Item 3- Disciplinary Information

Registered investment advisers are required to disclose all material facts regarding any legal or disciplinary events that would be material to your evaluation of each supervised person providing investment advice. No information is applicable to this Item.

Item 4- Other Business Activities

Nicholas Coccimiglio provides financial planning primarily for settlement recipients and trial lawyers. His plans include financial products that, when implemented, generate his compensation. He receives asset management fees as well as commissions derived from life insurance, annuities, and other fixed income financial vehicles. From time to time, he may be asked to facilitate the procurement of previously owned income streams or to manage the cooperative effort of multiple entities to accomplish his client's objective. In these scenarios, he may be compensated in the form of a facilitation fee that is calculated as a percentage of the invested assets or the difference between the wholesale cost of the investments and the fair and reasonable retail price paid by his clients.

Barden Capital is not compensated for any of the above activities, but Barden Capital may be hired as an investment advisor by the clients described above.

Item 5- Additional Compensation

No information is applicable to this Item.

Item 6 - Supervision

Nicholas Coccimiglio is supervised by Chief Compliance Officer Ryan Barden. Ryan Barden must pre-approve all advertisements used by Nicholas Coccimiglio. Additionally, Ryan Barden is responsible for ensuring that Nicholas Coccimiglio compiles and adheres to all financial service agreements and suitability information for his clients. Ryan Barden is also responsible for administering the firm's Code of Ethics, which is intended to prevent insider trading and monitor Nicholas Coccimiglio's personal securities transactions.

You may contact Ryan Barden by calling 512-366-8081 or emailing him at info@bardencapital.com.
