There is no substitute for experience, and our seasoned team of portfolio managers has allowed Clark Capital to successfully deliver on our investment management promise. We offer sophisticated investment solutions to individuals, institutions, financial services firms and their clients. These solutions are designed to be easy to implement and access. We provide the following investment advisory services to a broad range of individual and institutional clients.

Wrap Fee Programs Sponsored by Clark Capital

Clark Capital is the Program Sponsor of two wrap fee programs or “wrap programs”: Navigator Unified Solutions and Navigator Master.¹ In our wrap fee programs, our investment advisory services, the cost of transactions and custodial fees are all “wrapped” into a single annual Investment Advisory Fee based on the value of your portfolio. Our wrap programs are generally made available through personal investment advisors hired by the client, although, in limited circumstances, the programs may be available to clients that do not use a personal investment advisor. With your personal investment advisor, we help you select one of the investment strategies listed below based upon your individual needs, stated objectives and guidelines as set forth in written agreements between you and Clark Capital. The investment strategy descriptions provided below are general in nature and may be customized and/or include reasonable investment restrictions imposed by our clients. In such instances and when feasible, Clark Capital (and, where applicable, any sub-advisors retained to manage a portion of your account) will refrain from buying certain securities or types of securities upon your instructions. However, you should note that we have full discretion to determine when your assets are invested, both when we begin to manage your account and upon receipt of additional contributions to your account. We reserve the right to limit the availability of any particular investment strategy at any given time based on various factors including asset class capacity, pre-existing relationships, minimum account sizes, fees and distribution channels. Certain investment strategies may be available only in certain channels. Clark Capital manages wrap accounts according to the general investment strategies described below. Other customized strategies may be offered from time to time. Our services include, without limitation, management of equity, fixed income, balanced and other specialty investment portfolios. We may contract with sub-advisors or act ourselves as a sub-advisor to your account. Clark Capital provides its services in single strategy accounts, multi-strategy accounts, separately managed accounts (SMA), and unified managed accounts (UMA).

Navigator Unified Solutions

Navigator Unified Solutions – Advisor Directed Account is a core and explore asset allocation program that emphasizes diversification and utilizes Clark Capital's unified managed account platform (UMA). Clark Capital serves as overlay manager to Unified Solutions. Clark Capital combines multiple investment products, coordinates portfolio administration and allocates the assets of the portfolio at its sole discretion. From time to time, Clark Capital will reallocate portfolios. Portfolio allocations are selected from the following asset classes: U.S. equities, international equities, fixed income, and alternative investments. Portfolios are constructed drawing upon the following: mutual funds; exchange traded products; sub-advisors (including Clark Capital); fixed income securities; and alternative investments including real estate, commodities, precious metals, currencies and absolute return/hedge strategies. Portfolios of sub-advisors other than Clark Capital are composed of U.S. and international equities and emphasize a range of styles.

Clark Capital, in our sole discretion, selects the sub-advisors for the Navigator Unified Solutions program. We monitor the performance of the sub-advisors on an ongoing basis, and from time to time may replace any of these sub-advisors if their characteristics are no longer consistent with the goals of the program.

Core and explore asset allocation is employed in the segments of the portfolio holding U.S. equities, international equities, and fixed income. The core segment is focused upon market diversification across market capitalizations and styles and explore is focused upon economic sectors and world markets that are believed to have the potential of producing excess performance. Clients in this program may customize their account with the following options:

Advisor Directed Account Options

- Active Core Allocation: At the client's option, the core portion of the portfolio will utilize actively managed sub-advisors and mutual funds.
- Passive Core Allocation: At the client's option, the core portion of the portfolio will utilize index exchange traded products allocated to replicate the market exposure of the account.
- Sentry Strategy: Clients may choose to have the Sentry strategy applied to the Unified Solutions portfolio. Designed and implemented by Clark Capital, this institutional hedging strategy is used in an effort to curb volatility and limit portfolio loss during major market declines through the use of volatility exchange-traded products and/or put options on the S&P 500.

Navigator Unified Solutions – Client Constructed Account (SMA) incorporates an investment strategy featuring one or more portfolios which utilize different investment styles, strategies, and investment vehicles. Portfolio allocations are selected from the following asset classes: U.S. equities, international equities, fixed income, and alternative investments. Portfolios draw upon the following: mutual funds; exchange traded products; fixed income securities; and alternative investments including real estate, commodities, precious metals, currencies and absolute return/hedge strategies.

The Master Portfolio Managers, pursuant to written contracts with Clark Capital, are delegated investment management authority over all or a portion of the assets in your account, and such managers are authorized to, among other things, buy, sell or hold securities or other investment for your account, to select the broker-dealers or others with whom transactions for the account are effected, and to take any and all other actions on your behalf that Clark Capital determines is customary or appropriate for the manager to perform. Clark Capital itself acts as a sub-advisor for segments of the portfolio. We also determine how account assets will be allocated or distributed among the sub-advisors we have chosen and coordinate portfolio administration. Clark Capital monitors your account to help ensure that the Master Portfolio Managers are following your stated investment strategies and are managing the account consistent with your chosen objectives and strategies and any restrictions you place on the account. Clark Capital monitors the performance of the sub-advisors selected and from time to time may replace those sub-advisors or change how client assets are allocated among sub-advisors. Portfolio assets are allocated to domestic equities -- including growth and value, large-, mid- and small-cap issues -- and international equities. The program consists of approximately 10 portfolios as described below, which may be combined to meet a wide variety of individual client objectives. In addition to the above, the client may choose the Navigator Sentry strategy as an option. The Navigator Sentry strategy is described below.

FEES AND COMPENSATION

As a client, you should be aware that the wrap fee charged by Clark Capital may be higher (or lower) than those charged by others in the industry, and that it may be possible to obtain the same or similar services from other firms at lower (or higher) rates. A client may be able to obtain some or all of the types of services available through Clark Capital's wrap fee programs on an individual basis through other firms and, depending on the circumstances, the aggregate of any separately paid fees may be lower or higher than the annual fees shown below. The factors that impact the relative cost to clients in our wrap fee programs include: the size of the account, the investment strategies selected for the account, the number of sub-advisors chosen for the account, customized options selected by the client (i.e., active core allocation, passive core allocation, sentry strategy), the level of trading activity in the client's account (the lower the activity, the less the client may benefit), and any Solicitor's Fee (described below) charged by a client's personal investment advisor.

Navigator Unified Solutions Fees

Clients in the Navigator Unified Solutions program pay a fee for our investment advisory services ("Investment Advisory Fee"). The range of Investment Advisory Fees you pay for our services are shown in the annual fee schedules below. The services we provide in exchange for our Investment Advisory Fee are also described below. Clients who gain access to the program through a personal investment advisor pay such advisors a separate fee for their services ("Solicitor's Fee"), which is also described in detail below.

A "Total Investment Fee" (consisting of the Investment Advisory Fee and the Solicitor's Fee) is deducted quarterly in advance from your account by your custodian and is based on the assets in your account at the close of the prior quarter. At the inception of our relationship with you and each quarter thereafter, we notify your custodian of the amount of the Total Investment Fee due and payable to us. Upon receiving the Total Investment Fee from your custodian, we will remit the Solicitor's Fee to your personal investment advisor. The custodian does not validate or check the Total Investment Fee or its calculation or the assets on which the fee is based. Your custodian will deduct the fee from your account or, if you have more than one account, you may arrange to have fees paid from an account you designate with our approval.

Each month, you will receive a statement directly from your custodian showing all transactions, positions and credits/debits into or from your account, including the Total Investment Fee deducted from your account. Quarterly, you will receive a statement from us that will show the allocation of your account, performance, portfolio value and changes in portfolio value, and the Total Investment Fee paid, among other account details. You should compare the statements you receive from your custodian with the quarterly statement from Clark Capital and notify us immediately if you find discrepancies, or if you do not receive the monthly custodial statements.

The Total Investment Fee will not be adjusted if assets are withdrawn after the inception of a quarter. When you contribute additional assets to your account after the initial subscription date, the Total Investment Fee will be increased on a pro rata basis during the quarter in which additional assets are received. Notice of cancellation or termination of an account must be received within ten days of quarterly billing to request a refund.

Investment Advisory Fee

The Investment Advisory Fee covers the following services provided by Clark Capital: investment advice; portfolio allocations; sub-advisor review, selection, monitoring and replacement where necessary when sub-advisors are used; account processing; client consultation; detailed account statements; and other services. The Investment Advisory Fee is also inclusive of custodial, clearing, sub-advisory and brokerage services. The Investment Advisory Fee is a flat fee based on the amount of assets the client has under management and the level of the account according to the schedule below, subject to certain exceptions. Sub-advisor fees are included in your Investment Advisory Fee and range from 0.35% to 0.75% annually. The Investment Advisory Fee encompasses all portfolio components except the Solicitor's Fee and certain management fees and other operating fees and expenses incurred by mutual funds and ETPs as disclosed in the prospectus for such funds. The Investment Advisory Fee may be negotiable.

Additional Advisor Compensation

From time to time, Clark Capital may accept compensation from firms that may provide services to client accounts for sponsorship of events to which solicitors which refer business to Clark Capital are invited. Such arrangements are not used as a factor in determining which service providers are chosen for Navigator accounts. In Clark Capital's prior fiscal year, such additional compensation totaled less than $600.

Solicitor's Fee

Your personal investment advisor receives a Solicitor's Fee for services rendered to you. The amount of the Solicitor's Fee on a given account is determined solely by your personal investment advisor, not Clark Capital, and relates to, among other things, the services they provide and the net asset value of your account. Personal investment advisors may charge up to 1.25% annually but also have the option to waive the Solicitor's Fee. The fee charged by your personal investment advisor may be more than what your personal investment advisor would receive if you participated in another program or paid separately for the services provided in our wrap programs. Therefore, your personal investment advisor may have a financial incentive to recommend this particular wrap fee program.

Clark Capital has marketing service agreements with certain broker dealers which refer business to Clark Capital whereby the broker dealer firm receives compensation of a negotiated percentage of aggregate assets brought by the broker dealer in addition to the Solicitor's Fee. In exchange, the broker dealer may agree to provide Clark Capital with such assistance as lists of associated advisors and representatives and ability to perform due diligence meetings and provide marketing support to advisors and representatives. As part of its marketing effort, Clark Capital may also pay to attend conferences/symposium sponsored by broker dealer firms which refer business to Clark Capital. Marketing services fees and the cost of conferences/symposium are paid out of the Advisor's portion of the Total Investment Fee and are not an additional expense to the investor. Advisor does not know if such arrangements with broker dealer firms influence the individual solicitors of the broker dealer firms to refer business to Clark Capital or to other advisors with which the broker dealer may have similar arrangements.

Item 5 – Account Requirements and Types of Clients

TYPES OF CLIENTS

We provide our services to a variety of clients including:

- Individuals, including high net worth individuals

- Trusts, estates and charitable organizations
- Corporations or other business entities
- Taft-Hartley plans, governmental plans, municipalities
- Not-for-profit entities
- Mutual funds

ACCOUNT REQUIREMENTS/MINIMUMS

For accounts to be established at Clark Capital, you (with assistance from your personal investment advisor) must complete all required paperwork and assets must be forwarded or transferred to the custodian. Accounts must meet minimum size requirements as given in the description of each portfolio/strategy in Item 4 of this Brochure – Services, Fees and Compensation. Each sub-advisor in the Navigator Master program must receive a minimum investment of $125,000. The account size requirements do not apply if the account drops below the minimum level solely due to market action.

Item 6 – Portfolio Manager Selection and Evaluation

MANAGER SELECTION AND MONITORING

As discussed above, we may select independent portfolio managers to act as sub-advisors to our client's wrap fee program accounts. Clark Capital utilizes the Plan Sponsor Network (PSN) database of portfolio managers provided by Informa Investment Solutions as the initial screening device in the sub-advisor selection process. This database provides extensive research on over 1700 individual investment managers and over 6800 portfolios of varying styles.

We make unbiased comparisons of potential sub-advisors by utilizing multiple benchmarks to examine a sub-advisor's absolute performance, relative performance, and risk-adjusted returns over time. This quantitative data, in addition to regulatory compliance and other qualitative information, serve as a starting point in the assessment of a sub-advisor's overall quality and suitability. Initial screening identifies indicators of quality, such as size, longevity and a legitimate, well-defined investment style. Initial as well as on-going reports are received from PSN. Our Investment Committee continually examines each sub-advisor's overall performance to determine whether it is consistent with the goals of the wrap program and individual clients. Changes to evaluation and ratings of a sub-advisor may be triggered by events such as departure of key staff, poor performance, changes in investment discipline and risk level and may lead to replacement within the portfolio with a more suitable sub-advisor or dismissal of the sub-advisor.

In addition to the description of sub-advisor(s) in the investment proposal prepared for you, upon your request, we will provide to you an overview briefly describing any sub-advisor participating in our programs. These overviews will focus on the sub-advisor's investing style and could include the sub-advisor's brochure, Part 2A of its Form ADV and past performance data.

Clark Capital calculates sub-advisors' performance on a firm-wide basis in accordance with the Global Investment Performance Standards (GIPS standards). Clark Capital's calculations are compared to the performance calculated by the sub-advisor for consistency, and we will investigate any discrepancies as part of our ongoing due diligence. Performance results are periodically verified by EisnerAmper LLP for compliance with the GIPS standards.

MEETING THE NEEDS OF INDIVIDUAL INVESTORS

Prior to engaging us as an investment advisor, your personal investment advisor will obtain information about your financial situation, investment objectives and risk tolerance and suggest a potential investment in our wrap program. On the basis of the information that we receive from you and your personal investment advisor, our portfolio team will review your situation and determine if the suggested program is suitable. We will then prepare an investment proposal for your review. If you accept the proposal, an Investment Advisory Agreement is completed and agreed to by you, your personal investment advisor and Clark Capital. As such, our services will be based upon your individual needs, stated objectives and guidelines as set forth in these written agreements. We make all investment decisions on your account without your prior approval of each specific transaction; however, all such decisions are made within the boundaries of your stated objectives and guidelines and the terms of your agreement with us. As a client in one of these wrap fee programs, you generally have the ability to impose reasonable restrictions on the management of your account. In such instances and when feasible, Clark Capital will refrain from buying securities or types of securities in accordance with your restrictions. Periodically, Clark Capital or your personal investment advisor will query you as to the continuing suitability of the program.

PERFORMANCE BASED FEES

We do not charge performance-based fees (fees based on a share of capital gains or on capital appreciation of the funds or securities in your account), nor do any of the sub-advisors utilized in our wrap fee programs.

METHODS OF ANALYSIS, INVESTMENT STRATEGIES, AND RISK OF LOSS

Methods of Analysis

Quantitative Analysis

In managing investors' accounts, Clark Capital employs quantitative analysis techniques. Such techniques seek to understand market behavior by using complex mathematical and statistical modeling, measurement and research. Among the methods of quantitative analysis used by Clark Capital, relative strength analysis and top down analysis are significant.

Relative Strength Analysis. Relative strength is a technical momentum indicator that measures price trend and indicates how a security is performing relative to other securities in its group.

Top Down Analysis. Top down analysis is a method of analysis that examines the "big picture" first, and then looks at the smaller components in turn. By looking at the overall picture, such as trends in the overall economy and conditions in a given industry, the aspects for further analysis can be narrowed.

Fundamental Analysis

In managing investors' accounts, Clark Capital employs fundamental analysis of individual assets. This method of evaluating a security involves attempting to measure its intrinsic value by studying everything that can affect the security's value, including macroeconomic factors (such as the overall economy and industry conditions) and company-specific factors (such as financial condition and management quality).

Bottom Up Analysis. Bottom up analysis is a method that emphasizes a thorough review of an individual security and de-emphasizes the importance of economic and market cycles and the industry in which the company operates. This approach assumes that individual companies can do well even in an industry that is not performing well.

Investment Strategies

Asset Allocation

In managing investors' accounts, Clark Capital employs the strategy of asset allocation. Asset allocation attempts to balance portfolio risk and reward to dovetail with an individual's goals, risk tolerance, and investment time horizon by dividing the portfolio among different asset categories, such as stocks, bonds, and cash. Clark Capital employs both strategic and tactical asset allocation.

Strategic Asset Allocation. In strategic asset allocation, a proportional combination of asset classes is established based upon expected rates of return for each asset class on the basis of historical data. For example, if stocks historically returned 10% per year and bonds returned 5% a year, the expected return for a portfolio consisting of half stocks and half bonds would be 7.5% over time. The asset class proportions are periodically adjusted to the original percentages. Once the allocation has been determined, there is no attempt to consciously deviate from the percentages of the original allocation.

Tactical Asset Allocation. Unlike strategic asset allocation, in tactical asset allocation an effort is made to take advantage of market opportunities by adjusting the percentages of the various asset classes in the portfolio while maintaining the risk control framework established on behalf of the individual investor.

Hedging. Hedging involves strategically using financial instruments in the market in an effort to offset the risk of any potential loss. One investment is “hedged” against another. The investments chosen are expected to be negatively correlated (the price movement of one is expected to be opposite the movement of the other). If the investment loses value, a successful hedge will reduce the loss. On the other hand, if the investment performs well, the potential profit is less.

Risk of Loss

All investments in securities include a risk of loss of your principal (invested amount) and any profits that have not been realized (the securities were not sold to “lock in” the profit). As you know, stock markets and bond markets fluctuate substantially over time. In addition, performance of any investment is not guaranteed and your account may experience loss of assets due to a variety of reasons including market movements and global and domestic events affecting the economy. As a result, there is a risk of loss of the assets we manage that may be out of our control. We will do our very best in the management of your assets; however, we cannot guarantee any level of performance or that you will not experience a loss of your account assets. Depending upon the program you choose and the securities used, your portfolio may be subject to the risks described below.

General Risks

Management Risk. There is no guarantee that our judgments about the worth and implementation of given strategies, the value of individual securities, and the state of the financial markets is sound and that investments in Navigator strategies will be profitable.

Deflation. Deflation risk is the risk that prices throughout the economy decline over time, which may have an adverse effect on the market value of an investment.

Inflation. Inflation risk is the risk that the value of assets or income from investments will be worth less in the future as inflation decreases the value of money. As inflation increases, the real value of an account and distributions can decline.

Risks Associated with Strategies

Asset Allocation. The success of asset allocation depends upon the manager’s ability to make decisions that will achieve an account’s objectives. Asset categories may not perform as expected due to economic and market influences both foreign and domestic and anticipated returns may not be realized.

Hedging. If the hedged investment performs well, there is likely to be a loss of upside potential. If the hedge does not perfectly match the underlying portfolio, there is a risk that results will not be as anticipated. If the investment is underhedged, it may not offer the degree of protection anticipated.

Risk Associated with Securities

Absolute Investment Strategies seek to achieve a positive return regardless of the condition of the overall market. These strategies may have returns that perform substantially less well than the overall market returns depending upon the skill of the portfolio manager.

American Depositary Receipts (ADRs) -- ADRs represent ownership in the shares of a non-U.S. company that trades in U.S. financial markets. While ADRs eliminate some of the inconveniences of ownership of foreign securities, they are subject to the same risks as international securities as well as being subject to possible termination, resulting in the inability to trade in U.S. markets and the inconveniences that entails.

Commodities have risk in that they are affected by global supply and demand; domestic and foreign interest rates; political, economic, financial events, or natural disasters; regulatory and exchange position limits; and concentration within a commodity.

Concentration Risk may occur when a strategy's investments are concentrated in a limited number of securities or specific regions or countries. The value of the account will vary considerably in response to changes in the value of the security or region/country. This may result in increased volatility.

Derivatives used in hedging strategies have risks different and possibly greater than the risks associated with investing directly in the investments underlying the derivatives.

Exchange Traded Funds may not accurately track their underlying index and may not have liquidity under severe market conditions.

Exchange Traded Notes are unsecured debt instruments. As such, exchange traded notes are subject to risk of default by the issuing bank (counterparty risk) as well as market risk. Exchange traded notes may fail to track the index they are designed to track as well as being negatively impacted by a decline in the credit rating of the issuer. They may lack liquidity under severe market conditions.

Fixed Income securities may be affected by interest rate risk as increases or decreases in interest rates occur and also by credit risk in that issuers may not make payment on the securities.

Foreign/International Market Risk. International investments involve special risks such as fluctuations in currencies, foreign taxation, economic and political risks, differences in accounting and financial standards. Investments in emerging markets are generally more risky than investments in developed markets.

High Yield Fixed Income (Bond) Securities invest in securities that are considered speculative and are susceptible to default or decline in value due to adverse economic and business developments.

Independent Sub-Advisors and Mutual Funds are subject to risks related to the manager's ability to achieve the components' objectives and market conditions affecting the components' assets. Each is subject to different levels of risk, based on the types and sizes of its underlying asset class allocations and strategy.

Options involve leverage and special risk considerations. Use of options entails the potential for significant losses and significantly increased portfolio volatility.

Real Estate has risks associated with direct ownership; valuations of real estate may be affected by economic or financial conditions or catastrophic events resulting from forces of nature or terrorist acts.

Securities Selected to Reflect Particular U.S. Styles and U.S. Sectors are subject to risk as an individual segment of the equity market may underperform other segments of the equity market as a whole. Small stocks are more volatile than larger, more established companies and are subject to significant price fluctuations, business risks, and are thinly traded.

Sectors may be subject to risk when a substantial portion of assets are devoted to a particular market sector or industry thereby having the potential of greater volatility than with broadly diversified strategies.

Style. Different types of investments tend to shift in and out of favor depending on market, economic, and other forces.

Stocks have risk in that their returns and the principal invested in them is not guaranteed and are subject to changing market conditions. They may decline in price significantly over short or extended periods in relation to overall market movement or due to factors affecting a segment of the market or factors affecting an individual company, such as a poor earnings report. Small stocks are more volatile than large stocks and are subject to significant price fluctuations and may be thinly traded.

PROXY VOTING

Clark Capital does not accept the authority to exercise the proxy voting right on behalf of clients in our wrap programs. In certain circumstances, we may be required to vote proxies as part of our fiduciary duties to certain ERISA plans. In these instances, Clark Capital will vote proxies in a manner consistent with the best interests of the plan participants. Clients may request information on how proxies for ERISA plan shares were voted.

OTHER ADVISORY SERVICES

In addition to the wrap fee programs that we sponsor, we act as an investment adviser (or “sub-adviser”) to wrap fee programs sponsored by independent financial services firms, such as banks, broker-dealers, and other investment advisers. The investment management services we provide through these third-party wrap fee programs follow the investment philosophy, investment process, and security selection offered in certain Navigator Unified Solutions portfolios. As an investment adviser to these wrap fee programs, we are compensated by the program sponsor with a portion of the wrap fee paid by the client. In some of these programs, Clark Capital maintains discretion as to which securities are purchased or sold for accounts, consistent with written information received regarding the client’s selected investment style, investment objectives, policies and restrictions (if any) and the capabilities of the custodian. In others, we are retained by the program sponsor to provide only a model portfolio. In these arrangements, we do not exercise investment discretion or trade the account. Rather, the program sponsor maintains investment discretion for the account, and may or may not elect to execute any or all of the purchase or sale transactions that we recommend.

Item 7 – Client Information Provided to Portfolio Managers

We provide information about you to the selected sub-advisors through the Account Establishment Form in your Investment Advisory Agreement. The data includes your non-public personal information such as your name, address, social security or tax ID; investment profile information such as your income, net worth, risk tolerance, investment objective and strategies you selected, any account restrictions you impose, custom portfolio requests, special instructions; and any other pertinent information or data necessary for such sub-advisors to provide investment advisory services to your account. We provide updated information to sub-advisors as we are advised of changes by you or your personal financial advisor. For more information on our privacy policies, please read our “Privacy Notice” under Item 9 of this Brochure.

Item 8 – Client Contact with Portfolio Managers

You and your personal financial advisor may contact Clark Capital to arrange for consultations regarding the management of your account. All sub-advisors have agreed to be available at reasonable times to participate in consultations requested either directly by you or through your solicitor acting on your behalf.

Item 9 – Additional Information

DISCIPLINARY INFORMATION

We are obligated to disclose any disciplinary event that would be material to you when evaluating us when you are considering initiating or continuing a Client/Adviser relationship with us. We do not have any legal, financial or other “disciplinary” item to report to you. This statement applies to our firm and every employee of the firm.

OTHER FINANCIAL INDUSTRY ACTIVITIES AND AFFILIATIONS

Registered Representatives

We permit our employees to serve as registered representatives of broker-dealers. Currently, a number of our employees are registered representatives of Grant Williams, LP (GWLP), a broker-dealer registered with FINRA. Neither Clark Capital nor any Clark Capital employee receives compensation from the purchase or sale of securities or investments for your account. Additionally, our Executive Vice President, Steven Grant, serves as President, Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer of GWLP. Mr. Grant spends approximately 15% percent of his time serving in these roles for GWLP, and approximately 85% percent of his time serving as our Chief Financial Officer.

Industry Affiliations

GWLP

As described above, GWLP is a broker-dealer registered with FINRA and our Chief Financial Officer, Steven Grant, serves as President, Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer of GWLP. Additionally, Clark Capital shares common office space with GWLP. We may use GWLP to place a limited number of fixed income trades for Clark Capital clients. When placing trades through GWLP, however, Clark Capital does not receive, directly or indirectly, any commissions or transaction-based compensation for such transactions. Accordingly, we believe that no conflict of interest exists. Additionally, Clark Capital clients pay only a nominal ticket charge for transactions executed through GWLP. Therefore, we believe that it is advantageous to clients when we use GWLP for fixed income trading.

Portfolio Solutions

Certain individual owners of Clark Capital hold ownership interests in Portfolio Solutions, LLC, a company holding a majority interest in GWLP and a majority interest in Portfolio Pathways, LLC, which is a technology company that provides web-based portfolio management software to financial institutions. Collectively, these Clark Capital owners hold an approximate 70 percent interest in Portfolio Solutions. Several solicitors using Clark Capital portfolios utilize Portfolio Pathway's portfolio management software for a fee. As described in Items 4 and 9 of this Brochure, these solicitors may also refer clients to Clark Capital and may receive compensation for such activities. However, our decision to work with any solicitor for a client account is in no way tied to their decision to use Portfolio Pathway's portfolio management software.

The Navigator Equity Hedged Fund

Clark Capital serves as a sub-advisor to the Navigator Equity Hedged Fund, which is registered as an open-end investment management company. The investment management services we provide to the fund mirror the investment philosophy, investment process, and security selection of the Navigator Global Equity ETF Hedged portfolio. Our fees for sub-advising the Navigator Equity Hedged Fund are disclosed in the prospectus for the fund.

A specified amount of your assets may be invested in the fund if you select the Navigator Global Balanced Hedged portfolio for your account. In order to address the economic incentive that Clark Capital may have in investing wrap accounts in the fund, our Investment Advisory Fee will be reduced (as reflected in the Navigator Global Balanced Hedged fee schedule in Item 4) when your account invests in the fund.

Navigator 401(k)

Clark Capital acts as a sub-advisor to the Navigator 401(k), a "group trust" within the meaning of the Internal Revenue Service Revenue Ruling 81-100, as amended, and is a collective investment trust that is exempt from registration under the Investment Company Act of 1940. The portfolios offered in the Navigator 401(k) consist of collective trusts which mirror certain other portfolios offered by Clark Capital. The portfolios are maintained by Wilmington Trust as the trustee. Our fees for sub-advising the Navigator 401(k) are disclosed in the offering documents for the trust. The presentation of information in this Brochure relating to the Navigator 401(k) is not intended as an offer or solicitation to invest.

CODE OF ETHICS

As required and as a good business practice, we have adopted a Code of Ethics that governs a number of potential conflicts of interest that may arise when providing our advisory services to you. This Code of Ethics is designed to ensure we meet our fiduciary obligation to you, our client (or prospective client), and to drive home a culture of compliance within Clark Capital. The Code is also designed to detect and prevent violations of securities laws including violations that might impact your investment account(s).

Our Code is comprehensive, is distributed to each employee at the time of hire and when there are any changes. Annually employees attest that they have read, understood, and will observe the Code. The Code is reinforced with reviews in monthly meetings as necessary and on-going monitoring of employee activity.

Our Code includes the following:

- Requirements related to the confidentiality of your personal information;
- Prohibitions on:
 - Insider trading (if we are in possession of material, non-public information);
 - The acceptance of gifts and entertainment that exceed our policy standards;
 - Political contributions that exceed our policy standards;
- Reporting of gifts received and business entertainment;
- Pre-clearance of employee transactions;
- Reporting of investment holdings on an annual basis
- Reporting (on a quarterly basis) all personal securities transactions (what we call “reportable securities” as mandated by regulation); and,
- On an annual basis, we require all employees to re-certify to our Code, identify members of their household and any account to which they have a beneficial ownership (they “own” the account or have “authority” over the account), securities held in certificate form and all securities they own at that time and divulge any outside business activities.

Our Code does not prohibit personal trading by employees or our firm. Our employees may buy or sell securities for their personal accounts identical to or different than those recommended to clients. A potential conflict of interest may arise when an employee buys or sells a security in close proximity to the date of a purchase or sale of the same security on a client's behalf. There may be an incentive for an employee to take advantage of the market effect of a client's trade, or the market effect of an employee's trade may negatively affect a subsequent purchase or sale price obtained for a client. Accordingly, our Code subjects all of our employees to various procedures and restrictions relating to their personal securities transactions. These procedures include, among other things, the filing of annual reports of their investment holdings, the filing of quarterly reports of their transactions, and pre-approval of all trades from our Chief Compliance Officer.

You may request a complete copy of Clark Capital's Code of Ethics by contacting Denise Williams, Chief Compliance Officer, One Liberty Place, 53rd Floor, 1650 Market St., Philadelphia, PA 19103 or by email addressed to dwilliams@ccmg.com.

PARTICIPATION OR INTEREST IN CLIENT TRANSACTIONS

As described above, Clark Capital serves as a sub-advisor to the Navigator Equity Hedged Fund. The investment management services we provide to the fund mirror the investment philosophy, investment process, and security selection of the Navigator Global Equity ETF Hedged portfolio. We are compensated by the fund for our sub-advisory services. The fees paid to us by the fund may be different than the fees that are charged to your account. Additionally, a specified amount of your assets may be invested in the fund if you select the Navigator Global Balanced Hedged portfolio for your account. In order to address the economic incentive that Clark Capital may have in investing client accounts in the fund, our Investment Advisory Fee is reduced when client accounts invest in the fund.

BROKERAGE PRACTICES

Unless otherwise directed by a client, we select the broker-dealers for executing client securities transactions. We generally direct securities transactions to the custodian of your account. We currently have arrangements with several custodians that provide brokerage, clearing and custody services to our wrap fee program clients. It is Clark Capital's policy to rotate trades between these custodians on a weekly basis. We have negotiated favorable pricing with these custodians and believe that utilizing these custodians for most securities transactions is consistent with our duty to seek to obtain best execution. We also encourage our sub-advisors to direct trading to your custodian when consistent with their own best execution policies. An additional reason that we recommend that clients direct trading by or through their custodians is because the wrap fee paid by the client only covers execution costs on trades executed by or through the custodian. In other words, clients may incur additional costs for any commissions or fees on transactions that are executed away from their custodian.

On occasion, better execution may be available from broker-dealers other than the custodian of your account. Accordingly, we (as well as any sub-advisor to your account) always have discretion to select broker-dealers other than the custodian for trade execution. Generally, we will only execute trades through other broker-dealers when we reasonably believe that another broker-dealer will provide better execution – net of any additional resulting transaction charges – than would be the case if the transaction were executed through your custodian.

When selecting broker-dealers, we consider several factors, including: execution capabilities, commission rates, financial stability, willingness to commit capital and clearing and settlement capabilities. We monitor all equity and fixed income trades on a quarterly basis to ensure that your account is receiving best execution. An external firm is retained by Clark Capital to evaluate trades for best execution. This firm, Global Trading Analytics, receives trade information directly from your custodian and issues an analytical report on a quarterly basis that is reviewed by Clark Capital's Chief Investment Officer and portfolio managers.

REVIEW OF ACCOUNTS

Our portfolio managers, supported by members of the portfolio management team and one or more assistant portfolio managers, are responsible for overseeing client portfolios. All account types receive the benefit of daily review. The portfolio management team is in constant communication with various markets involved in client accounts and acts to make appropriate adjustments to each client's portfolio as situations arise. Client inquiries, changes in general market outlooks and changes in opinion on specific issues may prompt particular reviews of individual accounts. External non-market-related events may also trigger account reviews to ascertain if any adjustments are warranted. Sub-advisory relationships can also trigger change and/or account review. The portfolio management team reviews each investment strategy periodically for dispersion in cash levels. Dispersion in cash levels is further investigated to see if there have been any irregularities. The portfolio management team also reviews the previous day's orders to determine if the orders for the accounts have been processed correctly. On a monthly basis accounts within each composite are monitored for performance dispersion while performance is being calculated.

You will receive statements on a monthly basis from the custodian of your account that provide a detailed list of holdings with valuations and account activity, as well as confirmations of all transactions in your account. Clark Capital provides complete portfolio summaries on a quarterly basis. The quarterly statement from Clark Capital includes asset class and sector allocation, changes in the portfolio, and cumulative and current performance. Access to client accounts is also possible via the Clark Capital website for referrals from financial intermediary firm accounts where the custodian provides daily download of data. Client statements are posted to the website quarterly and you may access your statement(s) via the Internet or request a hard printed copy.

CLIENT REFERRALS AND OTHER COMPENSATION

Client Referrals

Clark Capital has executed agreements with various independent broker-dealers, individual registered investment advisors, and their representatives (personal investment advisors). These independent parties refer clients such as you to Clark Capital. The Investment Advisory Fee charged by Clark Capital to clients that are introduced to us by personal investment advisors will not be greater than fees or costs Clark Capital charges its advisory clients who were not introduced by personal investment advisors. However, your personal investment adviser may charge a Solicitor's Fee as described in Item 4 of this Brochure. The amount of the Solicitor's Fee on a given account is determined solely by your personal investment advisor, not Clark Capital, and relates to, among other things, the services they provide and the net asset value of your account. Personal investment advisors may charge up to 1.25% annually, but also have the option to waive the Solicitor's Fee. This fee is paid to the personal investment advisor's firm out of the fees collected by Clark Capital from the referred investor. All of our contractual agreements with personal investment advisors are handled in accordance with the provisions of Rule 206(4)-3 under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940.

CUSTODY

Clark Capital has authority to debit fees directly from client accounts in our wrap fee programs. For this reason only, we are deemed to have custody of these clients' funds. Clark Capital does not "hold" the assets in investors' accounts. The assets of all investors in accounts managed by Clark Capital are custodied at independent qualified custodians. The custodians used for Clark Capital wrap fee program accounts send you and all other investors monthly account statements and forward copies of those statements to Clark Capital. Daily, Clark Capital receives electronic notification of assets and positions at the custodian and reconciles the custodian's information with our records electronically. Any exceptions are investigated and resolved promptly. While we do not have custody of your account, under the terms of our contract with you, fees payable on your account are debited by the custodian and forwarded to Clark Capital.

Clark Capital sends quarterly account statements to all investors in our wrap fee programs. As a client of Clark Capital, we urge you to compare the account statement you receive from the custodian for your account with the statements we provide. On occasion, our statements and the custodian's may differ slightly due to accounting procedures, reporting dates, or valuation methodologies of certain securities. For tax and other purposes, the custodial statement is the official record of your account(s) and assets.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Clark Capital does not have any financial condition that is likely to impair our ability to meet our contractual or fiduciary commitments to you. Advisors who require or solicit prepayment of more than $1,200 in fees per client, six months or more in advance, are required to provide you with a balance sheet for the most recent fiscal year. This requirement does not apply to Clark Capital.
