You are advised that Schwab offers a program entitled, Schwab One Source, which enables American Financial to purchase certain mutual funds with no transaction fees being charged to you, provided the mutual funds are held for at least 90 days. If any Schwab One Source mutual fund is sold within 90 days of its purchase, you will be assessed a liquidation fee. Additional information can be obtained from Charles Schwab. Additionally, you may pay their proportionate share of the fund's management and administrative fees and sales charges as well as the mutual fund adviser's fee of any mutual fund they purchase. Such fees are not shared with American Financial and are compensation to the fund-manager. You should read the mutual fund prospectus prior to investing.

Item 8.A amended

Old	Portfolios are reviewed continuously. For rebalancing purposes, Portfolios will be examined four times a year and generally within the last week of the second month of each calendar quarter (i.e. February, May, August and November). Furthermore, rebalancing will only occur if an allocation deviates outside the preset tolerance bands. As stated with the client's Global Strategies Account Agreement, rebalancing will not result in American Financial being considered to have discretion.
New	Rebalancing: We review our portfolios for rebalancing opportunities. The goal of rebalancing is to realign the portfolios to their original predetermined and agreed upon allocation, while at the same time being meaningful of transaction costs. We analyze our portfolios on a quarterly basis, usually in the second complete week of every quarter. (January, April, July, October).

At least annually, this section will discuss only specific material changes that are made to the Brochure and provide you with a summary of such changes. Additionally, reference to the date of the last annual update to this Brochure will be provided.

Item 4 - ADVISORY BUSINESS

American Financial Advisors, Inc. (hereinafter referred to as “American Financial”) is an investment advisory firm offering a variety of advisory services customized to your individual needs.

- A. American Financial Advisors was incorporated in 1989 by principals Leslie Jeanne Kelly and Paul Auslander.
- B. American Financial’s primary service is asset management. Additionally, American Financial offers financial planning and consulting services. The services are more fully described below.
- C. American Financial tailors the advisory services it offers to your individual needs. You may impose restrictions and/or limitations on the investing in certain securities or types of securities. American Financial will gather various information from you through the use of an Investor Questionnaire and Risk Tolerance Questionnaire. Additionally, an Investment Policy Statement (“IPS”) will be created specific to your managed account. The information gathered by American Financial will assist American Financial to provide you with the requested services and customize the services to your financial situation. Depending on the services you have requested, American Financial will gather various financial information and history from you including, but not limited to:
 - Retirement and financial goals
 - Investment objectives
 - Investment horizon
 - Financial needs
 - Cash flow analysis
 - Cost of living needs
 - Education needs
 - Savings tendencies
 - Other applicable financial information required by American Financial in order to provide the investment advisory services requested.
- D. American Financial does not participate in wrap fee programs.
- E. As of December 31, 2011, we have approximately $215 million of client assets under our non-discretionary management. American Financial does not manage assets on a discretionary basis.

Asset Management Services

American Financial Advisors provides its clients with a formal, written Investment Policy Statement (IPS) that is based on your answers to an Investment Policy Statement questionnaire you will be asked to complete. This formal written Investment Policy Statement (IPS) will outline your objectives, time frame, risk tolerance, and asset allocation. This document will control the investment of your funds and can be reviewed if your personal situation changes. To initiate the management services, clients must enter into the Global Portfolio Strategies (GPS) Account Agreement and sign the Portfolio Allocation Agreement. The Portfolio Allocation Form will outline to the client the allocation that will be implemented for the client and how the account will be managed.

American Financial's Investment Committee has designed a group of model portfolios with a goal to address various risk profiles, investment objectives and investment goals. Therefore, your portfolio may be invested identical to or similarly to other clients. Generally, after analysis of the client's situation, American Financial will assist the client to determine one or more model portfolios in which to allocate the client's investable assets for management. After evaluating your information gathered by American Financial, American Financial will determine which of its model portfolios would be most suitable for you. From there, American Financial customizes your portfolio allocation taking into consideration your limitations or restrictions, the market and economy at the time and your financial situation, goals and objectives.

You are advised transactions in the account, account reallocations and rebalancing may trigger a taxable event, with the exception of IRA accounts, 403(b) accounts and other qualified retirement accounts.

American Financial provides continuous and ongoing management of your account. American Financial manages your accounts on a nondiscretionary basis. Therefore, American Financial will not make changes to the allocation of your account without prior consultation with you and your expressed agreement. The allocation of your account will not be changed unless you agree and sign a revised written asset allocation change form. However, American Financial will periodically rebalance your account to bring the account back into alignment with the original allocation. This is not considered discretionary authority and is maintaining your agreed upon allocation.

Financial Planning and Consulting Services

American Financial offers a wide array of financial services from individual consultation on specific topics such as debt reduction to the preparation and implementation of a comprehensive financial plan including insurance planning, education planning, retirement strategies, and estate considerations.

Additionally, American Financial can assist corporate clients by conducting educational programs for the participants in qualified retirement plans (401k) regarding the plan's provisions and options.

Plans are based on your financial situation at the time and are based on financial information disclosed by you to American Financial. You are advised that certain assumptions may be made with respect to interest and inflation rates and use of past trends and performance of the market and economy. However, past performance is in no way an indication of future performance. American Financial cannot offer any guarantees or promises that your financial goals and objectives will be met. Further, you must continue to review the plan and update the plan based upon changes in your financial situation, goals, or objectives or changes in the economy. Should your financial situation or investment goals or objectives change, you must notify American Financial promptly of the changes. You are advised that the advice offered by American Financial may be limited and is not meant to be comprehensive. Therefore, you may need to seek the services of other professionals such as an insurance adviser, attorney and/or accountant.

You are not obligated to implement advice through American Financial or Advisory Representatives. Should you implement the plan with American Financial's Advisory Representatives commissions or other compensation may be received in addition to the advisory fee paid to American Financial.

General Information

You are advised the investment recommendations and advice offered by American Financial are not legal advice or accounting advice. You should coordinate and discuss the impact of financial advice with your attorney and/or accountant. You are advised that it is necessary to inform American Financial promptly with respect to any changes in your financial situation and investment goals and objectives. Failure to notify American Financial of any such changes could result in investment recommendations not meeting your needs.

Item 5 - FEES AND COMPENSATION

Asset Management Services

- A. Fees are negotiable and are not based on a share of capital gains upon or capital appreciation of the funds or any portion of the funds.

You may make additional deposits to the Account or make partial withdrawals from the Account. You are advised that withdrawals to the account can affect American Financial's ability to manage the account due to reduced ability to adequately diversify the account, smaller accounts may be impacted more by market shifts, and distortion in the allocation of the assets in the Account. Further, withdrawals may distort the asset allocation and impact the performance of the account. Additional assets of $10,000 (based on a lump sum deposit) or more deposited into the Account after it is opened will be charged a pro-rata fee based upon the number of days remaining in the then current calendar quarter. Alternatively, partial withdrawals in lump sums of $10,000 or more from an account will result in a fee credit being applied to the next quarter's fee calculation. No fee adjustments will be made for Account appreciation or depreciation.

American Financial aggregates or households your managed accounts together to determine your quarterly fee. American Financial may change the above fee schedule upon 30-days prior written notice to you.

Account Size	Annual Fee
First $500,000	1.55%
Next $500,000 to $1,000,000	1.10%
Next $1,000,000 to $2,000,000	0.90%
Amounts above $2,000,001	0.70%

American Financial Advisors, Inc.

The above advisory fee schedule is blended. Thus, you will pay the applicable fee on each threshold. (E.g. An account valued at $2,650,000 will pay 1.55% on the first $500,000, 1.10% on the next $500,000, 0.90% on the next $1,000,000 and 0.70% on the remaining $650,000.)

American Financial offers a discounted fee schedule to pilots of American Airlines. The following fee schedule are flat fees, not blended. Therefore, all accounts under the Global Portfolio Strategies program will be aggregated together and a fee charged based on the aggregated value. Generally, pilots of American Airlines will be subject to the following fees:

Account Size	Annual Fee
$0 to $1,000,000	1.08%
Next $1,000,001 to $2,000,000	0.88%
Next $2,000,001 to $5,000,000	0.73%
$5,000,001 and above	0.58%

Additionally, if you have assets that are held in the managed account but are excluded from the Global Portfolio Strategies management program or if you who have assets for which you have requested American Financial to include in reports, you will be charged an administration fee. Such assets will not be managed, monitored or subject to oversight of American Financial. American Financial's services will be limited to providing administration to execute a transaction specifically requested and/or to include such assets on a report for a consolidated view. American Financial will charge a 0.10% annual fee on the value of such assets. The fee will be billed on a calendar quarter in advance along with the management fee for the Global Portfolio Strategies account.

- B. Advisory fees will generally be collected directly from your account, provided you have given American Financial written authorization. You will be provided with an account statement reflecting the deduction of the advisory fee direct from the account custodian. If the Account does not contain sufficient funds to pay advisory fees, American Financial has limited authority to sell or redeem securities in sufficient amounts to pay advisory fees. You may reimburse the account for advisory fees paid to American Financial, except for ERISA and IRA accounts.
- C. In addition to the advisory fees above, you may pay fees for custodial services, account maintenance fees, transaction fees, and other fees associated with maintaining the account. American Financial does not share in any portion of such fees.
- D. Advisory fees will be charged in advance on a calendar quarterly basis. An initial fee will be due upon execution of the Global Portfolio Strategies Account agreement or upon the account being established. The initial fee will be prorated based on the number of days remaining in the calendar quarter. Thereafter, advisory fees will be due and assessed at the beginning of each calendar quarter based on the value of the account under management as of the close of business on the last business day of the preceding calendar quarter.

You may purchase the securities recommended by American Financial directly or through other brokers or agents not affiliated with American Financial.

Termination Provisions

You may terminate investment advisory services obtained from American Financial, without penalty, upon written notice within five (5) business days after entering into the advisory agreement with American Financial. You will be responsible for any fees and charges incurred from third parties as a result of maintaining the Account such as transaction fees for any securities transactions executed and Account maintenance or custodial fees. Any advisory fees paid to American Financial will be refunded on the basis of prorating the fees for services that have not been performed. Thereafter, you may terminate investment advisory upon thirty (30) calendar days written notice to American Financial. Should you terminate investment advisory services during a the quarter which would result in you forfeiting prepaid fees, you will be entitled to a prorated refund of any prepaid quarterly advisory fee based upon the number of days remaining in the quarter after the termination date.

Financial Planning and Consulting Services

You are advised that fees for planning services are strictly for planning services. Therefore, you may pay fees and/or commissions for additional services obtained such as asset management or products purchased such as securities or insurance.

Fees are negotiable. Your fees will be dependent on several factors including time spent with American Financial, number of meetings, complexity of your situation, amount of research, services requested and staff resources.

After an initial consultation for which there is no fee, clients are charged a fixed plan fee or may be billed for planning. Typically, hourly fees are utilized when the project or services can't be fully and readily defined by American Financial or where the services are more consultative in nature.

Estimates of time and anticipated fee are provided to the client. The fee is billed after the work is completed and the client is in receipt of the written report or presented with the analysis and recommendations verbally. Fees are negotiable.

Fixed Fees: Ranging from $325 to $2,500.

Hourly Fees: $325/hour for professional services and $175 for staff time

The Advisory Agreement terminates upon the delivery of the Plan, analyses and/or recommendations which delivery maybe in writing or verbally in a meeting between client and American Financial. A client may terminate services at anytime without penalty within five (5) business days of execution of the advisory agreement with American Financial and upon written notice being received by American Financial. Thereafter, the client may cancel or terminate services at any time upon written notice being delivered and received by American Financial. Should termination occur before presentation of the plan, analyses, and/or recommendations, the client will be charged based on the time expended by American Financial and based on the hourly rates disclosed above. Since the billing is in arrears, refunds do not apply.

Item 6 - PERFORMANCE-BASED FEES AND SIDE BY SIDE MANAGEMENT

This section is not applicable to American Financial since American Financial does not charge performance based fees.

Item 7 - TYPES OF CLIENTS

American Financial's services are geared toward individuals both high net worth (i.e. clients with a net worth of $1,500,000) and other than high net worth, retirement accounts, trust accounts and private foundations.

Item 8 - METHODS OF ANALYSIS, INVESTMENT STRATEGIES AND RISK OF LOSS

- A. American Financial conducts fundamental analysis. Fundamental analysis generally involves assessing a company's or security's value based on factors such as sales, assets, markets, management, products and services, earnings, and financial structure.

Rebalancing: We review our portfolios for rebalancing opportunities. The goal of rebalancing is to realign the portfolios to their original predetermined and agreed upon allocation, while at the same time being meaningful of transaction costs. We analyze our portfolios on a quarterly basis, usually in the second complete week of every quarter. (January, April, July, October).

- B. You are advised investing in securities involves risk of loss, including the potential loss of principal. Therefore, your participation in any of the management programs offered by American Financial will require you to be prepared to bear the risk of loss and fluctuating performance.

American Financial does not represent, warrant or imply that the services or methods of analysis used by American Financial can or will predict future results, successfully identify market tops or bottoms, or insulate you from losses due to major market corrections or crashes. Past performance is no indication of future performance. No guarantees can be offered that your goals or objectives will be achieved. Further, no promises or assumptions can be made that the advisory services offered by American Financial will provide a better return than other investment strategies.

- C. Primarily, American Financial will utilize mutual funds and exchange-traded funds. Additionally, model portfolios may consist mostly or entirely of Dimensional Fund Advisors mutual funds. DFA mutual funds are not generally directly available by members of the public and generally are only available through an adviser who has been reviewed by DFA. However, this in no ways implies DFA endorses American Financial or has approved American Financial.

The risks with mutual funds include the costs and expenses within the fund that can impact performance, change of managers, and fund straying from its objective. Open ended mutual funds do not typically have a liquidity issue and the price does not fluctuate throughout the trading day. Mutual fund fees are described in the fund's prospectus, which the custodian mails directly to the client following any purchase of a mutual fund that is new to the client's account. In addition, a prospectus is available online at each mutual fund company's Web site. At the client's request at any time American Financial will direct the client to the appropriate Web page to access the prospectus.

ETFs trade on an auctionable market. Therefore, there is more price fluctuation with ETFs than with mutual funds since ETFs trade throughout the day, whereas mutual funds are priced once a day. Also, since most ETFs only mirror a market index, such as the S&P 500, they won't outperform the index. The risks with stocks and bonds are that their prices fluctuate throughout the day. Stocks can drop in value and become worthless. The risks with bonds are interest rate, inflation and credit risk. Credit risk is the risk that the bond issuer will be unable to make its payments on time or at all, effectively default on the bonds.

Item 9 - DISCIPLINARY INFORMATION

There is no reportable disciplinary information required for American Financial or its management persons that is material to your evaluation of American Financial, its business or its management persons.

Item 10 - OTHER FINANCIAL INDUSTRY ACTIVITIES AND AFFILIATIONS

- A. As previously stated, Advisory Representatives are dually registered as an advisory representative of American Financial and as a registered representative of Foothill Securities, Inc. You are under no obligation to purchase or sell securities through your Advisory Representative. However, if you choose to implement the plan, commissions may be earned in addition to any fees paid for advisory services. Commissions may be higher or lower at Foothill Securities than at other broker/dealers. Advisory Representatives may have a conflict of interest in having you purchase securities and/or insurance related products through Foothill Securities in that the higher their production with Foothill Securities the greater potential for obtaining a higher pay-out on commissions earned.
- B, C. American Financial is not and does not have a related person who is a: futures commission merchant, commodity pool operator, commodity trading advisor, or an associated person of the foregoing entities. Further, American Financial is not and does not have a related person who is: broker/dealer or other similar type of broker or dealer; investment company or other pooled investment vehicle, other investment adviser or financial planner; futures commission merchant or commodity pool operator; banking or thrift institution; accountant or accounting firm; lawyer or law firm; insurance company or agency; pension consultant; real estate broker or dealer; or sponsor or syndicator of a limited partnership.
- D. American Financial does not select or recommend other investment advisers and receive compensation as a result of the recommendation

Item 11 - CODE OF ETHICS, PARTICIPATION OF INTEREST IN CLIENT TRANSACTIONS AND PERSONAL TRADING

Code Of Ethics

- A. American Financial has a fiduciary duty to you to act in your best interest and always place your interests first and foremost. American Financial takes seriously its compliance and regulatory obligations and requires all staff to comply with such rules and regulations as well as American Financial's policies and procedures. Further, American Financial strives to handle your non-public information in such a way to protect information from falling into hands that have no business reason to know such information and provides you with American Financial's Privacy Policy. As such, American Financial maintains a code of ethics for its Advisory Representatives, supervised persons and staff. The Code of Ethics contains provisions for standards of business conduct in order to comply with federal securities laws, personal securities reporting requirements, pre-approval procedures for certain transactions, code violations reporting requirements, and safeguarding of material non-public information about your transactions. Further, American Financial's Code of Ethics establishes American Financial's expectation for business conduct. A copy of our Code of Ethics will be provided to you upon request.
- B. Neither American Financial nor its associated persons recommends to clients or buys or sells for client accounts any securities in which we have a material financial interest.
- C. American Financial and its associated persons may buy or sell securities identical to those securities recommended to you. Therefore, American Financial and/or its associated persons may have an interest or position in certain securities that are also recommended and bought or sold to you. American Financial and its associated persons will not put their interests before your interest. American Financial and its associated persons may not trade ahead of you or trade in such a way to obtain a better price for themselves than for you or other clients.
- D. American Financial is required to maintain a list of all securities holdings for its associated persons and develop procedures to supervise the trading activities of associated persons who have knowledge of your transactions and their related family accounts at least quarterly. Further, associated persons are prohibited from trading on non-public information or sharing such information.

You have the right to decline any investment recommendation. American Financial and its associated persons are required to conduct their securities and investment advisory business in accordance with all applicable Federal and State securities regulations.

Prohibition on Use of Insider Information

American Financial has adopted policies and procedures to prevent the misuse of "insider" information (i.e. material n, non-public information). A copy of such policies and procedures is available to any person upon request.

Item 12 - BROKERAGE PRACTICES

As previously stated, Advisory Representatives are registered representatives of Foothill Securities. As a result they are subject to FINRA Conduct Rule 3040 which may restrict such them from conducting securities transactions away from Foothill Securities unless Foothill Securities provides him with written authorization. Advisory Representatives have obtained approval to offer you the ability to maintain accounts through Schwab Institutional division of Charles Schwab & Co., Inc. ("Schwab"), a registered broker/dealer, member SIPC. American Financial is independently owned and operated and not affiliated with Schwab or Foothill Securities.

Foothill Securities will only be recommended if you have a need for a commissionable product or a small account not suitable for asset management services.

You are advised that not all investment advisers require you to maintain accounts at a specific broker/dealer. You are advised you may maintain accounts at another broker/dealer. However, the services provided by American Financial will be limited to only advice and will not include implementation. If you select another brokerage firm for custodial and/or brokerage services you will not be able to receive asset management services from American Financial.

How We Select Brokers/Custodians

We seek to recommend a custodian/broker who will hold your assets and execute transactions on terms that are, overall, most advantageous when compared to other available providers and their services. We consider a wide range of factors, including, among others:

- Combination of transaction execution services and asset custody services (generally without a separate fee for custody)
- Capability to execute, clear, and settle trades (buy and sell securities for your account)
- Capability to facilitate transfers and payments to and from accounts (wire transfers, check requests, bill payment, etc.)
- Breadth of available investment products (stocks, bonds, mutual funds, exchange-traded funds [ETFs], etc.)
- Availability of investment research and tools that assist us in making investment decisions
- Quality of services
- Competitiveness of the price of those services (commission rates, margin interest rates, other fees, etc.) and willingness to negotiate the prices
- Reputation, financial strength, and stability
- Prior service to us and our other clients
- Availability of other products and services that benefit us, as discussed below (see "Products and Services Available to Us From Schwab")

You are advised there is an incentive for American Financial and the Advisory Representatives to recommend a broker/dealer over another based on the products and services that will be received rather than your best interest.

Due to the individual management of client accounts, we do not aggregate the purchase or sale of securities for various client accounts.

Products and Services Available to Us From Schwab

Schwab Advisor Services™ (formerly called Schwab Institutional®) is Schwab's business serving independent investment advisory firms like us. They provide us and our clients with access to its institutional brokerage—trading, custody, reporting, and related services—many of which are not typically available to Schwab retail customers. Schwab also makes available various support services. Some of those services help us manage or administer our clients' accounts, while others help us manage and grow our business. Schwab's support services generally are available on an unsolicited basis (we don't have to request them) and at no charge to us as long as our clients collectively maintain a total of at least $10 million of their assets in accounts at Schwab. If our clients collectively have less than $10 million in assets at Schwab, Schwab may charge us quarterly service fees of $1,200. Following is a more detailed description of Schwab's support services:

Services That Benefit You.

Schwab's institutional brokerage services include access to a broad range of investment products, execution of securities transactions, and custody of client assets. The investment products available through Schwab include some to which we might not otherwise have access or that would require a significantly higher minimum initial investment by our clients. Schwab's services described in this paragraph generally benefit you and your account.

Services That May Not Directly Benefit You.

Schwab also makes available to us other products and services that benefit us but may not directly benefit you or your account. These products and services assist us in managing and administering our clients' accounts. They include investment research, both Schwab's own and that of third parties. We may use this research to service all or a substantial number of our clients' accounts, including accounts not maintained at Schwab. In addition to investment research, Schwab also makes available software and other technology that:

- Provide access to client account data (such as duplicate trade confirmations and account statements)
- Facilitate trade execution and allocate aggregated trade orders for multiple client accounts
- Provide pricing and other market data
- Facilitate payment of our fees from our clients' accounts
- Assist with back-office functions, recordkeeping, and client reporting

Services That Generally Benefit Only Us.

Schwab also offers other services intended to help us manage and further develop our business enterprise. These services include:

- Educational conferences and events
- Consulting on technology, compliance, legal, and business needs
- Publications and conferences on practice management and business succession
- Access to employee benefits providers, human capital consultants, and insurance providers

Schwab may provide some of these services itself. In other cases, it will arrange for third-party vendors to provide the services to us. Schwab may also discount or waive its fees for some of these services or pay all or a part of a third party's fees. Schwab may also provide us with other benefits, such as occasional business entertainment of our personnel.

Our Interest in Schwab's Services

The availability of these services from Schwab benefits us because we do not have to produce or purchase them. We don't have to pay for Schwab's services so long as our clients collectively keep a total of at least $10 million of their assets in accounts at Schwab. Beyond that, these services are not contingent upon us committing any specific amount of business to Schwab in trading commissions or assets in custody. The $10 million minimum may give us an incentive to recommend that you maintain your account with Schwab, based on our interest in receiving Schwab's services that benefit our business rather than based on your interest in receiving the best value in custody services and the most favorable execution of your transactions. This is a potential conflict of interest. We believe, however, that our selection of Schwab as custodian and broker is in the best interests of our clients. Our selection is primarily supported by the scope, quality, and price of Schwab's services (see "How We Select Brokers/Custodians") and not Schwab's services that benefit only us. We have over $100 million in client assets under management, and we do not believe that recommending our clients to collectively maintain at least $10 million of those assets at Schwab in order to avoid paying Schwab quarterly service fees presents a material conflict of interest. At this time, AFA has more than $215,000,000 custodied at Charles Schwab.

Item 13 - REVIEW OF ACCOUNTS

- A. If you are participating in the Asset Management Services you will be invited to participate in at least an annual review. You may request more frequent reviews and may set thresholds for triggering events that would cause a review to take place. Your Advisory Representative will monitor for changes or shifts in the economy, changes to the management and structure of a mutual fund or company in which your assets are invested, and market shifts and corrections.

Additionally, all managed accounts are reviewed on a weekly basis.

If you are participating in Financial, Retirement and College Planning Services you will not receive regular reviews. American Financial recommends you have at least an annual review and update to any plans. However, the time and frequency of the reviews is solely your decision. Other than the initial plan or analysis, there will be no other reports issued.

Reviews are conducted by:

William Metes, CFA (Chartered Financial Analyst)

Leslie Kelly, CFP®

Matthew Boyce, CFP®

Mark Bras, CFP®

- B. You are advised that you must notify your Advisory Representative promptly of any changes to your financial goals, objectives or financial situation as such changes may require him review the portfolio allocation and make recommendations for changes.
- C. You will be provided statements at least quarterly direct from the account custodian. Additionally, you will receive confirmations of all transactions occurring direct from the account custodian. Additionally, American Financial will provide you with a consolidated report of your managed account on a quarterly basis. You should compare the report with statements received direct from the account custodian. Should there be any discrepancy the account custodian's report will prevail.

Item 14 - CLIENT REFERRALS AND OTHER COMPENSATION

- A. Product vendors recommended by American Financial may provide monetary and non-monetary assistance with client events, provide educational tools and resources. American Financial does not select products as a result of any monetary or non-monetary assistance. The selection of product is first and foremost. American Financial's due diligence of a product does not take into consideration any assistance it may receive. Therefore, this is not considered a conflict of interest but a benefit for you and American Financial.

We receive an economic benefit from Schwab in the form of the support products and services it makes available to us and other independent investment advisors whose clients maintain their accounts at Schwab. These products and services, how they benefit us, and the related conflicts of interest are described above (see Item 12 – Brokerage Practices). The availability to us of Schwab's products and services is not based on us giving particular investment advice, such as buying particular securities for our clients.
