(the “Advisor”) offers investment management services to individuals, trusts, estates, and business entities. The Advisor determines and evaluates each client’s financial circumstances and investment objectives consistent with the client’s goals, risk tolerance, time horizon, and other criteria. The Advisor then recommends an investment management objective tailored to the client’s needs. The investment management objective is implemented on a discretionary basis as stated in the Advisor’s asset management agreement. Client assets are generally allocated among various closed-end funds. On an ongoing basis we monitor the performance of client accounts and the investment markets and reallocate clients’ assets as appropriate. The Advisor has agreements in place in which it compensates Solicitors or other investment professionals and their representatives (“Solicitor’s Agents”) for referring clients to the Advisor. The Advisor maintains exclusive investment discretion as to which securities shall be purchased or sold in a client’s account in a manner consistent with the selected investment strategy. However, the Advisor is not responsible for the collection of data about clients’ or prospective clients’ investment objectives if the person is being referred by a Solicitor’s Agent. When making investment decisions for clients, the Advisor relies on the Solicitor’s Agent who is making the referral to provide the Advisor with information regarding the clients’ investment objectives as well as any changes to such investment objectives. The Solicitor’s Agents are responsible for working with their clients and suggesting an investment strategy that is most suitable for each client. The Solicitor’s Agents will remain available to clients for consultation regarding any changes to the clients’ investment objectives or financial circumstances. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Promote the integrity of, and uphold the rules governing, capital markets; • Maintain and improve their professional competence and strive to maintain and improve the competence of other investment professionals; and • Comply with applicable provisions of the federal securities laws. The Advisor's Compliance Manual also requires employees to: 1) pre-clear certain personal securities transactions, 2) report personal securities transactions on at least a quarterly basis, and 3) provide the Advisor with a detailed summary of certain holdings (both initially upon commencement of employment and annually thereafter) over which the employee has a direct or indirect beneficial interest. A copy of Advisor's Code of Ethics is available to any client or prospective client upon request.
Item 10	MINIMUM CONDITIONS Generally, the minimum dollar value of assets required to set up an investment advisory account is $50,000. However, the Advisor has discretion to waive the account minimum at its discretion. Accounts of less than $50,000 may be set up when the client and the Advisor anticipate that the client will add additional funds to the account bringing the total to $50,000 within a reasonable time. Other exceptions may apply to employees of the Advisor and their relatives, or relatives of existing clients and others based on the discretion of the Advisor, as mentioned above. Also, the Advisor assesses a minimum annual fee of $1,500 to accounts receiving ongoing asset management services. Accounts with a small balance may pay a higher annual fee than those normally charged by other investment advisors.
Item 12.A (1 – 4)	INVESTMENT BROKERAGE OR DISCRETION When a client agrees to discretionary management, the Advisor will be responsible for selecting the amount of securities to be bought and sold. The only limitations on the investment authority will be those limitations imposed in writing by the client. In the course of providing services, the Advisor will execute trades for clients through various broker-dealers. Generally most trades will be placed with the broker/dealer that has custody over the client assets. However, when the Advisor has broker discretion, there is no restriction on the brokers that may be selected to execute client transactions. When placing portfolio transactions, the Advisor will seek to obtain best execution for the clients, taking into account the following factors: the ability to effect prompt and reliable executions at favorable prices (including the applicable dealer spread or commission, if any); the operational efficiency with which transactions are effected, taking into account the size of the order and difficulty of execution; the financial strength, integrity, and stability of the broker; the firm's risk in positioning a block of securities; the quality, comprehensiveness and frequency of available research services considered to be of value; and the competitiveness of commission rates in comparison with other brokers satisfying the Advisor's other selection criteria.

Items 12.B & 13.A	Transactions for each client account generally will be effected independently, unless the Advisor decides to purchase or sell the same securities for a number of client accounts simultaneously. When possible, orders for the same security may be combined or “batched” to facilitate best execution and to allocate equitably among the Advisor’s clients differences in prices that might have resulted had such orders been placed independently. Accounts in which a related person or affiliate of the Advisor has a financial interest may participate in batched transactions with the Advisor’s other advisory clients so as long as the client accounts are not disadvantaged. The Advisor effects batched transactions in a manner designed to ensure that no participating client, including any related account, is favored over any other client. Specifically, each client that participates in a batched transaction will participate at the average share price for all of the Advisor’s transactions in that security on that business day, with respect to that batched order. In the event that a batched transaction is not completed (e.g., the order is only partially fill) securities purchased or sold in the transaction are allocated pro-rata, when possible, to the participating client accounts in proportion to the size of the order placed for the account. The Advisor may, however, increase or decrease the amount of securities allocated to each account if necessary to avoid holding odd-lot or small numbers of shares for particular clients. Additionally, if the Advisor is unable to fully execute a batched transaction and the Advisor determines that it would be impractical to allocate a small number of securities among the accounts participating in the transaction on a pro-rata basis, the Advisor may allocate such securities in a manner determined in good faith to be a reasonable and fair allocation. Recommended Broker - Southwest Securities, Inc. SIA will absorb all commissions and transaction costs associated with client trades executed through Southwest Securities, Inc. The Advisor requires that clients open a brokerage account with Southwest Securities, Inc. No other brokers are currently used by the Advisor and the Advisor will not take custody of client accounts. While there is no direct affiliation between the investment advice given to clients and the Advisor’s recommendation of Southwest Securities, there are economic benefits that are received by the Advisor from Southwest Securities. These benefits do not depend on the amount of transactions directed by the Advisor to Southwest Securities. These benefits may include a dedicated trading desk to service clients of the Advisor, a dedicated service group and an account services manager dedicated to the Advisor’s accounts, access to a real time order matching system, the ability to block client trades, electronic downloads of trades, balances and positions in Southwest’s portfolio management software, access to an electronic interface with Southwest’s software, duplicate and batched client statements, confirmations and year-end summaries, and the ability to have advisory fees directly debited from client accounts (in accordance with federal and state requirements).
