Advisory Business

Firm Description

Capital Research & Consulting, LLC was founded in 1991 as a sole proprietor and then changed to a limited liability company in 1997.

Capital Research & Consulting, LLC provides personalized confidential investment advisory services to individuals, pension and profit sharing plans organized under the Employment Retirement Security Act ("ERISA") and to non ERISA Plans. Advice is provided through consultation with the client and to assist with mutual fund selection consistent with the client's investment objectives considering relative degrees of risk and return. In seeking this objective, Capital Research & Consulting, LLC generally advises clients in mutual funds of bonds, equities and money market funds.

Capital Research & Consulting, LLC is a fee-only financial consulting and investment management firm. The firm does not sell annuities, insurance, stocks, bonds, mutual funds, limited partnerships, or other commissioned products. The principals of Capital Research & Consulting, LLC are also the principals of an affiliated firm, Capital Research Brokerage Services, LLC, a licensed broker/dealer. The principals may in that capacity effect security transactions on behalf of advisory clients who have elected to use Capital Research Brokerage Services, LLC as their broker/dealer for which such persons will receive commissions, and or 12b-1 fees. In these cases, no investment advisory fee is charged to the client.

Investment advice is provided, with the client making the final decision on investment selection. Capital Research & Consulting, LLC does not act as a custodian of client assets. The client or the plan administrator always maintains asset control.

Quarterly investment analysis reports are prepared for client's to provide reminders of the specific courses of action that need to be taken. In some instances, a client will request that on a bi-annual report be prepared; however, this will be detailed in the Investment Advisory Contract the firm provides to the client.

Other professionals (e.g., lawyers, accountants, insurance agents, etc.) are engaged directly by the client on an as-needed basis. Conflicts of interest will be disclosed to the client in the unlikely event they should occur.

Principal Owners

Steven W Arnold is a 50% stockholder. John P Odell is a 50% stockholder.

Types of Advisory Services

Capital Research & Consulting, LLC provides investment management and consulting services by furnishing investment advice through consultations and issuing analysis reports about securities through charts, graphs, or other devices which the client may use to evaluate securities.

As of December 31, 2011, Capital Research & Consulting, LLC manages approximately $2,208,152,125.00 in assets for approximately 29 client plans. Assets are managed on a non-discretionary basis or on a discretionary basis in accordance with the Advisory Contract established with the client.

Tailored Relationships

The goals and objectives for each client are documented in an Investment Policy Statement. Investment Policy Statements are created to reflect the stated goals and objective for each client. Clients may impose restrictions on investing in certain securities or types of securities. In addition, the Advisory Contract will stipulate the functions Capital Research & Consulting will perform in their relationship with the client.

Agreements may not be assigned without client consent.

Types of Agreements

The following agreements define the typical client relationships.

Advisory Contract

Most clients choose to have Capital Research & Consulting, LLC provide investment consulting advice. All aspects of the client's current plan are reviewed. Realistic and measurable goals are set and objectives to reach those goals are defined in the Investment Policy Statement. As goals and objectives change over time, suggestions are made and implemented on an ongoing basis.

The scope of work and fee for an Advisory Service Agreement is provided to the client in writing prior to the start of the relationship. An Advisory Service Agreement includes investment management (including performance reporting), as well as assisting in the implementation of recommendations within each area with the plan administrator and/or custodian.

The annual Advisory Service Agreement fee is based on a percentage of the investable assets and will be billed on a fixed rate as negotiated. Said fees will be billed quarterly in advance or quarterly in arrears as determined by client agreement. The term "quarter" refers either to a calendar quarter.

Although the Advisory Service Agreement is an ongoing agreement and constant adjustments are required, the length of service to the client is at the client's discretion. The client or the investment manager may terminate an Agreement by providing 30 days written notice to the other party. In the event a client terminates prior to the end of the quarter, the unearned portion of the fee would be reimbursed to the client on a pro rata basis, or in the case where fees are paid in arrears, the client will be billed on a pro rata basis for the portion of the quarter completed.

Current fee charged, typically for service is on an institutional basis of 0.25% to 0.35% annually or as otherwise negotiated.

Retainer Agreement

In some circumstances, a Retainer Agreement is executed in lieu of an Advisory Contract Agreement when it is more appropriate to work on a fixed-fee basis. The fee for a Retainer Agreement would be negotiated depending on the scope of the work.

Asset Management

Assets are invested primarily in no-load or load waived mutual funds usually through fund companies and plan administrators. Fund companies charge each fund shareholder an investment management fee that is disclosed in the fund prospectus.

Stocks and bonds may be purchased or sold through a brokerage account when appropriate and would not be available through Capital Research & Consulting, LLC. The brokerage firm charges a fee for stock and bond trades. Capital Research & Consulting, LLC does not receive any compensation, in any form, from fund companies.

Investments included are mutual funds shares and U. S. government securities.

Initial public offerings (IPOs) are not available through Capital Research & Consulting, LLC.

Termination of Agreement

A Client may terminate any of the aforementioned agreements at any time by providing Capital Research & Consulting, LLC with 30 days written notice and paying the rate for the time spent on the investment advisory engagement prior to notification of termination. If the client made an advance payment, Capital Research & Consulting, LLC will refund any unearned portion of the advance payment.

Capital Research & Consulting, LLC may terminate any of the aforementioned agreements by providing 30 days written notice to the client. If the client made an advance payment, Capital Research & Consulting, LLC will refund any unearned portion of the advance payment.

Fees and Compensation

Description

Capital Research & Consulting, LLC bases its fees on a percentage of assets under management or on a flat fee negotiated basis.

Retainer Agreements are priced based on the complexity of work.

Fees are Negotiable.

Fee Billing

Investment management fees are billed quarterly, in advance or in arrears, meaning that we invoice you before or after the three-month billing period has begun or ended. Payment in full is expected upon invoice presentation. If agreed, management fees may be deducted from commissions and/or 12b-1 fees earned through Capital Research Brokerage Services, LLC.

Other Fees

Custodians may charge transaction fees on purchases or sales of certain mutual funds and exchange-traded funds. These transaction charges are usually small and incidental to the purchase or sale of a security. The selection of the security is more important than the nominal fee that the custodian charges to buy or sell the security.

Expense Ratios

Mutual funds generally charge a management fee for their services as investment managers. The management fee is called an expense ratio. For example, an expense ratio of 0.50 means that the mutual fund company charges 0.5% for their services. These fees are in addition to the fees paid by you to Capital Research & Consulting, LLC.

Performance figures quoted by mutual fund companies in various publications are after their fees have been deducted.

Past Due Accounts and Termination of Agreement

Capital Research & Consulting, LLC reserves the right to stop work on any account that is more than 60 days overdue. In addition, Capital Research & Consulting, LLC reserves the right to terminate any financial planning engagement where a client has willfully concealed or has refused to provide pertinent information about financial situations when necessary and appropriate, in Capital Research & Consulting, LLC's judgment, to providing proper financial advice. Any unused portion of fees collected in advance will be refunded within 30 days.

Performance-Based Fees

Sharing of Capital Gains

Fees are not based on a share of the capital gains or capital appreciation of managed securities.

Capital Research & Consulting, LLC does not use a performance-based fee structure because of the potential conflict of interest. Performance-based compensation may create an incentive for the adviser to recommend an investment that may carry a higher degree of risk to the client.

Types of Clients

Description

Capital Research & Consulting, LLC generally provides investment advice to individuals and/or pension and profit sharing plans.

Client relationships vary in scope and length of service.

Account Minimums

Capital Research & Consulting, LLC does not require a minimum amount of assets to service an account.

Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Methods of Analysis

Security analysis methods may include charting, fundamental analysis, technical analysis, and cyclical analysis.

The main sources of information include financial newspapers and magazines, inspections of corporate activities, research materials prepared by others, corporate rating services, timing services, annual reports, prospectuses, filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission, and company press releases.

The other sources of information that Capital Research & Consulting, LLC uses includes Morningstar Principia mutual fund information, Morningstar Principia stock information, and the World Wide Web.

Investment Strategies

The primary investment strategy used on client accounts is strategic asset allocation utilizing a core and satellite approach. This means that we use passively-managed index and exchange-traded funds as the core investments, and then add actively-managed funds where there are greater opportunities to make a difference. Portfolios are globally diversified to control the risk associated with traditional markets.

The investment strategy for a specific client is based upon the objectives stated by their Investment Policy Statement. The client may change these objectives at any time.

Risk of Loss

All investment programs have certain risks that are borne by the investor. Our investment approach constantly keeps the risk of loss in mind. Investors face the following investment risks:

- Interest-rate Risk: Fluctuations in interest rates may cause investment prices to fluctuate. For example, when interest rates rise, yields on existing bonds become less attractive, causing their market values to decline.
- Market Risk: The price of a security, bond, or mutual fund may drop in reaction to tangible and intangible events and conditions. This type of risk is caused by external factors independent of a security's particular underlying circumstances. For example, political, economic and social conditions may trigger market events.
- Inflation Risk: When any type of inflation is present, a dollar today will not buy as much as a dollar next year, because purchasing power is eroding at the rate of inflation.
- Currency Risk: Overseas investments are subject to fluctuations in the value of the dollar against the currency of the investment's originating country. This is also referred to as exchange rate risk.
- Reinvestment Risk: This is the risk that future proceeds from investments may have to be reinvested at a potentially lower rate of return (i.e. interest rate). This primarily relates to fixed income securities.
- Business Risk: These risks are associated with a particular industry or a particular company within an industry. For example, oil-drilling companies depend on finding oil and then refining it, a lengthy process, before they can generate a profit. They carry a higher risk of profitability than an electric company, which generates its income from a steady stream of customers who buy electricity no matter what the economic environment is like.
- Liquidity Risk: Liquidity is the ability to readily convert an investment into cash. Generally, assets are more liquid if many traders are interested in a standardized product. For example, Treasury Bills are highly liquid, while real estate properties are not.
- Financial Risk: Excessive borrowing to finance a business' operations increases the risk of profitability, because the company must meet the terms of its obligations in good times and bad. During periods of financial stress, the inability to meet loan obligations may result in bankruptcy and/or a declining market value.

Disciplinary Information

Legal and Disciplinary

The firm and its employees have not been involved in legal or disciplinary events related to past or present investment clients.

Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Financial Industry Activities

Capital Research & Consulting, LLC is registered as a licensed investment advisor.

Affiliations

Capital Research & Consulting, LLC has arrangements that are material to its advisory or its clients with an affiliated firm that is a broker-dealer, Capital Research Brokerage Services, LLC.

Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Code of Ethics

The employees of Capital Research & Consulting, LLC have committed to a Code of Ethics that is available for review by clients and prospective clients upon request. The firm will provide a copy of the Code of Ethics to any client or prospective client upon request.

Participation or Interest in Client Transactions

Capital Research & Consulting, LLC and its employees may buy or sell securities that are also held by clients. Employees may not trade their own securities ahead of client trades. Employees comply with the provisions of the Capital Research & Consulting, LLC Policies and Procedures Manual.

Personal Trading

The Chief Compliance Officer of Capital Research & Consulting, LLC is John P. Odell. He reviews all employee trades each quarter. His trades are reviewed by Steven W. Arnold. The personal trading reviews ensure that the personal trading of employees does not affect the markets, and that clients of the firm receive preferential treatment. Since most employee trades are small mutual fund trades or exchange-traded fund trades, the trades do not affect the securities markets.

Brokerage Practices

Selecting Brokerage Firms

Capital Research & Consulting, LLC does not have any affiliation with product sales firms. Specific custodian recommendations are made to Clients based on their need for such services. Capital Research & Consulting, LLC recommends custodians based on the proven integrity and financial responsibility of the firm and the best execution of orders at reasonable commission rates.

Capital Research & Consulting, LLC does not receive fees or commissions from any of these arrangements.

Best Execution

Capital Research & Consulting, LLC is not involved in the execution of trades. Trading fees are charged by the broker dealer and Capital Research & Consulting, LLC does not receive any portion of the trading fees.

Soft Dollars

Capital Research & Consulting, LLC as a matter of policy and practice does not have any formal or informal arrangements to utilize research related products and other services obtained from broker-dealers, or third parties on a soft dollar commission basis.

Order Aggregation

Most trades are mutual funds or exchange-traded funds where trade aggregation does not garner any client benefit.

Review of Accounts

Periodic Reviews

Account reviews are performed quarterly by the principal of Capital Research & Consulting, LLC; Steven W Arnold. Account reviews are performed more frequently when market conditions dictate.

Review Triggers

Other conditions that may trigger a review such as new investment information or changes in a client's own situation.

Regular Reports

Account reviewers are members of the firm's Investment Committee. They are instructed to consider the client's current security positions and the likelihood that the performance of each security will contribute to the investment objectives of the client.

Clients receive periodic communications on at least an annual basis. Advisory Contract Agreement clients and Retainer Agreement clients receive written quarterly updates.

- The written updates may include a review and analysis of risk levels and returns of each Fund;
- Quarterly comparability data showing how each Fund's performance compared with other alternative investments of similar type for the previous quarter;
- Quarterly review of management of each fund including any changes in investment managers, fees, operation, etc.;
- Quarterly analysis as to how the Funds are meeting the requirements of the investment guidelines;

Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Incoming Referrals

Capital Research & Consulting, LLC has been fortunate to receive many client referrals over the years. The referrals came from current clients, estate planning attorneys, accountants, employees, personal friends of employees and other similar sources. The firm does not compensate referring parties for these referrals.

Referrals Out

Capital Research & Consulting, LLC does not accept referral fees or any form of remuneration from other professionals when a prospect or client is referred to them.

Solicitor Agreements

Capital Research & Consulting, LLC has registered solicitors who make introductions and provide information and material about the advisory services and programs that the firm offers. A registered solicitor of Capital Research & Consulting will receive an agreed upon fee or percentage of the advisory fee collected. The compensation for these services is paid completely by the firm from the investment advisory fees earned, which are not increased or passed along to the client in anyway.

Other Compensation

Not applicable

Custody

Account Statements

All assets are held at qualified custodians; which means the custodians provide account statements directly to clients or the plan administrators at their address of record at least quarterly.

Performance Reports

Clients are urged to compare the account statements received directly from their custodians to the performance report statements provided by Capital Research & Consulting, LLC.

Net Worth Statements

Clients are provided with account asset statements that are generated quarterly. Account asset statements contain account balances provided by the client or custodian. These statements are used for long-term financial planning where the exact values of assets are not material to the financial planning tasks.

Investment Discretion

Discretionary Authority for Trading

Capital Research & Consulting, LLC accepts discretionary authority to manage securities accounts on behalf of clients if that is stipulated in the Advisory Contract with the client. Capital Research & Consulting, LLC has the authority to determine, without obtaining specific client consent, the securities to be bought or sold, and the amount of the securities to be bought or sold. However, Capital Research & Consulting, LLC consults with the client prior to each trade to obtain concurrence if a blanket trading authorization has not been given.

The client approves the custodian to be used and the commission rates paid to the broker if applicable. Capital Research & Consulting, LLC does not receive any portion of the transaction fees or commissions paid by the client.

Discretionary trading authority facilitates placing trades in your accounts on your behalf so that we may promptly implement the investment policy that you have approved in writing.

Voting Client Securities

Proxy Votes

Capital Research & Consulting, LLC does not vote proxies on securities. Clients are expected to vote their own proxies.

When assistance on voting proxies is requested, Capital Research & Consulting, LLC will provide recommendations to the Client. If a conflict of interest exists, it will be disclosed to the Client.

Financial Information

Financial Condition

Capital Research & Consulting, LLC does not have any financial impairment that will preclude the firm from meeting contractual commitments to clients.

A balance sheet is not required to be provided because Capital Research & Consulting, LLC does not serve as a custodian for client funds or securities, and does not require prepayment of fees of more than $1,200 per client, and six months or more in advance.

Business Continuity Plan

General

Capital Research & Consulting, LLC has a Business Continuity Plan in place that provides detailed steps to mitigate and recover from the loss of office space, communications, services or key people.

Disasters

The Business Continuity Plan covers natural disasters such as snow storms, hurricanes, tornados, and flooding. The Plan covers man-made disasters such as loss of electrical power, loss of water pressure, fire, bomb threat, nuclear emergency, chemical event, biological event, T-1 communications line outage, Internet outage, railway accident and aircraft accident. Electronic files are backed up daily and archived offsite.

Alternate Offices

Alternate offices are identified to support ongoing operations in the event the main office is unavailable. It is our intention to contact all clients within five days of a disaster that dictates moving our office to an alternate location.

Loss of Key Personnel

In the event of a serious death or disability of one of Capital Research & Consulting, LLC's principals, the remaining principal will assume all responsibilities.

Information Security Program

Information Security

Capital Research & Consulting, LLC maintains an information security program to reduce the risk that your personal and confidential information may be breached.

Privacy Notice

Capital Research & Consulting, LLC is committed to maintaining the confidentiality, integrity and security of the personal information that is entrusted to us.

The categories of nonpublic information that we collect from you may include information about your personal finances, information about your health to the extent that it is needed for the financial planning process, information about transactions between you and third parties, and information from consumer reporting agencies, e.g., credit reports.
