ADVISORY SERVICES AND FEES

Absolute Return Capital Advisors, LLC ("ARCA") is a limited liability company formed under the laws of the State of California and domiciled in the State of California. ARCA primarily offers investment advisory services to individuals and high net worth individuals, pension and profit sharing plans, trusts, estates, charitable organizations, corporations, and other business organizations. ARCA's services and fee arrangements are described in the following pages

This Schedule F narrative provides clients with information regarding ARCA and the qualifications, business practices, and nature of advisory services that should be considered before becoming a client of ARCA.

Individuals associated with ARCA will provide its investment advisory services. These individuals are appropriately licensed, qualified, and authorized to provide advisory services on behalf of ARCA. Such individuals are known as Investment Adviser Representatives (IARs).

Additional information about ARCA is available on the Internet at www.adviserinfo.sec.gov. You can search this site by a unique identifying number, known as a CRD number. The CRD number for ARCA is 133680.

Portfolio Management

ARCA's portfolio management service is designed to assist clients in meeting their financial goals through the use of financial investments. For each portfolio management client, ARCA will conduct one or more meetings (in person if possible, otherwise via telephone conference) with the client in order to understand the client's current financial situation, existing resources, financial goals, and tolerance for risk. Based on the foregoing, ARCA will propose an investment approach to the client under one of five investing programs that ARCA has developed in providing portfolio management services. ARCA may propose and deem the client to be within the following program(s): Diversified Growth Program, Aggressive Growth Program, Global Resources, Global Income, and China Focus Program. Because ARCA operates under a limited power of attorney, ARCA is authorized to create and manage client portfolios as well as make transactions in client accounts. However, ARA never takes custody or control of client securities or funds. Once the appropriate program is selected for the client, ARCA will work with the client to establish or transfer investment accounts so that ARCA is able to manage the client's portfolio. In addition, each client will have the opportunity to place reasonable restrictions on the types of investments to be held in the portfolio. Once the relevant accounts are under ARCA's management, ARCA will review such accounts on a regular basis and at least quarterly. ARCA may periodically rebalance or adjust client accounts under its management. If the client experiences any significant changes to his/her financial or personal circumstances, the client must notify ARCA so that ARCA can consider such information in managing the client's investments.

Global Income Program

ARCA's Global Income Program invests in high-yield securities and financial instruments to create a diversified portfolio with multiple streams of income. This Program takes a global approach to income generation by investing across multiple industries, asset classes, and sectors in a variety of countries.

As an alternative to paying the annual management fee, ARCA's high net-worth "qualified clients" may participate in the China Focus Program by paying a performance fee to be determined by investment performance, in lieu of the annual management fee, if agreed upon in this Agreement.

For these five different investment programs, the annual management fees are generally not negotiable. However, clients may receive a discounted fee in recognition for referring other clients to ARCA. The annual advisory fees are pro-rated based on the net value of the account and is calculated and billed in advance each quarter. In the event that the client terminates ARCA's services before the end of a billing period, the client shall be assessed a pro-rata fee based on the number of days the client's account was managed by ARCA.

Unless the client requests direct billing or the client's custodian does not facilitate the direct deduction of fees, fees will be automatically deducted from the client's account. If fees are deducted from the client's account, the client adheres and acknowledges the following:

Investment Process: ARCA relies on generating investment ideas by bringing a variety of experience in multiple industries and geographies to the process. ARCA utilizes a variety of sources (company filings, raw economic data, official statements, etc.) and market conditions to analyze and develop a strategy. ARCA does not take a position unless it believes that it has evaluated its strategy with intellectual rigor and honesty. Prior to taking a position, ARCA articulates its exit strategy.

Buy/Sell Discipline: ARCA seeks to limit risk by setting pre-determined thresholds at which to sell. ARCA aims to sell when our target price is achieved, or when our broader outlook for the asset-class changes.

Portfolio Construction (Rules and Approach): The design of a client's portfolio may fall under the five investment approaches outlined above. However, if ARCA is compensated by performance fees, ARCA reserves the right to hold 100% of the portfolio in cash if ARCA does not see compelling opportunities.

Risk Management: ARCA recognizes that all assets carry risk and ARCA tries to understand them before it enters in positions so that ARCA is better prepared to respond quickly to changing conditions. ARCA monitors risk on both an individual position and portfolio perspective on an ongoing basis. ARCA intentionally limits the number of positions in the portfolio so ARCA can manage risk effectively.

Fee Information for Performance Based Fees

As an alternative to paying the annual management fee, ARCA's high net-worth "qualified clients" may compensate ARCA by paying a performance fee to be determined by investment performance, in lieu of the annual management fee, if agreed upon in the Investment Advisory Agreement.

An investment adviser can charge performance based fees provided these fees are only offered to "qualified clients".

The definition of "qualified clients" can be found in SEC Section 275.205-3.

"Qualified Client" pursuant to SEC 275.205-3 means:

- (i) A natural person who or a company that immediately after entering into the contract has at least $750,000 under the management of the investment adviser;
- (ii) A natural person who or a company that the investment adviser entering into the contract (and any person acting on his behalf) reasonably believes, immediately prior to entering into the contract, either:
  - (A) Has a net worth (together, in the case of a natural person, with assets held jointly with a spouse) of more than $1,500,000, at the time the contract is entered into; or
  - (B) Is a qualified purchaser as defined in section 2(a)(51)(AA) of the Investment Company Act of 1940 (15U.S.C. 80a-2(51)(A)) at the time the contract is entered into; or

The performance fee will be assessed on the net returns of such accounts at the end of each calendar year or when an account is closed. In determining the net return on Client accounts, ARCA considers the quarterly "high water mark," the highest value of the assets during the quarter previous to the end of the current billing period (as adjusted for deposits and withdrawals of capital). In the event that the ARCA fails to achieve an investment return during the year prior to a billing period, no performance fee would be due to ARCA for that quarter of management of client's account. The performance fee is calculated as follows: ARCA will receive 20% of the net capital appreciation (i.e. capital appreciation less capital depreciation and any accumulated net capital depreciation carry-forward from prior periods) of each client's account. This performance fee is payable only if and to the extent that the net capital appreciation of the client's account exceeds any net capital depreciation accumulated during the performance fee period (as adjusted for withdrawals of capital). - a) The custodian sends statements at least quarterly to the client showing all disbursements for the custodian account, including the amount of the advisory fees;
- b) The client provides authorization permitting MPWA to be directly paid by these terms; purchased for the account which shall be disclosed in the funds prospectus (i.e., fund management fees and other fund expenses), wire transfer fees and other fees and taxes on brokerage accounts and securities transactions.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION CONCERNING FEES

The fees charged are calculated as described above and are not charged on the basis of a share of capital gains or capital appreciation of the funds or any portion of the funds of an advisory client.

All fees paid to ARCA for investment advisory services are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by mutual funds to their shareholders. These fees and expenses are described in each fund's prospectus. Such fees will generally include a management fee, other fund expenses and a possible distribution fee. If the fund also imposes sales charges, a client may pay an initial or deferred sales charge.

A client could invest in a mutual fund directly, without the services of ARCA. In that case, the client would not receive the services provided by Adviser which are designed, among other things, to assist the client in determining which mutual fund or funds are most appropriate to the client's financial condition and objectives. Accordingly, the clients should review both the fees charged by the funds and the fees charged by ARCA to fully understand the total amount of fees to be paid by the clients and to thereby evaluate the advisory services being provided.

Advisory recommendations are based on the client's financial situation at the time the services are provided and are based on financial information disclosed by the client to Adviser. Clients are advised that certain assumptions may be made with respect to interest and inflation rates and the use of past trends and performance of the market and economy. Past performance is in no way an indication of future performance.

Adviser shall never have custody of any client funds or securities, as the services of a qualified and independent custodian will be used for these asset management services.

Advice offered by ARCA may involve investments in money market funds. Clients are hereby advised that all fees paid to ARCA for investment advisory services are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by money market funds (described in each fund's prospectus) to their shareholders. These fees may include, but are not limited to, a management fee, upfront sales charges, and other fund expenses. Further, there may be transaction charges involved with purchasing or selling of securities. Adviser does not share in any portion of the brokerage fees/transaction charges imposed by the custodian holding the client funds or securities. The client should review all fees charged by money market funds, Adviser, and others to fully understand the total amount of fees to be paid by the client.

In performing its services, ARCA shall not be required to verify any information received from the client or from the client's other professionals and is expressly

It should be noted that Adviser, in conjunction with the client, selects the broker dealer to be used and that Adviser does not negotiate commissions paid by individual clients, except as part of a package price or discount paid by all clients using that broker dealer. Adviser does not have custody of client funds or authority to remove funds from clients' accounts except to instruct the custodian to return funds directly to clients or to deduct advisory fees from the account on a quarterly basis. Suggestion of Brokers Adviser may execute or recommend that clients execute their securities transactions through various firms. In appropriate cases, Adviser executes block trades and then allocate the shares to each client based on the relative size of their account. Adviser may execute or recommend that clients execute their securities transactions through various firms including, but not limited to broker-dealers such as Fidelity Institutional Wealth Services ("FIWS") through Fidelity Brokerage Services LLC. FIWS may charge commissions (ticket charges) for executing Adviser's transactions. Adviser does not receive any part of these separate charges which are assessed directly to clients. FIWS does not have a role with respect to Adviser's investment advisory accounts, however it may serve as the broker-dealer in cases where clients wish to execute recommendation as part of the implementation of a financial plan.
