Item of Form (identify)	Answer
	Clients are charged an hourly or fixed fee for financial planning and consulting services. Fees are based on the complexity of the plan and the range of services provided. Clients who select planning or consulting services are billed at the rate of $850-$1,200 an hour or a flat fee that generally ranges from $2,000 to $9,000. Hourly and fixed fees are due and payable upon completion of the plan or services. The Adviser will not require prepayment of more than $500 in fees per client, 6 or more months in advance of providing any services. A financial planning client will have a period of five (5) business days from the date of signing the financial planning agreement to unconditionally rescind the agreement and receive a full refund of all fees. Thereafter, the client may terminate the financial planning agreement by providing the Adviser with written notice prior to delivery of the plan. Upon termination, fees will be prorated to the date of termination and any unearned portion of the fee will be refunded to the client. When both investment management or plan implementation and financial planning services are offered, there is a potential conflict of interest since there is an incentive for the party offering financial planning services to recommend products or services for which the Adviser, or a related party, may receive compensation as an investment manager. However, financial planning clients are under no obligation to act upon any recommendations of the Adviser or to effect any transactions through the Adviser if they decide to follow the recommendations. ADVISORY REFERRALS The Adviser has entered into agreements with various third-party advisers. Under these agreements, the Adviser offers clients various types of programs sponsored by these advisers. All third-party investment advisers to whom the Adviser will refer clients will be licensed as investment advisers by their resident state and any applicable jurisdictions or registered investment advisers with the Securities and Exchange Commission. After gathering information about a client's financial situation and investment objectives, the Adviser will assist the client in selecting a particular third-party program. The Adviser receives compensation pursuant to its agreements with these third-party advisers for introducing clients to these third-party advisers and for certain ongoing services provided to clients. This compensation, which is disclosed to the client in a separate disclosure document provided by the third-party manager, is typically equal to a percentage of the investment advisory fee charged by that third-party adviser or a fixed fee, but may also be payable in other formats. The separate disclosure document provided by the Adviser will clearly state the nature of fees payable to the third party adviser, to the Adviser. Also disclosed in the separate disclosure document will be the impact to the overall fee of payments made to the parties to the agreement. The Adviser receives compensation from the third-party advisers for referring clients. Since such compensation may differ depending on the agreement with each third-party adviser, the Adviser may have an incentive to recommend one third-party advisers over another, if the compensation arrangements are more favorable.
