Item 3- Disciplinary History

Registered investment advisers are required to disclose all material facts regarding any legal or disciplinary events that would be material to your evaluation of each supervised person providing investment advice. The following information is required to be reported.

On December 17, 2009, FINRA initiated an investigation of variable annuity sales practices by the Supervised Person. FINRA alleged the Supervised Person provided false client profile information to transact variable annuity business. Without admitting or denying the allegations, the Supervised Person agreed to a suspension of 30 days and a monetary penalty of $10,000. The Supervised person has since served such suspension and paid the monetary penalty. As a related matter, on May 27, 2008, the Supervised Person was terminated by Raymond James Financial Services, Inc. as a registered representative for providing false customer information in order to transact variable annuity business.

Item 4- Other Business Activities

The Supervised Person, in addition to providing investment advisory and/or financial planning services, is also registered as a broker/dealer agent of Sterne, Agee Financial Services, Inc. offering various securities products to clients. For advisory clients participating in the Managed Account Program, the Supervised Person may be entitled to a portion of commissions as a broker/dealer agent. The receipt of commissions represents a conflict of interest. This conflict is discussed in Items 5 and 12 of the ADV Part 2A.

For non-advisory assets, the Supervised Person, as a broker/dealer agent, does receive commissions from the sale of various securities products. In the case of mutual funds, the Supervised Person may also receive trails, in the form of 12b-1 fees, for existing mutual fund positions. Since the Supervised Person receives commission for the sale of securities products, there is an incentive for the Supervised Person to recommend products based on compensation received rather than the client's needs. The firm has adopted policies and practices designed to review transactions for suitability and their overall appropriateness to the client.

The Supervised Person receives commissions for insurance transactions. Since the Supervised Person receives commission for the sale of insurance products, there is an incentive to recommend products based on compensation received rather than the client's needs. The firm has adopted a set of policies and practices requiring the Supervised Person to conduct such activity consistent with standards of commercial honor and principles of trade and that such activity must be consistent with the client's needs.

All broker/dealer, investment advisory and insurance business is conducted under the name of Devon Financial Group, Ltd.

Item 5- Additional Compensation

The Supervised Person does not receive economic benefits in the form of awards, bonuses and prizes from any person or entity for providing advisory services and investment advice to a client of Synergy Investment Group, LLC.

Item 6 - Supervision

Joseph Hayes, Chief Compliance Officer, and any designee he may appoint are daily reviewing transactions in Client accounts. A sample of accounts is monitored by the Chief Compliance Officer. In such a review, the Chief Compliance Officer is evaluating transaction history relative to the Client's profile and the underlying agent's compliance with firm policies and fiduciary standards. Additional account reviews may be triggered by a specific client request; a customer complaint; or, as needed, based on activity levels within an account. A sample of financial plans will be reviewed as needed by the Chief Compliance Officer. Joseph Hayes can be contacted at (704) 333-7637.

Item 7- Requirements for State-Registered Advisers

Registered investment advisers are required to disclose all material facts regarding any reportable events that would be material to a client's evaluation of each supervised person providing investment advice. The following information is reportable for this Item.

On December 17, 2009, FINRA initiated an investigation of variable annuity sales practices by the Supervised Person. FINRA alleged the Supervised Person provided false client profile information to transact variable annuity business. Without admitting or denying the allegations, the Supervised Person agreed to a suspension of 30 days and a monetary penalty of $10,000. The Supervised person has since served such suspension and paid the monetary penalty. As a related matter, on May 27, 2008, the Supervised Person was terminated by Raymond James Financial Services, Inc. as a registered representative for providing false customer information in order to transact variable annuity business.
