Material Changes

---

Annual Update

The Material Changes section of this brochure will be updated annually when material changes occur since the previous release of the Firm Brochure.

Material Changes since the Last Update

The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission issued a final rule in July 2010 requiring advisers to provide a Firm Brochure in narrative "plain English" format. The new final rule specifies mandatory sections and organization.

The only material change to report since the last filing of our Brochure dated April 2012 is PBC will no longer be SEC registered and will now become a state registered investment adviser.

Advisory Business

Firm Description

Philadelphia Brokerage Corporation ("PBC") was founded in 1989.

PBC provides personalized confidential financial planning and investment management to individuals, pension and profit sharing plans, trusts, estates, charitable organizations and small businesses. Advice is provided through consultation with the client and may include: determination of financial objectives, identification of financial problems, cash flow management, tax planning, insurance review, investment management, education funding, retirement planning, and estate planning.

PBC is in the business of selling stocks, bonds, mutual funds, limited partnerships, or other commissioned products. PBC is paid cash by or receives some economic benefit (including commissions, equipment or non-research services) from a non-client in connection with giving advice to clients.

Investment advice is an integral part of financial planning. In addition, PBC advises clients regarding cash flow, college planning and retirement planning.

Investment advice is provided, with the client making the final decision on investment selection. PBC does not act as a custodian of client assets. The client always maintains asset control. PBC places trades for clients under a limited power of attorney.

An evaluation of each client's initial situation is provided to the client, often in the form of a net worth statement. Periodic reviews are also communicated to provide reminders of the specific courses of action that need to be taken. More frequent reviews occur but are not necessarily communicated to the client unless immediate changes are recommended.

Other professionals (e.g., lawyers, accountants, insurance agents, etc.) are engaged directly by the client on an as-needed basis. Conflicts of interest will be disclosed to the client in the unlikely event they should occur.

Principal Owners

Kevin Hamilton, Robert Fisk and Sean McDermott are each 33.3% stockholder.

---

Types of Advisory Services

PBC provides investment supervisory services, manages investment advisory accounts not involving investment supervisory services and furnishes investment advice through consultations.

As of 3/31/2012, PBC manages approximately $ 46,259,344 in assets for approximately 350 clients. All funds are managed on a discretionary basis.

Tailored Relationships

Clients may impose restrictions on investing in certain securities or types of securities.

---

Types of Agreements

The following agreements define the typical client relationships.

Asset Management

Assets are invested primarily in no-load and no fee programs offered through our clearing firm National Financial Services Corporation or, directly through fund companies. Fund companies may charge each fund shareholder an investment management fee that is disclosed in the fund prospectus. Many of the fund companies will waive this fee if there is an advisory relationship in place. Discount brokerages may charge a transaction fee for the purchase of some funds.

Although the majority of funds will be invested in no fee transaction no-load investment company securities (mutual funds), investments may also include: equities (stocks), warrants, corporate debt securities, certificates of deposit, municipal securities, U. S. government securities, and options contracts.

Wrap Fee Program

PBC does not participate in wrap fee programs.

Termination of Agreement

A client may terminate any of the aforementioned agreements at any time by notifying PBC in writing and paying the rate for the time spent on the investment advisory engagement prior to notification of termination. If the client made an advance payment, PBC will refund any unearned portion of the advance payment.

PBC may terminate any of the aforementioned agreements at any time by notifying the client in writing. If the client made an advance payment, PBC will refund any unearned portion of the advance payment.

Fees and Compensation

---

Description

PBC bases its fees on a percentage of assets under management. Fees are generally between 1% and 1 ½% based on a sliding scale based on assets under management.

Fees are negotiable.

The investment management fee includes investment advisory services, brokerage commissions and custodial services and the issuance of monthly reports.

---

Fee Billing

Investment management fees are billed quarterly, in advance, meaning that we invoice you before the three-month billing period has begun. Payment in full is expected upon invoice presentation. Fees are usually deducted from a designated client account to facilitate billing. The client must consent in advance to direct debiting of their investment account.

PBC will obtain written authorization from the client to deduct advisory fees from an account held by a qualified custodian. PBC will send the qualified custodian written notice of the amount of the fee to be deducted from the client's account; a written invoice itemizing the fee, including any formula used to calculate the fee, the time period covered by the fee and the amount of assets under management on which the fee was based.

Expense Ratios

Mutual funds generally charge a management fee for their services as investment managers. The management fee is called an expense ratio. For example, an expense ratio of 0.50 means that the mutual fund company charges 0.5% for their services. These fees are in addition to the fees paid by you to PBC.

Performance figures quoted by mutual fund companies in various publications are after their fees have been deducted.

Past Due Accounts and Termination of Agreement

PBC reserves the right to stop work on any account that is more than 30 days overdue. In addition, PBC reserves the right to terminate any engagement where a client has willfully concealed or has refused to provide pertinent information about financial situations when necessary and appropriate, in PBC's judgment, to providing proper financial advice. Any unused portion of fees collected in advance will be refunded within 30 days.

The PBC Brochure shall be delivered not less than 48 hours prior to entering into any investment advisory contract with the client or prospective client. Otherwise, at the time of entering into a contract, the advisory client has a right to terminate the contract without penalty within 5 business days after entering into the contract.

Performance-Based Fees

---

Sharing of Capital Gains

Fees are not based on a share of the capital gains or capital appreciation of managed securities.

PBC does not use a performance-based fee structure because of the potential conflict of interest. Performance-based compensation may create an incentive for the adviser to recommend an investment that may carry a higher degree of risk to the client.

Types of Clients

Description

PBC generally provides investment advice to individuals, pension and profit sharing plans, trusts, estates, or charitable organizations, corporations or business entities.

Client relationships vary in scope and length of service.

---

Account Minimums

PBC has not established an account minimum.

Clients receiving ongoing asset management services will not be assessed a minimum annual fee. However, clients with lower assets may pay a higher percentage rate on their annual fees than the fees paid by clients with greater assets under management.

Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Methods of Analysis

The Main source of information that PBC uses include Morningstar Principia mutual fund information, Morningstar Principia stock information, Hays Advisory Service, Dorsey Wright and Associates and the World Wide Web.

Other sources of information may include financial newspapers and magazines, inspections of corporate activities, research materials prepared by others, corporate rating services, timing services, annual reports, prospectuses, filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission, and company press releases.

Investment Strategies

Portfolios are globally diversified to control the risk associated with traditional markets. The investment strategy for a specific client is based upon the objectives stated by the client during consultations. The client may change these objectives at any time. Each client executes an Investment Policy Statement that documents their objectives and their desired investment strategy.

Risk of Loss

All investment programs have certain risks that are borne by the investor. Our investment approach constantly keeps the risk of loss in mind, which the client should be prepared to bear. Investors face the following investment risks:

- Interest-rate Risk: Fluctuations in interest rates may cause investment prices to fluctuate. For example, when interest rates rise, yields on existing bonds become less attractive, causing their market values to decline.
- Market Risk: The price of a security, bond, or mutual fund may drop in reaction to tangible and intangible events and conditions. This type of risk is caused by external factors independent of a security's particular underlying circumstances. For example, political, economic and social conditions may trigger market events.
- Inflation Risk: When any type of inflation is present, a dollar today will not buy as much as a dollar next year, because purchasing power is eroding at the rate of inflation.
- Currency Risk: Overseas investments are subject to fluctuations in the value of the dollar against the currency of the investment's originating country. This is also referred to as exchange rate risk.
- Reinvestment Risk: This is the risk that future proceeds from investments may have to be reinvested at a potentially lower rate of return (i.e., interest rate). This primarily relates to fixed income securities.
- Business Risk: These risks are associated with a particular industry or a particular company within an industry. For example, oil-drilling companies depend on finding oil and then refining it, a lengthy process, before they can generate a profit. They carry a higher risk of profitability than an electric company, which generates its income from a steady stream of customers who buy electricity no matter what the economic environment is like.
- Liquidity Risk: Liquidity is the ability to readily convert an investment into cash. Generally, assets are more liquid if many traders are interested in a standardized product. For example, Treasury Bills are highly liquid, while real estate properties are not.
- Financial Risk: Excessive borrowing to finance a business' operations increases the risk of profitability, because the company must meet the terms of its obligations in good times and bad. During periods of financial stress, the inability to meet loan obligations may result in bankruptcy and/or a declining market value.

Disciplinary Information

Legal and Disciplinary

Over the course of PBC's history, the firm and its management persons have not been involved in legal or disciplinary events that are material to a client's or prospective client's evaluation of PBC's advisory business or the integrity of PBC's management.

Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

---

Financial Industry Activities

PBC is registered as a securities broker-dealer.

Affiliations

PBC does not nor do any of PBC's management persons have any relationship or arrangements that are material to its advisory services.

Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Code of Ethics

The employees of PBC have committed to a Code of Ethics that is available for review by clients and prospective clients upon request. The firm will provide a copy of the Code of Ethics to any client or prospective client upon request.

Participation or Interest in Client Transactions

PBC and its employees may buy or sell securities that are also held by clients. Employees may not trade their own securities ahead of client trades. Employees comply with the provisions of the PBC written Supervisory Procedures.

PBC may engage in principal transactions, however only if necessary in a bond transaction. We execute materially all of our trades on an agency basis. Before the completion of any transaction in which the PBC proposes to act as principal, PBC will disclose to the client PBC's capacity as principal and will obtain the client's consent to such principal transaction.

PBC does not, nor does a related person recommend to clients, or buy or sell for client accounts, securities in which PBC (or a related person) have a material financial interest. Additionally, neither PBC, nor does a related person, recommend securities to clients, or buy or sell securities for your accounts, at or about the same time that PBC (or a related person) buy or sell the same securities for its own (or the related person's own) account. PBC does not execute transactions on an agency cross basis.

Personal Trading

The Chief Compliance Officer of PBC is Kevin Hamilton. He reviews all employee trades each quarter. His trades are reviewed by Sean McDermott. The personal trading reviews ensure that the personal trading of employees does not affect the markets, and that clients of the firm receive preferential treatment. Since most advisory client trades are mutual fund trades or exchange-traded fund trades, the trades do not affect the securities markets.

Brokerage Practices

Selecting Brokerage Firms

PBC does not have any affiliation with product sales firms. Specific Investment Companies recommendations are made to clients based on their proven track record of performance. PBC recommends custodians based on the proven integrity and financial responsibility of the firm and the best execution of orders at reasonable commission rates. PBC currently has a fully disclosed clearing relationship with National Financial Services Corporation.

PBC does not receive fees or commissions from any of these arrangements.

PBC does not consider whether PBC or a related person receive client referrals from a broker-dealer or third party in selecting or recommending broker-dealers to its clients. Additionally, PBC does not routinely recommend, request or require that a client direct PBC to execute transactions through a specified broker-dealer.

Best Execution

PBC reviews the execution of trades at each custodian each quarter. The review is documented by a specific review of a random selection of the advisory client's quarterly statements. Advisory fees are also reviewed on a quarterly basis.

---

Soft Dollars

PBC has no soft dollar relationships.

Order Aggregation

PBC will obtain authorization from the client to aggregate purchases and sales of securities for the investment account with purchases and sales of securities of the same issuer for other clients of PBC occurring on the same day. When transactions are aggregated, the actual prices applicable to the aggregated transaction will be averaged, and the investment account will be deemed to have purchased or sold its proportionate share of the securities involved at the average price so obtained. Average pricing will be used in both agency and principal trades in reported securities (those that are listed on an exchange or designated as national market securities). Most trades are mutual funds or exchange-traded funds where trade aggregation does not garner any client benefit.

Review of Accounts

---

Periodic Reviews

Account reviews are performed quarterly by advisors Robert Schmauk and Sean McDermott. Account reviews are performed more frequently when market conditions dictate.

Review Triggers

Other conditions that may trigger a review are changes in the tax laws, new investment information, and changes in a client's own situation.

Regular Reports

Account reviewers are compliance officers of the firm. They review the accounts to observe that the client's current security positions and the likelihood that the performance of each security will contribute to the investment objectives of the client.

Clients receive periodic communications on at least an annual basis. The written updates, provided at least annually to clients, may include a net worth statement, portfolio statement, and a summary of objectives and progress towards meeting those objectives.

Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Incoming Referrals

PBC has been fortunate to receive many client referrals over the years. The referrals came from current clients, estate planning attorneys, accountants, employees, personal friends of employees and other similar sources. The firm does not directly compensate referring parties for these referrals. Referring parties such as attorneys and accountants that are also clients of the firm may receive reduced management fees.

---

Referrals Out

PBC does not accept referral fees or any form of remuneration from other professionals when a prospect or client is referred to them.

Custody

Account Statements

All assets are held at qualified custodians, which means the custodians provide directly to clients at their address of record (i) a monthly statement for any month during which there is trading activity in the clients' account and (ii) quarterly and annual reports reflecting realized and unrealized gains and losses in the clients' account.

Performance Reports

Clients are urged to compare the account statements received directly from their custodians to reports or statements provided by PBC.

Investment Discretion

---

Discretionary Authority for Trading

PBC accepts discretionary authority to manage securities accounts on behalf of clients. PBC has the authority to determine, without obtaining specific client consent, the securities to be bought or sold, and the amount of the securities to be bought or sold. However, PBC consults with the client prior to each trade to obtain concurrence if a blanket trading authorization has not been given.

The client approves the custodian to be used and the commission rates paid to the custodian. PBC does not receive any portion of the transaction fees or commissions paid by the client to the custodian on certain trades.

Discretionary trading authority facilitates placing trades in your accounts on your behalf so that we may promptly implement the investment policy that you have approved in writing.

Limited Power of Attorney

A limited power of attorney is a trading authorization for this purpose. You sign a limited power of attorney so that we may execute the trades that you have approved. This limited power of attorney is included in the Discretionary Investment Advisory Agreement for Managed Accounts.

Voting Client Securities

---

Proxy Votes

PBC does not vote proxies on securities. Clients are expected to vote their own proxies.

When assistance on voting proxies is requested, PBC will provide recommendations to the Client. If a conflict of interest exists, it will be disclosed to the Client.

Financial Information

---

Financial Condition

PBC does not have any financial impairment that will preclude the firm from meeting contractual commitments to clients.

A balance sheet is not required to be provided because PBC does not serve as a custodian for client funds or securities, and does not require prepayment of fees of more than $1,200 per client, and six months or more in advance.

PBC is not currently, nor at any time in the past ten years the subject of a bankruptcy petition.

Requirements for State-Registered Advisers

State-Registered Advisers
