Item 4 – Advisory Business

Conning is a registered investment adviser with the Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”) under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940. Conning began conducting its SEC-registered investment advisory business in 1983. Conning is a wholly owned subsidiary of Conning & Company. Conning & Company is 100% owned by Conning Holdings Corporation, which is a portfolio company owned and managed by Aquiline Capital Partners, LLC. (“Aquiline”).

Conning specializes in managing fixed income investments on behalf of institutional and insurance company clients. Conning offers a range of actively managed multi-sector strategies. As of December 31, 2011, Conning’s assets under management totaled approximately $85 billion, the majority of which are managed on a non-discretionary basis. Given the change noted previously in Item 2, our assets under management increased by approximately $7 billion.

Conning provides investment services for diversified third party clients. Conning’s client base includes various insurance companies and pension plans.

Institutional Accounts

Conning provides fixed income investment management services to institutional clients. Conning only manages the assets which are the subject of its management agreement and does not consider the client's other assets and other obligations. Conning receives authority to supervise and direct the investment of the assets on a discretionary or non-discretionary basis in accordance with the clients’ written objectives and limitations as outlined in each individual client’s Investment Management Agreement. Clients may impose restrictions or limitations on investing in specific securities or specific types of securities.

Other Related Investment Management Services

An outside sub-adviser is utilized when offering investment advice with respect to convertible bonds.

Publications of Periodicals

Conning publishes research of general scope concerning the insurance industry. Clients occasionally request specific information or research formatted or arranged to suit their needs about industries or issues Conning has researched. To supply that information, we negotiate a fee with the client to fit the situation in relation to the amount of work required.

Consulting Services

Conning will provide advice on the insurance industry in general, not on specific securities. These services include investment advisory asset allocation, asset liability management, strategic research on a consulting basis, and financial modeling software licensing. These services may be offered as stand-alone or included in our full service product. Conning does not offer manager search or performance evaluation services.

Item 5 – Fees and Compensation

The client's Investment Management Agreement specifies the fees charged by Conning. All fees are subject to negotiation. Other charges, fees and commissions are in addition to Conning's management fee. Conning's fees do not include brokerage commissions, transaction fees, and other related costs and expenses which shall be paid by the client. Conning does not receive any portion of these additional fees. For minimum account sizes, please refer to Item 7.

Institutional and Insurance Company Investment Management clients may incur other charges including charges imposed by custodians.

Institutional Accounts

All investment management fees charged by Conning are negotiated and specified in a client's Investment Management Agreement. These fees are generally billed directly to the client on a quarterly basis. Fees are payable quarterly or monthly in arrears upon receipt of an invoice based on the fair market value of the asset as of the close of business on the last day of the billing cycle. Conning does not deduct management fees from a client's account. Management fees are prorated for each capital contribution and withdrawal made during the applicable calendar quarter (with the exception of contributions and withdrawals made in the ordinary course of business, such as fees and expenses). Accounts initiated or terminated during a calendar quarter will be charged a prorated fee.

The fees charged for separately managed accounts are subject to negotiation and are based on the fair market value of the assets depending on the size of the account and strategy selected.

Fixed Income Services and Fees:

Annual fees are based on fee schedules the components of which are generally within the range of 10 basis points to 50 basis points for institutional clients. Conning may seek a minimum dollar fee or a minimum mandate size.

Specialty Asset Services and Fees:

Conning manages portfolios of specialty assets (e.g., high dividend yield, indexed equities, working capital finance notes, etc.). Annual fee schedules are negotiated on an account-by-account basis, based upon the type and scope of services provided, whether managed actively or passively, and the size of mandate. Fees are billed on a pro-rated basis monthly, quarterly, or semi-annually in arrears. Fee schedules are generally within the range of 10 basis points to 75 basis points annually for institutional clients. Conning may seek a minimum dollar fee or a minimum mandate size.

Incentive-Based Fees:

For certain types of clients and mandates, annual fees may be calculated based on the income and capital appreciation of the account. Such an incentive-based fee will not be calculated on less than a quarterly basis. Fees are generally a negotiated combination of fixed-income services fees and incentive fees and are billed quarterly or semi-annually in arrears.

Accounts of this type are accepted only if all conditions of Rule 205-3 of the Investment Advisors Act of 1940 are met. Incentive-based fees will only be offered to clients who have a least $750,000 of assets under management or who have a minimum net worth of $1,500,000 ($500,000 of assets under management and net worth of $1,000,000).

Publication of Periodicals Fees

Publications are sold individually as well as by annual subscription. Fees are billed prior to fulfillment. All subscriptions may be cancelled by the client upon request. On a rare occasion that a subscription is cancelled, pro-rata refunds may be given.

Consulting Services Fees

Custom strategic research is produced on a negotiated contracted fee basis. Fees for these projects are negotiated on an individual basis and payable either in installments or upon completion of the project. Conning does not offer manager search or performance evaluation services.

Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

As we disclosed in Item 5 of this Brochure, Conning may accept performance-based fees from clients. Such a performance-based fee is calculated based on a share of capital gains on or capital appreciation of the assets of the client.

Clients should be aware that performance-based fee arrangements may create an incentive to recommend investments which may be riskier or more speculative than those which would be recommended under a different fee arrangement.

Furthermore, as we also have clients who do not pay performance-based fees, we may have an incentive to favor accounts that do pay such fees because the compensation we receive from these clients is more directly tied to the performance of their accounts.

Conning addresses such conflicts by ensuring that all clients receive fair and equitable transactions by bunching trades when applicable. One way this is monitored is by the performance of a daily trade recap review conducted by the Compliance Department. Our risk management area also performs an independent trade review on a daily basis to identify potential price differences between client transactions.

Item 7 – Types of Clients

As stated in Item 4, Conning provides fixed income investment services for primarily diversified third party clients. Our client base includes various insurance companies and pension plans.

Regardless of client type, Conning may seek a minimum dollar fee or a minimum mandate size.

Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Conning's fixed income investment approach is founded on the following:

- ◆ Firm-wide sector views provide top down influence on portfolio construction
- ◆ Issue selection driven by "fundamentals first" philosophy
- ◆ Strategy implementation combines portfolio needs/constraints with sector views and selection opportunities

Investing in securities involves risk of loss that clients should be prepared to bear.

Investment Process: Conning's investment process is built on a long-standing and disciplined philosophy, a team-based investment approach and a "portfolio manager" service model. Our staff brings a wealth of experience in both the investment and insurance areas. Through our customized approach, our clients benefit from our focus on optimizing performance, managing risk and meeting client needs.

Philosophy: We understand that our clients' portfolios have a purpose beyond the immediate challenge of producing investment returns. These portfolios also exist to support the businesses of our insurance clients. They provide cash flow for claims and benefits along with income for contract guarantees. They stand behind our client's surplus and financial strength. Conning's investment philosophy centers around four beliefs. These beliefs imply four corresponding principles that are at the center of our investment approach.

Belief - Portfolio Management Principle

- Asset allocation provides greater opportunity to add value than interest rate anticipation - Emphasize asset allocation, sector rotation and security selection
- The income component of bond returns is critical in the long run - Emphasize spread and income in portfolio holdings
- Consistently predicting the future levels of interest rates is difficult - Control interest rate risk by prudent duration management

- Excessive concentrations of risk are imprudent - Manage overall portfolio risk through asset diversification

Portfolio Construction: Using a team approach, we design and implement portfolio construction through a disciplined allocation of resources focused on three areas of portfolio value: fundamental, relative and structural.

Fundamental Value

Since any investment, particularly a fixed income security, represents a series of cash flows owed to the portfolio, we look for assurance that those cash flows are sustainable, both in amount and timing. Our credit and structured products analysts make such judgments and capsule their opinions in their official recommendations.

Relative Value

Relative value determination falls to the trading desk, where traders apply their knowledge of trading histories, inter-market spreads, dealer inventories, and end-user portfolios to find and execute the best price.

Structural Value

Portfolio managers are responsible for portfolio structure and ultimately determine how to construct and when to execute. This decision is based on the “best fit” for our client’s portfolio.

Factors that drive this decision include:

- The existing and desired duration exposure, yield curve positioning, credit posture and liquidity requirements
- Concentrations of risk by sector and sub-sector, cash flow and volatility exposures and relevant accounting effects

Tactical Asset Allocation: Every month, Conning produces an investment outlook that serves as the top-down influence on portfolio construction. Asset class teams – including portfolio managers, analysts and traders – meet and formulate recommendations pertaining to duration, yield curve position and sector allocations. Then, our entire investment team reviews these recommendations. Following open discussion and debate, the investment team determines the official investment policy for the current month. Conning’s portfolio managers use this policy to drive asset class and sector allocations, as well as duration and yield curve positioning. We provide these conclusions to our clients in our monthly “Capital Markets Outlook.”

Risk Management

Credit Risk: The risk that the issuer of a security will fail to pay interest or principal in a timely manner, or that negative perceptions of the issuer's ability to make such payments will cause the price of the security to decline. Debt securities rated below investment-grade are especially susceptible to this risk.

Sector Risk: The value of securities focused in a particular industry or market sector will be highly sensitive to financial, economic, political and other developments affecting that industry or market sector, and conditions that negatively impact that industry or market sector will have a greater impact as compared to an account that does not have its holdings similarly concentrated.

Interest Rate Risk: The value of fixed income securities usually rise and fall in response to changes in interest rates. Declining interest rates generally increase the value of existing instruments, and rising interest rates generally decrease the value of existing instruments. Changes in value usually will not affect the amount of interest income, but will affect the value of shares. Interest rate risk is generally greater for investments with longer maturities.

Certain fixed income securities pay interest at variable or floating rates. Variable rate securities reset at specified intervals, while floating rate securities reset whenever there is a change in a specified index rate. The market prices of these securities may fluctuate significantly when interest rates change.

Structured Risk: These types of securities share many of the same risks. The impairment of the value of collateral or other assets underlying a mortgage-backed or asset-backed security, such as that resulting from non-payment of loans, may result in a reduction in the value of such security and losses. Early payoffs in the loans underlying such securities may result in receiving less income than originally anticipated. Securities with longer maturities tend to fluctuate in value more widely in response to changes in interest rates than shorter-term securities.

Foreign Investing Risk: Investing in securities of non-U.S. companies involves special risks and considerations not typically associated with investing in U.S. companies, and the values of non-U.S. securities may be more volatile than those of U.S. securities. The values of non-U.S. securities are subject to economic and political developments in countries and regions, or where the securities are traded. Values may also be affected by restrictions on receiving the investment proceeds from a non-U.S. country.

- Emerging Market Risk. The risks of foreign investments are generally greater in countries whose markets are still developing than they are in more developed markets. Emerging market countries typically have economic and political systems that are less fully developed, and can be expected to be less stable than those of more developed countries. Investments in emerging markets may be considered speculative.

Liquidity Risk: Certain debt securities may be substantially less liquid than many other securities.

Derivatives

Conning may periodically buy or sell forwards or futures as long as they are consistent with the client investment guidelines.

Item 9 – Disciplinary Information

Conning and its management personnel do not have any disciplinary information to report.

Item 10 – Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Industry Affiliations & Activities

Conning is a portfolio company of the funds managed by Aquiline Capital Partners, LLC. ("Aquiline"). Aquiline is a private equity firm with a history of investing in financial services enterprises in industries such as property and casualty insurance, specialty financing, asset management, life insurance, and transaction processing. Aquiline also is a company formed to create and package limited partnerships (or similar pooled investment vehicles hereinafter referred to as "entities") for investment purposes. Conning or one or more of our related persons also act as general partner or manager of these entities. A list of these affiliated entities is specifically disclosed on Schedule D of Form ADV, Part 1 at Item 7.B. (Part 1 of our Form ADV can be accessed by following the directions provided on the Cover Page of this Firm Brochure.)

Conning is an affiliate of Goodwin Capital Advisers, Inc., a registered investment adviser with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940. Certain individuals will assume dual responsibilities within both Conning and Goodwin in relation to portfolio management, trading, and other services. All individuals must adhere to our Code of Ethics which is outlined in Item 11.

Conning provides investment accounting and reporting services to both investment advisory and non-advisory clients and has a separate department of employees that dedicate 100% of their time to this function. Conning may also license proprietary software to clients in connection with its investment advisory services. Finally, Conning may offer general business advice that does not fall within the definition of investment advice to some clients.

Conflict of interest within these interrelationships could include using the same vendor for different services.

Broker-Dealers

Conning has an affiliated broker-dealer, Conning Investment Products, Inc. ("CIP"). Conning does not use this entity for client security transactions. CIP has contracted with Aquiline Capital Partners, LLC as a placement agent to offer the ACP Financial Services Fund II L.P. to institutional prospects which may include current clients. The Fund invests exclusively in global financial services enterprises in industries such as property and casualty insurers, specialty financing, asset management, life insurance, and transaction processing. Certain management personnel of Conning are separately licensed as registered representatives of CIP.

Conning has another affiliated broker-dealer, CRT Capital Group, LLC. ("CRT") which is under common control with its indirect owner Aquiline Financial Services Fund L.P. From time to time, Conning may place non-ERISA trades with CRT provided that best execution for the client is obtained.

Conflict of interest within these interrelationships could include using the same vendor for different services.

Item 11 – Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions & Personal Trading Conning has a Code of Ethics for all of the firm describing its standard of business conduct and responsibility to its clients. The Code of Ethics includes provisions relating to the confidentiality of client information, a prohibition on insider trading, a prohibition of rumor mongering, restrictions on the acceptance of significant gifts and the reporting of certain gifts and business entertainment items, and personal securities trading procedures, among other things. All supervised persons at Conning must accept the terms of the Code of Ethics on an annual basis, or sooner if amended.

The Code of Ethics prohibits employees from buying or selling a security (with certain exemptions) held in their personal account within three business days after a client account trades the same security. In addition, employees are required to hold a security for no less than 30 days after purchase.

Conning's clients or prospective clients may request a copy of the firm's Code of Ethics by contacting the Chief Compliance Officer.

For more information on our Brokerage Practices, please refer to Item 12.

Item 12 – Brokerage Practices

In the absence of specific written instructions in a client's investment management agreement, Conning has discretion in selecting brokers for client transactions.

Conning seeks best execution at the best price available for each trade. Conning also takes into consideration several factors, such as:

- the broker's ability to execute the trade;
- the size of the trade;
- characteristics of the security;
- the quality and reliability of brokerage services; and
- the overall direct net economic results to the account.

Conning may also consider the availability of the broker to stand ready to execute possibly difficult transactions in the future, and the financial strength and stability of the broker.

Conning currently does not participate in soft dollar arrangements.

Conning does not receive client referrals from any broker.

Conning aggregates orders, when possible in accordance with client guidelines, for the purchase or sale of the same security for all participating accounts. When an order is filled in its entirety, each participating account receives their full allocation at the agreed upon trade execution price. When an order is partially filled, each participating account receives a pro rata allocation, at the agreed upon trade execution price, subject to certain exceptions including de minimis orders. Transaction costs are shared on a pro rata basis for all participating accounts.

SEC Rule 206(3)-2 of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 allows an investment adviser, under certain circumstances, to engage in inter-account transactions. If one client of an investment adviser is looking to sell a security in its portfolio and another client of the same investment adviser is looking to purchase that security, this rule permits the investment adviser to do a cross trade between the two accounts. The buy/sale must be at fair market value and with no commissions. Conning may engage in these cross trades when advantageous to both clients and with prior approval from the Chief Compliance Officer. Cross transactions will not be conducted through an affiliated broker-dealer.

Conning may accept direction from clients regarding which brokers to use. Currently, all client directed brokerage is subject to most favorable execution and best execution.

Conning's Best Execution Committee consists of members from investment management, trading, financial and compliance. The Committee meets quarterly to set, guide and review brokerage allocation and practices. New brokers are reviewed and approved by the Chief Risk Officer and the Compliance Department.

Conning may direct the purchase of securities on behalf of clients, in secondary market transactions, in public offerings directly from an underwriter or in privately negotiated transactions with an issuer. Securities purchased in public offerings may be resold shortly after acquisition in the immediate aftermarket to take advantage of price appreciation from the public offering price or for other reasons. Short-term trading of securities acquired in public offerings, or otherwise, may result in higher portfolio turnover.

If consistent with a client's investment objectives, investment restrictions, and risk tolerance, Conning may purchase securities sold in underwritten new issues, ("deal securities") for client accounts. Deal securities are allocated among participating accounts in a fair and equitable manner so as not to unfairly discriminate in favor of certain clients or types of accounts. When a portfolio manager receives a reduced allocation of deal securities, the portfolio manager will allocate the reduced allocation among accounts in accordance with the allocation percentages set forth in the initial allocation instructions for the deal securities, except where this would result in de minimis allocation to any client account.

Conning may give advice, or take action, with respect to any one client account which may differ from the advice given, or action taken, with respect to another client account. However, Conning, to the extent practical and over a period of time, allocates investment opportunities to each account on a fair and equitable basis relative to other similarly-situated client accounts based on client guidelines and cash availability.

As in any business, mistakes may happen despite the good intentions of employees and the controls in place. Conning will correct trading errors in a timely manner with no financial loss to clients.

Item 13 – Review of Accounts

On a continuous basis, Conning's portfolio managers conduct a review of their investment management clients' portfolios to monitor performance and to ensure compliance with client investment guidelines and restrictions. A separate independent Risk Management Group monitors portfolio compliance, pricing, performance, credit risk, and other risk factors daily (transaction review, pre-trade compliance), weekly (credit review), and monthly (pricing, post-trade compliance reports, performance vs. benchmark).

Conning will provide all clients written reports on a quarterly basis. Reports include market commentary, account performance, portfolio related characteristics, appraisal and transactions. Conning will provide reports on a more frequent basis if requested.

Item 14 – Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Conning does not accept client referral fees or receive any other compensation for managing assets other than what was previously stated in Item 5.

Item 15 – Custody

Conning may have custody of client funds or securities when investing in certain investment strategies. Clients should receive, at least quarterly, statements from the broker dealer, bank or other qualified custodian that holds and maintains the client's investment assets. Conning urges clients to carefully review those statements and compare official custodial records to the account statements that Conning provides to clients as noted in Item 13. Conning's statements may vary from custodial statements based on accounting procedures, reporting dates, or valuation methodologies of certain securities.

Item 16 – Investment Discretion

Conning typically receives discretionary authority from the client at the outset of an advisory relationship to select the identity and amount of securities bought or sold. In all cases, however, such discretion is exercised in a manner consistent with the stated investment objectives in the investment management agreement for the particular client account.

When selecting securities and determining amounts, Conning observes the investment policies, limitations and restrictions as outlined in the clients investment management agreement.

Item 17 – Voting Client Securities

Conning does vote proxies on behalf of clients who contract this service via their investment management agreement. Conning utilizes the services of an outside proxy voting firm in order to vote on the client's behalf. Votes are cast in accordance with pre-determined guidelines provided by Conning which are based upon the clients' best interests. Clients may obtain a copy of our complete proxy voting policies and procedures or how their proxies were voted by contacting us by telephone, email, or in writing.

With respect to ERISA accounts, we will vote proxies unless the plan documents specifically reserve the plan sponsor's right to vote proxies. To direct us to vote a proxy in a particular manner, clients should contact their portfolio manager.

Under no circumstances will Conning act on behalf of its clients in legal proceedings, including class actions or bankruptcies involving securities purchased or held in the client account, other than with respect to bankruptcies involving private placement securities where such services have been retained by a client. If desired, clients may direct us to transmit copies of class action notices to the client or a third party. Upon such direction, we will make commercially reasonable efforts to forward such notices in a timely manner.

Item 18 – Financial Information

Conning has no financial commitment that impairs its ability to meet contractual and fiduciary commitments to clients, and has not been the subject of a bankruptcy proceeding.

Item 19 – Best Practices

Conning has a disaster recovery and business continuity program in place to help the firm manage in the case of an emergency. This program is designed to provide the most critical portfolio-management, operations, and computer systems with a measure of protection against potential disasters.
