Item of Form (identify)	Answer
Item 1	Advisory Services and Fees Potomac Investments, Inc. (“PII”) conducts business under the registered trade name of Potomac Investments, Inc. and provides investment supervisory services that are sometimes referred to as “asset management” or “portfolio management” to clients that have specifically engaged Potomac Investments, Inc. for those services in a written agreement. In some situations Potomac Investments, Inc. assists the Client in choosing the service of a third party investment adviser to manage part or the Client’s entire investment portfolio. Potomac Investments, Inc. does not provide income or estate tax planning services.
Item 1D	Potomac Investments, Inc.’s basic fee schedule for investment supervisory services is as follows: General Fee Schedule <table><tr><td>Assets Under Management</td><td>Annual Fee</td><td>Quarterly Fee</td></tr><tr><td>$0 to $1,000,000</td><td>2.25%</td><td>0.5625%</td></tr><tr><td>$1,000,000.01 to $5,000,000</td><td>1.75%</td><td>0.4375%</td></tr><tr><td>5,000,000.01 and greater</td><td>1.00%</td><td>0.25%</td></tr></table> This is the general fee schedule. The actual investment advisory fee a client pays is described in the written advisory agreement entered into between the Adviser and the Client. Fees are negotiable at the sole discretion of the Adviser. Investment advisory Clients pay advisory fees in one of two billing conventions, in advance or in arrears. Third Party Investment Advisers In some cases Potomac Investments, Inc. does not actively manage client investment accounts, but rather recommends clients use the services of one or more third party investment advisers including affiliated and unaffiliated investment advisers whose programs and investment strategies have been reviewed by the Adviser. Potomac Investments, Inc. may refer clients to or use the services of affiliated or unaffiliated investment advisers whose programs are described in their Form ADV Part II. Potomac Investments, Inc. determines which programs and/or strategies are most appropriate for each of the Adviser’s clients, based upon the client’s individual circumstances and needs and investment objectives. Certain of the investment programs offered by third party investment advisers may also be “wrap fee programs,” which are programs under which a client is charged a specified fee, not based directly upon transactions in a client’s account, for both investment advisory services and execution of client transactions. The fees of any third party adviser are distinct, separate and in addition to the fees of the Adviser. 	Billing in Arrears Clients entering investment advisory agreements on or before June 15th 2007 are billed in arrears, after investment advisory services have been performed. If the billing period does not span the normal quarterly period as in the case of a new client or a terminating services, the fee will be prorated on the number of days the account is managed in the quarterly billing period. Valuation of Accounts for Billing Accounts are valued for billing purposes using the valuation provided by the Qualified Account Custodian chosen by the Client. If a client and his or her spouse and/or children have more than one account under management, those accounts may at the sole discretion of Potomac Investments, Inc. be consolidated for fee calculation purposes. Accounts qualifying for billing consolidation must be identified and agreed to by Potomac Investments, Inc. in writing. The term "assets under management" for billing purposes includes the account(s) value(s) including all cash and securities as of the last business day in the calendar quarter. Potomac Investments, Inc. is willing to discuss alternative fee arrangements in special circumstances. There may be rare situations where fee arrangements may be negotiable at the sole discretion of the Adviser. Fees are payable each quarter by a payment directly deducted from the account(s) under management, unless other arrangements are made. Quarterly billing notices showing details of how fees are calculated are sent to clients. Potomac Investments, Inc. may have to sell securities and generate capital gains or losses, to produce the cash to pay a Client's advisory fee bill. Unless otherwise agreed, Investment Advisory Agreements are terminable at any time at the client's written request. Fees will be prorated for the partial quarterly billing period and due upon receipt by the Adviser of the termination notice for accounts billed in arrears. Clients billed in advance will have any unearned advisory fees returned to them on a prorated basis. 	a written notice to the address of record used by the account Custodian. Fees for preliminary investment advisory consultations are available to potential new clients at the rate of $200 per hour, this amount being negotiable and payable at the time the services are rendered. In unusual circumstances, fees at the rate of $200 per hour are also available for other advisory services. Hourly fees are agreed to in a written engagement letter between Potomac Investments, Inc. and the client. The above-referenced fees charged by Potomac Investments, Inc. do not include brokerage commissions and other costs related to the execution of transactions on behalf of Clients. Such costs will be paid by advisory Clients in addition to the fees discussed above. Moreover, mutual funds that are held by advisory Clients will bear their own internal transaction and execution costs, as well as directly compensate their investment managers along with internal administrative services. Some mutual funds pay 12b-1 fees, Distribution Fees, and or Shareholder Service Fees to broker-dealers that offer such mutual funds to their Clients. These charges affect the Net Asset Value of these mutual fund shares and are thus indirectly borne by mutual fund shareholders such as a Client of Potomac Investments, Inc. Some mutual fund companies have imposed a redemption fee. A redemption fee is another type of fee that some funds charge their shareholders when shares are sold or redeemed within a short period of time from the purchase of the mutual fund shares. Although a redemption fee is deducted from redemption proceeds just like a deferred sales load, it is not considered to be a sales load. Unlike a sales load, which is generally used to compensate brokers, a redemption fee is typically used to defray fund costs associated with a shareholder's redemption and is paid directly to the fund, not to a broker. The SEC generally limits redemption fees to 2%. In most cases, the Mutual Funds will use the "first-in, first-out" (FIFO) method to determine the holding period. Under this method, the date of the redemption will be compared with the earliest purchase date of shares held in the account. While it is not the general practice of the Adviser to sell client's securities in a period that would generate a redemption fee, it should be anticipated that the Adviser might do so if in its opinion the sale is in the client's best interests. Or mutual fund shares must be redeemed to pay fees from the account. A complete explanation of these charges is contained in the prospectus and "Statement of Additional Information" for each mutual fund. You can get a prospectus from the mutual fund company (through its website or by telephone or mail). Potomac Investments, Inc. can also provide you with a copy.

	Clients are not obligated to use the products or services of any of the individuals or entities described in this section to implement any strategy or plan presented. Similar services are available at higher and lower cost.
Item 8	Other Financial Industry Activities or Affiliations Joseph Perry and William Verrill are Registered Representatives of JHS Capital Advisors, Inc. ("JHS") JHS is registered with the SEC as a broker-dealer and a member of the NASD and SIPC. Insurance services are also offered through Pointe Financial Group Corp. JHS is registered as a SEC Registered Investment Adviser.
Item 9	Participation or Interest in Client Transactions Individuals acting in their role as a Registered Representative of the broker-dealer JHS may execute securities transactions at the request of clients. The Registered Representative executing the transaction will receive compensation usually based upon the size of the transaction. If a Client uses the services of a Potomac Investments, Inc. employee to assist with the execution of securities transactions or the sale of insurance products, that employee will earn compensation based upon the size of the transaction. This financial incentive creates a potential conflict of interest between the Client and Potomac Investments, Inc. to recommend products, services or services providers not in the best interest of the Client. From time-to-time the interests of Potomac Investments, Inc. and its Investment Adviser Representatives may coincide with those of a client. Individual securities may be bought, held or sold by employees and Investment Adviser Representatives that are also recommended to or held by a client. If potential insider information is inadvertently provided or learned by Potomac Investments, Inc. or its employees, it is the Company's policy to strictly prohibit its use. It is the policy of Potomac Investments, Inc. to allow its employees to buy, sell and hold the same securities that the Company's Investment Adviser Representatives also recommend to clients. It is acknowledged and understood that Potomac Investments, Inc. performs investment services for various clients with varying investment goals and risk profiles. As such, the investment advice may differ between clients and investments made by Potomac Investments, Inc. Potomac Investments, Inc. has no obligation to recommend for purchase or sale a security that they may purchase sell or hold. Potomac Investments, Inc. has procedures dealing with insider trading, "front running" and other issues that may present a potential conflict when such purchase, sales or recommendations are made. In general, these policies and procedures are intended to eliminate, to the extent possible, the adverse effect on clients of any such potential conflicts of interest. These policies are contained in the Company's Code of Ethics. It is Potomac Investments, Inc. policy to, on a best efforts basis, give clients priority. Potomac Investments, Inc. will provide a copy of its Code of Ethics to clients or prospective clients upon request.

Item 12	Investment or Brokerage Discretion For Potomac Investments, Inc.'s clients that choose to have Potomac Investments, Inc. directly manage their investment portfolio on a discretionary basis, Potomac Investments, Inc. buys and sells securities for some of its client's accounts via a limited power of attorney granted by the client. There are no restrictions placed upon Potomac Investments, Inc. that limit which security may be purchased or sold on behalf of the client or the amount of any security purchased, sold or held in a client's account unless specifically identified in writing in the client's statement of investment policy or client service agreement. On occasion the custodian may be instructed to do a step out trade. There may be potentially higher or lower commissions associated with the processing of such a trade. Neither Potomac Investments, Inc. nor its representatives will have the authority to withdraw funds or to take custody of client funds or securities except for normal quarterly investment management fees that are authorized by the client in their written agreement with Potomac Investments, Inc.
Item 12B	Broker Dealer Recommendation Potomac Investments, Inc. may recommend a broker-dealer to the Client. The criteria for suggesting a broker-dealer include reasonableness of commissions, and other costs of trading, ability to facilitate trades, access to client records, computer trading support, and other operational considerations. These factors will be reviewed from time to time to assure the best interests of the client are upheld. While Clients generally select the Custodian to hold the assets in their investment advisory account, Potomac Investments, Inc. may when it is in the Client's best interest use another broker-dealer to execute securities transaction. Trading away from the Custodian may or may not cause the

	client to pay higher fees and commissions. It is normally done to access securities not available at the account Custodian. Joseph Perry and William Verrill are registered representatives of JHS Capital Advisors, Inc. Therefore, securities transactions are required to be done through JHS Capital Advisors, Inc. or a JHS Capital Advisors, Inc. approved custodian. As a result, the client may incur higher or lower commissions. The client is under no obligation to use JHS Capital Advisors, Inc. or a JHS Capital Advisors, Inc. approved custodian.
Item 13A	Potomac Investments, Inc. may recommend that clients establish brokerage accounts with a particular broker-dealer or Custodian ("Custodian"). The Custodian will maintain custody of clients' assets and to effect trades for their accounts. Some Custodians may provide Potomac Investments, Inc. with access to its institutional trading and custody services, which are typically not available to retail investors. These services generally are available to independent investment advisers on an unsolicited basis, at no charge to them so long as a minimum amount of the adviser's clients' assets is maintained in accounts at the Custodian, and are not otherwise contingent upon Potomac Investments, Inc. committing to the Custodian any specific amount of business (assets in custody or trading). The Custodian's services include brokerage, custody, research, and access to mutual funds and other investments that are otherwise generally available only to institutional investors or would require a significantly higher minimum initial investment. Custodians are compensated by account holders through commissions or other transaction related fees. The Custodian also makes available to Potomac Investments, Inc. other products and services that benefit Potomac Investments, Inc. but may not benefit its clients' accounts. Some of these other products and services assist Potomac Investments, Inc. in managing and administering clients' accounts. These include software and other technology that provide access to client account data (such as trade confirmations and account statements); facilitate trade execution (and allocation of aggregated trade orders for multiple client accounts); provide research, pricing information and other market data; facilitate payment of Potomac Investments, Inc.'s fees from its clients' accounts; and assist with back-office functions, recordkeeping and client reporting. Many of these services generally may be used to service all or a substantial number of Potomac Investments, Inc.'s accounts, including accounts not maintained at the Custodian. The Custodian also makes available to Potomac Investments, Inc. other services intended to help Potomac Investments, Inc.

	manage and further develop its business enterprise. These services may include consulting, publications and conferences on practice management, information technology, business succession, regulatory compliance, and marketing. In addition, the Custodian may make available, arrange and/or pay for these types of services rendered to Potomac Investments, Inc. by independent third parties. The Custodian may discount or waive fees it would otherwise charge for some of these services or pay all or a part of the fees of a third-party providing these services to Potomac Investments, Inc. While as a fiduciary, Potomac Investments, Inc. endeavors to act in its clients' best interests, and Potomac Investments, Inc. recommendation that clients maintain their assets in accounts at the Custodian may be based in part on the benefit to Potomac Investments, Inc. of the availability of some of the foregoing products and services and not solely on the nature, cost or quality of custody and brokerage services provided by the Custodian, which may create a potential conflict of interest. As discussed in Item 6 and 7 of this disclosure, some employees are individually associated with the broker-dealer JHS, licensed as insurance agents, and an owner of a company that provides corporate trustee services. When a client executes a securities transaction, purchases an insurance product, obtains a loan or purchases corporate trustee services, one or more employees of Potomac Investments, Inc. will benefit through some form of financial compensation or benefit to their ownership interest in the entity. This financial incentive creates a potential conflict of interests between Potomac Investments, Inc., its employees and the Client. The interests of the Potomac Investments, Inc.'s employee might not be the same as those of the Client in that they will have the incentive to recommend the purchase or sale of securities, products or services not in the best interest of the Client.
