The applicant's associated persons in their capacities as SAI registered representatives may retain a portion of the mutual fund sales loads and 12(b)-1 distribution fees and variable annuity commissions. Load mutual funds may be purchased in asset managed accounts on an exception basis at the direction of the client. The load charge will not be waived in such instances, and the client will be asked to sign a Fee Acknowledgement Statement acknowledging that they will pay a load fee in addition to the wrap-fee on the amount of assets under management. The associated persons may offset or reduce the management fee by the amount of commissions or mutual fund sales loads received in their separate capacities as registered representatives. Transaction ticket charges of up to $35 may be passed on to the client at the discretion of the associated persons. In addition, the client may incur a per share charge on the listed stock transactions, a per bond charge on corporate bond transactions and a per option contract charge on option transactions. Fees and charges will be noted on the client's statements and confirmations. Stock and bond trades in the account are subject to normal spreads, mark-ups and mark-downs paid to market makers of those securities. However, the applicant's broker/dealer, SAI, does not make markets in securities, and neither the applicant, SAA nor SAI receive any portion of the spreads, mark-ups or mark-downs. In addition, agency cross transactions are not allowed. Advisory fees are not charged on the basis of a share of capital gains or capital appreciation of the funds or any portion of the funds of an advisory client (SEC Rule 205(a)(1)). Advice offered by the associated persons of the applicant may involve investment in mutual funds. All fees paid to the applicant are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by mutual funds to their shareholders. These fees and expenses are described in each fund's prospectus. These fees will generally include a management fee, other fund expenses and a possible distribution fee. Load and no-load mutual funds may pay annual distribution charges or 12(b)-1 fees. These 12(b)-1 fees and fund company management fees come from fund assets, and thus, indirectly, from client assets. 12(b)-1 fees may be initially paid to SAI and a portion allocated to associated persons in their capacities as registered representatives of SAI. The receipt of these fees could represent an incentive for registered representatives to recommend funds with 12(b)-1 fees or higher 12(b)-1 fees over funds with no fees or lower fees, therefore creating a potential conflict of interest. The applicant does not represent, warranty or imply that the services or methods of analysis used by the applicant can or will predict future results, successfully identify market tops or bottoms or insulate the client from losses due to market corrections or crashes. SEMINARS The applicant offers seminars to employees of local companies. The seminars focus on each company's benefit and retirement plans and participant options. The information provided is on a corporate plan level rather than an individual attendee level. Fees for these corporate seminars will range from $0 to $10,000, and are negotiable depending upon the complexity of the material presented, the number of attendees, the time involved in preparation for the seminar and the length of the seminar presented. If the applicant's associated persons travel over 50 miles in providing the seminar, the corporate client will reimburse the applicant for the travel expenses. Part II-Page 5 #9B	As registered representatives, the applicant's associated persons sell securities to any client for commissions. If it is determined that the trade desk, SAI or the investment advisor representative caused the error, the original transaction will be moved out of the client's account and into the FCM or SAI Error Account right away where the trade correction will take place. If the trade had not been previously placed, a correcting trade will be placed in the FCM or SAI Error Account. In any case where the client does not cause the error, the client will be made whole and any loss resulting from the error will be charged to the representative that caused the error, to FCM or to SAI. In all events, FCM or the SAI Trade Support Department will have the final authority on reversing or covering the trade to correct the error. In cases where a representative caused the error, the representative will not receive any gains generated as a result of the error. FCM or SAI will maintain the gains and in some instances may use such gains to offset any losses the representative will incur resulting from the trading error. The representative will not profit from a trading error at any time. All trading calls placed through FCM are recorded to provide a back-up resource for determining responsibility in the event of a trading error. FCM and SAI will maintain files documenting the correction of all trade errors and, from time to time, SAI's Compliance and/or Supervision Department will review the file to determine that proper trade correction procedures are being followed.

The applicant is and shall continue to be in compliance with The Insider Trading and Securities Fraud Enforcement Act of 1988. As these situations may represent a potential conflict of interest, it is a policy of the applicant that no associated persons shall prefer their own interest to that of the advisory client. No person employed by the applicant may purchase or sell any security prior to a transaction or transactions being implemented for an advisory account. Associated persons shall not buy or sell securities for their personal account(s) where their decision is derived, in whole or in part, by information obtained as a result of their employment unless the information is also available to the investing public upon reasonable inquiry. The applicant maintains a list of all securities holdings for itself and all associated persons, which is reviewed on a regular basis by a principal of the firm. This log is available for client review upon request. According to the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, an investment advisor is considered a fiduciary. Part II-Page 6 #12A(1) & 12A(2)	The applicant requires a minimum of $300,000 to establish and maintain an FAP and/or LifeGuide Account. Exceptions may be granted to this minimum upon request.
Part II-Page 6 #12B	Upon receiving written authorization from the client, the applicant's associated persons may manage a client's assets on a limited discretionary basis. When the associated persons do, they limit their discretionary authority by prohibiting themselves from withdrawing funds and/or securities from the client's account(s) except when written authorization has been provided to have fees automatically deducted from the client's account and paid directly to the applicant and/or its IARs. The applicant's associated persons are registered representatives of Securities America, Inc. (SAI), a full service broker/dealer, member FINRA/SIPC. When placing securities transactions through SAI in their capacities as registered representatives, they may earn sales commissions. Clients wishing to implement the advice of the applicant's associated persons are free to select any broker they wish and are so informed. If the client wishes to have the applicant's associated persons implement the advice in their capacities as registered representatives, the associated persons' broker/dealer, Securities America, Inc. (SAI), will be used. SAI has a wide range of approved securities products for which SAI performs due diligence in selecting. The registered representatives are required to adhere to these products when implementing securities transactions through SAI. Commissions charged for these products may be higher or lower than commissions clients may be able to obtain if transactions were implemented through another broker/dealer.
Part II-Page 6 #13A	The applicant's associated persons sell securities and insurance products, in their separate capacities as registered representatives and independent insurance agents, for sales commissions. Some of the advice offered by the associated persons involves investments in mutual fund products. Load and no-load mutual funds may pay annual distribution charges sometimes referred to as 12(b)-1 fees. The associated persons may receive a portion of 12(b)-1 fees from some investment companies in their separate capacities as registered representatives. The client should be aware that these 12(b)-1 fees come from fund assets and thus, indirectly from client's assets. The receipt of these fees could represent an incentive for registered representatives to recommend funds with 12(b)-1 fees or higher 12(b)-1 fees over funds with no fees or lower fees, therefore creating a potential conflict of interest. The applicant from time to time may receive expense reimbursement for travel and/or marketing expenses from distributors of investment and/or insurance products. Travel expense reimbursements are typically a result of attendance at due diligence and/or investment training events hosted by product sponsors. Marketing expense reimbursements are typically the result of informal expense sharing arrangements in which product sponsors may underwrite costs incurred for marketing such as advertising, publishing and seminar expenses. Although receipt of these travel and marketing expense reimbursements are not predicated upon specific sales quotas, the product sponsor reimbursements are typically made by those sponsors for whom sales have been made or it is anticipated sales will be made. PROXY VOTING The applicant and its associated persons do not vote any proxy on behalf of its clients. Clients are responsible for all voting. All proxies are directed to the clients at their address of record. In some instances, upon request from the client, the applicant's associated persons may give
