Item 9. E.	Representatives and officers of the investment advisor may, from time to time, purchase or sell securities for their own accounts. These may be the same as, similar to or the opposite of those positions that clients are invested in through the third part money managers to whom the advisor refers its clients. The firm's associates' transactions are in securities that are widely held and publicly traded; as such the firm's activity is of negligible market effect, and the possibility of a conflict of interest between the interests of the firm and any client is also negligible. When applicable or appropriate, a client is informed of the firm's positions in such investments. Any client's transaction is always completed prior to entering a similar order in any proprietary accounts.
Item 9 Code Of Ethics	We have adopted a Code of Ethics, predicated on the principle that we owe a fiduciary duty to all of our clients. 	Secondly, the client receives an informational invoice showing the base amount upon which the fee is calculated, the calculation, and the dollar amount being deducted. And thirdly, the statement from the custodian to the client lists the deduction of the management fee in the transaction history for the period. At this time SCF-IA does not participate in a Prime Broker trading service nor do our advisors direct transactions to brokers in return for research services furnished by them to the advisor. At times the firm may aggregate trades for clients, trading in one "block" for the ease of execution and to obtain better pricing. When trading in one "block" where pieces are executed at different prices, an average price is given to all participants in the trade, ensuring that all clients are treated fairly. For discretionary accounts, SCF-IA has the limited trading authority to determine the amounts of securities to be bought and sold. These amounts are limited by the value of the funds and securities in the account, and the allocation and diversification restrictions are predetermined by the client. If a client does not have a broker designated for securities transactions or custody, SCF-IA will recommend a brokerage firm to the client. The recommended firm would ordinarily be a discount broker where reduced commissions could be obtained. Any recommended broker would be subject to explicit client consent.
