Item 4 – Advisory Business

Harding Advisory LLC was founded in July 2006 by Wing Chau, who is the only principal owner. Harding Advisory acts as primary collateral manager for a number of collateralized debt obligations (each, a “CDO”). In addition, Harding Advisory’s wholly-owned subsidiary, High Perch LLC (“High Perch”), acts as a collateral manager of certain other CDOs. Pursuant to a sub-advisory agreement, Harding Advisory acts as sub-adviser to the High Perch-managed CDOs. As such, Harding may have broad managerial powers, including, but not limited to, the ability to acquire and dispose of securities, consent to proposed changes in the documents governing such securities, and exercise rights or remedies on behalf of the CDO vehicle. In some cases, Harding Advisory will have the ability to exercise such managerial powers without the client’s specific consent.

As primary collateral manager or as collateral manager via sub-advisory agreements with High Perch, Harding Advisory supervises and directs the investment and reinvestment of collateral debt securities, sale of collateral debt securities and the investment of funds on deposit in the CDOs.

In addition, Harding Advisory may, pursuant to written agreements, perform certain other services on behalf of the CDOs. Such other services may include:

1. Monitoring the collateral and assisting the CDO and/or the CDO trustee and collateral administrator in the preparation of all reports and other data that the CDO (or the trustee or the collateral administrator on its behalf) is required to prepare and deliver under the relevant indenture;
2. Advising the CDO regarding the disposition and tender of collateral debt securities, equity securities and eligible investments;
3. Advising the CDO in connection with an optional redemption or tax redemption;
4. Advising the CDO regarding the exercise or waiver of remedies in respect of defaulted securities and the exercise of voting rights with respect to collateral debt securities and equity securities;
5. Assisting the CDO in determining the fair market value of collateral debt securities in accordance with the relevant indenture and consulting with the CDO regarding approved dealers and approved pricing services used to make such determination; and
6. Negotiating and entering into on behalf of the CDO, any replacement hedge agreement.

A more complete description of High Perch's and Harding Advisory's activities as collateral manager is available in the prospectus issued in connection with each offering of CDO securities.

As of December 31, 2011, Harding Advisory's assets under management totaled $1,839,766,796 on a discretionary basis across 11 accounts. Harding Advisory does not manage any assets on a non-discretionary basis.

Item 5 – Fees and Compensation

As compensation for the performance of its primary collateral management obligations under the relevant agreements, Harding Advisory will be entitled, to the extent of the funds available for such purpose in accordance with the priority of payments, to receive a senior management fee for each CDO generally ranging from 0.04% to 0.25% per annum of the periodic performing asset amounts on each distribution date, as well as a subordinate management fee generally ranging from 0.02% to 0.25% per annum of the periodic performing asset amounts on each distribution date.

As compensation for the performance of its obligations under the relevant collateral management agreement, High Perch (as named collateral manager for certain CDOs) will be entitled, to the extent of the funds available for such purpose in accordance with the priority of payments, to receive senior and/or subordinate management fees for each CDO generally ranging from 0.05% to 0.425% per annum of the quarterly asset amount on each quarterly distribution date.

High Perch will in turn compensate Harding Advisory for its services as sub-adviser from this fee. Harding Advisory will receive fees similar to those paid to High Perch for CDOs Harding manages directly (e.g. senior and/or subordinate management fees based on period assets under management) as described above. In addition, in certain limited situations, High Perch shall be entitled to receive a management make-whole fee, which is an amount payable on the applicable date of redemption. Similarly, in the case of certain CDOs, Harding Advisory is also paid fees which are performance-based. The calculation and payment of make-whole fees and CDO performance compensation is described in complete detail in the applicable CDO offering documents. Prospective investors are requested to refer to such for complete information regarding management make-whole fees and performance compensation for CDOs.

GENERAL INFORMATION ON FEES

Negotiability of Fees: In certain circumstances, Harding Advisory's fees may be negotiable.

Fee Calculation: The fee is not charged on the basis of a share of capital gains upon or capital appreciation of the funds or any portion of the funds of an advisory client (Section 205(a)(1) of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended).

Termination of Advisory Relationship: An advisory agreement may be canceled at any time, by either party, for any reason upon receipt of 90 days prior written notice. Upon termination of any account, any unpaid earned fees will be due and payable. Investors in each fund are requested to refer to the applicable private placement memorandum and offering documents of the fund for complete information on withdrawals and applicable investment “lock-up” periods.

Mutual Fund Fees and Expenses: All fees paid to Harding Advisory for investment advisory services are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by mutual funds to their shareholders.

These fees and expenses are described in each fund’s prospectus. These fees will generally include a management fee, other fund expenses, and a possible distribution fee. A client could invest in a mutual fund directly, without the services of Harding Advisory. In that case, the client would not receive the services provided by Harding Advisory which are designed, among other things, to assist the client in determining which mutual fund or funds are most appropriate to each client’s financial condition and objectives. Accordingly, the client should review both the fees charged by the funds and the fees charged by Harding Advisory to fully understand the total amount of fees to be paid by the client and to thereby evaluate the advisory services being provided.

Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

The calculation and payment of the performance compensation applicable to a particular interest in a CDO is described in detail in the respective offering documents for such interest.

The performance compensation may create an incentive for Harding Advisory to cause the CDOs to make investments which may be riskier or more speculative than those which would be made under a different fee arrangement. The Investment Advisers Act of 1940 and certain state laws restrict the payment of performance-based fees to investment advisers registered under such act.

However, SEC Rule 205-3 permits the payment of performance-based compensation to registered investment advisers provided that the clients (including investors in investment vehicles such as the CDOs) meet certain financial qualifications. The offerings of interests in the CDOs are structured to comply with this rule and accordingly the CDOs will only accept subscriptions from investors who meet the qualifications set forth in Rule 205-3. All investors are requested to refer to the applicable documents for a full description of the management fees and Performance Compensation to be charged.

Item 7 – Types of Clients

Harding Advisory provides portfolio management services to corporations and business entities other than (i) individuals, (ii) banks or thrift institutions, (iii) investment companies, (iv) pension and profit sharing plans, and (v) trusts, estates or charitable organizations.

Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Harding Advisory follows the below Investment Philosophy:

Investment Objectives

1. Invest in high-quality assets with stable returns and superior capital-preservation profiles
2. Maximize returns and minimize losses through rigorous upfront credit and structural analysis, as well as ongoing monitoring of asset quality and performance

Approach to Investing

1. Employ top/down economic analysis to determine sector allocation
2. Perform thorough bottom/up credit and structural analysis to identify individual investments
3. Complete in-depth credit review to determine the suitability of each potential transaction in the context of the CDO
4. Actively monitor investment performance

Harding Advisory utilizes the below Investment Process:

1. Leverage substantial buy-side and sell-side experience to discern those market opportunities for capturing meaningful, value-added returns
2. Devise collaborative, methodical and disciplined research processes to identify potential credit and structural issues in proposed investments
3. Develop robust surveillance systems to actively monitor performance and compliance of the assets in the CDO
4. Invest in industry-wide-accepted technologies to enable Harding Advisory to appropriately assess the risk/reward profile of investments and evaluate the impact on the CDO
5. Enhance already strong broker-dealer relationships to ensure favorable allocations in the new-issue process and solid execution of secondary-trading activities

Investors and prospective investors in the CDOs are requested to refer to the applicable offering documents for complete information on types of investments and investment strategies that are utilized by Harding Advisory.

Investing in securities involves risk of loss that clients should be prepared to bear. Risk factors include, but are not limited to:

1. Limited Liquidity
2. Fees Reduce Proceeds Available for Purchase of Collateral Securities
3. Notes are Limited-Recourse Obligations
4. Payments in Respect of the Preference Shares
5. Investment in Preference Shares
6. Volatility of the Preference Shares
7. Subordination of Each Class of Subordinate Notes
8. Ongoing Commitments
9. Nature of Collateral
10. Collateral Ramp-Up Risk
11. Collateral Credit Risk
12. Collateral Consisting of CDO Securities
13. Default and Concentration Risk
14. Disposal Risk
15. Auction Call Redemption
16. Early Redemption of the Notes
17. Certain Conflicts of Interest
18. ERISA Considerations
19. Average Life of the Notes
20. Application of Principal Proceeds

21. Relation to Prior Investment Results
22. Investment Advisor Risk
23. Mandatory Repayment of the Notes
24. Interest Rate Risk
25. Reinvestment Risk
26. Credit Ratings
27. Taxation
28. Synthetic Securities
29. Derivative Agreements and Close Out Netting
30. Derivative Counterparty Default

Investors and prospective investors in the CDOs should carefully consider the above risks, as well as others, prior to investment. A more complete description of these risks is available in the prospectus issued in connection with each offering of CDO securities.

Item 9 – Disciplinary Information

Registered investment advisers are required to disclose all material facts regarding any legal or disciplinary events that would be material to your evaluation of Harding Advisory or the integrity Harding Advisory's management.

There was a lawsuit filed against Harding Advisory by Loreley Financing on November 1, 2011, alleging securities fraud. Harding intends to vigorously defend itself against these allegations.

Item 10 – Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Wing Chau, Managing Member of Harding Advisory, is also an executive officer of High Perch, an SEC-registered adviser that is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Harding Advisory. Wing Chau spends approximately 95% of his time with Harding Advisory and 5% with High Perch.

Item 11 – Code of Ethics

Harding Advisory has adopted a Code of Ethics that sets forth high ethical standards of business conduct that Harding Advisory requires of its employees, including compliance with applicable federal securities laws.

Harding Advisory's Code of Ethics also includes policies and procedures for the review of periodic securities transactions reports as well as initial and annual securities holdings reports that must be submitted by Harding Advisory's covered persons. Among other things, Harding Advisory's Code of Ethics also requires the prior approval of any acquisition of securities in a limited offering (e.g. private placement) or an initial public offering.

Harding Advisory's Code of Ethics also includes oversight, enforcement and recordkeeping provisions.

A copy of Harding Advisory's Code of Ethics is available to Harding Advisory's advisory clients upon request to the Chief Compliance Officer at Harding Advisory.

Item 12 – Brokerage Practices

Harding Advisory has been provided in the primary collateral management agreements and the sub-advisory agreements with High Perch for CDOs the authority to determine without obtaining client consent the broker or dealer to be used when buying or selling securities and the commission rates to be paid (or markups and markdowns in the case of certain fixed income securities). There are no limitations on this authority.

In selecting brokers, Harding Advisory considers the availability of the product being sought, the price of the security and the transaction costs associated with the purchase or sale of the product.

Harding Advisory will seek to obtain, on an arm's length basis, the best execution for all orders placed with respect to the CDOs, considering all circumstances that are relevant in its reasonable determination, including price (including any applicable dealer spread or commission), size of order and difficulty of execution, operational facilities of the firm involved and such firm's risk in positioning a block of securities.

Subject to the objective of obtaining the best execution, Harding Advisory may, in the allocation of business on behalf of the CDOs, take into consideration research and other brokerage services furnished to Harding Advisory by brokers and dealers that are not affiliates of either Harding Advisory or High Perch. However, while Harding Advisory is granted the authority in the various CDO documents to trade for soft dollars, it has determined that it will not utilize such.

Item 13 – Review of Accounts

The indenture, collateral management agreement and collateral administration agreement relating to each CDO advised or sub-advised by Harding Advisory set forth, in detail, investment criteria, reporting requirements and scope of duties with respect to the management of the CDO. Each of Harding Advisory and the listed Collateral Manager for the sub-advised CDOs, High Perch, has, where required, engaged a trustee, a collateral administrator and a nationally recognized accounting firm for each CDO.

The CDO documents provide that either the trustee, the administrator or Harding Advisory (in each case, as primary or sub-advisor) is responsible for creating and updating a database to monitor the characteristics of the CDO's assets, preparing monthly reports as specified in the indenture, executing purchases and sales of the CDO's assets (subject to their determination that the eligibility criteria are satisfied), assisting the accounting firm in its periodic review of the CDO and notifying Harding Advisory of any information that would affect the CDO (e.g. legal notices). All CDO assets are held by the trustee for the benefit of the CDO's debt- and equity-holders and all payments to and disbursements from the CDO are executed by the trustee pursuant to the indenture. Upon closing, upon "ramp-up completion" and periodically thereafter (generally in connection with each CDO payment date), the accounting firm performs agreed-upon procedures verifying certain characteristics of the CDO assets and payments to be made by the CDO. Finally, each rating agency that provides a rating for a CDO security at closing is generally asked to confirm such rating at "ramp-up completion" and periodically thereafter.

The employees of Harding Advisory, supervised by Wing Chau, review all reports issued by the trustee for each CDO on a regular basis and at least monthly. The reports issued by the trustee/collateral administrator are generally accessible to CDO investors via the trustee's website. Harding Advisory performs surveillance (e.g. tracking of asset performance) on all the CDO's assets on at least a monthly basis. In addition, Harding Advisory is required to provide periodic certification as to compliance by the CDO with certain matters in the indenture. Additional reviews may be triggered by material changes in the market or the economic environment.

Item 14 – Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Harding Advisory may from time to time utilize third-party placement agents who receive compensation, which may be borne either by Harding Advisory or by the investor, for referring investors to the other investment vehicles managed or sub-managed by Harding Advisory.

Item 15 – Custody

Harding Advisory does not have custody of client funds or securities. Clients should receive at least quarterly statements from each CDO's trustee, a qualified custodian, who hold and maintain the client's investment assets.

Item 16 – Investment Discretion

Harding Advisory has been provided in the primary collateral management agreements and the sub-advisory agreements with High Perch for CDOs the authority to determine without obtaining client consent the securities to be bought or sold and the amount of securities to be bought or sold. There are no limitations on this authority.

The collateral management agreements and/or sub-advisory agreements provide (or are expected to provide) that Harding Advisory may aggregate sales and purchase orders of securities placed with respect to the CDOs with similar orders being made simultaneously for other accounts managed by Harding Advisory if Harding Advisory in its sole discretion determines such aggregation shall (i) result in an overall economic benefit to the Issuer of the CDOs or (ii) not have a materially adverse effect on the CDO, in each case taking into consideration the advantageous selling or purchase price, brokerage commission and other expenses. If a sale or purchase of a collateral debt security, eligible investment or equity security (in accordance with the terms of the relevant indenture) occurs as part of any aggregate sale or purchase order, the objecting of Harding Advisory shall be to allocate the executions among the relevant accounts in an equitable manner (taking into account constraints imposed by the eligibility criteria in the indenture).

Item 17 – Voting Client Securities

Harding Advisory votes proxies in the interest of maximizing value for its clients. To that end, Harding Advisory endeavors to vote proxies in the manner that it determines in good faith will be the most likely to cause investments to increase the most or decline the least in value.

Consideration is given to both the short and long-term implications of the proposal to be voted on when considering the optimal vote.

Harding Advisory is responsible for voting the proxies in the best interest of its clients and submitting the proxies promptly and properly. Our complete proxy voting policy and procedures are available for investors to review upon written request to Harding Advisory's Chief Compliance Officer.

Item 18 – Financial Information

Registered investment advisers are required in this Item to provide you with certain financial information or disclosures about Harding Advisory's financial condition. Harding Advisory has no financial commitment that impairs its ability to meet contractual and fiduciary commitments to clients, and has not been the subject of a bankruptcy proceeding.
