	the Confidential Private Offering Memorandum pursuant to which limited partnership interests in the Fund are offered. A prospective investor in the Fund should read carefully the Confidential Private Offering Memorandum and its attached Exhibits and consult his or her own advisers before considering an investment in the Fund, and should rely on the more detailed disclosures in those documents. Among other disclosures, prospective investors in the Fund are advised of the possibility that other investment advisers would perform the same services as Registrant agrees to perform under the Fund's limited partnership agreement for smaller compensation than Registrant will receive under the Fund's limited partnership agreement. The same possibility will exist under any investment advisory agreement which Registrant may make with a client other than the Fund, and Registrant accordingly will make a similar disclosure to such a client before entering into such an agreement. The disclosures will comply with Section 260.238(j) of the California Code of Regulations. In the event that Registrant advises clients other than the Funds, Registrant anticipates that its compensation arrangements with such clients will resemble generally the fee arrangements applicable to a limited partners in the Funds. Registrant nevertheless reserves the right to enter into compensation arrangements with any existing or future client that may vary substantially from the compensation arrangements between Registrant and the Funds or between Registrant and other clients. Custody. Although custody of Fund assets is entrusted to an independent custodian pursuant to the limited partnership agreement of the Fund, Registrant is nevertheless deemed to have custody of Fund assets under current regulations of the California Department of Corporations. Accordingly, Registrant is required to comply with all California regulations applicable to an investment adviser having custody of client assets.
ITEM 2.G	See also response to Part II, 1, D. Investors in the Fund generally must be accredited investors as defined in Regulation D under the Securities Act of 1933, and qualified clients under Rule 205-3 of the Investment Advisers Act, though Registrant has authority to waive these requirements on a case by case basis. The Fund places no formal restrictions on the types of clients that may invest, provided that a prospective client satisfies these eligibility requirements. Registrant may decline a proposed investment from any person.

ITEM 12.A	Registrant has full discretion to determine the identity and the amount of all securities to be bought and sold by the Fund, and to determine which broker or dealer is to be used in each transaction and the commission rates to be paid in such transactions. Although the General Partner and Investment Manager presently do not contemplate that broker-provided services, if any, will extend to the following, they have authority to retain brokers on behalf of the Fund who agree to provide one or more of such services for the Fund: custody, recordkeeping and similar services, as well as paying for a portion of the Fund's costs and expenses of operation, such as newswire and data processing charges, quotation services, periodical subscription fees and other reasonable expenses incurred by the Fund. The foregoing list of "soft dollar" services which may be received by the Investment Manager is extensive because of the diverse range of the possible services which the Fund's brokers may provide. Although not prohibited, the Investment Manager does not intend to enter into any arrangement in which the Fund is required to allocate either a stated dollar amount or a stated percentage of its brokerage business to any broker for any minimum time period.
