Allocation to certain investors.

The Performance Allocation is subject to what is commonly known as a “high water mark” procedure. That is, if an investor’s capital account has a net loss in any fiscal year, this loss will be recorded and carried forward as to such investor to future fiscal years (such amount is referred to as the “Loss Carryforward”). An affiliate of WFI will not receive the Performance Allocation from such investor in any future fiscal year until the Loss Carryforward amount for such investor has been recovered (i.e., when the Loss Carryforward amount has been exceeded by the cumulative profits allocable to such Limited Partner for the fiscal years following the Loss Carryforward). Once the Loss Carryforward has been recovered, the Performance Allocation shall be based on the excess profits (over the Loss Carryforward amount) as to such investor, rather than on all profits. The “high water mark” procedure prevents an affiliate of WFI from receiving the Performance Allocation as to profits that simply restore previous losses and is intended to ensure that the Performance Allocation is based on the long-term performance of an investment in the Domestic Fund.

When an investor withdraws capital, any Loss Carryforward will be adjusted downward in proportion to the withdrawal. An affiliate of WFI may agree with any investor to apply a different Loss Carryforward provision for such investor.

Clients whose accounts are managed by WFI separately and apart from the Domestic Fund (“Managed Account Clients”) will typically be charged a management fee of approximately 1.5% of assets under management per annum. WFI may also charge a performance fee equal to 20% of annual net income in the managed account (including realized and unrealized gains and net of any management fee charged). Any such performance fee shall be subject to a Loss Carryforward (as defined above). WFI may, in its sole discretion, waive or reduce either or both the management fee and performance fee charged to Managed Account Clients.

TYPE OF INVESTMENTS:

WFI will invest and trade in a wide variety of investments, domestic and foreign, of all kinds and descriptions, whether publicly traded or privately placed, including but not limited to common and preferred stocks, bonds and other debt securities, convertible securities, limited partnership interests, mutual fund shares, options, warrants, futures, derivatives (including swaps, forward contracts and structured instruments), monetary instruments, other financial instruments, real estate, private businesses, cash and cash equivalents.

Options. WFI may utilize derivative securities, primarily options. WFI may purchase and write put and call options that are traded on national securities exchanges or over-the-counter markets, as well as on electronic communications networks (ECN’s). Options can be used in many ways such as to increase market exposure (i.e., for purposes of leverage), to reduce overall market exposure (i.e., for hedging purposes), to increase the portfolio’s current income, or to reduce the cost basis of a new position. The Domestic Fund may also

WFI will not execute any Client trades through GR&S. Securities transactions for Clients are executed through brokers selected by WFI in its sole discretion and without the consent of Clients. In placing portfolio transactions, WFI will seek to obtain the best execution, taking into account the following factors: the ability to effect prompt and reliable executions at favorable prices (including the applicable dealer spread or commission, if any); the operational efficiency with which transactions are effected and the efficiency of error resolution, taking into account the size of order and difficulty of execution; the financial strength, integrity and stability of the broker; special execution capabilities; clearance; settlement; reputation; on-line pricing; block trading and block positioning capabilities; willingness to execute related or unrelated difficult transactions in the future; order of call; on-line access to computerized data regarding clients' accounts; performance measurement data; the quality, comprehensiveness and frequency of available research and related services considered to be of value; the availability of stocks to borrow for short trades; and the competitiveness of commission rates in comparison with other brokers satisfying WFI's other selection criteria. Soft Dollar Arrangements The term "soft dollars" refers to the receipt by an investment manager of products and services provided by brokers, without any cash payment by the investment manager, based on the volume of brokerage commission revenues generated from securities transactions executed through those brokers on behalf of the investment manager's clients. WFI is authorized to pay higher prices for the purchase of securities from or accept lower prices for the sale of securities to brokerage firms that provide it with such investment and research information or to pay higher commissions to such firms if WFI determines such prices or commissions are reasonable in relation to the overall services provided. The information, products and services received are in addition to and not in lieu of services required to be performed by WFI and an affiliate of WFI, and any fees WFI is entitled to receive including any management fee or performance fee (or allocation) are not reduced as a consequence of the receipt of such supplemental research information. Research services provided by broker-dealers used by Clients may be utilized by WFI and its affiliates in connection with their investment services for other clients and, likewise, research services provided by broker-dealers used for transactions of other clients may be utilized by WFI and an affiliate of WFI in performing their services for the Domestic Fund or Managed Account Clients. Since commission rates in the United States are negotiable, WFI's selection of brokers on the basis of considerations which are not limited to applicable commission rates may at times result in Clients being charged higher transaction costs than they could otherwise obtain. Nonetheless, WFI's decision on which brokers to utilize will be driven by a concerted striving for "best execution." WFI may use "soft dollars" generated by the Domestic Fund to pay for research and brokerage related services and expenses in a manner consistent with Section 28(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended ("Exchange Act"). Section 28(e) provides a "safe harbor" to investment managers who use commission dollars generated by their advised accounts to obtain investment research and brokerage services that provide lawful and appropriate assistance to the manager in the performance of investment decision-making responsibilities. These services and expenses may take the form of economic and market information, portfolio strategy advice, industry and company comments, technical data, recommendations, consultations, general reports, newswire and data processing charges, quotation equipment and services (e.g., Reuters, Bloomberg, Bridge, First Call, etc.), periodical subscription fees (e.g., The Financial Times, The Wall Street Journal, the New York Times, Federal Filings, Investors Business Daily, Dow Jones, etc.), computer equipment used for brokerage or research purposes (e.g., computers, computer hardware, software, hard drives, monitors, PDAs, LANs, servers, etc.) and related technical support, repair and maintenance, television and cable services used for research purposes and related equipment and installation and maintenance costs (e.g., copy equipment, telephones, telephone lease, telephone and facsimile lines, cellular phones, telephone call recording equipment, headsets, telephone switchboards and monthly and long distance telephone charges), all expenses incurred in connection with investigating and researching investments including issuers of securities and other instruments, including but not limited to attending conferences, airfare, car rentals, taxi fares, conference fees and related expenses, hotel accommodations and meals and speaking and meeting with management or industry consultants, accounting fees and legal fees and the like, and other reasonable expenses determined by WFI. Conduct outside of the safe harbor afforded by Section 28(e) is subject to the traditional standards of fiduciary duty under state and federal law. All of WFI's soft dollar arrangements shall be consistent with the intent of Section 28(e) or shall be with respect to services the expenses of which would otherwise be required to be paid by the Domestic Fund pursuant to the Domestic Fund agreement. Special Soft Dollar Disclosures. WFI may, from time to time, use soft dollars generated from Client transactions to purchase third-party research reports from GR&S, a broker-

WFI will pay for such research reports on the same terms and at the same prices charged to unaffiliated buyers of GR&S research. WFI's soft dollar policies for Managed Account Clients shall be the same as its policies for the Domestic Fund. When soft dollars are generated from aggregated trade orders, as discussed below, WFI will endeavor to allocate the goods and services paid for with such soft dollars in a manner fair to its Managed Account Clients and the Domestic Fund. This will typically be accomplished by allocating the cost pro rata by assets in the applicable accounts. Allocation of Investment Opportunities WFI may at times determine that certain investments will be suitable for acquisition by the Partnership and by other accounts managed by WFI, possibly including WFI's own accounts or accounts of an affiliate. If that occurs, and WFI is not able to acquire the desired aggregate amount of such investments on terms and conditions which WFI deems advisable, WFI will endeavor to allocate in good faith the limited amount of such investments acquired among the various accounts for which WFI considers them to be suitable. WFI may make such allocations among the accounts in any manner which it considers to be fair under the circumstances, including, but not limited to, allocations based on relative account sizes, the degree of risk involved in the investments acquired, and the extent to which such investments are consistent with the investment policies and strategies of the various accounts involved. Aggregation of Orders WFI may aggregate purchase and sale orders of investments held by the Clients with similar orders being made simultaneously for other accounts or entities if, in WFI's reasonable judgment, such aggregation is reasonably likely to result in an overall economic benefit to the Clients based on an evaluation that the Clients will be benefited by relatively better purchase or sale prices, lower commission expenses or beneficial timing of transactions, or a combination of these and other factors. In many instances, the purchase or sale of investments for the Clients will be affected simultaneously with the purchase or sale of like investments for other accounts or entities. Such transactions may be made at slightly different prices, due to the volume of investments purchased or sold. In such event, the average price of all investments purchased or sold in such transactions may be determined, at WFI's sole discretion, and the Clients may be charged or credited, as the case may be, with the average transaction price on the date of the execution, which may vary depending on the timing of the execution Item 13B REFERRAL OF INVESTORS: WFI may also direct some Clients' brokerage business to brokers who refer prospective investors and/or separately managed accounts to WFI.
