Item of Form (identify)	Answer
	The fee schedules shown immediately above are the Company's general fee schedules. Fees are negotiable and the client should refer to the written investment advisory agreement for the fees applicable to their account(s). In cases where the Investment Management Agreement is either established or terminated during the calendar quarter, the Account Management Fee will be prorated, as appropriate. Thus, the Account Management Fee will be assessed from the date that the Investment Management Agreement is accepted by Summit Asset Strategies Wealth Management, LLC and, where such an Agreement is terminated during the calendar quarter, an appropriate pro rata refund will be given to the Client. The above-referenced fees charged by Summit Asset Strategies Wealth Management, LLC do not include brokerage commissions and other costs related to the execution of transactions on behalf of Clients. Such costs will be paid by advisory Clients in addition to the fees discussed above. Moreover, mutual funds that are held by advisory Clients will bear their own internal transaction and execution costs, as well as directly compensate their investment managers along with internal administrative services. Some mutual funds pay 12b-1 fees, Distribution Fees, and or Shareholder Service Fees to broker-dealers that offer such mutual funds to their Clients. These charges affect the Net Asset Value of these mutual fund shares and are thus indirectly borne by mutual fund shareholders such as a Summit Asset Strategies Wealth Management, LLC Client. Some mutual fund companies have imposed a redemption fee. A redemption fee is another type of fee that some funds charge their shareholders when shares are sold or redeemed within a short period of time from the purchase of the mutual fund shares. Although a redemption fee is deducted from redemption proceeds just like a deferred sales load, it is not considered to be a sales load. Unlike a sales load, which is generally used to compensate brokers, a redemption fee is typically used to defray fund costs associated with a shareholder's redemption and is paid directly to the fund, not to a broker. The SEC generally limits redemption fees to 2%. In most cases, the Funds will use the "first-in, first-out" (FIFO) method to determine the holding period. Under this method, the date of the redemption will be compared with the earliest purchase date of shares held in the account. While it is not the general practice of Summit Asset Strategies Wealth Management, LLC to sell client's securities in a period that would generate a redemption fee, it should be anticipated that Summit Asset Strategies Wealth Management, LLC might do so if in its opinion the sale is in the client's best interests. Or mutual fund shares must be redeemed to pay fees from the account.

The investment advisor Summit Asset Strategies Wealth Management, LLC is compensated for its advisory functions to the fund by the fund Manager. The fund is not revalued each quarter. One quarter of the annual fee based upon the previous year-end valuation is deducted each quarter. The manager is also paid a performance fee ranging from 0% up to 50% of the Fund's annual gain based on the total annual rate of return on each Member's investment after accounting for all Company Expenses and the Management Fee. The performance fee portion of the Manager's compensation gives the Manager the incentive to make investments in that carry a higher level of risk than other potential investments. The Manager may choose riskier companies with the expectation that they will yield a higher return. Therefore, this relationship and performance based compensation create the incentive for the Manager to make investment decisions on behalf of the company that entail more risk than the Manager would otherwise make. Summit Asset Strategies Investment Management, LLC is the sole owner and manager of Summit Strategic Opportunities Fund II, LLC a Washington Limited Liability Company. ("SSOP Fund II") SSOP Fund II will from time-to-time issue Notes that are intended to pay interest on a monthly basis. The minimum investment amount in these Notes is $100,000. Only Accredited Investors (i.e., not an entity) whose individual net worth or joint net worth with spouse at the time of purchase exceeds $1,000,000 or a natural person (i.e., not an entity) who had an individual income in excess of $200,000 in each of the two most recent years or joint income with spouse in excess of $300,000 in each of those years and has a reasonable expectation of reaching the same level of income in the current year, may participate in the Note offering and collectively may acquire up to $5,000,000 (Five Million Dollars) of Notes. Investors in the Notes shall not be a Member/owner of the Company rather, Investors shall be a creditor. The Company is a private investment fund seeking to provide fixed return for its investors. The Company's risk analysis is based on the overall creditworthiness of the target companies in which the Company invests. SSOP Fund I and SSOP Fund II send financial statements to the holders of Fund Interests and/or Notes on an annual basis. SSOP Fund II invests in a portfolio of businesses. These companies are private lenders. The ability of SSOP Fund II to repay the principal and interest on the Notes will be directly related to the performance of these lenders. In the event that a portfolio company suffers losses from bad loans or delayed payment, the Company may be unable to timely pay principal and interest. The Notes are secured by a SSOP Fund II Unit Pledge Agreement pursuant to which Summit

	Asset Strategies Investment Management, LLC, as sole member and Manager of SSOP Fund II, has pledged its ownership interest in SSOP Fund II. Investment in the Notes is speculative and involves a high degree of risk. Because SSOP Fund II is a borrower of funds in the case of the Notes it issues and a lender of funds in the case of companies that it invests in, the difference between the interest earned on investments in portfolio companies and the interest paid on Notes it has issued represents revenue to SSOP Fund II. This potential revenue relationship gives SSOP Fund II the incentive to make investments in portfolio companies paying higher rates of return. Portfolio Companies that pay a higher rate of return should be expected to be higher risk investments. Therefore this relationship creates the incentive for SSOP Fund II's Manager to make investment decisions on behalf of the company that entail more risk than the Manager would otherwise. This document is not an offer to sell or a solicitation of an offer to purchase an interest in securities. The foregoing disclosure is made to describe the potential conflicts of interest Summit Asset Strategies Wealth Management, LLC and its principals might have with current or potential clients.

	such as interests in SSOP Fund I or Notes issued by the Summit Strategic Opportunities Fund II, LLC in their managed portfolio, Summit Asset Management, LLC's compensation is based upon the stated asset management fee plus, a portion of the profits of the SSOP Fund I and/or Summit Strategic Opportunities Fund II, LLC. Refer to a brief description in Item 8 of this document or the Note and Fund subscription agreement for a full explanation of the fund and Manager's compensation. The income from the funds in addition to the asset based investment advisory fee which the Advisor receives creates a financial incentive for Summit Asset Strategies Wealth Management, LLC to recommend that Clients invest in SSOP Fund I and/or the Notes issued by their affiliated entity. The financial incentive creates a potential conflict of interest between Summit Asset Strategies Wealth Management, LLC and the Client. Summit Asset Strategies Wealth Management, LLC, the Advisor, may at their sole option, choose not to include the value of affiliated securities in the billing calculations for managed account ongoing investment supervisory services. Summit Asset Strategies Wealth Management, LLC only allows "Qualified Investors" which it defines as those clients having at least $750,000 under management with Summit Asset Strategies Wealth Management, LLC immediately after entering into the contract, or Clients with a net worth of more than $1,500,000 to hold these notes in managed portfolios. The value of the Notes issued by SSOP Fund II and the interests in SSOP Fund I held in the client's managed account may be included in total assets under management for the purpose of calculating Summit Asset Management's quarterly investment advisory fee. The value of the Notes for quarterly investment advisory services billing purposes will be the original face amount of the Notes. This Note value may be higher or lower than the actual value of the Summit Strategic Opportunities Fund II, LLC Notes, meaning that the investment advisory fees charged by Summit Asset Strategies Wealth Management, LLC may be higher or lower than they would have been had the true fair market value of the Notes been available and used. There is not a liquid market for the Notes and they are "restricted securities" and, therefore, cannot be sold or transferred unless they are subsequently registered under the Act or an exemption from such registration is available. Potential purchasers should seek independent legal and tax counsel regarding the advisability, suitability, risks and implications of purchasing these Notes.
