The CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™, CFP® and federally registered CFP marks are professional certification marks granted in the United States by Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards, Inc. (“CFP Board”).

The CFP® certification is a voluntary certification; no federal or state law or regulation requires financial planners to hold CFP® certification. It is recognized in the United States and a number of other countries for its high standard of professional education, stringent code of conduct and standards of practice and ethical requirements that govern professional engagements with clients.

To attain the right to use the CFP® marks, an individual must satisfactorily fulfill the following requirements: Complete an advanced college-level course of study addressing the financial planning subject areas that CFP Board’s studies have determined as necessary for the competent and professional delivery of financial planning services, and attain a Bachelor’s Degree from a regionally accredited United States college or university (or its equivalent from a foreign university, pass the comprehensive CFP® Certification Examination, Complete at least three years of full-time financial planning-related experience and agree to be bound by CFP Board’s Standards of Professional Conduct.

Individuals who become certified must complete 30 hours of continuing education hours every two years, including two hours on the Code of Ethics and other parts of the Standards of Professional Conduct, to maintain competence and keep up with developments in the financial industry and renew an agreement to be bound by the Standards of Professional Conduct. The Standards prominently require that CFP® professionals provide financial planning services at a fiduciary standard of care. This means CFP® professionals must provide financial planning services in the best interests of their clients.

Item 3. Disciplinary Information¹

If there are legal or disciplinary events material to your evaluation of Lynda Elley, we are required to disclose all material facts regarding those events.

We have nothing to disclose in regards to Item 3.

Item 4. Other Business Activities

- A. If Lynda Elley is actively engaged in any investment-related business or occupation, including if Lynda Elley is registered, or has an application pending to register, as a broker-dealer, registered representative of a broker-dealer, futures commission merchant (“FCM”), commodity pool operator (“CPO”), commodity trading advisor (“CTA”), or an associated person of an FCM, CPO, or CTA, we are required to disclose this fact and describe the business relationship, if any, between the advisory business and the other

Also as a licensed insurance agent, Ms. Elley may recommend to her advisory clients a variety of insurance products, and she may offer commissionable insurance products to Advisor’s clients for which she may receive compensation.

1. If a relationship between the advisory business and Lynda Elley’s other financial industry activities creates a material conflict of interest with you, the SEC requires us to describe the nature of the conflict and generally how we address it.

We have nothing to disclose in this regard.

2. If Lynda Elley receives commissions, bonuses or other compensation based on the sale of securities or other investment products, including as a broker-dealer or registered representative, and including distribution or service (“trail”) fees from the sale of mutual funds, we have to disclose this fact. If this compensation is not cash, we are required to explain what type of compensation Lynda Elley receives. We must explain that this practice gives Lynda Elley an incentive to recommend investment products based on the compensation received, rather than on your needs.

We have nothing to disclose in this regard.

¹ Note: Our firm may, under certain circumstances, rebut the presumption that a disciplinary event is material. If an event is immaterial, we are not required to disclose it. When we review a legal or disciplinary event involving Lynda Elley to determine whether it is appropriate to rebut the presumption of materiality, we consider all of the following factors: (1) the proximity of Ms. Elley to the advisory function; (2) the nature of the infraction that led to the disciplinary event; (3) the severity of the disciplinary sanction; and (4) the time elapsed since the date of the disciplinary event. If we conclude that the materiality presumption has been overcome, we prepare and maintain a file memorandum of our determination in our records. We follow SEC rule 204-2(a)(14)(iii) and similar state rules.

- B. If Lynda Elley is actively engaged in any business or occupation for compensation not discussed in response to Item 4.A, above, and the other business activity or activities provide a substantial source of Lynda Elley's income or involve a substantial amount of Lynda Elley's time, we are required to disclose this fact and must describe the nature of that business. If the other business activities represent less than 10 percent of Lynda Elley's time and income, we may presume that they are not substantial.

We have nothing to disclose in this regard.

Item 5. Additional Compensation

If someone who is not a client provides an economic benefit to Lynda Elley for providing advisory services, we are required to generally describe the arrangement. For purposes of this Item, economic benefits include sales awards and other prizes, but do not include Lynda Elley's regular salary. Any bonus that is based, at least in part, on the number or amount of sales, client referrals, or new accounts should be considered an economic benefit, but other regular bonuses should not.

We have nothing to disclose in this regard.

Item 6. Supervision

We are required to explain how we supervise Lynda Elley, including how we monitor the advice Lynda Elley provides to you. Our firm has to provide the name, title and telephone number of the person responsible for supervising Lynda Elley's advisory activities on behalf of our firm.

Erick Newton, Chief Compliance Officer of Copperwynd Financial, LLC, supervises and monitors Ms. Elley's activities on a regular basis to ensure compliance with our firm's Code of Ethics. Please contact Mr. Newton if you have any questions about Ms. Elley's brochure supplement at (480) 348-2100.
