- 11. Review of Accounts. If applicant provides investment supervisory services, manages investment advisory accounts, or holds itself out as providing financial planning or some similarly termed services:

- A. Describe below the reviews and reviewers of the accounts. For reviews, include their frequency, different levels, and triggering factors. For reviewers, include the number of reviewers, their titles and functions, instructions they receive from applicant on performing reviews, and number of accounts assigned each.

One or more principals of Values First Advisors, Inc. reviews all portfolios. All client accounts are reviewed in detail at least quarterly, but interim reviews may be triggered by a number of factors. These factors may include but are not limited to, the following: change in general client circumstances (marriage, divorce, retirement); or economic, political or market conditions.

The portfolio of recommended securities in the Direct Management Program is reviewed, in aggregate, on a daily basis. Any perceived need for change is then considered for each client portfolio on an individual basis.

In addition, the Sub-Advisors utilized by VFA are reviewed and monitored on an ongoing basis. Allocations among Sub-Advisors are generally rebalanced on an annual basis to be sure the portfolio is still invested appropriately for the clients objectives and risk tolerance.

- B. Describe below the nature and frequency of regular reports to clients on their accounts.

Account custodians are responsible for providing monthly or quarterly account statements which reflect the positions (and current pricing) in each account as well as transactions in each account, including fees paid from an account. Account custodians also provide prompt confirmation of all trading activity, and year-end tax statements, such as 1099 forms.

1.D	SERVICES Values First Advisors, Inc. (hereinafter "VFA"), provides faith-based investment management services to its clients. VFA's approach is to help each client individually establish and then meet specific goals, while staying within the risk tolerance level indicated by each client. VFA accomplishes this by spending focused time with each client, asking questions, and discussing alternative ideas with the client. VFA has developed specific strategies to help people incorporate their faith into their financial plans. Advisory Services At the beginning of the relationship, one or more Representatives of VFA meets with the new client, gathers information, performs research and analysis as necessary and then develops an asset allocation plan for the portfolio. Investment objectives are established and recorded. These objectives are commonly revised or updated over time to reflect changes in a client's financial life, and may result in a change to the asset allocation plan. In some instances, these changes are made in writing; in others, they are agreed to verbally. VFA further assists its clients in implementing their investment plans by managing portfolios, most often on a discretionary basis. Under such an arrangement, VFA has the authority to supervise and direct the portfolio without prior consultation with the client. VFA may manage a portion or the entire portfolio in-house, utilizing individual common stocks, mutual funds, and ETF's to construct a portfolio most suitable to meet the client's goals and objectives, within the client's individual risk tolerance. When appropriate, VFA will recommend the use of Separate Account Managers, as described below. Clients have the right to impose certain restrictions on VFA, such as prohibiting the inclusion of certain types of stocks (e.g., "sin stocks") in a portfolio or prohibiting the sale of certain stocks held in the account at the commencement of the relationship. Such restrictions and guidelines imposed by clients affect the composition and performance of portfolios. In addition, each client's portfolio is treated individually, with very specific consideration given to each decision made on its behalf. For these and other reasons, performance of portfolios within the same investment objective may differ and clients should not expect that the performance of their portfolios would be identical with the average client of VFA. In either case, throughout the relationship with each client, VFA encourages and promotes regular dialogue with clients and with their other advisors, such as attorneys, accountants and other professionals. Once the asset allocation plan has been established, VFA will either manage part or all of the portfolio in-house or may recommend the use of one or more Separate Account Managers (each a "Sub-adviser"). From time to time these Sub-advisers may be a part of a wrap program. A wrap program is one in which the manager's fee is combined with

The Sub-adviser(s) will be granted discretionary trading authority to provide investment supervisory services for the portfolio, but VFA retains the authority to terminate the Sub-Adviser's relationship or to add new Sub-Advisors without specific client consent. With respect to assets managed by a Sub-adviser, VFA's role will be to monitor the overall financial situation of the client, to monitor the investment approach and performance of the Sub-adviser(s), and to assist the client in understanding the investments of the portfolio. The Sub-Advisors utilized by VFA are reviewed and monitored on an ongoing basis. Allocations among Sub-Advisors are generally rebalanced on an annual basis to be sure the portfolio is still invested appropriately for the clients objectives and risk tolerance. Because VFA has the authority to allocate, without client consent, a higher proportion of the total portfolio to in-house management, a conflict of interest may exist. In instances where the services of a Sub-adviser are utilized, both brokerage expenses and the Sub-Adviser's fee will be charged in addition to VFA's fee. The fee charged by the Sub-Adviser will not exceed 0.60%. For any portion of the portfolio that VFA manages in-house, VFA will assess an additional annual fee, not to exceed 0.60%. (See summary of fees below.) Financial Planning VFA has a ten step financial planning process for clients which looks at what is most important to the client and how their values can and do impact their finances. VFA's objective is to create a complete personalized plan for each client, and develop a road map to follow that plan. The fee for financial planning service is negotiated at the time of the engagement, and is normally based on a fixed or hourly basis. Fees Advisory Service fees are generally payable monthly, in advance. Sub-Advisor fees may be charged in advance or arrears, depending on the Sub-Advisor(s) selected. If management begins after the start of a month, fees may be prorated accordingly. Either party may terminate the Management Agreement upon thirty (30) days' written notice. In the event of termination, any paid but unearned fees will be promptly refunded to the client, and any fees due to VFA from the client will be invoiced. All fees paid to VFA for investment advisory services are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by ETF's and mutual funds (described in each fund's prospectus) to their shareholders. These mutual fund fees will generally include a management fee and other expenses. If the fund also imposes a sales charge, a client could pay an initial or deferred sales charge.

E	Code of Ethics VFA has adopted a Code of Ethics, the full text of which is available to you upon request. VFA has several goals in adopting this Code. First, VFA desires to comply with all applicable laws and regulations governing its practice. Next, the management of the Company has determined to set forth guidelines for professional standards, under which all associated persons are to conduct themselves. VFA has set high standards, the intention of which is protect client interests at all times and to demonstrate our commitment to our fiduciary duties of honesty, good faith and fair dealing with clients. All associated persons are expected to strictly adhere to these guidelines, as well as the procedures for approval and reporting established in the Code. VFA has instituted, as a deterrent, a policy of disciplinary actions to be taken with respect to any associated person who violates the Code.

	Finally, VFA has adopted specific policies and procedures designed to assist in the implementation of the guidelines outlined in the Code. Our procedures include specific steps taken with regard to the treatment of aggregated or bundled trading activities. This also includes policies and procedures relating to the required approval and reporting of the personal securities transactions of our personnel; required holdings reports for personnel; insider trading education and prohibitions; and client privacy protection. Such policies and procedures will serve to assist in reviewing the effectiveness of the implementation of the Code on an ongoing basis.
10.	CONDITIONS FOR MANAGING ACCOUNTS With some exceptions, the annual minimum fee charged is $500. Under certain circumstances and in its sole discretion, VFA may negotiate such minimums.
12. A	INVESTMENT OR BROKERAGE DISCRETION (1) and (2) Depending on the choice made by each client, with respect to those accounts that VFA manages on a continuous basis, VFA may have the authority to determine which securities are to be bought and sold, the amount of the securities to be bought and sold, and the timing of such transactions. (3) and (4) All clients will have the opportunity to select the custodian and/or broker-dealer of their choice; however, clients in need of custodial services will generally have TD Ameritrade Institutional ("TD Ameritrade"), a division of TD Ameritrade, Inc., member FINRA/SIPC, Foliofn Institutional ("FI"), an institutional service program of Foliofn, a FINRA-registered broker-dealer, or the institutional services of Charles Schwab &amp; Co., Inc. ("Schwab"), a FINRA-registered broker-dealer recommended to them. Depending on the choice made by the client, VFA may or may not have the opportunity to negotiate commissions paid by the client, and VFA's ability to obtain best execution may be impaired. (Please see 12 B below.) Under normal circumstances, VFA will select the broker/dealer for all trades made on behalf of discretionary clients.
12. B	Suggested brokers Generally, all VFA clients will utilize the institutional services of TD Ameritrade, FI or Schwab collectively referred to as the "Brokers". As part of these programs, VFA receives some benefits. (Please see the disclosure under Item 13A of this Schedule F narrative.) The Brokers are unaffiliated SEC-registered broker-dealers. They each offer to independent investment advisers certain services, including without limitation custody of securities, trade execution, clearance and settlement of transactions. VFA receives some benefits from the Brokers through its participation in the programs. When given the discretion to do so, VFA will endeavor to select those brokers or dealers which will provide the best services at the lowest commission rates possible. The evaluation of the reasonableness of commission rates is based on the broker's ability to provide professional services, competitive commission rates, research and other services

VFA may therefore recommend the use of (or use) a broker/dealer who provides useful research and securities transaction services even though a lower commission may be charged by a different broker/dealer, who offers no research services and minimal securities transaction assistance. Research services may be useful in servicing all of VFA's clients, and not all of such research may be useful for the account for which the particular transaction was effected. Directed Brokerage Clients may direct VFA to use a particular broker for custodial or transaction services on behalf of the client's portfolio. In directed brokerage arrangements the client is responsible for negotiating the commission rates and other fees to be paid to the broker. Accordingly, a client who directs brokerage should consider whether such designation may result in certain costs or disadvantages to the client, either because the client may pay higher commissions or obtain less favorable execution, or the designation limits the investment options available to the client. The arrangement that VFA has with the Brokers is designed to maximize efficiency and to be cost effective. By directing brokerage arrangements, the client acknowledges that these economies of scale and levels of efficiency are generally compromised when alternative broker/dealers are used. While every effort is made to treat every client equally, the fact that a client chooses to use the brokerage and/or custodial services of these alternative service providers may in fact result in a certain degree of delay in executing trades and otherwise effectively managing the account(s). Aggregated Trade Policy VFA may block trades where possible and when advantageous to clients whose accounts have a need to buy or sell shares of the same security. This blocking of trades permits the trading of aggregate blocks of securities composed of assets from multiple client accounts, so long as transaction costs are shared equally and on a pro-rata basis between all accounts included in any such block. Block trading allows VFA to execute equity trades in a timely, equitable manner, and may reduce overall costs to clients. VFA will only aggregate transactions when it believes that aggregation is consistent with its duty to seek best execution (which includes the duty to seek best price) for its clients, and is consistent with the terms of VFA's investment advisory agreement with each client for which trades are being aggregated. No advisory client will be favored over any other client; each client that participates in an aggregated order will participate at the average share price for all VFA's transactions in a given security on a given business day, with transaction costs generally shared pro-rata based on each client's participation in the transaction. On occasion, owing to the size of a particular account's pro rata share of an order or other factors, the commission or transaction fee charged could be above or below a breakpoint in a pre-determined commission or fee schedule set by the executing broker, and therefore transaction charges may vary slightly among accounts. Accounts may be excluded from a block due to tax considerations, client direction or other factors making the account's participation ineligible or impractical.

VFA will prepare, before entering an aggregated order, a written statement ("Allocation Statement") specifying the participating client accounts and how it intends to allocate the order among those clients. If the aggregated order is filled in its entirety, it will be allocated among clients in accordance with the Allocation Statement. If the order is partially filled, it will generally be allocated pro-rata, based on the Allocation Statement, or randomly in certain circumstances. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the order may be allocated on a basis different from that specified in the Allocation Statement if all client accounts receive fair and equitable treatment, and the reason for different allocation is explained in writing and is approved by an appropriate individual/officer of VFA. VFA's books and records will separately reflect, for each client account, the orders of which are aggregated, the securities held by and bought and sold for that account. Funds and securities of clients whose orders are aggregated will be deposited with one or more banks or broker-dealers, and neither the clients' cash nor their securities will be held collectively any longer than is necessary to settle the transaction on a delivery versus payment basis; cash or securities held collectively for clients will be delivered out to the custodian bank or broker-dealer as soon as practicable following the settlement, and VFA will receive no additional compensation or remuneration of any kind as a result of the proposed aggregation.

ADDITIONAL COMPENSATION

As disclosed under Item 12.B. above, VFA participates in the Brokers Institutional programs and accordingly VFA may recommend the Brokers to clients for custody and brokerage services. There is no direct link between VFA's participation in the programs and the investment advice it gives to its clients, although VFA receives economic benefits through its participation in the programs. These benefits include: receipt of duplicate client confirmations; access to a trading desk serving advisor participants; access to block trading (which provides the ability to aggregate securities transactions for execution and then allocate the appropriate shares to client accounts); the ability to have advisory fees deducted directly from client accounts; access to an electronic communications network for client order entry and account information; access to mutual funds with no transaction fees and to certain institutional money managers; and discounts on compliance, marketing, technology, and practice management products or services provided to VFA by third party vendors. These benefits received by VFA [or its related persons] do not depend on the amount of brokerage transactions directed to these Brokers.

As part of its fiduciary duties to clients, VFA endeavors at all times to put the interest of its clients first. Clients should be aware, however, that the receipt of economic benefits by VFA [or its related persons] in and of itself creates a potential conflict of interest.
