Advisory Business

Firm Description

MERIDIAN MANAGEMENT, INC, was founded in 1998.

MERIDIAN MANAGEMENT, INC provides personalized confidential financial planning and investment management to individuals, pension and profit sharing plans, trusts, estates, charitable organizations and small businesses. Advice is provided through consultation with the client and may include: determination of financial objectives, identification of financial problems, cash flow management, tax planning, insurance review, investment management, education funding, retirement planning, and estate planning.

MERIDIAN MANAGEMENT, INC is a fee-based financial planning and investment management firm. The firm does sell non- variable insurance and annuities for a commission. The firm is not affiliated with entities that sell financial products or securities.

Investment advice is an integral part of financial planning. In addition, MERIDIAN MANAGEMENT, INC advises clients regarding cash flow, college planning, retirement planning, tax planning and estate planning.

Investment advice is provided, with the client making the final decision on investment selection. MERIDIAN MANAGEMENT, INC does not act as a custodian of client assets. The client always maintains asset control. Unless such authority is withheld by client, MERIDIAN MANAGEMENT, INC will supervise and direct the investments of the account subject to such limitations as client may impose by notice in writing. MERIDIAN MANAGEMENT, INC, as agent and attorney-in-fact with respect to the Account, may direct custodian to buy, sell, exchange, convert, and otherwise trade in any stocks, bonds, index futures and index options, and other securities (including money market, limited partnerships, mutual funds and listed stock options). MERIDIAN MANAGEMENT, INC will supervise and direct the investments of the account held at custodian on a discretionary basis, unless client specifically requests otherwise.

An overview of each client's initial situation is provided to the client, often in the form of a net worth statement. Periodic reviews are also communicated to provide reminders of the specific courses of action that need to be taken. Additional reviews may occur but are not necessarily communicated to the client unless immediate changes are recommended.

Other professionals (e.g., lawyers, accountants, insurance agents, etc.) are engaged directly by the client on an as-needed basis. Conflicts of interest will be disclosed to the client in the unlikely event they should occur.

The initial meeting, which may be by telephone, is free of charge and is considered an exploratory interview to determine the extent to which financial planning and investment management may be beneficial to the client.

Principal Owners

Patrick Tucker is a 100% stockholder.

Financial Planning Fees

Client shall pay MERIDIAN MANAGEMENT, INC for its services, as set forth in the Advisory Agreement, an annual planning fee due upon receipt of invoice from Meridian. This fee entitles the client to participate in MERIDIAN MANAGEMENT, INC's financial planning process. This process, "The Prosperity Pilot", is MERIDIAN MANAGEMENT, INC's proprietary planning system. These costs are payable by the client and are not included, or a part of, the management fee.

Payment of fees will be made through a quarterly debit to client's account. However, management fees may be billed directly to the client if so requested in writing by the client. Asset Management

Assets are invested primarily with third party money management firms, no-load or low-load mutual funds and exchange-traded funds, usually through custodians, discount brokers or fund companies. Custodians and fund companies charge each fund shareholder an investment management fee that is disclosed in the fund prospectus. Discount brokerages may charge a transaction fee for the purchase of some funds.

Stocks and bonds may be purchased or sold through a brokerage account when appropriate. The brokerage firm charges a fee for stock and bond trades. MERIDIAN MANAGEMENT, INC does not receive any compensation, in any form, from fund companies.

Termination of Agreement

A Client may terminate any of the aforementioned agreements at any time by notifying MERIDIAN MANAGEMENT, INC in writing and paying the rate for the time spent on the investment advisory engagement prior to notification of termination. MERIDIAN MANAGEMENT, INC may terminate any of the aforementioned agreements at any time by notifying the client in writing. If the client made an advance payment, MERIDIAN MANAGEMENT, INC will refund any unearned portion of the advance payment.

Fees and Compensation

Description

MERIDIAN MANAGEMENT, INC bases its fees on a percentage of assets under management, hourly charges, fixed fees, and commissions.

Advisory Agreements and Investment Management Agreements may be priced based on the complexity of work, especially when asset management is not the most significant part of the relationship.

Fees are negotiable.

Fee Billing

Investment management fees are billed quarterly, in arrears, meaning that we invoice you after the three-month billing period has ended. Payment in full is expected upon invoice presentation. Fees are usually deducted from a designated client account to facilitate billing. The client must consent in advance to direct debiting of their investment account. Investment management fees may be billed directly to the client if so requested in writing by the client.

Financial planning fees are billed annually or quarterly dependent upon client's preference.

Other Fees

Custodians may charge transaction fees on purchases or sales of certain securities. These transaction charges are usually small and incidental to the purchase or sale of a security. The selection of the security is more important than the nominal fee that the custodian charges to buy or sell the security.

MERIDIAN MANAGEMENT, INC, in its sole discretion, may waive its financial planning fee and/or charge a lesser investment advisory fee based upon certain criteria (e.g., historical relationship, type of assets, anticipated future earning capacity, anticipated future additional assets, dollar amounts of assets to be managed, related accounts, account composition, negotiations with clients, etc.).

Expense Ratios

Mutual funds generally charge a management fee for their services as investment managers. The management fee is called an expense ratio. For example, an expense ratio of 0.50 means that the mutual fund company charges 0.5% for their services. These fees are in addition to the fees paid by you to MERIDIAN MANAGEMENT, INC.

Performance figures quoted by mutual fund companies in various publications are after their fees have been deducted.

Past Due Accounts and Termination of Agreement

MERIDIAN MANAGEMENT, INC reserves the right to stop work on any account that is more than 90 days overdue. In addition, MERIDIAN MANAGEMENT, INC reserves the right to terminate any financial planning engagement where a client has willfully concealed or has refused to provide pertinent information about financial situations when necessary and appropriate, in MERIDIAN MANAGEMENT, INC's judgment, to providing proper financial advice. Any unused portion of fees collected in advance will be refunded within 30 days.

Performance-Based Fees

Sharing of Capital Gains

Fees are not based on a share of the capital gains or capital appreciation of managed securities.

MERIDIAN MANAGEMENT, INC does not use a performance-based fee structure because of the potential conflict of interest. Performance-based compensation may create an incentive for the adviser to recommend an investment that may carry a higher degree of risk to the client.

Types of Clients

Description

MERIDIAN MANAGEMENT, INC generally provides investment advice to individuals, pension and profit sharing plans, trusts, estates, or charitable organizations, corporations or business entities.

Client relationships vary in scope and length of service.

Account Minimums

MERIDIAN MANAGEMENT, INC has no account minimums.

Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Methods of Analysis

Security analysis methods may include charting, fundamental analysis, technical analysis, and cyclical analysis.

The main sources of information include the World Wide Web, financial newspapers and magazines, inspections of corporate activities, research materials prepared by others, corporate rating services, timing services, annual reports, prospectuses, filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission, and company press releases.

Investment Strategies

The primary investment strategy used on client accounts is strategic asset allocation focused on the goals and objectives of the client. Portfolios are globally diversified to control the risk associated with traditional markets.

The investment strategy for a specific client is based upon the objectives stated by the client during consultations. The client may change these objectives at any time.

Other strategies may include long-term purchases, short-term purchases, trading, short sales, margin transactions, and option writing.

Risk of Loss

All investment programs have certain risks that are borne by the investor. Our investment approach constantly keeps the risk of loss in mind. Investors face the following investment risks:

- Interest-rate Risk: Fluctuations in interest rates may cause investment prices to fluctuate. For example, when interest rates rise, yields on existing bonds become less attractive, causing their market values to decline.
- Market Risk: The price of a security, bond, or mutual fund may drop in reaction to tangible and intangible events and conditions. This type of risk is caused by external factors independent of a security's particular underlying circumstances. For example, political, economic and social conditions may trigger market events.

- Inflation Risk: When any type of inflation is present, a dollar today will not buy as much as a dollar next year, because purchasing power is eroding at the rate of inflation.
- Currency Risk: Overseas investments are subject to fluctuations in the value of the dollar against the currency of the investment's originating country. This is also referred to as exchange rate risk.
- Reinvestment Risk: This is the risk that future proceeds from investments may have to be reinvested at a potentially lower rate of return (i.e. interest rate). This primarily relates to fixed income securities.
- Business Risk: These risks are associated with a particular industry or a particular company within an industry. For example, oil-drilling companies depend on finding oil and then refining it, a lengthy process, before they can generate a profit. They carry a higher risk of profitability than an electric company, which generates its income from a steady stream of customers who buy electricity no matter what the economic environment is like.
- Liquidity Risk: Liquidity is the ability to readily convert an investment into cash. Generally, assets are more liquid if many traders are interested in a standardized product. For example, Treasury Bills are highly liquid, while real estate properties are not.
- Financial Risk: Excessive borrowing to finance a business' operations increases the risk of profitability, because the company must meet the terms of its obligations in good times and bad. During periods of financial stress, the inability to meet loan obligations may result in bankruptcy and/or a declining market value.

The client approves the custodian to be used and the commission rates paid to the custodian. MERIDIAN MANAGEMENT, INC does not receive any portion of the transaction fees or commissions paid by the client to the custodian on certain trades.

Discretionary trading authority facilitates placing trades in the client's accounts on the client's behalf so that we may promptly implement the client's expressed goals.
