Item of Form (identify)	Answer
Item 13.A.	Directed Brokerage Some clients instruct us to use one or more particular brokers for the transactions in their accounts. Clients who may want to direct the firm to use a particular broker should understand that this may prevent ASCENT from aggregating orders with other clients or from effectively negotiating brokerage compensation on their behalf. This arrangement may also prevent ASCENT from obtaining the most favorable net price and execution. Thus, when directing brokerage business, clients should consider whether the commission expenses, and execution, clearance, and settlement capabilities, they will obtain through their broker are adequately favorable in comparison to those that we would otherwise obtain for our clients. Additional Compensation Research products ASCENT may receive from brokerage firms may include financial publications and information about particular companies and industries. These products provide lawful and appropriate assistance to the firm in the performance of our investment decision-making responsibilities. Please refer to additional disclosures under Item 12.B. above. Associated persons of ASCENT may, from time to time, attend due diligence conferences offered by various vendors and/or wholesalers. These conferences may be available to associated persons of ASCENT at no cost to the firm.
Item 13.B.	Compensation for Client Referrals Non-employee (outside) consultants, who are directly responsible for bringing a client to ASCENT, may receive compensation from the firm. Such agreements will comply with the requirements set out in Rule 206(4)-3 of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, including the requirement that the relationship between the solicitor and the investment adviser be disclosed to the client at the time of the solicitation or referral. Under these arrangements, the client does not pay higher fees than ASCENT's normal/typical advisory fees. In certain cases, employees of ASCENT who are instrumental in securing new clients for the firm may be paid additional compensation based upon the revenue generated by the new client. Miscellaneous Proxy Voting For investment management accounts, in the absence of specific voting guidelines from a client, ASCENT will vote proxies in a manner that is in the best interest of the client, which may result in different voting results for proxies for the same issuer.
