Part II, P.4, Q.8c(3) Part II, P.6, Q.12(1),(2) Continued	Williams Associates retains certain firms (such as LWI Financial Inc., the "Account Administrator") to provide investment and asset class analysis, implementation of investment and billing services, and for the production of account statements and reports. Such services are paid directly through advisor fees billed to the client or indirectly paid by Williams Associates. Certain of such firms also sponsor "due diligence" and educational seminars for investment advisors. These educational sessions provide Williams Associates with access to information and ideas regarding account management, advanced investment planning, technological changes and account acquisition methods and strategies from the sponsor or other participants at such events. Attendance expenses associated with such due diligence and training seminars may be paid, either in whole or in part, by sponsoring firm(s). Williams Associates may recommend/require that clients establish brokerage accounts with the Schwab Institutional® division of Charles Schwab & Co., Inc. (Schwab), a FINRA-registered broker-dealer, member SIPC, to maintain custody of clients' assets and to effect trades for their accounts. Although Williams Associates may recommend/require that clients establish accounts at Schwab, it is the client's decision to custody assets with Schwab. Williams Associates is independently owned and operated and not affiliated with Schwab. Schwab provides Williams Associates with access to its institutional trading and custody services, which are typically not available to Schwab retail investors. These services generally are available to independent investment advisors on an unsolicited basis, at no charge to them so long as a total of at least $10 million of the advisor's clients' asset are maintained in accounts at Schwab Institutional. These services are not contingent upon Williams Associates committing to Schwab any specific amount of business (assets in custody or trading commissions). Schwab's brokerage services include the execution of securities transactions, custody, research, and access to mutual funds and other investments that are otherwise generally available only to institutional investors or would require a significantly higher minimum initial investment. For Williams Associates client accounts maintained in its custody, Schwab generally does not charge separately for custody services but is compensated by account holders through commissions and other transaction-related or asset-based fees for securities trades that are executed through Schwab or that settle into Schwab accounts. Schwab Institutional also makes available to Williams Associates other products and services that benefit Williams Associates but may not directly benefit its clients' accounts. Many of these products and services may be used to service all or some substantial number of Williams Associates accounts, including accounts not maintained at Schwab. Schwab's products and services that assist Williams Associates in managing and administering clients' accounts include software and other technology that (i) provide access to client account data (such as trade confirmations and account statements); (ii) facilitate trade execution and allocate aggregated trade orders for multiple client accounts; (iii) provide research, pricing and other market data; (iv) facilitate payment of Williams Associates fees from its clients' accounts; and (v) assist with back-office functions, recordkeeping and client reporting. Schwab Institutional also offers other services intended to help Williams Associates manage and further develop its business enterprise. These services may include: (i) compliance, legal and business consulting; (ii) publications and conferences on practice management and business succession; and (iii) access to employee benefit providers, human capital consultants and insurance providers. Schwab may make available, arrange and/or pay third-party vendors for the types of services rendered to Williams Associates. Schwab Institutional may discount or waive fees it would otherwise charge for some of these services or pay all or a part of the fees of a third-party providing these services to Williams Associates. Schwab Institutional may also provide other benefits such as educational events or occasional business entertainment of Williams Associates personnel. In evaluating whether to recommend or require that clients custody their assets at Schwab, Williams Associates may take into account the availability of some of the foregoing products and services and other arrangements as part of the total mix of factors it considers and not solely the nature, cost, or quality of custody and brokerage services provided by Schwab, which may create a potential conflict of interest.
