Advisory Services and Fees-Page 2- Item 1D/ Conditions for Managing Ac- counts-Page 5-Item 10	Wechter Feldman Wealth Management, Inc. DBA (Doing Business As) Wechter Financial Services, Inc. ("WFWM") charges fair and competitive investment advisory fees and discloses such fees fully and accurately to clients and prospective clients in its investment advisory agreements. WFWM discloses to its clients (or the clients' agent) all material information regarding its investment advisory arrangements before entering into an investment advisory contract. Clients pay WFWM a management fee for its continuous and periodic investment management services. The fees for continuous and periodic investment advisory services are set forth in Schedule C of clients' agreements. "Platinum Plus Managed Assets Services" Program Fees The fee for active and continuous investment supervisory services is calculated by applying a percentage of the total market values of clients' investment program assets maintained by the selected brokerage custodians for the selected portfolio accounts listed in Schedule A of the clients' agreements on the last trading day of each calendar quarter. The fees for continuous investment advisory services are payable quarterly in arrears. For the initial calendar quarter, the fee is pro-rated based on the number of days from the date that the clients' agreements are signed to the end of the initial calendar quarter. The following is a schedule of fees charged for continuous supervision of clients' portfolio accounts under WFWM's "Platinum Plus Managed Assets Services" Program. Fees for this program are negotiable both as to the rate of compensation, the number of client accounts that are managed, the number of brokerage custodians that are managed at the portfolio level, as well as the specific types of assets that are included in the fee computation. Following are typical investment management fees charged under this Program: <table border="0"> <thead> <tr> <th>Assets Under Management</th> <th>Annual Fee</th> </tr> </thead> <tbody> <tr> <td>First $500,000</td> <td>1.4%</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Next $500,000</td> <td>1.0%</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Next $4.0 million</td> <td>0.8%</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Over $5.0 million</td> <td>Negotiable</td> </tr> </tbody> </table> These fees are cumulative. For example, the annual management fee for $2,000,000 in assets managed under Platinum Plus Managed Assets Services would be calculated in the following manner: <table border="0"> <thead> <tr> <th>Assets Under Management</th> <th>Annual Fee</th> </tr> </thead> <tbody> <tr> <td>1.4% of the first $500,000</td> <td>$7,000</td> </tr> <tr> <td>1.0% of the next $500,000</td> <td>5,000</td> </tr> <tr> <td>0.8% of the next $1 million</td> <td>8,000</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Total Annual Management Fee</td> <td>$20,000</td> </tr> </tbody> </table> The minimum investment required to obtain the services of WFWM is $500,000 for new clients as of April 1, 2009. This minimum for assets under management does not apply to existing or "grandfathered" clients. A minimum annual management fee of $5,000 per year ($1,250 payable quarterly) is charged; this may be negotiated. The overriding factor in determining the fees a client will pay under this Program are based on both the complexity/difficulty of managing the client's investments, as well as the dollar amount of assets under management. The complexity of managing a client's investments takes into consideration the number of brokerage custodians selected, the number and types of client accounts, and the types of investments held in client accounts. Therefore, some clients may pay more or less than the typical investment management fees presented above. "Platinum Managed Assets Services" Program Fees The fee schedule below outlines the fees to be charged against all portfolio account assets managed under WFWM's "Platinum Managed Assets Services" Program. WFWM charges a universal 1.4% for services performed under this program. These fees are determined separately for each brokerage custodian that holds assets under this program, as described in Schedule A of the Agreement.		Assets Under Management	Annual Fee	First $500,000	1.4%	Next $500,000	1.0%	Next $4.0 million	0.8%	Over $5.0 million	Negotiable	Assets Under Management	Annual Fee	1.4% of the first $500,000	$7,000	1.0% of the next $500,000	5,000	0.8% of the next $1 million	8,000	Total Annual Management Fee	$20,000

	WFWM's valuation of assets shall be computed in the following manner: Advisor will value Program Assets that are listed on the national securities exchange or on NASDAQ at the closing price of the last day of the quarter(s). Other securities or investments in Portfolio Accounts will be valued in a manner determined in good faith by Advisor to reflect fair market value, as reported to advisor by the Custodians of the Plan's Portfolio Accounts. In the event, that either party seeks a termination of this agreement, it is agreed herein that Notice of termination shall be sent by certified mail to respective party no later than 90 days prior to the date of expiration of the annual period be deemed sufficient to cease the parties' relationship "Platinum Plus Managed Assets Services" and "Platinum Managed Asset Services" Fee Details In calculating its clients' invoices for ongoing investment supervisory services under the "Platinum Plus" and "Platinum" Programs, WFWM values its clients' investment program assets that are listed on a national securities exchange or on NASDAQ at the closing price on the valuation date(s). Other securities or investments in the clients' portfolio accounts are valued in a manner determined in good faith by WFWM to reflect fair market value, or as reported to WFWM by the brokerage custodians of the clients' portfolio accounts. WFWM's management fees for portfolio accounts that are designated as discretionary in Schedule A of clients' agreements are typically debited from the clients' portfolio accounts. Clients may make a special request to have WFWM's management fees billed directly to them. WFWM's management fees for portfolio accounts that are designated as non-discretionary in Schedule A of clients' agreements are billed directly to clients, or are debited from clients' other portfolio accounts that are designated as discretionary in Schedule A to the extent that the total quarterly management fees deducted from all of the clients' discretionary portfolio accounts do not exceed three percent (3%) annually of the aggregate quarter-ending market value of clients' discretionary and non-discretionary portfolio accounts. For portfolio accounts that as designated as discretionary in Schedule A of clients' agreements, clients authorize the brokerage custodians to debit from their portfolio accounts – and pay to WFWM on the submission of a bill – the management fee for each calendar year quarter. WFWM simultaneously sends to its clients a quarterly statement showing the amount of the management fee due, the aggregate portfolio account values on which the fees are based, and how the fees were calculated. Clients are responsible for verifying fee computations since the brokerage custodians are not typically asked to perform this task. The selected brokerage custodians send clients a quarterly statement showing all amounts paid from the portfolio accounts, including all management fees paid by the brokerage custodians to WFWM. If there is insufficient cash in the clients' portfolio accounts at the time the management fees are to be debited directly from the clients' portfolio accounts, clients authorize WFWM to sell an amount of program assets to generate sufficient cash to pay the fees. This may create a taxable gain or tax loss for clients. If program assets are illiquid, and/or WFWM determines that the sale of program assets to pay the management fee is not feasible or advisable, WFWM sends an invoice for the fee for the quarter to the client. Clients are expected to pay these invoices within fifteen (15) days of their receipt of the invoice. If a client's investment advisory agreement for continuous investment supervisory services is terminated, the client is billed directly for the pro-rata portion of the fee representing the total market value of program assets under supervisory management at the end of the previous calendar quarter for the number of days from the start of the quarter to thirty (30) days after the date that written notice of termination is received by WFWM. Clients are charged a "liquidation fee" for portfolio accounts that are terminated, and for which client instructs securities to be liquidated and/or cash to be delivered. The liquidation fee is $100 per portfolio account that is terminated. Clients are not charged a liquidation fee if all securities in a terminated portfolio account are to be delivered to the successor brokerage custodian in-kind. WFWM's client investment advisory agreements specify that all investment advisory fees for the "Platinum Plus Managed Assets Services" and "Platinum Managed Assets Services" programs are charged to clients in arrears. Therefore, no fees charged to, and/or paid by, clients are "unearned." Consequently, there are no requirements that WFWM refund any fees upon termination of a contract. For discretionary investment advisory services that are terminated, WFWM bills its clients directly if there are insufficient monies in their managed accounts, or if there is sufficient monies in their account, WFWM directly deducts the pro-rata fee that has been earned for the portion of the calendar quarter in which clients terminate their agreement. WFWM's investment advisory agreements state that its investment advisory representatives, and control persons or affiliates, discloses to clients if they receive any direct or indirect compensation from any third party. Direct or indirect compensation includes, but is not limited to, commissions, 12b-1 fees, incentives, gifts or other form of compensation. WFWM's investment management fees do not include transaction charges or brokerage commissions imposed on the purchase/sale of investment products by brokerage custodians, mutual funds, or variable annuities. Brokerage custodian fees and commissions vary, depending on the brokerage custodian used, the dollar amount of the client's assets held by the brokerage custodian, and the holding period of an investment. In addition, mutual funds purchased for client accounts charge an internal management fee and incur expenses which are deducted from the assets of the mutual funds. Clients may elect not to receive the services provided by WFWM and purchase the mutual funds directly without charges. However, the mutual funds' internal fees and expenses still apply. Full disclosure of the method of compensation, whether it is from client fees only, or from commissions earned from the purchase/sale of clients securities are made to clients. Investment program assets under management that are invested in shares of mutual funds are included in calculating the value of program assets for purposes of computing WFWM's management fee, and the same assets are also subject to additional fees and expenses, as set forth in the prospectuses of those mutual funds, paid by the funds, but ultimately borne by clients. Other costs that may be assessed to client by the selected brokerage custodians, and that are not part of WFWM's fees, include fees and/or commissions for security transactions executed by selected brokers, dealers, mutual fund or insurance companies, or other third party brokerage custodians, trading expenses, dealer mark-ups, electronic fund and wire transfers, spreads paid to market makers, short-term redemption fees imposed by mutual funds, margin interest, custodial fees, dividends payable on securities sold short, mortality charges paid to insurance companies, administrative fees, and exchange fees, among others; and the payment of these costs are the clients' responsibility. Mutual fund companies and brokerage custodians may also impose short-term redemption charges when mutual funds are sold before they are held for a specified minimum amount of time ranging from 30 to 365 days from the date the funds are purchased by WFWM for clients' portfolio accounts. WFWM is not compensated on the basis of a share of capital gains upon or capital appreciation of clients' program assets or any portion of their funds, except as authorized by regulations issued by the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission or the Chief of the New Jersey Bureau of Securities. However, if any performance fees are charged in the future, the requirements of SEC Rule 205-3, including client eligibility, and/or any state requirements are met. In addition, WFWM's compensation may not be based on a share of capital gains or capital appreciation of the funds or any portion of the funds of the client, except for performance-based fees permitted under the Investment Adviser's Act. For financial and investment planning services, WFWM provides an estimate of the approximate cost of preparing a financial plan report before the client agreement is signed. However, it cannot guarantee the accuracy of this estimate until the financial plan report is actually completed and delivered to clients. In some instances, WFWM quotes a flat fee for financial and/or investment planning services, which is also negotiable, and a deposit payment is due when client agreements are signed. Clients may terminate their agreement at any time by written notice, and their only obligation are for the time actually expended by WFWM on the clients' behalf as reflected by WFWM's timekeeping records. In such case, the fee does not exceed the fixed fee agreed to; a refund of the unearned portion of the clients' deposit, if any, is promptly made in such case. The fee for financial and investment planning services is $350 per hour. For financial planning services, WFWM's financial planning agreements state that clients are required to make an advance payment of a portion of the agreed upon fees. Investment or Brokerage Discretion- Page 6-Item 12A, 12B, and 13A	WFWM and its principal officers exercise discretion over client accounts in the selection of which brokers are to be used for executing client trades, choosing the securities and the amounts thereof to be purchased or sold for clients accounts, and determining the commissions to be paid for such brokerage transactions. This discretionary control authorizes WFWM to act on behalf of clients in these matters without their prior consent. However, for discretionary-managed client accounts, client agreements specify which brokers-dealers or other brokerage custodians are used. The primary criteria for selecting custodian brokers are: (1) the amount and types of research available from the broker/dealer; (2) the amount and continuity of WFWM's investment management/supervisory services; (3) the commissions and trading charges payable by clients to the broker; (4) the quality of the broker's technical services; (5) the quality of the broker's trading support services; (6) the availability of mutual funds, in general, and with regard to the number of mutual funds that are available with no transaction fees in particular; (7) the adequacy/availability of individual equities and fixed income securities offered by the broker/dealer at any given time at the lowest possible margins/spreads to the client; and (8) the speed and accuracy of the broker's trading and recordkeeping services. WFWM directs its discretionary managed clients to multiple brokerages at its discretion, and its client agreements state that clients accept WFWM's choice(s) of the brokerage custodian(s) if the client does not object to such selection within thirty (30) days following WFWM's selection of such brokerage custodian(s). WFWM maintains and discloses its ongoing relationships with various brokers-dealers and custodial firms. These brokers-dealers currently include TD Ameritrade Institutional, Nationwide Life Insurance Company, Pershing LLC, AXA Equitable, MetLife, and Transamerica Retirement Services. These firms are specifically disclosed in client agreements and Investment Policy Statements ("IPS"). Both the clients' investment advisory agreements and their IPS disclose that although WFWM makes every effort to keep brokerage/transaction costs as low as possible, it is possible that the accounts incurs costs from time-to-time, and WFWM cannot guarantee that these transaction costs are the lowest available compared with other brokerage custodians that could have been chosen. WFWM has an ongoing relationship with the following other investment advisors/brokers which may receive ongoing fees and commissions from WFWM clients for assisting in the management and/or administration of clients' investment accounts: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>▪ TD Ameritrade Institutional, 4075 Sorrento Valley Blvd., Suite A, San Diego CA 92121 (Telephone: 800-431-3500). Neither Wechter Feldman Wealth Management nor any of its employees are compensated in any way by TD Ameritrade.</li> </ul> WFWM participates in the TD Ameritrade Institutional program. TD Ameritrade offers to independent investment advisors services which include custody of securities, trade execution, clearance and settlement of transactions. WFWM receives some benefits from TD Ameritrade through its participation in the program. WFWM primarily selects TD Ameritrade Institutional as the broker-dealer for clients whose portfolios are managed on a continuous or periodic discretionary basis. Registrant (David M. The Panel consists of approximately 24 independent advisors that advise TD Ameritrade Institutional ("TDA Institutional") on issues relevant to the independent advisor community. The Panel meets in person on average three to four times per year and conducts periodic conference calls on an as needed basis. Investment advisors are appointed to serve on the Panel for two year terms by TDA Institutional senior management. Registrant's current term expires in February, 2011. However, TD Ameritrade pays or reimburses Registrant for the travel, lodging and meal expenses Registrant incurs in attending Panel meetings. The benefits received by Registrant or its personnel by serving on the Panel do not depend on the amount of brokerage transactions directed to TD Ameritrade. Clients should be aware, however, that the receipt of economic benefits by Registrant or its related persons in and of itself creates a potential conflict of interest and may indirectly influence Registrant's recommendation of TD Ameritrade for custody and brokerage services. Conflicts of interest may also arise in the allocation of investment opportunities among accounts that WFWM supervises for its discretionary-designated portfolio, or it advises for its non-discretionary-designated portfolio accounts. WFWM seeks to allocate investment opportunities believed appropriate for its clients' portfolio accounts among such accounts equitably and in a manner consistent with the best interests of all the client accounts involved. But, there can be no assurance that a particular investment opportunity that comes to the attention of WFWM will be allocated in any particular manner among its clients' accounts. WFWM has established and maintains Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) Form ADV-Part II as its client disclosure document. WFWM's Form ADV-Part II disclosure document is intended to inform clients and prospective clients of our services, fees, business practices, potential conflicts of interest, and/or material affiliations with other parties. Following are WFWM's rules regarding delivery, offer to deliver, electronic filing, and recordkeeping requirements pertaining to its two disclosure documents: 1. Delivery: A copy of WFWM's SEC Form ADV-Part II disclosure document is to be delivered to a current or prospective investment advisory client: (i) not less than 48 hours prior to entering into any written or oral investment advisory contract with such client or prospective client, or (ii) at the time of entering into any such contract, if the client has a right to terminate the contract without penalty within five (5) business days after entering into the contract. WFWM generally prefers to deliver its disclosure document more than 48 hours in advance of the client entering into an investment advisory contract; and WFWM's contracts allows clients to terminate their contracts without penalty. The clients' contracts, evidenced by their signatures, acknowledge that they have received WFWM's SEC Form ADV-Part II. 2. Offer to Deliver: WFWM, without charge, offers in writing, as part of its regular quarterly invoices for advisory fees, as well as its annual update of client's Investment Policy Statements, or WFWM delivers upon request by its investment advisory clients, its disclosure document. WFWM also updates its disclosure document to reflect changes on an as needed basis, and it notifies clients in writing that these documents have been amended/updated and offers to deliver a copy of the amended/updated disclosure documents to its clients upon request. WFWM promptly amends Parts I and II of Form ADV when any changes occur and these changes are deemed to be material in the judgment of WFWM's President and/or Compliance Officer. For the purposes of this procedure, promptly amends means within 90 days of the material change. In addition, the President and/or Compliance Officer of WFWM are responsible for reviewing and updating WFWM's ADV every year; and any material changes are promptly reported to clients. The President and/or Compliance Officer of WFWM are also responsible for preparing/filing an Annual Updating Amendment of Form ADV within 90 days of the end of its fiscal year end (i.e., no later than March 31st). WFWM files amendments of Form ADV-Part II with the SEC via the IARD system. WFWM's Form ADV-Part II is also required to be amended, as needed, to reflect the latest rulings of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission and federal/state securities laws. WFWM, its personnel, and its affiliated persons may give advice or take action in performing their duties to other clients, or for their own accounts, that differ from advice given to or action taken for its continuous or periodically supervised clients. Item of Form (Identify)	Answer
	WFWM is required to maintain its registration with the SEC as an adviser because it has “eligible” assets under management that currently exceed $25 million. As used here, the term “eligible” assets under management is defined as cash, cash equivalents and securities regulated by the Securities Exchange Act or Investment Adviser’s Act over which WFWM maintains discretionary or non-discretionary authority, and over which WFWM provides continuous investment advisory management/supervisory services for its clients, whether compensated or not. It does not include investments that are not regulated, such as fixed annuities, private placements, hedge funds, or limited partnerships, which are not subject to ongoing investment supervision because of control, liquidity or other legal constraints imposed on the owners of such investments. To ensure that WFWM meets SEC requirements for minimum “eligible” assets under continuous investment management or supervision, WFWM monitors the dollar amount of its assets under management through its investment management software, as well as daily downloads of securities files data from the various brokerage custodians it uses to hold client assets. As disclosed above, WFWM participates in TD Ameritrade’s institutional customer program and WFWM may recommend TD Ameritrade to clients for custody and brokerage services. There is no direct link between WFWM’s participation in the program and the investment advice it gives to its clients, although WFWM receives economic benefits through its participation in the program. These benefits include: receipt of duplicate client confirmations; access to a trading desk serving advisor participants; access to block trading (which provides the ability to aggregate securities transactions for execution and then to allocate the appropriate shares to client accounts); the ability to have advisory fees deducted directly from client accounts; access to an electronic communications network for client order entry and account information; access to mutual funds with no transaction fees and to certain institutional money managers; and discounts on compliance, marketing, technology, and practice management products or services provided to WFWM by third party vendors. These benefits received by WFWM [or its related persons] do not depend on the amount of brokerage transactions directed to TD Ameritrade. As part of its fiduciary duties to clients, WFWM endeavors at all times to put the interests of its clients first. Clients should be aware, however, that the receipt of economic benefits by WFWM [or its related persons] in and of itself creates a potential conflict of interest. WFWM performs “investment supervisory services” for its clients. Investment supervisory services are defined as “giving continuous or regular periodic investment advice to a client, or recommending/making investments for the client based on the individual needs of the client.” Individual needs include, for example, the nature of other client assets and the clients’ personal and family obligations. Investment supervisory services also include providing continuous and regular management services with discretionary authority, or if no discretionary authority, then continuous responsibility to make recommendations for the specific client’s needs, and if accepted by the client, the client must have responsibility for arranging or effecting purchases or sales. WFWM provides discretionary and non-discretionary investment supervisory services on a continuous or periodic basis to its clients. The portfolio assets held at the selected brokerage custodians include the following services: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Customized asset and sector allocation review and recommendations for rebalancing of account assets at the custodial level based on the clients’ IPS and WFWM’s tactical strategic asset allocation model guidelines for client accounts.</li> <li>• Performance reviews of investments in clients’ accounts, and replacement of under-performing investments as deemed necessary by WFWM.</li> <li>• Loss-limit and gains oversight for client accounts.</li> <li>• Monthly reviews of sector momentum and individual investment vehicle performance.</li> <li>• Quarterly reporting of all activity in accounts, including all of the following: asset summary and performance report; all transactions made on behalf of the accounts; all contributions and withdrawals made by client; all fees charged to the accounts; market value of the accounts at the beginning and end of the period, as well as the cost of each asset held.</li> </ul>

For discretionary supervisory services, WFWM determines, at its own discretion, which securities are to be bought or sold, the timing, frequency and quantities of securities to be bought or sold, the commission rates and/or transaction fees the client pays, and the name(s) of the broker(s)/dealer(s) through which securities are to be traded. For non-discretionary services, WFWM obtains the clients' consent before any securities transactions occur, and clients are expected to contact the selected broker(s)-dealer(s) directly on their own; clients select the brokers-dealers through which securities are to be traded. WFWM does not exercise discretionary supervisory control over limited partnerships and fixed annuities, except when specifically agreed to by its clients. WFWM provides clients with quarterly detailed investment appraisal and performance reports that provide the value of clients' accounts, security purchase dates and cost information, realized gains/losses, and all activity transactions in their accounts, including the performance of their portfolio (net of any investment management fees paid by the clients). In addition to the quarterly portfolio appraisal reports provided by WFWM described above, brokerage custodians or employer-sponsored plan administrators provide clients with monthly or quarterly account statements, as well as records confirming each buy/sell transaction executed in the clients' accounts. WFWM also furnishes investment advice through consultations that are separate from continuous investment supervisory services. These services are part of financial and/or investment planning which may include: (1) data gathering and preparing financial statements; (2) assessing client goals and objectives, their needs for liquidity/marketability and tax reduction/deferral, current income or long-term growth; (3) analyzing the clients' investment needs; (4) developing financial alternatives and strategies for meeting the clients' needs; (5) assessing the clients' current investment portfolio and performing asset allocation analyses; (6) making generic recommendations for investment asset allocations based on client needs. The fee for financial and investment planning services is $350 per hour, which is negotiable. Whenever possible, WFWM provides an estimate of the approximate cost of preparing the financial plan report, but it cannot guarantee the accuracy of this estimate. Upon signing client agreements, clients are expected to pay a deposit for an agreed upon amount. This deposit is credited against all charges due and payable by clients upon presentation of the financial or investment plan report. In addition, clients may be expected to make periodic installment payments throughout the engagement, which is also credited against the final charges due and payable by clients upon presentation of the plan report. The frequency and amount of such installment payments are specified in client agreements. Also, clients may terminate an agreement at any time by written notice, and the clients' only obligation is for the time actually expended by WFWM on the clients' behalf, as reflected in WFWM's timekeeping records. A refund of any unearned portion of the clients' deposit, if any, is promptly made in such case. WFWM's agreements for continuous or periodic investment advisory services require its clients to maintain one or more investment accounts at one or more brokerage custodians. The number and types of brokerage custodians and the investment management program used by WFWM is based on the clients' personal investment profile, as well as the dollar amounts and types of assets to be maintained by each brokerage custodian. Schedule A of clients' agreements list the names of the brokerage custodians and the investment management program used by WFWM for each brokerage custodian, the account titles and types maintained by each client, and a description of the specific services performed by WFWM. Brokerage custodians are registered brokers-dealers, banks, mutual fund or insurance companies, and/or the clients' employer-sponsored retirement plan administrators. The clients' separate investment accounts maintained at each of the selected brokerage custodians are managed by WFWM in accordance with the clients' personal investment profiles. Investment advisory agreements for continuous advisory services remain in effect until cancelled by either WFWM or its clients. Clients' agreements are effective upon acceptance/signature by clients and WFWM and continue in effect until terminated by either party by written notice to the other. Clients have the right to cancel agreements within five (5) business days of WFWM's acceptance by giving written notice of such cancellation to WFWM. Clients are responsible for any transactions executed prior to WFWM's or the clients' receipt of the written cancellation notice. Thereafter, either party may cancel clients' agreements at any time, for any reason, upon receipt of written notice by each party to the other. Upon request, WFWM gives a copy of its clients' agreements to any broker, dealer, or other party to a transaction for clients' portfolio accounts, or the clients as evidence of WFWM's authority to act for its clients.

Upon WFWM's or clients' receipt of the written cancellation notice, WFWM has no obligation to recommend or take any action with regard to the securities, cash or other investments in the clients' portfolio accounts. If clients are natural persons, the death, disability or incompetence of clients does not terminate or change the terms of clients' agreements. However, clients' executor, guardian, attorney-in-fact or other authorized representative may terminate client agreements by giving written notice to WFWM. Upon completion of financial and/or investment planning services, the client may choose to retain WFWM to implement the plan's recommendations. The scope of services may include, but is not limited to, working with the clients' other advisers (e.g., attorney, accountant, stock, insurance, mortgage or real estate broker(s), etc.), and/or purchasing or selling financial products that are recommended by WFWM. WFWM also provides other services, such as income tax preparation and tax advisory services to individuals, corporations, partnerships, estates and trusts on an ongoing basis. It also provides bookkeeping and payroll tax services for small businesses. It provides retirement planning, estate planning, and insurance needs planning for life, health, disability, long-term care, and property and casualty needs analyses; and WFWM provides insurance brokerage services for life, health, disability income, long-term care insurance and fixed annuities. For income tax preparation services, the fees are based on the number and complexity of the tax forms prepared and the filing status of the client; for all other services, the fee is based on its prevailing hourly rate, depending upon the type of services provided. Furthermore, WFWM does not use automatic telephone dialing systems, pre-recorded and/or artificial voice messages, or a facsimile machine to solicit clients. Clients are required to complete investment profile questionnaires provided by WFWM. The clients' financial circumstances, investment objectives, risk tolerance level and any special instructions or limits that the client wishes WFWM to follow in managing the clients' investment portfolio are summarized in an Investment Policy Statement. Clients further agree to notify WFWM promptly of any significant change in the information provided by them, or any other significant change in their financial circumstances, investment objectives, or risk tolerance level that might affect the manner in which their portfolios are managed. Clients' failure to provide WFWM with current, accurate information could adversely affect WFWM's ability to suitably and effectively allocate its clients' assets within their portfolio accounts. Clients also agree to provide WFWM with such additional information as it may request from time to time to assist it in managing the clients' portfolio accounts. For the selected brokerage custodians, Clients appoint WFWM as their investment manager to research, analyze, balance, and invest their assets in securities and cash, for the portfolio accounts that are designated as "discretionary" accounts in Schedule A of clients' agreements. Clients grant WFWM discretionary authority to manage their portfolio accounts, which allows WFWM to establish and maintain appropriate asset allocations, to make investment decisions with respect to the clients' portfolio accounts, without prior consultation with clients; and to buy, sell, exchange, convert, and otherwise trade in any stocks, bonds, mutual funds, and other securities, and cash on behalf of clients. Services provided by WFWM beyond the scope of the client's agreement are performed at WFWM's normal hourly rate, which is on file with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission, and is available upon request.

In addition, for non-discretionary portfolio accounts, WFWM recommends an appropriate asset allocation and specific investments from among the options provided by the brokerage/employer plan custodians. In selecting specific investments for the clients' portfolio accounts, WFWM considers factors it deems relevant, including but not limited to, the performance of individual investments, the investment goals, objectives, and risk tolerance levels of its clients, and any reasonable restrictions imposed by its clients on the management of their portfolio accounts, including the designation of particular securities or types of securities that should not be purchased for each/any of the portfolio accounts, or that should or should not be sold if held in the portfolio accounts. Clients are expected to accept the risk involved in the selection of investments, and they acknowledge that there is no assurance that their investment objectives will be achieved by WFWM. In addition, WFWM does not have the responsibility to manage any of its clients' assets that are specifically excluded from management and listed in Schedule B of client agreements. For the selected brokerage custodians of the clients' portfolio accounts, except for any portfolio accounts maintained at the clients' employer-sponsored retirement plans, clients authorize WFWM to designate the selected brokerage custodians to serve as the brokers of clients' choice for their portfolio accounts, which provide trade execution services on behalf of clients. Services provided by brokers in this capacity are provided pursuant to a separate agreement between clients and brokers. WFWM selects and arranges for the execution of securities transactions for the portfolio accounts through brokers that WFWM reasonably believes provides best execution on behalf of its clients. In selecting brokers, WFWM considers, among other things, the brokers' execution capabilities, reputation, and access to the markets for the securities being traded. WFWM generally seeks competitive commission rates, which may not necessarily be the lowest possible commission rates for its clients' portfolio accounts. Clients are informed in their agreements that because of WFWM's direction of the brokerage custodian, they may not receive best execution on transactions for their portfolio accounts. Clients also agree to furnish any selected broker, dealer, or third party brokerage custodians such authorizations as any of them or WFWM may request to implement their services for clients. Consistent with obtaining best execution, transactions for clients' portfolio accounts may be directed to brokers in return for credits toward research and other services furnished by them to WFWM. WFWM may, in its discretion, cause the clients' portfolio accounts to pay brokers a commission/fee greater than another qualified broker might charge to effect the same transaction where WFWM determines, in good faith, that the commission/fee is reasonable in relation to the value of the brokerage and research or other services received. Clients instruct brokers to accept instructions from WFWM by providing authorizations to the brokers as any of them or WFWM may request to implement the provisions of clients' agreements. Clients authorize WFWM to open broker-dealer credit accounts at applicable executing brokers, and clients also authorize WFWM to act as attorney-in-fact and to give instructions to the selected brokers. All transactions effected by WFWM regarding clients' portfolio accounts are cleared and settled with the selected brokers. When WFWM deems a transaction to be in the best interests of its clients, to the extent permitted by applicable law and regulation, WFWM aggregates multiple client orders (i.e., block trades) to obtain the most favorable price and/or lower execution costs at the time of execution. WFWM is not responsible for any action or inaction taken by any third-party broker, dealer, bank, employer-sponsored plan administrator, or mutual fund or insurance company, or any loss incurred by reason of any action or inaction of any of these third parties. Clients authorize WFWM to instruct all brokers, dealers, or other third parties that effect transactions for or with clients' portfolio accounts to forward confirmations of transactions to WFWM and brokerage custodians. WFWM instructs the brokers, dealers, or other third parties that execute orders for clients' portfolio accounts to send transaction confirmations directly to its investment advisory clients. Custody of its clients' portfolio account assets are maintained with the independent brokerage custodians selected by WFWM and named in Schedule A of client agreements. WFWM does not accept custody of any assets in its clients' portfolio accounts. Client assets remain in clients' or the brokerage custodian's physical possession, and WFWM has no authority to take or receive physical possession of any client assets. Clients are required to send certificates of stocks/bonds they own directly to the selected brokerage custodians, and are not permitted to give them directly to any employee of WFWM at any time. WFWM has the ability to debit fees from client accounts held at TD Ameritrade Institutional and Nationwide Life Insurance Company subject to the clients' authorization, and WFWM sends a copy of its bill to clients at the same time. Clients are solely responsible for paying all fees or charges of the selected brokerage custodians. Clients authorize WFWM to give brokerage custodians instructions for the purchase, sale, conversion, redemption, exchange or retention of any security, cash, or other investments for clients' portfolio accounts, except for portfolio accounts that are designated as non-discretionary in Schedule A of clients' agreements. Clients also authorize and direct WFWM to instruct brokerage custodians to: (a) send clients, at least quarterly, statements showing all transactions occurring in each portfolio account during the period covered by the account statement, and the funds, securities and other property in the portfolio accounts at the end of the period; and (b) provide WFWM copies of all periodic statements and other reports for each portfolio account that the brokerage custodians send to clients. WFWM makes no guarantee of profit or any specific level of performance, nor makes any guarantees of the success of any investment decision or strategy, or the success of the investment program, nor makes any guarantees of the future performance of its clients' portfolio accounts, nor offers any protection against any loss on any program assets managed by WFWM or on any program assets invested in securities that WFWM recommended. All purchases and sales of securities are solely for the account and risk of clients. The investment decisions made for clients' portfolio accounts by WFWM are subject to various market, currency, economic, geographic, political, interest rate, purchasing power, financial and business risks, and those investment decisions are not always profitable. WFWM manages only the securities, cash and other investments held in clients' portfolio accounts that are designated as program assets in Schedule A of its clients' agreements; and, in making investment decisions for clients' portfolio accounts, WFWM does not consider any other securities, cash or other investments owned by client that are not designated as program assets.

	WFWM protects the confidentiality, integrity, and security of any non-public personal information of its current, prospective and former clients, and prevents unauthorized access to, or the use or disclosure of such information. All new clients of WFWM receive the written Privacy Notice. In addition, WFWM sends out the written Privacy Notice annually to its existing clients with its April quarterly statements. All personal information provided by clients is held in the strictest confidence. Personal information is collected from clients in connection with services provided by WFWM. The privacy statement states that WFWM does not disclose private information to non-affiliated third parties, except as permitted by law, and it does not anticipate doing so in the future. It also states that, if WFWM were to anticipate such a change in its policy, it would be prohibited from doing so without first advising and obtaining the consent of its investment advisory clients. Therefore, an "opt-out" election is not required in WFWM's privacy notice. WFWM's privacy notice policy includes the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• The categories of non-public personal information that are collected from a client depend on the nature of the client engagement. This includes information about personal finances, information about health to the extent it is needed for financial planning purposes, information about transactions between clients and third parties, and information from consumer reporting agencies.</li> <li>• For unaffiliated third parties that require access to clients' personal information, we require strict confidentiality in our agreements, and third parties are expected to keep this information private. Federal and state regulators may review firm records as permitted by law.</li> <li>• WFWM does not provide clients' personal information to mailing list vendors or solicitors for any purpose whatsoever.</li> <li>• WFWM maintains a secure office and computer environment to ensure that clients' information is not placed at unreasonable confidentiality risk.</li> <li>• WFWM limits employee and agent access to confidential client information only to those who have a business or professional reason for such access, and only to non-affiliated parties as required by law. Most commonly, a limited amount of information about a client may be shared with a brokerage firm in order to execute security transactions on the clients' behalf.</li> <li>• WFWM does not disclose confidential information to non-affiliated third parties, except as required by law. Consequently, WFWM does not have an opt-out election in its privacy notice. The only exception disclosure policy relates to life insurance applications, in which cases, clients are required to authorize the release of specific health and credit-related confidential information.</li> <li>• If a relationship with a client terminates, personal client information is retained as long as required by federal and state securities laws, as well as the CFP Board Code of Ethics and Professional Responsibility. During this time period, all privacy policies are adhered to by WFWM. After this required period of record retention has passed, all confidential client information is destroyed.</li> </ul> In addition to the privacy notice and the consent for health insurance releases, WFWM also requires all of its employees to sign a confidentiality agreement when they are hired, which attests that they do not disclose confidential client information during or after their tenure with WFWM to any person, firm, corporation, or association, or any other entity for any reason. WFWM, or its affiliated persons, may provide services for, or solicit business from various companies, including issuers of securities that WFWM may recommend or purchase or sell for clients' portfolio accounts. In providing for these services, WFWM or its affiliated persons may obtain material, non-public, or other confidential information that, if disclosed, might affect an investor's decision to buy, sell or hold a security. 	mation about any issuer, WFWM has no obligation to disclose the information to clients or use it for the clients' benefit. WFWM and its clients treat all information, strategies, recommendations, and advice regarding program assets as confidential. However, WFWM may provide any confidential information concerning a client or its portfolio accounts to the selected brokerage custodians, broker-dealers, and outside service providers; and such parties are subject to substantially similar confidentiality provisions. If a client's portfolio includes plan(s) subject to ERISA, WFWM may serve as "investment manager" for purposes of ERISA and the Code, and WFWM will be deemed a "fiduciary" within the meaning of Section 3(21) of ERISA and Section 4975(e)(3) of the Code. WFWM is registered as an investment adviser under the Investment Adviser's Act. Clients subject to ERISA are required to furnish WFWM with true and complete copies of all documents establishing and governing ERISA plans and evidencing the clients' authority to retain WFWM as the investment manager of the plan. In addition, clients are required to furnish promptly to WFWM any amendments to ERISA plans, and clients agree that, if any amendment affects the rights or obligations of WFWM, such amendment is binding on WFWM only when agreed to by WFWM in writing. If clients' portfolio accounts contain only a part of the assets of the plan, clients understand that WFWM has no responsibility for the diversification of all of the plan's investments, and that WFWM has no duty, responsibility or liability for client assets that are not in clients' portfolio accounts. If ERISA or other applicable law requires bonding with respect to the assets in the portfolio accounts, WFWM is required to obtain and maintain, at its expense, bonding that satisfies the requirements and covers WFWM and its affiliated persons. If a client's Agreement is entered into by a trustee or other fiduciary, including but not limited to one meeting the definition of "fiduciary" under ERISA, or an employee benefit plan subject to ERISA (a "Plan"), such trustee or other fiduciary represents and warrants that clients' participation in the program is permitted by the relevant governing instruments of such plans. Clients are required to furnish such documents as WFWM requests. WFWM does not vote proxies for securities held in its clients' portfolio accounts. In addition, if a portfolio account is for a pension or other employee benefit plan governed by ERISA, clients require WFWM not to vote proxies for securities held in the portfolio accounts because the right to vote proxies has been expressly reserved to the plan's trustees or the plan's administrator/fiduciary. Any controversy relating to any of the clients' portfolio accounts or any agreement that clients have with WFWM are submitted to arbitration conducted only under the provisions of the Constitution and Rules of the New York Stock Exchange, Inc., or pursuant to the Code of the Arbitration of the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. Arbitration is initiated by service upon the other party of a written demand for arbitration or notice of intention to arbitrate. Judgment, upon any award rendered by the arbitrator, may be entered in any court having jurisdiction. Clients are not allowed to bring putative or certified class actions to arbitrations, nor seek to enforce any pre-dispute arbitration agreements against any persons who have initiated in court putative class actions; or who are members of a putative class who have not opted out of the class with respect to any claims encompassed by the putative class action until: (i) the class certification is denied; or (ii) the class is decertified; or (iii) the clients are excluded from the class by the court. Clients acknowledge that: (1) arbitration is final and binding on the parties; (2) the parties are waiving their right to seek remedies in court, including the right to jury trial; (3) pre-arbitration discovery is generally more limited than and different from court proceedings; (4) the arbitrators' awards are not required to include factual findings or legal reasoning, and any party's right to appeal or to seek modification of rulings by the arbitrators is strictly limited; and (5) the panel of arbitrators typically includes a minority of arbitrators who were, or are, affiliated with the securities industry. In their investment advisory agreements, clients also acknowledge that forbearance to enforce agreements to arbitrate do not waive any rights under the clients' agreements. WFWM's clients, whose assets are managed on a continuous basis, are not required to execute securities transactions through the broker-dealers with which WFWM is affiliated; WFWM informs its clients that they may execute transactions through other brokers-dealers. Also, WFWM does not effect transactions in which WFWM (or its employees) has a personal interest in a manner that could result in preferring his/her own interest to that of clients. WFWM discloses when/if personal securities transactions of its employees are similar or dissimilar with the investment advice given to clients. In addition, WFWM discloses compensation received from the issuer of a security being recommended.

Item of Form (Identify)	Answer
	WFWM may accept a clients' direction as to the choice of a brokerage custodians, except for non-discretionary managed accounts or under special circumstances. However, WFWM does direct clients to brokerage custodians for discretionary investment management services. Because of the inherent conflicts of interest that WFWM recognizes may exist with directing clients to brokerage custodians selected by WFWM, these potential conflicts of interest are disclosed in WFWM's investment advisory agreements with its clients. In addition, WFWM discloses to its clients, in its agreements, that while it negotiates commissions and volume discounts with the brokerage custodians it uses for client accounts, the client may pay commissions that may be higher than the client may obtain from other brokerage custodians. "Qualified Plan Managed Assets Services" Program WFWM performs certain tasks in conjunction with qualified retirement plans, including section 401(k), 403(b) and 457 plans. WFWM's services provided under the Qualified Plan Managed Assets Services Program are subject to all applicable ERISA statutes and rulings, and WFWM is ERISA bonded to protect all ERISA covered plans for which it is responsible. WFWM is retained to serve as an educational consultant in order to: provide educational assistance to the Plan's Participants regarding appropriate investment decisions as determined by the individual Plan Participants; propose alternative investment choices for the individual Plan Participants', and supply investment choices from which the Plan Participants may choose. WFWM utilizes Transamerica Retirement Services to serve as the third-party administrator (TPA) for clients under the Qualified Plan Managed Assets Services Program.
Additional Com- pensations-Page 6- Item 13A	WFWM utilizes research and other services obtained from broker-dealers on a "soft dollar" basis, as well as various investment newsletters in selecting the products for purchase by its clients. This research includes economic and financial data, electronic market quotations, charts and graphs of past performance for individual securities, performance measurement services, investment periodicals, and research databases. However, any research services available are used to service all of WFWM's clients, and not just those client accounts that are managed on a discretionary basis for an ongoing management fee; and, on the basis of the criteria used by WFWM in selecting brokers-dealers, the research services available from a particular broker-dealer are not a sole criteria in this investment product selection process. Thus, depending upon which broker-dealer is used by WFWM, some clients may pay brokerage commissions to certain brokers in excess of those which other brokers might have charged for effecting the same transactions in recognition of the value of the research services provided by these brokers-dealers to WFWM. Moreover, WFWM expects to continue using the services of TD Ameritrade Institutional for securities trades for clients who have chosen WFWM to manage their assets. These trades generally include the purchases and sales of no-load mutual funds. Limitations on WFWM's authority to determine the securities and amounts thereof to be bought or sold vary from client to client; and each client has the choice of selecting the method to be used to manage their accounts (such as discretionary or non-discretionary). The clients' choice of this method is reflected in WFWM's clients' agreements. Also, in the event any "soft dollar" services obtained may have mixed uses, i.e., for research and non-research purposes, WFWM discloses good faith and reasonable allocations of these various uses. Any employment or other outside activity by an employee of WFWM may result in possible conflicts of interests for the employee or for WFWM; and, therefore, are reviewed and approved by WFWM's Compliance Officer. Outside activities which must be reviewed and approved include such activities as the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>▪ being employed or compensated by any other entity,</li> <li>▪ active in any other business including part-time, evening or weekend employment,</li> <li>▪ serving as an officer, director, partner, etc., in any other entity,</li> <li>▪ performing fund-raising activities for any other entity,</li> <li>▪ ownership interest in any non-publicly traded company or other private investments or,</li> <li>▪ any public speaking or writing activities.</li> </ul> Written approval for any of the above activities is to be obtained by an employee before undertaking any such activity so that a determination may be made that the activities do not interfere with any of the employee's responsibilities at WFWM, and any conflicts of interest in such activities may be addressed. In addition, WFWM's Form ADV is amended to disclose any outside activities of its investment advisory employees.
Additional Com- pensations-Page 6- Item 13B	WFWM does not currently pay any referral fees to any individual persons for the solicitation of clients. However, WFWM previously received client referrals from TD Ameritrade Holding Corporation ("TD Ameritrade") through its past participation in TD Ameritrade AdvisorDirect. TD Ameritrade is a discount broker-dealer independent of and unaffiliated with WFWM and there is no employee or agency relationship between them. TD Ameritrade has established the referral program as a means of referring its brokerage customers and other investors seeking fee-based personal investment
