Item 1.D, cont.	and fees will be agreed upon and disclosed in the agreement for services prior to services being provided. Fees for Advisor's services are billed quarterly in arrears based on average daily value of the account for the quarter. Fees are generally deducted directly from the client's account. Clients must provide the custodian with written authorization to have fees deducted from the account and paid to Advisor. Advisor will provide clients with a fee notification showing the amount of fees for the quarter, the manner in which the fees were deducted, any adjustments to the fees, and explanations of any adjustments. The custodian will send client statements at least quarterly showing all disbursements for the account including the amount of the advisory fee. Advisor provides performance and position reports on a quarterly or as-needed basis. Brokerage commissions and/or transaction ticket fees charged by the custodian will be billed directly to the client. Advisor will not receive any portion of such commissions or fees from the custodian or client. In addition, clients may incur certain charges imposed by third parties other than Advisor in connection with investments made through the account, including but not limited to, mutual fund sales loads, 12(b)-1 fees and surrender charges, variable annuity fees and surrender charges, and IRA and qualified retirement plan fees. Management fees charged by Advisor are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by investment company securities that may be recommended to clients. A description of these fees and expenses are available in each investment company security's prospectus. Either party may terminate the agreement for services at any time. If services are terminated within five (5) business days of executing the investment management services agreement, services will be terminated without penalty and no fees shall be due. If services are terminated after the initial five day period, any fees due will be pro-rated and billed to client. In the event a client terminates services, termination shall be effective from the time the advisor receives written notification or such other time as may be mutually agreed upon, subject to the settlement of transactions in progress and the final payment of advisory fees. There will be no penalty charge upon termination. In the event Advisor terminates the relationship, the agreement will be terminated on the fifth business day after written notification is delivered to the client or such time as may be mutually agreed upon, also subject to the settlement of transactions in progress and the final payment of advisory fees. Advisor will recommend a portfolio based on one of several asset allocation models designed to meet the individual financial needs, investment objectives and risk tolerance of the client. Portfolios are comprised of load-waived mutual funds, no-load mutual funds or exchange-traded mutual funds (ETFs), and all CAAP accounts are discretionary. Portfolios are selected through comprehensive due diligence by Consultants who are Registered Investment Advisors selected but not affiliated with CIRA, who use a screening process that looks at various investment criteria. Item 1.D, cont.	CAAP Schedule H. Clients who wish to invest in CAAP are highly advised to review fully the CAAP Schedule H prior to investing. Investment Management &amp; Consulting Services to Qualified Retirement Plans For investment management services to qualified retirement plans, Advisor and its associated persons may provide investment management services through accounts maintained at the custodian designated by the retirement plan sponsor. Under the advisory services agreement, Advisor will be granted trading authorization on the plan participant assets that have elected investment management services provided via one of the designated allocation models managed by Advisor. At no time will Advisor have direct access to client funds and securities. The client's qualified custodian will maintain custody of all funds and securities. Consulting services to qualified retirement plans may include providing advice to the retirement plan sponsor and/or the retirement plan's investment committee about the dynamics of the retirement plan, the plan's loan program, recommendations regarding the plan's investment line-up, providing employee education meetings, providing enrollment support and the creation and management of allocation models offered as investment options to the plan participants. Qualified retirement plan clients are charged for Advisor's investment consulting and management services based on a percentage of the value of plan assets receiving Advisor's services or on a fixed fee basis. Advisor does not receive any additional compensation based upon the value of plan participant assets that have elected to receive Advisor's investment management services via the allocation models Advisor manages for the qualified retirement plan. Charges for investment consulting and management services to qualified retirement plan clients generally range from 1 basis point to 200 basis points. The actual fee charged to each retirement plan client is negotiable based on factors such as the client's financial situation and circumstances, the amount of assets under management or review, whether Advisor will have trading authorization over the client's account, and the overall complexity of the services provided. The exact services and fees will be agreed upon and disclosed in the agreement for services prior to services being provided. Fees for Advisor's services are billed quarterly in arrears based on average daily value of the account for the quarter. Fees are generally deducted directly from the client's account. Clients must provide the custodian with written authorization to have fees deducted from the account and paid to Advisor. The custodian will send client statements at least quarterly showing all disbursements for the account including the amount of the advisory fee. Advisor provides performance and position reports on a quarterly or as-needed basis. Brokerage commissions and/or transaction ticket fees charged by the custodian will be billed directly to the client. Advisor will not receive any portion of such commissions or fees from the custodian or client. In addition, clients may incur certain charges imposed by third parties other than the advisor in connection with investments made through the account, including but not limited to, mutual fund sales loads, 12(b)-1 fees and surrender charges, variable annuity fees and surrender charges, and IRA and qualified retirement plan fees. Management fees charged by the advisor are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by investment company securities that may be recommended to clients. A description of these fees and expenses are available in each investment company security's prospectus. Either party may terminate the agreement for services to a qualified retirement plan at any time by providing thirty day's written notice. If services are terminated within five (5) business days of executing the investment management services agreement, services will be terminated without

In the event a client terminates services, termination shall be effective from the time the advisor receives written notification or such other time as may be mutually agreed upon, subject to the settlement of transactions in progress and the final payment of advisory fees. There will be no penalty charge upon termination. Clients may not assign the agreement for services without Advisor's prior written consent; nor shall Advisor make any assignment (as defined in the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended) of the agreement for services without prior written notice and consent of the client. Financial Planning Services Advisor's associated persons provide financial planning services in the form of consultations and written financial plans. Financial planning services are usually prepared for each client before investments are transferred or changes initiated to portfolios transferred to Advisor. Financial planning services may take into consideration each client's objectives, risks that they are willing to undertake, investment knowledge, net worth, income, age, projected retirement, unusual or material funding requirements, inheritance possibilities, pensions, social security, children/relative funding issues, estate issues, and living expenses expressed in today's dollars requested for retirement. Based on the previous data and information compilation, suitable investments are recommended for each client's portfolio. Fees for financial planning services may be billed on either a fixed or hourly fee basis. Whether a fixed or hourly fee is charged and the amount of the fee will depend upon the complexity of the client's situation and the actual services to be provided. Advisor has no minimum fee for financial planning services. If a flat fixed fee will be charged for the financial planning services, the fixed fee typically will be 1% of client's household income. For a financial planning engagement billed on fixed fee basis, Advisor will provide client in advance with a written notification of the fixed fee to be charged. The hourly rate for financial planning services typically will range from $75 to $225. At Advisor's discretion, financial planning charges may be waived. For a financial planning engagement billed on an hourly rate, Advisor will provide client with a written estimate in advance of the amount of hours needed to complete financial planning services, the hourly rate that will be charged, and the terms of payment. If it is later determined that the total cost will exceed the maximum amount quoted, an associated person of Advisor will contact the client to receive authorization to provide additional services. For both fixed and hourly financial planning service, one-half of the financial planning fees will be due up-front and the balance of financial planning fees will be due within 30 days of Advisor's presentation of the written financial plan or completion of the consultation services. At no time will clients be required to pay more than $500 six or more months in advance. Financial planning services will terminate the day of the first annual review meeting not to exceed 18 months from the date of this agreement. The client may terminate financial planning services at any time prior to presentment of the web based plan or completion of consultation services by providing notice to Advisor with no penalty and no fees due. In addition, the entire financial planning fee due may be waived for clients not satisfied with the financial plan prepared by the Advisor. However, in these case, Advisor retains intellectual property rights over any financial plan prepared and web based client access to the planning software will terminate. In this case, one final printed copy of the plan will be provided upon request. While financial planning services are generally prepared with the intention of the client implementing recommendations made within the plan through Advisor, clients are not obligated to

Item 8.C(1) & (9)	OTHER FINANCIAL INDUSTRY ACTIVITIES OR AFFILIATIONS Triune Financial Partners, LLC has a related person, Triune Insurance Partners, Inc., an insurance corporation which derives income from the sale of life, health, long-term-care, and disability insurance, as well as group benefit and fixed annuity products. Advisor's officers and associated persons conduct insurance sales through their affiliation with Triune Insurance Partners, Inc. In conducting insurance activities, associated persons may act as independent insurance agents for various insurance companies and agencies. In addition, Advisor's officers and associated persons are separately licensed as registered representatives with Cambridge Investment Research, Inc., a securities broker/dealer, and as investment adviser representatives with Cambridge Investment Research Advisors, Inc. Triune Financial Partners, LLC and Cambridge Investment Advisors, Inc. (CIR) are not affiliated entities. Triune Financial Partners, LLC and Cambridge Investment Research Advisors, Inc.(CIRA) are also not affiliated entities. In their capacity as investment adviser representatives of Triune Financial Partners, LLC, associated persons may participate in the Cambridge Asset Allocation Platform (CAAP) which is sponsored by CIRA or the Cambridge Managed Account Program (CMAP) which is sponsored by CIR. When acting in these separate capacities, these individuals are able to implement recommended securities and insurance products for separate compensation in addition to any investment advisory fees charged by Advisor. Approximately 90% of their time is spent on activities in their capacity as registered representatives and approximately 10% of their time is spent on insurance activities.
Item 9.B	PARTICIPATION OR INTEREST IN CLIENT TRANSACTIONS Advisor's associated persons may sell securities to any client for commissions in their separate capacities as registered representatives of Cambridge Investment Research, Inc. Item 9.E	if the client chooses to implement the recommendations of Advisor through an associated person in their separate capacity as a registered representative. Clients are not obligated to implement any recommendation through Advisor or through its representatives and are free to choose any broker/dealer they wish to implement the recommendations. Advisor and its associated persons may buy or sell securities that are also recommended to clients. In order to minimize this conflict of interest, Advisor has established an insider trading and personal securities transactions policy to monitor and supervise the personal accounts of its associated persons. In addition, securities recommended by Advisor are widely held and publicly traded.
Item 9-Code of Ethics	CODE OF ETHICS Advisor has established a Code of Ethics that will apply to all of its associated persons. An investment adviser is considered a fiduciary according to the Investment Advisers Act of 1940. As a fiduciary, it is an investment adviser's responsibility to provide fair and full disclosure of all material facts and to act solely in the best interest of each of Advisor's clients at all times. Advisor acknowledges it has a fiduciary duty to all clients, which duty is considered the core underlying principle for Advisor's Code of Ethics which also covers its Insider Trading and Personal Securities Transactions Policies and Procedures. Advisor requires all of its supervised persons to conduct business with the highest level of ethical standards and to comply with all federal and state securities laws at all times. Advisor has the responsibility to make sure that the interests of all clients are placed ahead of Advisor's or its supervised person's own investment interest. Full disclosure of all material facts and potential conflicts of interest will be provided to clients prior to any services being conducted. Advisor and its supervised persons must conduct business in an honest, ethical and fair manner and avoid all circumstances that might negatively affect or appear to affect our duty of complete loyalty to all clients. This disclosure is provided to give all clients a summary of Advisor's Code of Ethics. However, if a client or a potential client wishes to review Advisor's Code of Ethics in its entirety, a copy will be provided promptly upon request.
Item 10	CONDITIONS FOR MANAGING ACCOUNTS All clients are required to enter into a written investment advisory agreement prior to the establishment of an investment advisor relationship. For the provision of investment management services to non-qualified accounts, Advisor will require a minimum account balance of $25,000. Advisor does not require a minimum account balance for the provision of advisory services to qualified retirement plans and does not impose a minimum fee for the provision of financial planning services.
Item 11	REVIEW OF ACCOUNTS Client accounts will typically be reviewed at least twice a year. Additional reviews may be prompted by a change in client circumstances or upon client request. Also, if Advisor determines that a tactical change is necessary for the allocation models, client accounts invested in any allocation model being changed will be reviewed. Investment adviser representative typically is responsible for review of that representative's client accounts. Financial planning services terminate upon presentation of the written plan or completion of the financial planning consultation services. Therefore, no reviews are conducted for these accounts. If clients elect to have a review and update to an original financial plan, additional fees may be

Item 12.A(1)&(2)	INVESTMENT OR BROKERAGE DISCRETION  Advisor provides asset management services on a discretionary basis. Advisor's discretionary authority will be granted by the client in the client agreement. When discretionary authority is granted, it is limited in that Advisor will only be given discretionary trading authority. This authority will allow Advisor to determine the type of securities and the amount of securities that can be bought or sold for the client portfolio without obtaining the client's consent for each transaction. Advisor will not be given discretionary authority to withdraw funds and securities from client accounts.
Item 12.B	Clients wishing to implement Advisor's advice are free to select any broker they wish and are so informed. If clients wish to have Advisor's associated persons implement the advice in their capacity as registered representatives or through the CMAP program, then the associated persons' broker/dealer, CIR, will be used. Associated persons of Advisor are registered representatives of CIR and are required to use the services of CIR and CIR's approved clearing broker-dealers when acting in their capacity as registered representatives. CIR serves as the introducing broker-dealer. All accounts established through CIR will be cleared and held at NFS or Pershing. CIR has a wide range of approved securities products for which CIR performs due diligence prior to selection. CIR's registered representatives are required to adhere to these products when implementing securities transactions through CIR. Commissions charged for these products may be higher or lower than commissions clients may be able to obtain if transactions were implemented through another broker/dealer. Because the associated persons of Advisor may also be registered representatives of CIR, CIR provides compliance support to Advisor's associated persons. In addition to compliance support, CIR also provides the associated persons of Advisor, and therefore the Advisor, with back-office operational, technology, and other administrative support.  In addition, some of Advisor's associated persons have entered into an Equity Participation Plan with Cambridge Investment Research, Inc. (CIR). Under this arrangement, Advisor's associated persons have the ability to earn a percentage of CIR's overall profit ratio. Advisor's associated persons are not owners or officers of CIR. However, Advisor's associated persons are eligible to participate in the Equity Participation Plan due to their affiliation as registered representatives of CIR. This arrangement between Advisor's associated persons and CIR is a potential conflict of interest between Advisor and its clients in that it may inhibit Advisor's independent judgment concerning the best execution services offered by CIR.  Transactions implemented by Advisor for client accounts are generally effected independently, unless Advisor decides to purchase or sell the same securities for several clients at approximately the same time. This process is referred to as aggregating orders, batch trading or block trading and is used by Advisor when Advisor believes such action may prove advantageous to clients. When Advisor aggregates client orders, the allocation of securities among client accounts will be done on a fair and equitable basis. Typically, the process of aggregating client orders is done in order to achieve better execution, to negotiate more favorable commission rates or to allocate orders among clients on a more equitable basis in order to avoid differences in prices and transaction fees or other transaction costs that might be obtained when orders are placed independently. When Advisor determines to aggregate client orders for the purchase or sale of securities including securities in which the associated person of Advisor may invest, Advisor will do so in accordance with the parameters set forth in the SEC No-Action Letter, SMC Capital, Inc. It should be noted, Advisor does not receive any additional compensation or remuneration as a result of aggregation. ADDITIONAL COMPENSATION Advisor's associated persons, in their separate capacities as securities agents of CIR, may receive commissions from the execution of securities transactions. In addition, associated persons may receive 12b-1 fees from certain mutual fund companies as outlined in the fund's prospectus. 12b-1 fees come from fund assets, therefore, indirectly from client assets. The receipt of such fees could represent an incentive for the associated persons to recommend funds with 12b-1 fees over funds that have no fees or lower fees. As a result, there is a potential conflict of interest.
Proxy Voting	In the event a client opens a managed account through CIRA, Advisor's associated persons will receive an advisory fee in their separate capacities as advisor representatives of CIRA. The advisory fees charged by CIRA are separate and distinct from those fees charged by Advisor. PROXY VOTING Advisor does not vote proxies on behalf of its clients. It is the responsibility of the client to vote all proxies for securities held in client's account.
Class Action Lawsuits	CLASS ACTION LAWSUITS Client retains the right under the applicable securities laws to initiate individually a lawsuit or join a class-action lawsuit against the issuer of a security that was held, purchased or sold by or for Client. Advisor will not initiate such a legal proceeding on behalf of Client and does not provide legal advice to Client regarding potential causes of action against such a security issuer and whether the Client should join a class-action lawsuit. Advisor recommends that Client seek legal counsel prior to making a decision regarding whether to participate in such a class-action lawsuit. Moreover, Advisor's services do not include monitoring or informing Client of any potential or actual class-action lawsuits against the issuers of the securities that were held, purchased or sold by or for Client.
