Advisory Business

Firm Description

PER STIRLING CAPITAL MANAGEMENT, L.L.C. (hereafter PER STIRLING) is a Registered Investment Advisory (RIA) firm headquartered in Austin Texas and registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission. Please note that being “registered” is simply the end result of a registration process, and does not imply any specific level of skill, training or achievement.

PER STIRLING was founded in 2009. While PER STIRLING is a relatively young firm, it is led by a very experienced and proven management team. The company’s two Directors, John Per O’Sullivan and Robert Stirling Phipps, III, together average:

- Twenty-Two Years of Industry Experience
- Fifteen Years Serving as President, Director, Chief Investment Officer, or Chief Market Strategist of Registered Investment Advisory and/or Broker-Dealer (i.e. brokerage) Firms
- Fourteen Years of Experience in Managing Portfolios Together, and
- Sixteen Years Managing Separate Accounts and/or Hedge Funds

PER STIRLING has three core competencies. They include 1) the management of custom-designed “supervisory” portfolios, 2) the provision of wealth management and financial planning services, and 3) the management of a series of proprietary growth portfolios (a.k.a. “Separately Managed Account programs”), which are described in the body of this writing.

In many instances, these custom-designed “supervisory” accounts are managed to produce current income or to manage the distribution of principal. Supervisory accounts are also employed in instances when clients want the monitoring of and advice on individual securities and less-liquid securities like hedge funds and limited partnerships. In addition, custom-designed accounts are used whenever the client and their personal advisor determine that the client’s needs are best addressed through an individually-customized investment program. Quite frequently, a client’s investment program is comprised of a combination of both custom-designed portfolios and PER STIRLING-sponsored “Separately Managed Account programs” (SMAs).

PER STIRLING’S wealth management and financial planning services may include, as examples, retirement planning, cash-flow planning, estate planning, college funding, risk analysis and insurance counseling, planned giving strategies, executive & employee benefit consulting, asset protection strategies, tax planning, and wealth transfer strategies

PER STIRLING acts as a fiduciary, and is committed to always act in what it perceives to be in the best interest of its clients.

PER STIRLING provides confidential investment management and planning services to individuals, pension and profit sharing plans, trusts, estates, charitable organizations and small businesses.

PER STIRLING Capital Management is strictly a fee-only Registered Investment Advisor firm, and does not sell annuities, insurance, stocks, bonds, mutual funds, limited partnerships, or other commissioned products. Indeed, no commissions in any form are accepted and no finder's fees are accepted.

PER STIRLING does not directly or indirectly compensate for client referrals.

PER STIRLING does not act as a custodian of client assets. The client always maintains asset control. PER STIRLING places trades for clients in accordance with its Management Agreement.

PER STIRLING and its associates may on occasion recommend the services of other professionals (e.g., lawyers, accountants, insurance agents, etc.) However, any such professionals are engaged directly by the client on an as-needed basis. Conflicts of interest will be disclosed to the client in the unlikely event they should occur.

Principal Owners

John Per (J.P.) O'Sullivan is a 50% stockholder. Robert Stirling Phipps, III is a 50% stockholder.

Of note, Mr. O'Sullivan and Mr. Phipps are also among the principle owners of Per Stirling Investments, which operates as an Office of Supervisory Jurisdiction (essentially a self-supervising branch office) for B.B. Graham & Company (member of S.I.P.C. and FINRA), which is a broker-dealer firm that does sell financial products and securities.

Aside from this paragraph, any other reference to PER STIRLING refers to Per Stirling Capital Management, LLC.

Types of Advisory Services

PER STIRLING provides investment supervisory services, also known as asset management services; manages investment advisory accounts not involving investment supervisory services; provides wealth management and financial planning services, furnishes investment advice through consultations, and issues periodicals about capital markets and the global economy.

PER STIRLING offers to its clients both custom-designed portfolios and access to a series of proprietary growth portfolios, which are managed by PER STIRLING's two Directors.

These proprietary growth portfolios, which are listed below, are made available to both clients of PER STIRLING and clients of investment advisors at other investment advisory firms, where they are offered through both sub-advisory and private-labeling agreements.

PER STIRLING Core Growth Portfolio

PER STIRLING Growth Portfolio

PER STIRLING Conservative Growth Portfolio

PER STIRLING Tactical Growth Portfolio

*The Per Stirling Tactical Growth Portfolio is presently in “incubation”. In other words, it is being made available to clients on a limited basis, and with the pre-approval of management, as the portfolio strategy is being refined and proven.

The “Core Growth” and “Conservative Growth” portfolios employ a primarily dynamic, asset allocation-based approach to portfolio management that seeks to maintain an optimal allocation between asset classes (stocks, bonds, real estate, cash, etc.). Fundamental and statistical analysis; along with economic research, are at the core of the decision-making process in these portfolios.

The “Growth” and “Tactical Growth” portfolios are primarily tactical, “best ideas” portfolios, where allocations are concentrated in the specific sectors, asset classes, and geographic regions (parts of the world) that PER STIRLING’S management team believes offer the most compelling investment opportunities. Fundamental and technical analysis is emphasized in the management of these portfolios.

TYPES OF MARKET ANALYSIS

Fundamental analysis is based upon fundamental news such as market valuations, earnings growth rates, economic data, currency trends, the interest rate outlook, and the prospects for fiscal and monetary policy.

Technical analysis is based on mathematical models and chart patterns. It is intended to provide insight into a market’s internal condition by gauging factors such as investor sentiment, price momentum, and technical valuation.

Statistical analysis and back-testing helps the management team to anticipate how various portfolio allocations might perform based upon historical relationships and statistical factors such as absolute volatility, relative volatility, risk-adjusted return, and price correlation.

The one characteristic that is common to each of these portfolios is management’s goal of creating “excess alpha”. In plain English, this means that management attempts to produce high risk-adjusted returns. We describe it as “producing a level of long-term return that is higher than would reasonably be expected in light of the amount of risk in the portfolio”.

These portfolios operate as Separately Managed Accounts (SMAs), which are also known as “model portfolios”. This means that all clients who adopt one of these strategies will experience virtually the same experience and returns as all other clients in the same portfolio strategy.

It is noteworthy that the firm’s Directors and portfolio managers maintain a significant majority of their liquid net worth in these PER STIRLING Separately Managed Accounts.

At the same time, it should be noted that there is a potential conflict of interest in recommending these portfolios, as clients who invest in these portfolios are often more profitable to the firm than those who do not.

Detailed information on each of these portfolios is available upon request, and is easily accessible on our web site www.perstirling.com.

In addition to the above-noted Separately Managed Account programs, PER STIRLING is pleased to manage custom-designed (“supervisory”) portfolios for clients. In many instances, these supervisory accounts are managed to produce current income or to manage the distribution of principal. In other instances, PER STIRLING manages custom-designed growth portfolios in situations when the above-noted Separately Managed Accounts do not provide the optimal solutions for the client.

As of March 1, 2012, PER STIRLING managed approximately $96,000,000 in assets for approximately 168 clients. Virtually all of the firm’s assets under management are managed on a discretionary basis.

Tailored Relationships

The goals and objectives for each client are documented in the company’s new account documentation. Clients in custom-designed “supervisory” accounts, may impose restrictions on investing in certain securities or types of securities. Any such restrictions must be agreed to in writing by both the client and the Investment Advisor Representative (i.e. the client’s personal advisor). Clients who are invested in any of PER STIRLING’S four Separately Managed Account programs (noted above) may not impose such restrictions due to the fact that all clients in each respective program must have virtually identical allocations.

Types of Agreements

The following agreements define the typical client relationships.

Financial Planning Agreement

PER STIRLING maintains that investment management is best provided within a well-defined set of financial objectives and timeframes, and that the core components of the financial planning and wealth management processes provide an excellent format for establishing the parameters for an optimal investment program.

We believe that there are a great many other benefits to a client of working with a financial advisor to craft a financial program, and thus encourage our clients to discuss the potential benefits of designing a financial plan with their personal advisor.

At the same time, we recognize that all clients are unique, and that some clients have a greater need for the planning process than do other clients. Further, we recognize that every client’s needs, and thus the components of every financial plan, are different, which is why we do not pre-define the components and/or cost of the wealth management services provided by PER STIRLING’S advisors. Instead, we maintain both the flexibility of our advisors to work with their clients in whatever way best meets their clients’ needs, and the negotiability of the fees for said services. In all instances, an estimated fee (or range of potential fees) will be disclosed and agreed upon in writing before any services are provided.

In those instances when a client and their personal advisor determine that more comprehensive planning services are not required, PER STIRLING will work with its clients to determine, at minimum, a client's risk tolerance, investment time horizons, and return-related needs. This process is used to help to determine which portfolios, portfolio strategies, and investment objectives are optimal for each individual client. In almost all instances (and unless specifically agreed to by the client in advance), this basic needs analysis is provided at no cost to the client beyond the normal asset management fees.

Advisory Service Agreement (a.k.a. Per Stirling Management Agreement)

Most clients choose to have PER STIRLING manage their assets in order to obtain ongoing investment advice and continuous portfolio management.

The scope of work and fee for an Advisory Service Agreement is provided to the client in writing prior to the start of the relationship.

For clients receiving only portfolio management services, the annual Advisory Service Agreement fee is based on a percentage of the investable assets under management. The management fee is a function of two components. The first is the advisor fee which is determined between the client and their individual investment advisor associate. These advisor fees, which average 1.0% of assets under management per annum, may be negotiable under certain circumstances.

For PER STIRLING clients who elect to participate in PER STIRLING'S Separately Managed Account Programs there is an additional management fee of one-half of one-percent per annum (0.5%). This fee may be negotiable at the discretion of PER STIRLING'S executive management team.

Current client relationships may exist where the fees are higher or lower than those noted above. Clients in custom-designed "supervisory" accounts may pay higher or lower fees than clients participating in PER STIRLING'S model portfolio programs (i.e. Separately Managed Account programs) depending primarily on the investment objectives of the client and the amount of assets under management.

PER STIRLING, in its sole discretion, may waive its minimum fee and/or charge a lesser investment advisory fee based upon certain criteria (e.g., historical relationship, type of assets, anticipated future earning capacity, anticipated future additional assets, dollar amounts of assets to be managed, related accounts, account composition, negotiations with clients, etc.).

Advisory fees paid to PER STIRLING by institutional clients (clients of other investment advisory firms who utilize PER STIRLING'S portfolios), normally range between 40 and 50 basis points per annum (0.40% to 0.50% per year). Institutional client fees are negotiated between PER STIRLING and the retail advisory firm.

Although the Advisory Service Agreement is an ongoing agreement and constant adjustments are required, the length of service to the client is at the client's discretion. The client or the investment manager may terminate an Agreement by written notice to the other party. At termination of the Management Agreement, and upon the written request of the client, unearned management fees will be refunded to the client on a pro rata basis according to the following formula:

The portfolio value at the completion of the prior full billing quarter (divided by 365) times the number of days remaining in the current calendar quarter.

Retainer Agreement

In some circumstances, a Retainer Agreement is executed in lieu of an Advisory Service Agreement when it is more appropriate to work on a fixed-fee basis. The annual fee for a Retainer Agreement is negotiable.

Investment Management Agreement

An Investment Management Agreement governs the relationship between PER STIRLING and the client.

Tax Preparation Agreement

Tax preparation work is not included in the Advisory Service Agreement or Retainer Agreement scope of work.

Hourly Planning Engagements

PER STIRLING provides hourly consulting services for clients who need advice on a limited scope of work. The hourly rate for limited scope engagements will range from $150 to $300, depending on expertise of the advisor and the services provided.

Asset Management

Assets are invested primarily in no-load mutual funds and exchange-traded funds, usually through discount brokers or fund companies. Fund companies charge each fund shareholder an investment management fee that is disclosed in the fund prospectus. Discount brokerages may charge a transaction fee for the purchase of some funds.

Stocks and bonds may be purchased or sold through a brokerage account when appropriate. The brokerage firm charges a fee for stock and bond trades. PER STIRLING does not receive any compensation, in any form, from fund companies.

Investments may also include: equities (stocks), corporate debt securities, commercial paper, certificates of deposit, municipal securities, investment company securities (variable annuity, variable life insurance, mutual funds shares), U. S. government securities, options contracts, and interests in partnerships.

Initial public offerings (IPOs) are not available directly through PER STIRLING.

Termination of Agreement

A client may terminate any of the aforementioned agreements at any time by notifying PER STIRLING in writing. PER STIRLING will refund any unearned portion of the advance payment upon receipt of a written request for a refund from the client.

PER STIRLING may terminate any of the aforementioned agreements at any time by notifying the client in writing. PER STIRLING will refund any unearned portion of the advance payment upon receipt of a written request for a refund from the client.

Fees and Compensation

Description

PER STIRLING bases its portfolio management fees on a percentage of assets under management.

Investment management fees will be debited from or billed to each account at the beginning of each quarter based on the value of the account as of the end of the prior quarter. The following formula will be used to determine the fee amounts to be assessed.

$$(\text{Account Value} \times \text{Management Fee}) \times (\# \text{ of days in the Quarter} / 365)$$

Example:

The quarterly assessment (for a 91-day quarter) on a $100,000 portfolio with a 150 basis point (1.50%) annual management fee would be $373.97 as shown:

$$(100,000 \times .015) \times (91/365) = $373.97$$

Fees are payable in advance on the first day of the quarter and delinquent after the 15th day of the quarter. Any account in which fees are delinquent for more than 30 days is subject to termination of services hereunder, and any fees earned by the Advisor but unpaid by the Client will accrue at an interest rate equivalent to the prevailing Prime Rate as published by the Wall Street Journal plus 3%. Clients whose services have been terminated will be notified by phone, or by mail to the last known address. The firm will not automatically change an investment position in the event of termination of services regardless of the type of account (i.e. Supervisory or Portfolio Management Accounts).

Prorating for New Accounts is calculated by the following formula:

$$\text{Quarterly Calculation} \times \{\text{Days Remaining in Quarter} / \text{Total \# of Days in Quarter}\}.$$

Prorating for Terminating Accounts is calculated by the following formula:

$$\text{Most Recent Quarterly Fee Assessment} \times \{\text{Days Remaining in Quarter} / \text{Total Number of Days in Quarter}\}.$$

In certain instances, where clients request services outside of PER STIRLING'S core asset management services, hourly charges or fixed fees may apply. Any such hourly charges or fixed fees would be specified in advance through separate agreements.

Some Retainer Agreements may be priced based on the complexity of work, especially when asset management is not the most significant part of the relationship.

In certain instances, fees may be negotiable.

Fee Billing

Investment management fees are billed quarterly, in advance, meaning that we invoice you, or debit your account, at the beginning of the three-month billing period. Payment in full is expected upon invoice presentation. Fees are usually deducted from a designated client account to facilitate billing. The client must consent in advance to direct debiting of their investment account.

Other Fees

Custodians may charge transaction fees on purchases or sales of certain securities. These transaction charges are usually small and incidental to the purchase or sale of a security. PER STIRLING will never participate (i.e. benefit from) such transaction fees.

Expense Ratios

Mutual funds, exchange-traded funds and exchange-traded notes generally charge a management fee for their services as investment managers. The management fee is called an expense ratio. For example, an expense ratio of 0.50 means that the mutual fund company charges 0.5% per annum for their services. These fees are in addition to the fees paid by you to PER STIRLING.

Performance figures quoted by mutual fund companies in various publications are after their fees have been deducted.

Past Due Accounts and Termination of Agreement

PER STIRLING reserves the right to stop work on any account that is more than 30 days overdue.

Performance-Based Fees

Sharing of Capital Gains

Fees are not based on a share of the capital gains or capital appreciation of managed securities.

PER STIRLING does not use a performance-based fee structure because of the potential conflict of interest. Performance-based compensation may create an incentive for the adviser to recommend an investment that may carry a higher degree of risk to the client.

Types of Clients

Description

PER STIRLING generally provides investment advice to individuals, trusts, and estates both directly and through other investment advisors. As some investment services are being provided through sub-advisory and private labeling agreements, the investment Advisor may or may not be registered through PER STIRLING. While not its core market, PER STIRLING may also provide services to banks or thrift institutions, investment companies, pension and profit sharing plans, trusts, charitable organizations, corporations or other business entities.

Client relationships vary in scope and length of service.

Account Minimums

The minimum account size is $250,000 of assets under management per “household” or family unit living at the same physical address. PER STIRLING has the discretion to waive the $250,000 account minimum, which applies only to clients of PER STIRLING.

The investment minimum for institutional clients (clients of other investment advisory firms who utilize PER STIRLING’S portfolios), is $50,000 per household.

Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Methods of Analysis

Security analysis methods may include charting, fundamental analysis, technical analysis, cyclical analysis, statistical analysis and back-testing.

The main sources of fundamental information include financial newspapers and magazines, CNBC, Bloomberg TV, inspections of corporate activities, research materials prepared by others, corporate rating services, annual reports, prospectuses, filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission, and company press releases.

Other sources of information that PER STIRLING may use include, as examples, the Morningstar Institutional Workstation, Investools, and the World Wide Web.

Investment Strategies

PER STIRLING manages portfolios across an array of objectives and strategies. Objectives for custom-designed portfolios range from capital preservation and current income on one hand to long-term growth and tactical sector allocation on the other. As of the date of this brochure, approximately two-thirds of PER STIRLING'S assets under management are in these custom-designed "supervisory" portfolios.

The remainder of PER STIRLING'S assets under management are invested in the firm's four growth strategies that are being offered as separately managed accounts. The one characteristic that is common to each of these portfolios is management's goal of creating "excess alpha".

In plain English, this means that management attempts to produce high risk-adjusted returns. We describe it as "producing a level of long-term returns that is higher than would reasonable be expected in light of the amount of risk in the portfolio".

At PER STIRLING, we maintain that the creation of "excess alpha" is the key to long-term success in the management of an investment portfolio. Put another way, we believe that it is critically important not only to produce high units of return per each unit of risk in a portfolio (a.k.a. "excess alpha"), but also to proactively and tactically adjust portfolio risk levels in consideration of the anticipated market environment.

As such, a cornerstone of PER STIRLING'S investment strategy in its separately managed account (SMA) programs is to use our proprietary fundamental research and technical analysis to proactively increase portfolio risk when our managers identify opportunities for high risk-adjusted return, and to reduce market exposure and beta (portfolio volatility) when our managers consider the markets to have unattractive risk-versus-return characteristics.

Across each of our SMA portfolios, we employ risk-aware and alpha-driven portfolio management strategies that are designed to produce high risk-adjusted returns and superior nominal performance over the intermediate and longer term. We endeavor to produce alpha for our clients on two fronts. The first is through our proprietary macroeconomic and technical analysis. Through this process we endeavor to determine the optimal asset mix and sector/geographic weightings for each of our strategies. The second front is our tactical securities selection process through which we identify opportunities that we believe should provide superior risk-adjusted returns in the anticipated environment.

The past successes of the PER STIRLING portfolio management team are not necessarily indicative of future results, and there is no guarantee that PER STIRLING will be successful in its efforts to produce “excess alpha”.

The investment strategy for a specific client is based upon the objectives stated by the client during consultations. The client may change these objectives at any time. It is the responsibility of the client to discuss any such changes with their personal financial advisor.

Risk of Loss

All investment programs have certain risks that are borne by the investor. Our investment approach constantly keeps the risk of loss in mind. Investors face the following investment risks:

- Interest-rate Risk: Fluctuations in interest rates may cause investment prices to fluctuate. For example, when interest rates rise, yields on existing bonds become less attractive, causing their market values to decline.
- Market Risk: The price of a security, bond, or mutual fund may drop in reaction to tangible and intangible events and conditions. This type of risk is caused by external factors independent of a security’s particular underlying circumstances. For example, political, economic and social conditions may trigger market events.
- Inflation Risk: When any type of inflation is present, a dollar today will buy more than will a dollar next year, because purchasing power is eroding at the rate of inflation.
- Currency Risk: Overseas investments are subject to fluctuations in the value of the dollar against the currency of the investment’s originating country. This is also referred to as exchange rate risk.
- Reinvestment Risk: This is the risk that future proceeds from investments may have to be reinvested at a potentially lower rate of return (i.e. interest rate). This primarily relates to fixed income securities.
- Business Risk: These risks are associated with a particular industry or a particular company within an industry. For example, oil-drilling companies depend on finding oil and then refining it, a lengthy process, before they can generate a profit. They carry a higher risk of profitability than an electric company, which generates its income from a steady stream of customers who buy electricity no matter what the economic environment is like.
- Liquidity Risk: Liquidity is the ability to readily convert an investment into cash. Generally, assets are more liquid if many traders are interested in a standardized product. For example, Treasury Bills are highly liquid, while real estate properties are not.
- Financial Risk: Excessive borrowing to finance a business’ operations increases the risk of profitability, because the company must meet the terms of its obligations in good times and bad. During periods of financial stress, the inability to meet loan obligations may result in bankruptcy and/or a declining market value.

Disciplinary Information

Legal and Disciplinary

As of the date of this brochure, the firm has not been involved in legal or disciplinary events related to past or present investment clients. If, in the future, an advisor joins the firm who has a legal or disciplinary event in their history, or if a current advisor is, in the future, the subject of a legal or disciplinary event, the details of such an event will be disclosed in that advisor's Form ADV Part II-B, which will be provided to all current and prospective future clients of that advisor.

Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Financial Industry Activities

PER STIRLING is not registered as a securities broker-dealer, or a futures commission merchant, commodity pool operator or commodity trading advisor.

Affiliations

Certain associates of PER STIRLING are also Registered Representatives (brokers), licensed to sell securities through a registered Broker/Dealer, and may be licensed to sell insurance products through various insurance companies. Differing scales and terms of compensation between investment advisor and broker-dealer platforms create a potential conflict of interest in recommending one platform in lieu of another.

A company called Per Stirling Investments, which was founded in 2011, has the same owners and ownership structure as does Per Stirling Capital Management. Per Stirling Investments is not the subject of this brochure.

Per Stirling Investments, L.L.C. operates as an Office of Supervisory Jurisdiction (essentially a self-supervising branch office) of B.B. Graham & Company, which is a broker-dealer firm. Per Stirling Investments is a separate and distinct company from both Per Stirling Capital Management and B.B. Graham & Company, and was established for the benefit of any clients whose full or partial needs are better served by working with their advisor through a traditional brokerage relationship. Such instances might include situations where the client does not require continuous management of their accounts, where the client is holding illiquid securities, or where the client has a product-specific need such as insurance or a fixed annuity.

Any other mention of PER STIRLING in this brochure refers to Per Stirling Capital Management, LLC.

Aside from the above, PER STIRLING has no arrangements that are material to its advisory or its clients with a related person who is a broker-dealer, investment company, other investment advisor, financial planning firm, commodity pool operator, commodity trading adviser or futures commission merchant, banking or thrift institution, accounting firm, law firm, insurance company or agency, pension consultant, real estate broker or dealer, or an entity that creates or packages limited partnerships.

Importantly, under no circumstances will either PER STIRLING or its associates receive commissions or other transaction-related compensation on any account managed by PER STIRLING.

Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Code of Ethics

The employees of PER STIRLING have committed to a Code of Ethics that is available for review by clients and prospective clients upon request.

Participation or Interest in Client Transactions

PER STIRLING and its employees may buy or sell securities that are also held by clients. Employees may not trade their own securities ahead of client trades. Employees comply with the provisions of the PER STIRLING Compliance Manual.

Personal Trading

The Chief Compliance Officer of PER STIRLING is John Per O'Sullivan. He reviews all employee trades each month. His trades are reviewed by Robert Stirling Phipps, III. The personal trading reviews ensure that the personal trading of employees does not affect the markets, and that clients of the firm receive preferential treatment.

Brokerage Practices

Selecting Brokerage Firms

With the exception of the above-noted Per Stirling Investments disclosure, PER STIRLING does not have any affiliation with product sales firms. Specific custodian recommendations are made to Clients based on their need for such services. PER STIRLING recommends custodians based on the proven integrity and financial responsibility of the firm and the best execution of orders at reasonable commission rates.

PER STIRLING recommends discount brokerage firms and trust companies (qualified custodians), such as Fidelity Investments, Charles Schwab and Vanguard.

PER STIRLING does not receive transaction fees or commissions from any of these arrangements.

PER STIRLING may be provided software or other benefits from vendors in order to execute trades in accounts associated with PER STIRLING.

The client ultimately decides which brokerage firm is selected as the custodian firm. However, certain services, such as PER STIRLING'S Separately Managed Account programs may not be available through all brokerage platforms.

Best Execution

PER STIRLING reviews the execution of trades at each custodian on an ongoing basis. Trading fees charged by the custodians is also reviewed on a quarterly basis. PER STIRLING does not receive any portion of the trading fees.

Soft Dollars

There are no "soft dollar" arrangements between Per Stirling and any of these custodial firms. The Investopedia.com web site explains "Soft Dollars" as follows:

“For example, a mutual fund may offer to pay for research from a brokerage firm by executing trades at the brokerage.

Let's say that Large-Cap Value Fund (LCV) wants to buy some research from XYZ Brokerage Firm. LCV may agree to spend at least $10,000 in commissions for brokerage services in return for research from XYZ. This would represent a soft dollar payment. Alternatively, if LCV wanted to simply buy the research from XYZ and not agree to any kind of soft dollar fee, it might have to pay the brokerage firm $7,000 in "hard dollars" (cash) for the service.”

Order Aggregation

Most trades are mutual funds or exchange-traded funds where trade aggregation does not garner any client benefit.

Review of Accounts

Periodic Reviews

Account reviews are performed at least quarterly. Account reviews are performed more frequently when market conditions dictate.

Review Triggers

Other conditions that may trigger a review are changes in the tax laws, new investment information, and changes in a client's own situation.

The PER STIRLING Investment Policy Committee (IPC) is charged with reviewing and providing oversight with regard to the Per Stirling model portfolios and non-model portfolio (i.e. supervisory) assets which will be reviewed by the IPC at least quarterly and more frequently during volatile market periods.

Reviewers: IPC consists of John P. O'Sullivan and Robert S. Phipps. IPC members may be added and/or changed in the future at the company's discretion.

Regular Reports

PER STIRLING provides quarterly reports to advisory households reflecting a current market appraisal of the client's account as well as year-to-date, one-year, three-year, five-year and lifetime returns (when available). The statements detail the customer's beginning and ending balances and any withdrawals or deposits during the period. PER STIRLING provides these reports for illustrative purposes only.

As a client, you should ultimately rely upon the statements provided by the custodian broker-dealer (where your assets are actually held), and use those statements to verify the information provided to you in the reports generated by PER STIRLING.

Additionally, the firm periodically provides, at no additional cost, an investment writing entitled the Per Stirling Capital Outlook, which discusses current investment markets and offers Per Stirling's global capital markets and economic outlook.

Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Incoming Referrals

PER STIRLING and its associates have been fortunate to receive many client referrals over the years. The referrals came from current clients, estate planning attorneys, accountants, employees, personal friends of employees and other similar sources. The firm does not compensate referring parties for these referrals.

Referrals Out

PER STIRLING does not accept referral fees or any form of remuneration from other professionals when a prospect or client is referred to them.

Other Compensation

Employees or associated individuals of Per Stirling Capital Management, LLC may be compensated for the referral of clients to Per Stirling Capital Management, LLC.

Custody

Account Statements

All assets are held at qualified custodians, which means the custodians also provide account statements directly to clients at their address of record at least quarterly.

Performance Reports

Clients are urged to compare the account statements received directly from their custodians to the performance report statements provided by PER STIRLING. PER STIRLING provides these reports for illustrative purposes only.

As a client, you should ultimately rely upon the statements provided by the custodian broker-dealer (where your assets are actually held), and use those statements to verify the performance information provided to you in the reports generated by PER STIRLING.

Net Worth Statements

Unless provided as a component of general wealth management services, PER STIRLING does not provide net worth statements to its clients.

Investment Discretion

Discretionary Authority for Trading

PER STIRLING accepts discretionary authority to manage securities accounts on behalf of clients. PER STIRLING has the authority to determine, without obtaining specific client consent, the securities to be bought or sold, and the amount of the securities to be bought or sold.

The client approves the custodian to be used. PER STIRLING does not receive any portion of the transaction fees or commissions paid by the client to the custodian on certain trades.

Discretionary trading authority facilitates placing trades in a client's accounts on their behalf so that we may promptly implement the client's investment objectives.

Limited Power of Attorney

A Management Agreement provides the trading authorization for this purpose. You sign a Management Agreement so that we may execute trades in pursuit of the objectives that you have approved.

Voting Client Securities

Proxy Votes

PER STIRLING does not vote proxies on securities. Clients are expected to vote their own proxies. You will receive proxies directly from the custodian firm (the broker-dealer where your account is actually held).

When assistance on voting proxies is requested, PER STIRLING will provide recommendations to the Client. If a conflict of interest exists, it will be disclosed to the Client.

Financial Information

Financial Condition

PER STIRLING does not have any financial impairment that will preclude the firm from meeting contractual commitments to clients.

A balance sheet is not required to be provided because PER STIRLING does not serve as a custodian for client funds or securities, and does not require prepayment of fees of more than $1,200 per client, and six months or more in advance.

Business Continuity Plan

General

PER STIRLING has a Business Continuity Plan in place that provides detailed steps to mitigate and recover from the loss of office space, communications, services or key people. A copy of the PER STIRLING business continuity plan is available upon request.

Disasters

The Business Continuity Plan covers natural disasters such as snow storms, hurricanes, tornados, and flooding. The Plan covers man-made disasters such as loss of electrical power, loss of water pressure, fire, bomb threat, nuclear emergency, chemical event, biological event, T-1 communications line outage, Internet outage, railway accident and aircraft accident. Electronic files are backed up daily and archived offsite.

Alternate Offices

Alternate offices are identified to support ongoing operations in the event the main office is unavailable. It is our intention to contact all clients within five days of a disaster that dictates moving our office to an alternate location.

Loss of Key Personnel

PER STIRLING has taken the steps necessary to ensure that company operations will continue unabated in the event of the death or serious disability of key personnel.

Information Security Program

Information Security

PER STIRLING maintains an information security program to reduce the risk that your personal and confidential information may be breached.

Privacy Notice

PER STIRLING is committed to maintaining the confidentiality, integrity and security of the personal information that is entrusted to us.

The categories of nonpublic information that we collect from you may include information about your personal finances, information about your health to the extent that it is needed for the goal-setting process, information about transactions between you and third parties, and information from consumer reporting agencies, e.g., credit reports. We use this information to help you meet your personal financial goals.

We share a limited amount of information about you with your brokerage firm in order to execute securities transactions on your behalf.

We maintain a secure office to ensure that your information is not placed at unreasonable risk. We employ a firewall barrier, secure data encryption techniques and authentication procedures in our computer environment.

We do not provide your personal information to mailing list vendors or solicitors. We require strict confidentiality in our agreements with unaffiliated third parties that require access to your personal information, including financial service companies, consultants, and auditors. Federal and state securities regulators may review our Company records and your personal records as permitted by law.

Personally identifiable information about you will be maintained while you are a client, and for the required period thereafter that records are required to be maintained by federal and state securities laws. After that time, information may be destroyed.

We will notify you in advance if our privacy policy is expected to change. We are required by law to deliver our Privacy Notice to you at the beginning of your business relationship with PER STIRLING, and annually, in writing, thereafter.
