

Wetherby Asset Management

Part 2A of Form ADV

The Brochure

417 Montgomery Street, 3rd Floor
San Francisco, CA 94104
www.wetherby.com

Updated: September 2012

This brochure provides information about the qualifications and business practices of Wetherby Asset Management (“Wetherby”). If you have any questions about the contents of this brochure, please contact us at 415-399-9159. The information in this brochure has not been approved or verified by the United States Securities and Exchange Commission or by any state securities authority.

Wetherby delivers its Form ADV Part II along with each new client’s investment advisory agreement. Following signature of the investment advisory contract, client has 5 days to unconditionally rescind the contract at no charge. Client is bound however to settle any transactions Advisor may have effected for the account during the 5 days at client’s risk. Form ADV Part II is also provided annually to existing clients if there are material changes or upon request.

Additional information about Wetherby Asset Management is also available on the SEC’s website at: www.adviserinfo.sec.gov.

Material Changes

Wetherby's most recent update to Part 2 of Form ADV was made in September 2012. The revision was made to update and clarify Wetherby's brokerage and custodial relationships, policies and procedures. Please refer to the 'Brokerage Practices' section of this ADV for details regarding said procedures. Wetherby's business activities have not changed materially since the time of that update. In 2010 the SEC required significant changes to the content and format of Part 2 of Form ADV. This brochure, which reflects those changes, is materially different from brochures used by Wetherby in prior years.

Table of Contents

Material Changes	2
Table of Contents	2
Advisory Business	2
Fees and Compensation	3
Performance Based Fees and Side-by-Side Management	5
Types of Clients.....	5
Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss	5
Disciplinary Information	6
Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations	7
Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading	7
Brokerage Practices	9
Review of Accounts	13
Client Referrals and Other Compensation.....	13
Custody.....	13
Investment Discretion.....	13
Voting Client Securities	14
Financial Information	14

Advisory Business

Wetherby Asset Management provides investment management services to its clients, consisting of high net worth individuals and associated trusts, pension and profit sharing plans, charitable organizations, foundations and endowments, and other legal entities. Clients generally work with Wetherby under one or more of the following arrangements:

- Under a discretionary arrangement – in which the client grants Wetherby the discretion and authority to supervise, invest and trade assets placed under its management consistent with established client objectives and guidelines.
- Under a non-discretionary arrangement – in which Wetherby provides varying services based upon mutual agreement.
- Under a consulting arrangement – in which Wetherby provides varying consulting services based upon mutual agreement.

Wetherby may also provide some material elements of financial planning as needed to its clients. Financial planning may include financial statement preparation and analysis, income tax planning, education planning, risk management, retirement planning and estate planning. Wetherby may or may not charge additional fees for financial planning. In providing its services, the standard of care imposed upon Wetherby shall be to act with the care, skill, prudence and diligence under the circumstances then prevailing that a prudent person acting in a like capacity and familiar with such matters would use in the conduct of an enterprise of a like character and with like aims. Furthermore, whether Wetherby may acquire, or not acquire, securities or property for itself or for any other client will not be considered in determining the advisability of acquiring or not acquiring similar securities or property for the portfolio account of any client.

Wetherby, in consultation with each client, structures a portfolio to meet the investment goals, risk tolerance and other guidelines as specified by the client. Client assets are generally invested in open end, no-load mutual funds or other pooled investment vehicles. Under some circumstances, investments are made in individual equities or fixed income securities and closed end mutual funds. Some client assets may be invested in certain private investment funds or other separate account vehicles managed by other advisors.

Clients can place reasonable restrictions on Wetherby's investment discretion. For example, some clients have asked not to sell certain securities where the client has a particularly low tax basis.

Wetherby was founded in 1990 and is primarily owned by 15 owners, two of which are non-employees. Each member of Wetherby's professional staff is evaluated on the basis of his or her education and work experience. Wealth Managers generally are required to have a professional license or advanced degree such as a CFP, CPA, CFA, CPWA, CIMA, MBA or other similar certification or relevant professional experience.

As of December 31, 2011 Wetherby managed $2.916 billion on a discretionary basis, $97 million on a non-discretionary basis and $628 million on a consulting basis on behalf of approximately 500 clients.

Fees and Compensation

Wetherby charges most of its clients an annual investment management fee based on the following schedule:

Assets under management	Annual Fee
First $10 Million	0.75%
Amounts in excess of $10 Million & up to $40 Million	0.55%
Amounts in excess of $40 Million & up to $80 Million	0.25%
Amounts in excess of $80 Million	0.15%

The basic fee schedule for non-discretionary accounts (primarily for individuals) is $125-$400 per hour. The total fees for such services will vary depending on the nature and complexity of each client's financial circumstances and the services authorized and performed.

Clients may direct Wetherby to maintain "unsupervised assets" within the portfolio for the convenience of the client. Wetherby generally does not charge a management fee on unsupervised assets and is not responsible for the supervision or suitability of such assets. However, Wetherby may charge a fee on certain unsupervised assets such as the case when Wetherby is asked to provide ongoing reporting or research of unsupervised private investments.

Wetherby may negotiate a different investment advisory fee arrangement with the client, including a flat fee arrangement based on the nature of the client's account.

Wetherby's fees may also comprise of a negotiated fee in which the client contributes a portion of the negotiated fee into Wetherby's Donor Advised Fund. Wetherby's fees may also include a contingent fee structure, such as a fee arrangement in which Wetherby receives a percentage of the savings the client may realize due to a reduction in another investment manager's fees and expenses. The fee and expense reduction is a result of Wetherby's direct or indirect negotiation with the investment manager on behalf of the client.

Wetherby has negotiated lower fees for certain clients, such as charitable organizations or employees' family members and friends.

Wetherby charges fees quarterly in advance based on the total market value of the account value at the end of the prior quarter. The initial quarterly fee for a new client is pro-rated based upon the date the client assets are transferred to Wetherby's management or as negotiated between Wetherby and the client.

Most clients authorize Wetherby to deduct fees automatically from their brokerage accounts, but clients may request that Wetherby send quarterly invoices to be paid by check.

If a client terminates the investment management agreement with Wetherby in the middle of a billing period, Wetherby will refund any unearned investment management fee to the client on a pro-rata basis based upon the time remaining in the quarter.

Due to the illiquid nature of certain investments, Wetherby may utilize fair valuation methodologies in an attempt to represent the amount at which an asset could be acquired or sold in a current transaction between willing parties in which the parties each acted knowledgeably, prudently, and without compulsion. The valuations of investments in private equity or other illiquid investments may be modified by Wetherby, in its sole discretion, if and to the extent that it shall determine that such modifications are advisable in order to reflect market or liquidity conditions or other factors affecting value.

It is the nature of private equity and other such illiquid investments to provide initial valuation estimates, and then refined estimates and / or actual numbers frequently months after the original estimates are distributed. As a consequence, it is Wetherby's policy to use the best information currently available for reporting and billing purposes for a given quarter. Also as a consequence, Wetherby may receive updated pricing information months after a private equity or other illiquid investment has been valued for reporting and billing purposes. It is the policy of Wetherby to evaluate and determine potential discrepancies, rebating any material overcharges in a quarter, defined as greater than $50.

In addition to Wetherby's investment management fees, clients bear trading costs and for certain investments (i.e., private placements) the custodian may charge the client a nominal fee to custody such investments.

To the extent that clients' accounts are invested in mutual funds, these funds pay a separate layer of management, trading, and administrative expenses.

Wetherby believes its fees are competitive with those fees charged by other investment advisors for comparable services. However, comparable services may be available from other sources for lower fees than those charged by Wetherby.

Performance Based Fees and Side-by-Side Management

Wetherby does not charge any performance fees. Some investment advisers experience conflicts of interest in connection with the side-by-side management of accounts with different fee structures. However, these conflicts of interest are not applicable to Wetherby.

Types of Clients

Wetherby primarily provides customized investment management services to high-net-worth individuals and associated trusts, estates, pension and profit sharing plans, charitable organizations, foundations and endowments, and other legal entities. Wetherby's minimum account size is generally $10,000,000, but this amount is negotiable.

Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Wetherby's Director of Research, Senior Research Analysts, Research Analysts, and Research Associates work together to conduct fundamental analysis on securities recommended for client accounts. Wetherby uses a variety of methods to evaluate the overall financial market, market sectors and various types of securities. Wetherby does its own internal research and analysis as well as receives research and analysis from third parties. Additionally, Wetherby reviews statements and reports provided by other investment advisors who are providing investment management services to Wetherby's clients. This analysis varies depending on the security in question.

After developing an investment policy for each client, Wetherby creates a unique long term investment strategy. This strategy integrates the client's needs and goals with current developments in the economic and financial markets.

Wetherby's Investment Committee is led by Drew Pratt and also includes the following committee members, Debra Wetherby, Chris Hauswirth, Michael Alpert, Mike Graziano, Steve Herzog and John Mell. The Investment Committee generally meets weekly to discuss macro economic conditions, wealth planning issues and makes the final asset allocation and manager decisions.

Wetherby primarily invests for relatively long time horizons, often for a year or more. Wetherby's investment philosophy is founded on the premise that investors can build a strong, secure future by following a long-term investment program, and by diversifying their investments across multiple asset classes and money managers. However, market developments could cause Wetherby to sell securities more quickly.

Depending on a client's investment objectives, Wetherby may engage in option writing. The use of option writing poses additional risks that are discussed in detail with any clients who are considering the use of these investment vehicles.

Mutual funds are an investment vehicle and the investment strategies, objectives and types of securities utilized by mutual funds vary widely.

All mutual funds incur operating expenses in connection with the management of the fund. Mutual funds pass some or all of these expenses through to their shareholders (the individual investors in the funds) in the form of management fees. The management fees charged vary from mutual fund to mutual fund. In addition, mutual funds charge shareholders (individual investors in the funds) other types of fees such as a sales load or a transaction fee. These charges also vary widely among funds.

Wetherby generally invests its clients' assets in no-load mutual funds of which there are two types: no-loads and "true" no-loads. A so-called no-load mutual fund nevertheless is allowed to assess an annual charge of no more than 0.25% to cover the fund's marketing and distribution costs (an SEC "Rule 12b-1" fee). A "true" no-load mutual fund assesses no Rule 12b-1 fee.

Even though Wetherby invests in no-load funds, clients will still pay management fees and other "indirect" fees and expenses as charged by each mutual fund in which they are invested in addition to those fees charged by Wetherby.

Closed end funds and other pooled investments vehicles have different expense structures. Client is advised to consult with Wetherby regarding the various fee structures.

All investing involves a risk of loss and the investment strategy offered by Wetherby could lose money over short or even long periods. Performance could be negatively impacted by a number of different market risks including but not limited to:

- Stock market risk, which is the chance that stock prices overall will decline. Stock markets tend to move in cycles, with periods of rising prices and periods of falling prices.

Disciplinary Information

Wetherby and its employees have not been involved in any legal or disciplinary events that would be material to a client's evaluation of the company or its personnel.

Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Although National Advisors Holdings, Inc. (“NAH”) does not meet the definition of a “related person”, Wetherby has decided to disclose the following additional information:

Debra Wetherby, Allan Jacobi, and Christopher Hauswirth, all owners of Wetherby Asset Management, have a minority ownership interest in a savings and loan holding company, NAH, that has formed a federally chartered trust company, National Advisors Trust Company (“NATC”). NAH and NATC are regulated by the Office of Thrift Supervision. The trust company intends to provide a low cost alternative to traditional trust and custodial service providers, and Wetherby intends to refer certain clients to NATC for trust and/or custodial services. Wetherby will only recommend NATC to its clients when it is in the best interest of its clients.

Tom Ngo, Chief Technology Officer of Wetherby Asset Management, serves on the Schwab Technology, Operations and Service Advisory Board (the “Board”). As described under Item 13 of this Form ADV, Wetherby Asset Management may recommend that clients establish brokerage accounts with Charles Schwab & Co., Inc. (“Schwab”) to maintain custody of the clients’ assets and effect trades for their accounts. The Board consists of approximately 20 representatives of independent investment advisory firms who have been invited by Schwab Advisor Services’ services to participate in meetings and discussions of Schwab Advisor Services’ services for independent investment advisors and their clients. Board members serve for three-year terms. Mr. Ngo’s term ends May 2014. Board members enter nondisclosure agreements with Schwab under which they agree not to disclose confidential information shared with them. This information generally does not include material nonpublic information about the Charles Schwab Corporation, whose common stock is listed for trading on the NASDAQ Stock Market (symbol SCHW). The Board meets in person approximately once per year and has periodic conference calls scheduled as needed. Board members are not compensated by Schwab Institutional for their service, but Schwab Institutional does pay for or reimburse Board members’ travel, lodging, meals and other incidental expenses incurred in attending Board meetings.

Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Wetherby has adopted a written code of ethics that is applicable to all employees. Among other things, the code requires Wetherby and its employees to act in clients’ best interests, abide by all applicable regulations, avoid even the appearance of insider trading, and report on many types of personal securities transactions.

To avoid any potential conflicts of interest involving personal trades, Wetherby has adopted procedures, which include a formal code of ethics and insider trading policies and procedures. Wetherby’s procedures require, among other things, that Employees:

- Act with integrity, competence, diligence, respect, and in an ethical manner with the public, clients, prospective clients, employers, employees, colleagues in the investment profession, and other participants in the global capital markets;

- Place the integrity of the investment profession, the interests of clients, and the interests of Wetherby above one's own personal interests;
- Adhere to the fundamental standard that you should not take inappropriate advantage of your position;
- Avoid any actual or potential conflict of interest;
- Conduct all personal securities transactions in a manner consistent with this policy;
- Use reasonable care and exercise independent professional judgment when conducting investment analysis, making investment recommendations, taking investment actions, and engaging in other professional activities;
- Practice and encourage others to practice in a professional and ethical manner that will reflect credit on yourself and the profession;
- Promote the integrity of, and uphold the rules governing, capital markets;
- Maintain and improve your professional competence and strive to maintain and improve the competence of other investment professionals;
- Comply with applicable provisions of the federal securities laws.

The policy also requires Employees to: 1) report personal securities transactions on at least a quarterly basis, and 2) provide Wetherby with a detailed summary of certain holdings (both initially upon commencement of employment and annually thereafter) over which such Employees have a direct or indirect beneficial interest.

Wetherby's restrictions on personal securities trading apply to employees, as well as employees' family members living in the same household.

Wetherby and its employees are permitted to buy and sell securities for their personal investments and to invest in mutual funds held by client accounts. In some cases, employees may buy or sell funds or securities that are also recommended to its clients. To govern such transactions, Wetherby has adopted an employee personal securities policy and procedure that outlines the timing and conditions under which employees may buy or sell funds or securities when such funds or securities are also held or traded by clients. The employee trading policy and procedure is designed to ensure that clients are not disadvantaged in any way by the personal securities transactions of its employees.

Employees may not "trade on" any knowledge he or she may have regarding the potential market impact of transactions entered on behalf of clients.

In the course of providing its advisory services, Wetherby may recommend that clients invest in Hatteras Investment Partners, LLC ("Hatteras"). As a requirement to invest in Hatteras, Wetherby entered into a sales agreement with Hatteras whereby Hatteras compensates Wetherby with a fee of up to .75% per annum of assets invested in Hatteras by clients of Wetherby. Since Wetherby does not accept compensation from fund companies, the total compensation paid to Wetherby by Hatteras is credited to the clients invested in Hatteras. The fees charged by Hatteras are the same whether the client invests in Hatteras as the result of a recommendation from Wetherby or if the client invested in Hatteras directly.

From time to time, Wetherby may provide gifts or entertainment to a client and a client may provide gifts or entertainment to Wetherby. To ensure Wetherby employees are not receiving or giving excessive gifts or entertainment, Wetherby has adopted procedures to ensure gifts and entertainment valued over a certain amount are reported to the Chief Compliance Officer or in some cases pre-approved if the gift/entertainment is known in advance.

Wetherby holds client information in the strictest confidence and is mindful of the trust placed in it by clients. It is Wetherby's policy that no client information obtained by Wetherby is sold or made available to third parties for any reason except that:

- Third parties may be used by Wetherby to assist in the management or maintenance of client accounts (such as a custodian); and
- Client information may be released in accordance with applicable laws and regulations.

A copy of Wetherby's code of ethics is available upon request.

Brokerage Practices

Brokers and dealers are selected based upon a number of factors, including: providing services of direct benefit to clients such as acting as custodian for the account, providing services that facilitate trading, performance evaluation and other information on securities, their inventory of securities and proven ability to execute, clear and settle transactions, their ability to commit capital, ability to report promptly and accurately, provide prompt and efficient delivery of securities, supply information on securities, including, but not limited to, written and oral research reports, economic and financial data and financial publications.

Wetherby has negotiated a favorable commission schedule for clients with the Schwab Institutional division of Charles Schwab & Co., Inc. ("Schwab" or "Schwab Institutional"), a FINRA-registered broker-dealer, member SIPC, to maintain custody of clients' assets and to effect trades for their accounts. Wetherby generally recommends that clients establish brokerage accounts with Schwab. Wetherby does not share in commissions generated by client trades executed at Schwab. Wetherby has managed client assets held at Schwab for many years and has found Schwab to offer good services at competitive prices. Although Wetherby may recommend that clients establish accounts at Schwab, it is the client's decision to custody assets with Schwab or another custodian of the client's choice. Wetherby is independently owned and operated and not affiliated with Schwab.

Wetherby may also utilize the services of NATC, or other service providers that best meet client needs.

Wetherby does not regularly invest directly in any publicly traded equity securities or fixed income instruments. Instead, Wetherby primarily recommends that its clients invest in mutual funds, separate account managers and private investment vehicles. As such, Wetherby does not face the same issues relating to best execution that an adviser that regularly invests directly in equities and fixed income securities. While not facing the same issues as an advisor that invests directly in equities, Wetherby will periodically evaluate its primary broker-dealer / custodian to ensure that the overall relationship is satisfying certain key criteria, including:

- Reasonableness of transaction fees and charges
- Ability to maintain the confidentiality of trading intentions
- Timeliness of execution and settlement
- Timeliness and accuracy of trade confirmations
- Client reporting capability
- Custody services provided
- Financial condition
- Business reputation

Wetherby may continue to hold a security in one client account while selling it for another client account. This occurs when client guidelines, risk tolerances, or tax considerations mandate a sale for a particular client. In some cases, consistent with client objectives and risk, Wetherby may purchase a security for one client while selling it for another.

Client trades may be executed at different times at different prices due to the timing of Wealth Manager recommendations, certain security liquidity constraints, and specific client objectives, risk tolerances, or tax considerations.

While executing transactions for equities and closed end funds, Wetherby generally uses limit orders. For fixed income transactions, Wetherby generally obtains multiple bids or offers or may transfer the fixed income security to Wetherby's Fixed Income Separate Account Manager to execute the trades since the Separate Account Manager has greater access to fixed income dealers. The Separate Account Manager is not affiliated with Wetherby.

Mutual funds recommended to clients may impose a redemption charge or similar fee, and the overall cost structure of each fund is evaluated through Wetherby's research process and prior to recommending it as an investment option for clients

Wetherby may receive certain products and services from Schwab, NATC, or other custodians/brokers free of charge or at discounted rates.

- Schwab provides Wetherby with access to its institutional trading and custody services, which are typically not available to Schwab retail investors. These services generally are available to independent investment advisors on an unsolicited basis, at no charge to them so long as a total of at least $10 million of the advisor's clients' assets are maintained in accounts at Schwab Institutional. These services are not contingent upon Wetherby committing to Schwab any specific amount of business (assets in custody or trading commissions). Schwab's brokerage services include the execution of securities transactions, custody, research, and access to mutual funds and other investments that are otherwise generally available only to institutional investors or would require a significantly higher minimum initial investment. For Wetherby client accounts maintained in its custody, Schwab generally does not charge separately for custody services but is compensated by account holders through commissions and other transaction-related or asset based fees for securities trades that are executed through Schwab or that settle into Schwab accounts.

- Schwab Institutional, NATC, or other custodians/brokers may also make available to Wetherby other products and services that benefit Wetherby but may not benefit its clients' accounts. Many of these products and services may be used to service all or some substantial number of Wetherby's accounts, including accounts not maintained at Schwab, NATC, or other respective custodians/brokers who are providing said products and services. Schwab's products and services that assist Wetherby in managing and administering clients' accounts include software and other technology that (i) provide access to client account data (such as trade confirmations and account statements); (ii) facilitate trade execution and allocate aggregated trade orders for multiple client accounts; (iii) provide research, pricing and other market data; (iv) facilitate payment of Wetherby's fees from its clients' accounts; and (v) assist with back-office functions, recordkeeping and client reporting.
- Schwab Institutional, NATC or other custodians/brokers may also offer other services intended to help Wetherby manage and further develop its business enterprise. These services may include: (i) compliance, legal and business consulting; (ii) publications and conferences on practice management and business succession; and (iii) access to employee benefits providers, human capital consultants and insurance providers.
- Schwab, NATC or other custodians/brokers may make available, arrange and/or pay third-party vendors for the types of services rendered to Wetherby. Schwab Institutional, NATC or other custodians/brokers may discount or waive fees it would otherwise charge for some of these services or pay all or a part of the fees of a third-party providing these services to Wetherby.
- Schwab Institutional, NATC or other custodian/brokers may also provide other benefits such as access to and/or subsidies for hosted educational events or occasional business entertainment of Wetherby personnel.

Wetherby does not believe that clients whose accounts are held by Schwab, NATC or other custodian/brokers bear any additional costs in connection with Wetherby's receipt of the products and services. However, Wetherby would not receive these products and services if client accounts were not held in custody and traded by Schwab, NATC or the respective custodian/brokers providing said products and services. In evaluating whether to recommend that clients custody their assets at Schwab, NATC or other custodians/brokers, Wetherby may take into account the availability of some of the foregoing products and services and other arrangements as part of the total mix of factors it considers and not solely the nature, cost or quality of custody and brokerage services provided by Schwab, which may create a potential conflict of interest.

The Selection of Trading Counterparties

Wetherby can typically trade accounts held at Schwab using other broker/dealers. However, Schwab charges clients trade-away fees that Wetherby believes outweigh any benefits from trading stocks, mutual funds, or ETFs with other brokers. The availability and pricing of bonds varies more widely, so prior to placing a bond trade Wetherby solicits bids from several dealers and then executes the trade with the dealer that offers sufficient liquidity and the most favorable pricing. Alternatively, Wetherby may transfer the fixed income security to a Fixed Income Separate Account manager to execute the trades since the Separate Account Manager has greater access to fixed income dealers. The Separate Account Manager is not affiliated with Wetherby.

For clients who elect to have their accounts held by firms other than Schwab, Wetherby's approach is generally to trade stocks, mutual funds, and ETFs with the chosen custodian, and to trade bonds with the dealer that offers sufficient liquidity and the most favorable pricing or to transfer the bond to a fixed income Separate Account Manager who has access to dealers that offer sufficient liquidity and favorable pricing. Certain clients have requested Wetherby to execute all of its securities transactions through one registered representative at a particular broker-dealer. Such clients are cautioned on the following:

When possible, Wetherby will attempt to negotiate a more favorable fee schedule, but Wetherby cannot guarantee that client-directed broker commissions, transaction fees and other charges will be as beneficial as those charged other clients not requesting directed brokerage arrangements.

The execution price, commissions paid and the timing of trade execution may be negatively affected by directed brokerage arrangements.

Best Execution Reviews

On a periodic basis Wetherby evaluates the pricing and services offered by Schwab and other trading counterparties with those offered by other reputable firms. Wetherby has sought to make a good-faith determination that Schwab and other chosen trading counterparties provide clients with good services at competitive prices. However, clients should be aware that this determination could have been influenced by Wetherby's receipt of products and services from Schwab. Historically Wetherby has concluded that Schwab is as good as, or better than, the other firms that have been considered. Wetherby would notify its clients if it were to determine that another firm offered better pricing and services than Schwab.

Aggregated Trades

Wetherby does not regularly invest directly in any publicly traded equity securities, ETFs or closed-end funds. However, if an ETF or closed-end fund is a recommended investment in Wetherby's model, Wetherby typically aggregates client trades in an effort to treat all clients fairly. Clients participating in a bunched order receive the same average price and incur trading costs that are the same as would be paid if they were trading individually. If an order is partially filled, clients will have their orders fully filled on a randomized basis; Wetherby will seek to complete any unfilled client orders on the next trading day. Employees are excluded from bunched trades until all client orders are filled.

Client Referrals

Wetherby does not compensate Schwab or any other custodian or broker/dealer for referring client accounts.

Trade Error Policy

Wetherby requires that its personnel carefully implement investment management decisions. Nevertheless, if a trade error occurs, it is Wetherby's policy that the error be corrected as soon as possible and in such a manner that the affected client is not disadvantaged and bears no loss.

Wetherby's policy prohibits its staff from requesting a broker-dealer to accept financial responsibility for a trade error caused by Wetherby's personnel in exchange for the promise of future compensation through commissions.

Review of Accounts

Accounts under Wetherby's management are monitored on an ongoing basis by the Wealth Manager and the Chief Compliance Officer. The Wealth Manager reviews each account in detail on at least a quarterly basis, as well as in connection with each client meeting or more often as market conditions dictate. Wetherby recommends a yearly review with the client, either in person or by telephone. Clients may request quarterly or semi-annual reviews.

Clients receive account statements directly from their chosen custodian on at least a quarterly basis. Wetherby may supplement these custodial statements with reports provided quarterly, during client meetings or as requested.

Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Wetherby does not pay any compensation to another investment adviser in connection with that adviser's referral of a client to Wetherby.

Other than the previously described products and services that Wetherby receives from Schwab, Wetherby does not receive any other economic benefits from non-clients in connection with the provision of investment advice to clients.

Custody

All clients' accounts are held in custody by unaffiliated broker/dealers or banks, but Wetherby can access many clients' accounts through its ability to debit advisory fees. For this reason Wetherby is considered to have custody of client assets. Wetherby also has custody of client assets in the following cases:

- At the request of the client, a Wetherby Wealth Manager may serve as trustee
- A client has signed a Standing Letter of Authorization allowing Wetherby to move client's assets to a 3rd party who is a non-qualified custodian

Account custodians send statements directly to the account owners on at least a quarterly basis. Clients should carefully review these statements, and should compare these statements to any account information provided by Wetherby.

Investment Discretion

Wetherby has investment discretion over the majority clients' accounts. Clients grant Wetherby trading discretion through their signed Asset Management Agreement, which delegate discretionary authority that permits Wetherby to choose the:

1. Types of investments

2. The timing of any buys or sells
3. The broker-dealer to be used in the transaction
4. The commission rate to be paid to the broker-dealer that executes the transaction

Clients can place reasonable restrictions on Wetherby's investment discretion. For example, some clients have asked not to sell certain securities where the client has a particularly low tax basis.

Voting Client Securities

In accordance with its fiduciary duty to clients and Rule 206(4)-6 of the Investment Advisers Act, Wetherby has adopted and implemented written policies and procedures governing the voting of client securities. All proxies that Wetherby receives will be treated in accordance with these policies and procedures.

Absent specific client instructions, Wetherby generally votes in line with 3rd party proxy research provided by Glass, Lewis and Co. As a result, Wetherby has addressed any potential conflicts of interests by using a 3rd party proxy research company.

If "Class Action" documents are received by Wetherby, Wetherby will make reasonable efforts to forward such documents to the client to enable the client to file the "Class Action" at the client's discretion. The decision of whether to participate in the recovery or opt-out may be a legal one that Wetherby is not qualified to make for the client. As a courtesy to the client, Wetherby may assist the client in completing the "Class Action" documents; however, Wetherby will not file "Class Actions" on behalf of any client.

A copy of Wetherby's proxy voting policies and procedures, as well as specific information about how Wetherby has voted in the past, is available upon written request. Upon written request, clients can also take responsibility for voting their own proxies, or can give Wetherby instructions about how to vote their respective shares.

Financial Information

Wetherby has never filed for bankruptcy and is not aware of any financial condition that is expected to affect its ability to manage client accounts.