Part II Page 2, D 1A(1)	INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT SERVICE Acropolis conducts an initial client interview to obtain detailed financial information and other relevant data to determine the appropriate investment guidelines, risk tolerance, and other factors pertinent to the Client's current financial situation and objectives. Once Acropolis has an understanding of the Client's investment objectives, time horizon and risk tolerance, a recommended investment program is developed to meet the stated goals. The investment program is detailed in an Investment Policy Statement, which is discussed, reviewed and signed by the Client prior to making the initial investments. Individual stocks, bonds and exchange-traded funds are the primary vehicles used in the management of Client portfolios. Depending upon the Client's preferences and recommendations and willingness of Acropolis, other types of investments may be utilized. Such investments may include, but are not limited to, certificates of deposit, bank money market funds, and non-dollar denominated securities. Any and all types of investments may be utilized unless otherwise restricted by the Client and outlined in the Client's Investment Policy Statement. Clients may agree to grant Acropolis full trading discretion. Acropolis shall then have the authority and ability to determine asset selection, pricing, and timing of purchases and sales of individual securities without prior approval from the Client. This includes the authority to direct the investment and reinvestment of any and all assets in client accounts in any type of security or any type of program as deemed to be appropriate by Acropolis and not prohibited under the Client's Investment Policy Statement to achieve the stated goals of the Client. This also includes the authority to vote Client proxies. Reports are provided to the Clients from their custodian indicating all activity in the account and the balance of the account at the end of each month. On a quarterly basis, Acropolis issues reports to Clients illustrating the performance of their account(s). Clients are contacted periodically to discuss the reports and review their objectives and situation for any adjustments or changes.

Item of Form (identify)	Answer
	General Information Regarding Fees For purposes of calculating its fees, Acropolis values securities based on the Client's custodial reports. Custodians typically will use the closing price for all listed securities and either a third party pricing service or matrix pricing for non-listed, fixed-income securities. Other securities or investments in a Client's account that are not priced by the custodian will be valued in a manner determined in good faith by Acropolis to reflect fair market value. For investments in privately-held companies, Acropolis will generally value the investment at its initial cost until circumstances indicate a new fair market value for the investment is appropriate. Fees shall be paid in arrears and are billed based upon the market value of the account on the last day of the billing period. The market value includes interest on fixed income investments which has been accrued but not yet paid. Individuals are generally billed quarterly and institutions are generally billed monthly. Quarterly fees are billed based upon a calendar quarter. Fees for a partial period at the initiation and termination of the agreement will be prorated based upon the number of days the assets were managed. The Client has a right to terminate an agreement without penalty within five business days after entering into the agreement. Unless Acropolis and the Client agree otherwise, the Client authorizes Acropolis to deduct any and all fees when due from the assets held in the account(s). Clients generally receive a statement of management fees 7-10 business days prior to the fees being debited from the account(s). In the event that Acropolis has agreed to bill the Client directly but the Client fails to pay any invoice within 30 days of the date thereof, the Client authorizes Acropolis to debit the fees from the Account.

Part II, Page 2, D 1A(1)	The fees charged by Acropolis do not include additional fees which may be incurred for the implementation of securities transactions or custodial fees. Further, in cases where the Client owns mutual funds, exchange-traded index funds, or other investment company shares; the Client may be paying two levels of management fees; one to Acropolis and one to the company issuing the security. Acropolis will consider such fees prior to investing in any products which would result in the Client paying additional advisory fees. The services offered by Acropolis may be available from other vendors at higher or lower fees. COMPANY SPONSORED RETIREMENT PLANS Acropolis Retirement Plan Solutions, provides investment advice to various company sponsored retirement plans (For example 401(k) plans). As a plan fiduciary, it is the role of Acropolis to assist the plan sponsor with the selection of investment alternatives for plan participants and to provide corresponding general informational materials and educational sessions to plan participants to enable each participant to direct the investment selection for his/her own plan retirement account. Acropolis does not take discretionary control over the investments of a company sponsored retirement plan. Further, decisions regarding individual investment options are made solely by the plan sponsor. Acropolis has no authority to select the investment options or make investments on behalf of plan participants. Upon request, Acropolis will provide individual plan participants with a personal consultation and education regarding the plan options that may be suitable for them. The fees that Acropolis charges for investment advisory services are based upon a percentage of the market value of all assets in the plan. Acropolis does not retain any 12b1 fees paid by the mutual fund companies. Any 12b1 or related fees would be refunded back to the plan.

Part II Page 2, D 1A(1)	PROXY VOTING In accordance with the Investment Adviser Act of 1940, Acropolis provides all clients with a summary of its proxy voting policies and procedures. Acropolis will only exercise proxy-voting discretion over client shares in the instances where clients give Acropolis discretionary authority to vote on their behalf. It is Acropolis' policy to vote client shares primarily in conformity with Glass, Lewis &amp; Co., LLC ("Glass Lewis") recommendations. Glass Lewis is a neutral third party that provides proxy advisory services and issues recommendations based on it own internal guidelines. Acropolis may vote client shares inconsistent with Glass Lewis recommendations if Acropolis believes it is in the best economic interest of its clients and such a vote was not influenced by, and did not result from, a conflict of interest. Acropolis votes client shares via ProxyEdge, an electronic voting platform provided by Broadridge Financial Solutions, Inc. Additionally, ProxyEdge retains a record of proxy votes for each client. Acropolis differentiates proxy issues into two classes: direct financial decisions and corporate governance issues. We define direct financial decisions as those that will have a direct and immediate effect on the value of holdings of our clients such as tender offers, merger issues, shares in lieu of cash, share exchange offers, etc. Corporate governance issues include, but are not limited to, issues such as selection of independent auditors, selection of board members, employee compensation issues, corporate structure and shareholder rights and social policy issues.

The core is represented by exchange traded index funds and the satellites are individual companies that comprise the balance of the asset class. This method allows us to emphasize industries and companies within each asset class that we feel will be superior relative performers. When selecting fixed-income securities, we first determine the tax implications for the Client's account. We then examine major sectors of the bond market including Treasury, Agency, Municipal, Corporate and mortgage-backed bonds. In determining what part of the yield curve to invest in, we consider long-term structural trends in the economy such as government policy, the shape of the yield curve, credit spreads, demographics, interest rates and inflation. Acropolis utilizes the independent third party research provided by CreditSights in its analysis of credit quality. By focusing on quality assets in both equity and fixed income markets, we actively seek to keep turnover to a minimum, which minimizes trading costs and potential taxes, which in turn, reduces portfolio costs and enhances overall performance. Acropolis manages taxable portfolios on a tax efficient basis, harvesting losses when available to offset gains.

	Second, each account is assigned to a Portfolio Manager and a Portfolio Administrator. Together, they are responsible to ensure that the account is invested according to the Client's objectives as outlined in their Investment Policy Statement. Formal Client account reviews are typically performed on a regular basis coordinated with the end of the month results. This may also include a meeting with the Client either in person or by telephone to discuss whether or not the Client has had any material changes that would warrant a redirection of their investment objectives, to discuss any possible tax issues and/or to review the past quarter's performance. These reviews may include, but are not limited to, an analysis of the asset mix, weighting for each category, and a comparison to the stated guidelines for the account. The portfolios will also be reviewed for compliance with asset quality, tax strategy, diversification and concentration guidelines. Periodic portfolio adjustments may be made to fine tune the asset mix relative to diversification and concentration guidelines based upon the degree of variance from the desired levels. Adjustments for asset quality will be made in a timely manner if the portfolio experiences a decrease in asset quality. Acropolis seeks to have an average ratio of no more than 100 Clients to one Portfolio Manager. The Manager will perform the portfolio reviews at least quarterly and will consult with the Security Analyst regarding any investment decisions. Portfolio Managers will report to the Partners of the firm and are directed to act at all times in the sole interest of the Client. Upon performing reviews, the Portfolio Managers are to immediately bring downgrade credit issues to a partner's attention so that appropriate action can be taken on a timely basis. The Portfolio Managers and the Partners will meet no less than bi-monthly as a group to discuss general market conditions, issues related to specific asset types or securities, and to address general questions and topics that may come up from time to time.

Acropolis will also maintain full discretion on the selection of broker/dealers used in the purchase and sale of over the counter securities. For fixed income and non-dollar trades that are done over-the-counter, Acropolis has the discretionary authority to pick a broker other than the Client's custodian to execute a trade. Clients must qualify for prime brokerage to participate in these transactions. To qualify for prime brokerage transactions, the Client must have and maintain a minimum account value of $100,000 or more and sign the appropriate prime brokerage paperwork with the custodian. We use this discretionary authority to trade away from the custodian when purchasing or selling fixed income securities only. It is not used in all cases. Each trade placed at a broker other than the Client's selected custodian results in a clearing charge of approximately $25. Acropolis will shop for the best bid and offer on generic product and execute with the best price. For non-generic products, Acropolis will shop the market to determine the relative value of securities and will execute based upon the best price and availability. Acropolis does not accept commissions, equipment, products or research service in exchange for suggesting brokers to clients. Such soft-dollar arrangements are strictly prohibited. For mutual funds, Acropolis will primarily utilize closed-end and no-load funds; however, open-end funds may be used when it is deemed to be in the Client's best interest as in the case of frequent contributions of relatively small dollar amounts.

Part II Page 6, 12(A)	BLOCK TRADES Acropolis may or may not choose to aggregate orders depending upon the circumstances. Employees may participate in aggregated orders. All non-aggregated trades are executed on a Client-by-Client basis. In the event that a security is either added or removed from the approved securities list and multiple Client accounts are affected, each Client that participates in an aggregated order will participate at the average share price for all transactions for Clients at each custodian in that security on a given business day. Given that there may be more than one custodian involved, Clients may receive different prices based upon the time the order was entered and executed. Acropolis will not favor the Clients of any given custodians and will enter orders involving multiple custodians on a random basis. Transaction costs will be shared pro-rata based on each Client's participation in the transaction or as assigned by the custodian for each account. Acropolis will prepare, before entering an aggregated order, a written statement (Allocation Statement) specifying the participating client accounts and how it intends to allocate the order among those Clients. In the event of a partially filled transaction, we will fill the smallest orders first in whole lots to the extent possible in order to minimize Client transaction costs. As there are many possible different partial allocation scenarios, it is the objective of Acropolis to allocate in such a manner as to minimize the transaction costs for a given trade taking into consideration the relative size of the trade and impact upon each individual account. In the event that there is a partial fill on an aggregated transaction in which any employee account was included, the employee account, regardless of size, will be the last filled.

	CUSTODIAN SELECTION Acropolis may from time to time recommend the use of various custodians based on the Client's investment needs. The custodian suggested must be able to fulfill all obligations to the Client on a competitive basis. When recommending a custodian, Acropolis considers, among other things, its execution capabilities, financial stability, ability to maintain confidentiality, technology and ability to obtain the best price. Acropolis does not accept commissions, equipment, products or research service (soft dollars) in exchange for suggesting custodians to Clients. Clients of Acropolis may currently choose between two custodians: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Charles Schwab &amp; Co., Inc. Part II Page 6, 13(A)	ADDITIONAL BENEFITS Acropolis participates in Charles Schwab &amp; Co., Inc.'s, Schwab Advisor Services program and the TD Ameritrade Institutional Program. As part of its fiduciary duties to Clients, Acropolis endeavors at all times to put the interest of its Clients first. While there is no direct linkage between the investment advice given and participation in these programs, economic benefits are received which would not be received if Acropolis did not give investment advice to Clients. This creates a potential conflict of interest and may indirectly influence Acropolis' choice of custodians for brokerage services. Acropolis may recommend that Clients establish brokerage accounts with Schwab Advisor Services (formerly Schwab Institutional). Schwab Advisor Services is a business segment of the Charles Schwab Corporation serving independent investment advisors. Charles Schwab &amp; Co., Inc. is a FINRA registered broker-dealer and member SIPC. Although Acropolis may recommend that clients establish accounts at Schwab, it is the Client's decision to custody assets with Schwab. Acropolis is independently owned and operated and not affiliated with Schwab. Schwab provides Acropolis with access to its institutional trading and custody services, which are typically not available to Schwab retail investors. These services generally are available to independent investment advisors on a unsolicited basis, at no charge to them so long as a total of at least $10 million of the advisor's clients' assets are maintained in accounts at Schwab Advisor Services. These services are not contingent upon Acropolis committing to Schwab any specific amount of business (assets in custody or trading commissions). Schwab's brokerage services include the execution of securities transactions, custody, research, and access to mutual funds and other investments that are generally available only to institutional investors or would require a significantly higher minimum initial investment.

	In evaluating whether to recommend or require that Clients custody their assets at Schwab, Acropolis may take into account the availability of some of the foregoing products and services and other arrangements as part of the total mix of factors it considers and not solely the nature, cost or quality of custody and brokerage services provided. Clients should be aware, however, that the receipt of economic benefits by Advisor in and of itself creates a potential conflict. Acropolis also participates in TD Ameritrade's institutional customer program and Acropolis may recommend TD Ameritrade to Clients for custody and brokerage services. There is no direct link between Acropolis' participation in the program and the investment advice it gives to its Clients, although Acropolis receives economic benefits through its participation in the program that are typically not available to TD Ameritrade retail investors. These benefits include the following products and services provided without cost or at a discount: receipt of duplicate statements and confirmations; research related products and tools; consulting services; access to a trading desk serving adviser participants; access to block trading which provides the ability to aggregate securities transactions for execution and then allocate the appropriate shares to Client account(s); the ability to have advisory fees deducted directly from Client accounts; access to an electronic communications network for Client order entry and account information; access to mutual funds with no transaction fees and to certain institutional money managers; and discounts on compliance, marketing, research, technology, and practice management products or services provided to advisers by third party vendors. The benefits received by Acropolis or its personnel through participation in the program do not depend on the amount of brokerage transactions directed to TD Ameritrade.

Part II Page 6, 13(B)	SOLICITOR ARRANGEMENTS Schwab Advisor Network: Acropolis receives Client referrals from Charles Schwab &amp; Co., Inc. ("Schwab") through Acropolis' participation in the Schwab Advisor Network<sup>TM</sup> ("the Service"). The Service is designed to help investors find an independent investment advisor. Schwab is a broker-dealer independent of and unaffiliated with Acropolis. Schwab does not supervise Acropolis and has no responsibility for Acropolis' management of Clients' portfolios or Acropolis' other advice or services. Acropolis pays Schwab fees to receive Client referrals through the Service. Acropolis' participation in the Service may raise potential conflicts of interest described below. Acropolis pays Schwab a Participation Fee on all referred Clients' accounts that are maintained in custody at Schwab and a Non-Schwab Custody Fee on all accounts that are maintained at, or transferred to, another custodian. The Participation Fee paid by Acropolis is a percentage of the value of the assets in the Client's account. Acropolis pays Schwab the Participation Fee so long as the referred Client's account remains in custody in Schwab. The Participation Fee is billed to Acropolis quarterly and may be increased, decreased or waived by Schwab from time to time. The Participation Fee is paid by Acropolis and not by the Client. Acropolis does not charge Clients referred through the Service fees or costs greater than the fees or costs Acropolis charges Clients with similar portfolios who were not referred through the Service. Acropolis generally pays Schwab a Non-Schwab Custody Fee if custody of a referred Client's account is not maintained by, or assets in the account are transferred from, Schwab. This fee does not apply if the Client was solely responsible for the decision not to maintain custody at Schwab. The Non-Schwab Custody Fee is a one-time payment equal to a percentage of the assets placed with a custodian other than Schwab. The Non-Schwab Custody Fee is higher than the Participation Fees Acropolis generally would pay in a single year. Thus, Acropolis will have an incentive to recommend that Client accounts be held in custody at Schwab.

	The Participation and Non-Schwab Custody Fees will be based on assets in accounts of Acropolis' Clients who were referred by Schwab and those referred clients' family members living in the same household. Thus, Acropolis will have incentives to encourage household members of Clients referred through the Service to maintain custody of their accounts and execute transactions at Schwab and to instruct Schwab to debit Acropolis' fees directly from the accounts. For accounts of Acropolis' Clients maintained in custody at Schwab, Schwab will not charge the Client separately for custody but will receive compensation from Acropolis' clients in the form of commissions or other transaction-related compensation on securities trades executed through Schwab. Schwab also will receive a fee (generally lower than the applicable commission on trades it executes) for clearance and settlement of trades executed at other broker-dealers other than Schwab. Schwab's fees for trades executed at other broker-dealers are in addition to the other broker-dealers' fees. Thus, Acropolis may have an incentive to cause trades to be executed through Schwab rather than another broker-dealer. Acropolis nevertheless, acknowledges its duty to seek best execution of trades for client accounts. Trades for Client accounts held in custody at Schwab may be executed through a different broker-dealer than trades for Acropolis' other Clients. Thus, trades for accounts in custody at Schwab may be executed at different times and different prices than trades for other accounts that are executed at other broker-dealers. TD Ameritrade AdvisorDirect: Acropolis may receive Client referrals from TD Ameritrade, Inc. through its participation in TD Ameritrade AdvisorDirect. In addition to meeting the minimum eligibility criteria for participation in AdvisorDirect, Acropolis may have been selected to participate in AdvisorDirect based on the amount and profitability to TD Ameritrade of the assets in and trades placed for Client accounts maintained with TD Ameritrade. TD Ameritrade is a discount broker-dealer independent of and unaffiliated with Acropolis and there is no employee or agency relationship between them.

	TD Ameritrade has established AdvisorDirect as a means of referring its brokerage customers and other investors seeking fee-based personal investment management services or financial planning service to independent investment advisors. TD Ameritrade does not supervise Acropolis and has no responsibility for Acropolis' management of Client portfolios or Acropolis' other advice or services. Acropolis pays TD Ameritrade an ongoing fee for each successful Client referral. This fee is usually a percentage (not to exceed 15%) of the advisory fee that the client pays to Acropolis ("Solicitation Fee"). Acropolis will also pay TD Ameritrade the Solicitation Fee on any advisory fees received from any of a referred Client's family members, including a spouse, child or any other family member who resides with the referred Client and hired Acropolis on the recommendation of such referred client. Acropolis will not charge Clients referred through AdvisorDirect any fees or costs higher than its standard fee schedule offered to its Clients or otherwise pass Solicitation Fees paid to TD Ameritrade to its Clients. For information regarding additional or other fees paid directly or indirectly to TD Ameritrade, please refer to the TD Ameritrade AdvisorDirect Disclosure and Acknowledgement Form. Acropolis' participation in AdvisorDirect raises potential conflicts of interest. TD Ameritrade will most likely refer Clients through AdvisorDirect to investment advisors that encourage their Clients to custody their assets at TD Ameritrade and whose Client accounts are profitable to TD Ameritrade. Consequently, in order to obtain Client referrals from TD Ameritrade, Acropolis may have an incentive to recommend to Clients that assets under management by Acropolis be held in custody with TD Ameritrade and to place transactions for Client accounts with TD Ameritrade. In addition, Acropolis has agreed not to solicit Clients referred to it through AdvisorDirect to transfer their accounts from TD Ameritrade or to establish brokerage or custody accounts at other custodians except when its fiduciary duties require doing so. Acropolis' participation in AdvisorDirect does not diminish its duty to seek best execution of trades for Client accounts.
