3.L. CCM financial planning services may encompass any and all aspects of a client's personal finances. In conjunction with such services and in reviewing or managing a client's investment portfolio, CCM may also offer advice with respect to the use of real estate investment trusts, fixed annuities, guaranteed investment contracts, real estate, bank accounts, certificates of deposit, and other assets.

4.A(5), B.(8), & C.(7). CCM uses historical data regarding performance, volatility and relative correlation on various asset classes and mutual funds in its analysis. In addition, various sources of "on-line" data and information are accessed in the course of ongoing research activities.

5. CCM's investment strategies are based largely upon "Modern Portfolio Theory" using passively managed mutual funds. . Asset classes are selected based upon CCM's long-term macroeconomic outlook, historical class results and volatility analysis.

7. A&B. In performing financial planning and consulting services, CCM may be involved in areas that do not involve investment advice.

9.E. CCM or a related person may, from time to time, buy or sell securities it recommends to clients. Any and all such transactions are effected only after all client transactions have completed and only at such time when, in the opinion of CCM principals, doing so will not adversely affect the value of such securities in client accounts.

10. The minimum dollar amount for new accounts is $1,000,000. CCM may make exceptions to this minimum if it believes that the account will grow to minimum size within a reasonable time period.

12. A,B & C. Most of the assets held in managed client accounts are held in brokerage accounts at Charles Schwab & Co. CCM receives a limited power of attorney from the client and effects transactions at its discretion in conformance with agreements reached with the client. While there are other "discount brokers" available, CCM believes that the fees and commissions charged by Charles Schwab and Co. are reasonable. CCM may recommend that clients establish brokerage accounts with the Schwab Institutional division of Charles Schwab & Co., Inc. (Schwab), a registered broker-dealer, member SIPC, to maintain custody of clients' assets and to discuss trades for their accounts. CCM is independently owned and operated and not affiliated with Schwab. Schwab provides CCM with access to its institutional trading and custody services, which are typically not available to Schwab retail investors.

13.A. See 12. A,B and C above.

For CCM's clients' accounts maintained in its custody, Schwab generally does not charge separately for custody but is compensated by account holders through commissions or other transaction-related fees for securities that are executed through Schwab or that settle into Schwab accounts.
