giving 30 days' written notice to Registrant. Relationships with Registrant's investment partnership clients are terminable on expiration of the term of the partnership or dissolution of the partnership pursuant to the terms of its partnership agreement or on Registrant's withdrawal as general partner of that partnership. In all cases, expenses, the pro rata portion of the annual fee and the performance fee or allocation through the date of the termination are charged to the client. All prepaid but unearned advisory fees are refunded to the client on termination of an account. Registrant also provides investment advice through consultations with Lion Investments Limited ("Lion"), a subsidiary of London Merchant Securities plc. The Manager of Registrant first began providing advice to Lion in July 1994. Lion has made no new investments since March 2000. Currently, Registrant monitors 14 Lion portfolio companies, 3 of which are private. Its activity involves meetings with portfolio company management, preparation of financial models, comparable valuation analysis, and recommendations on when to sell the remaining positions. For its work, Registrant receives an annual fee, computed quarterly, of 1% of the lower of cost or value of the portfolio.

Item of Form (identify)	Answer
Part II Page 4 Item 8.D	Registrant acts as general partner of investment limited partnerships formed to invest and trade in the types of securities checked in Part II, Page 3, Item 3, of this Form ADV. Registrant or an affiliate of Registrant may in the future serve as general partner or managing member of one or more additional limited partnerships or limited liability companies (collectively, with the existing investment limited partnerships, the "Weber Funds"). It is possible that clients of Registrant may be solicited to invest in the Weber Funds.
Part II Page 5 Items 9.D &amp; E	As indicated in response to Item 8.D above, clients of Registrant may be solicited to invest in the Weber Funds.  Registrant and its manager, members and employees may personally invest in securities of the same classes as are purchased or sold for clients and may own securities of issuers whose securities are subsequently purchased or sold for clients. Registrant has adopted certain professional standards and guidelines which are designed to ensure that any potential conflicts of interest relating to those purchases and sales are resolved in accordance with applicable securities laws and fiduciary considerations. Except as described below in Items 12 and 13 regarding aggregating securities transactions, if an issue is purchased or sold for clients and any of Registrant and its manager, members and employees on the same day, either the clients and Registrant and its manager, members and employees shall pay or receive the same price, or the clients shall receive the more favorable price. Registrant and its manager, members and employees may also buy or sell specific securities for their own accounts based on personal investment considerations aside from company or industry fundamentals, which Registrant does not deem appropriate to buy or sell for clients.
Part II Page 5 Item 10	Registrant generally requires a minimum investment of $1 million in a Weber Fund. Registrant generally requires a minimum investment of $10 million to open an individually managed account. These minimums may be waived by Registrant in its discretion. Registrant generally requires such limited partners and clients to either have a net worth that exceeds $1,500,000 or invest at least $750,000 in a Weber Fund or individual account and to make representations concerning their sophistication as investors and their ability to bear the risk of loss of their entire investment under Registrant's management.
Part II Page 6 Items 12 &amp; 13	In most cases, Registrant has complete discretion over the selection and amount of securities to be bought or sold and the price to be paid for those securities without obtaining specific client consent. Because Registrant engages in an investment advisory business and manages more than one account, there may be conflicts of interest over Registrant's time devoted to managing any one account and the allocation of investment opportunities among all accounts managed by Registrant. Registrant attempts to resolve all such conflicts in a manner that is generally fair to all of its clients. Registrant may give advice and take action with respect to any of its clients may differ from advice given or the timing or nature of action taken with respect to any particular client so long as it is Registrant's policy, to the extent practicable, to allocate investment opportunities over a period of time on a fair and equitable basis relative to other clients. Registrant is not obligated to acquire for any account any security that Registrant or its managers, members or employees may acquire for its or their own accounts or for the account of any other client, if in the absolute discretion of Registrant,

	it is not practical or desirable to acquire a position in such security for that account. Registrant also has complete discretion over the selection of the broker to be used and the commission rates to be paid. In selecting a broker for any transaction or series of transactions and seeking best execution for such transaction or series of transactions, Registrant may consider a number of factors, including, for example, net price, clearance, settlement, reputation, financial strength and stability, efficiency of execution and error resolution, block trading and block positioning capabilities, willingness to execute related or unrelated difficult transactions in the future, order of call, offering to Registrant on-line access to computerized data regarding clients' accounts, the availability of stocks to borrow for short trades and other matters involved in the receipt of brokerage services generally. Registrant may also purchase from a broker or allow a broker to pay for certain research services, economic and market information, portfolio strategy advice, industry and company comments, technical data, recommendations, general reports, periodical subscription fees, consultations, performance measurement data, on-line pricing, news wire charges, quotation services and the like (a "soft dollar" relationship). Registrant may pay a brokerage commission in excess of that which another broker/dealer might charge for effecting the same transaction in recognition of the value of the brokerage, research and other services and soft dollar relationships. In such a case, however, Registrant determines in good faith that such commission is reasonable in relation to the value of brokerage, research and other services and soft dollar relationships provided by such broker/dealer, viewed in terms of either the specific transaction or Registrant's overall responsibilities to the portfolios over which Registrant exercises investment authority. An account may, however, pay higher brokerage commissions than are otherwise available or may pay more brokerage commissions based on account trading activity. In some instances where the trading activity in a client's account has generated soft dollars, Registrant may not use all of the research and other services obtained with those soft dollars exclusively for that particular client. In addition, some clients may direct Registrant to use a broker that does not provide soft dollar benefits to Registrant. Nevertheless, the research and other benefits resulting from other brokerage relationships would benefit all accounts managed by Registrant or Registrant's operations as a whole. Registrant's relationships with brokerage firms that provide soft dollar services to Registrant influence Registrant's judgment in allocating brokerage business and create conflicts of interest in allocating brokerage business between firms that provide soft dollar services and firms that do not. These conflicts of interests are particularly influential to the extent that Registrant uses soft dollars to pay expenses it would otherwise be required to pay itself. Registrant may aggregate securities sale and purchase orders for clients with similar orders being made contemporaneously for other accounts. In such event, the average price of all securities purchased or sold in such transactions may be determined and a client may be charged or credited, as the case may be, the average transaction price. As a result, however, the price may be less favorable to the client than it would be if similar transactions were not being executed concurrently for other accounts. Registrant may also cause a client

	to buy or sell securities directly from or to another client, if such a "cross-transaction" is in the interests of both such clients. If a client directs Registrant to use a specific broker, however, Registrant has not negotiated the terms and conditions (including, but not limited to, commission rates) relating to the services provided by such broker, Registrant does not have any responsibility for obtaining for the client from any such broker the best prices or particular commission rates with or through any such broker, and the client may not obtain rates as low as it might otherwise obtain if Registrant had discretion to select broker-dealers other than those chosen by the client. In addition, a client that directs Registrant to use a particular broker may not be able to participate in volume discounts for combined transactions directed by Registrant on behalf of its several clients. Subject to applicable legal and regulatory requirements, Registrant may direct a certain amount of brokerage to a broker in return for the broker's referral of prospective clients (subject to the primary requirement of best execution). The direction of brokerage to a broker in exchange for investor referrals creates a conflict of interest in that Registrant has an incentive to refer its clients' brokerage business to brokers to which it might not otherwise direct its brokerage transactions. Registrant understands, however, and scrupulously complies with its fiduciary obligations to its advisory clients. Registrant regularly reviews the commission rates paid by its advisory clients to determine that they are competitive with commissions paid by clients of investment advisers that provide services similar to Registrant.
