Certifications:

- Certified Public Accountant (CPA)

Certified Public Accountant ('CPA'): Requirements vary by state, but in general, in order to sit for the CPA exam, applicants must have a bachelor's degree with 120 semester hours. To obtain the CPA designation, applicants must pass the Uniform CPA Exam, gain relevant work experience and meet additional educational requirements. Overall, additional educational requirements usually consist of 24-30 semester hours in accounting, earned through a graduate or bachelor's degree in business. Many states also require a minimum number of one to two years accounting and/or auditing experience. A CPA license usually takes about 18 months to complete beyond the educational requirements.

No continuing professional education ("CPE") is required for CPA's during the first year of licensure. If the license was issued in an even-numbered year, 40 hours of CPE are required to renew the license the following year. Eight of the 40 hours must be in auditing and accounting subjects. After the first renewal period, the CPE requirement is 80 hours every two years. A minimum of 20 hours must be earned in each year. Sixteen of the 80 hours must be obtained in auditing and accounting subjects.

Disciplinary Information

Ms. March and Dr. Roemmich do not have any disciplinary information.

Other Business Activities

In their capacity as a registered representative of Triad Advisors, Inc., Ms. March and Mr. Roemmich receive commissions-based compensation in connection with the purchase and sale of securities, which may include 12b-1 fees. The receipt of commission-based compensation can present a conflict of interest because persons providing investment advice on behalf of our firm who are registered representatives have an incentive to effect securities transactions for the purpose of generating commissions rather than solely based on your needs.

Ms. March and Dr. Roemmich also earns commission-based compensation for selling insurance products. This practice presents a conflict of interest because persons providing investment advice on behalf of our firm who are insurance agents have an incentive to recommend insurance products to you for the purpose of generating commissions rather than solely based on your needs. However, you should be advised that insurance products recommended are designed to complement the advisory services provided, and you are under no obligation to purchase any insurance products that they recommend.

Additional Compensation

Dr. Roemmich is also a CPA and may offer you tax advice in this separate capacity. ROKA Wealth Strategists, LLC advisory services and fees are separate and in addition to tax fees charged by Dr. Roemmich. You are under no obligation, contractually or otherwise, to use Dr. Roemmich's tax advice.

Supervision

Ms. March is the Principal and Chief Compliance Officer of ROKA Wealth Strategists, LLC. Ms. March is responsible for the supervision of the RIA and its IAR's.
