ADVISORY BUSINESS

Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, is a privately owned Colorado Corporation headquartered in Denver, CO. The principal owner is Martin V. Johnson Jr. Chief Executive Officer, we have been in business since January 2010, our initial inception registered as an investment advisor was with the State of Illinois securities Commission. Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, provides its portfolio management services to individuals, banks and thrift institutions, investment companies, pension plans, profit sharing plans, trusts, endowments, charitable organizations, and corporations. Each client has the opportunity to place reasonable restrictions on the types of investments to be held in the portfolio or to customize the portfolio's goals and objectives.

Advisory Services Offered

We provide our clients with low cost well-balanced and globally-diversified investment management services with respect to their investment accounts. Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, provides portfolio management services to clients through managing portfolios designed to mimic the holdings and allocations of various published indices, blended indices and customized indices. The majority of portfolios Johnson's Global Advisors Corp. manages for its clients invest exclusively in global/international equities and fixed income indexing/Exchange Traded Funds utilizing strategies whose objective is tracking the client specified index, available through separately managed and pooled accounts.

For every account, Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, continually monitors the index specific to that account and will execute trades in the client's account(s) to reflect changes to index constituents. Notwithstanding, there will typically be some variation between the performance of a client's account(s) and the index it is designed to track due to client-imposed trading restrictions, client contributions to and withdrawals from accounts, timing of trades, timing of cash flows resulting from mergers and acquisitions affecting portfolio holdings and/or index constituents, advisory fees and trading costs among other factors.

ITEM 5. Fees

The annual fee for portfolio management services may be charged according to the agreement specified in the client contract. Fees are generally calculated in one or both of two ways: (1) quarterly, in arrears, as a percentage of assets under management, or (2) as a percentage of assets under management. Minimum fees established for pooled funds are $10,000 and for separately managed $20,000.

1. Percentage of Assets Under Management:

The annual fee for portfolio management services is calculated as a percentage of assets under management of the total account valued depending on the nature and complexity of each client's circumstances, the amount of assets placed under management, the number and complexity of restrictions placed on the investments, the desired reporting, competitive market pricing and other factors. The specific annual fee schedule will be identified in the contract between Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, and each client.

A minimum of $25,000,000 of assets under management is required for separately managed equity accounts and $50,000,000 for fixed income portfolios. A minimum of $5,000,000 of assets under management is required for investment in the pooled vehicles managed by Johnson's Global Advisors Corp,

Negotiability of Fees

In certain circumstances, fees are negotiable

Clients are responsible for the fees and expenses charged by custodians. Mutual funds may be included in the clients' portfolios, money market mutual funds are used to 'sweep' unused cash balances until they can be appropriately invested. Clients should recognize that all fees paid to Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, for investment advisory services are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by mutual funds to their shareholders; these fees and expenses are described in each fund's prospectus and generally include a management fee, other fund expenses, and a possible distribution fee.

The specific manner in which fees are charged by Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, is established in a client's written agreement. Clients may elect to be billed for fees directly or to authorize Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, to directly debit fees from client accounts. Management fees shall be prorated for each capital contribution and withdrawal made during the applicable calendar quarter (with the exception of de minimis contributions and withdrawals) or as instructed in client agreement. Accounts initiated or terminated during a calendar quarter will be charged a prorated fee.

Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, fees are exclusive of brokerage commissions, transaction fees, and other related costs and expenses which shall be incurred by the client. Clients may incur certain charges from custodians, brokers, transfer fees, wire transfers, electronic fund fees, and other fees and taxes on brokerage accounts and securities transactions. Mutual funds and exchange traded funds also charge management fees which are disclosed in a fund's prospectus. Such charges, fees and commissions are exclusive of and in addition to Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, fee, and Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, does not receive any portion of these commissions, fees, and costs.

Termination of Agreement

A client agreement may be cancelled at any time, by either party, for any reason upon receipt of 30 days written notice, or such other period as may be agreed upon, in writing, by the parties. Upon termination of any account, any prorated amount of fee due will be charged. In the event that there are any prepaid, unearned fees, they will be promptly refunded to the client. The client has the right to terminate an agreement without penalty within five business days after entering into the agreement. In the event of a client's death or disability, we will continue management of the account until an authorized party notifies us of client's death or disability and provides alternate instructions.

Other Compensation

Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, nor any person providing investment advice on its behalf ("investment personnel"), accepts any compensation or revenue in connection with the management of client accounts, except for the investment management fees charged directly to clients as stated in the Fee Schedule above.

ITEM 6. PERFORMANCE BASED FEES

Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, nor any of its investment personnel, does not charges performance-based fees that are based on a share of capital gains on, or capital appreciation of, the assets of a client.

ITEM 7. TYPES OF CLIENTS

We offer passive investment management services to, high net worth individuals, trusts, estates, endowments, government institutions retirement plans.

ITEM 8.

METHODS OF ANALYSIS, INVESTMENT STRATEGIES AND RISK OF LOSS

Prior to entering into an Investment Management Agreement with Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, each client should carefully consider:

1. That investing in securities involves risk of loss, which clients should be prepared to bear.
2. That securities markets experience varying degrees of volatility.
3. That over time, the client's assets may fluctuate and at any time be worth more or less than the amount invested.
4. That client's should only commit assets that are long-term in nature. This is typically a minimum of a ten-year time horizon. There can be no guarantee that an asset allocation strategy will meet its investment objectives or that it will not suffer losses.

Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, generally use diversification in an effort to optimize the risk and potential return of a portfolio. More specifically, we utilize multiple asset classes, investment styles, market capitalizations, sectors, and regions to provide diversification. Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, general investment strategy is to seek a total return proportionate with the level of risk the client decides to take.

We assist each client in developing an Investment Policy Statement, which typically outlines the client's general financial situation, investment objectives, liquidity needs, time horizon, return objective, and risk tolerance, as well as any special considerations and/or restrictions the client chooses to place on the management of the client accounts. We will then make model investment strategy recommendations that are consistent with the client's Investment Policy Statement.

Client accounts with a similar investment objectives and asset allocation goals may own the same or different securities. Tax factors also influence investment decisions. Clients who buy or sell securities on the same day may receive different prices based on the timing of the transactions during open market hours. Each client will maintain a target asset allocation.

Replication

Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, utilizes a full index replication technique, whenever possible, in which all or substantially all equities in the appropriate index (or product specific portion of the index) are held in the client's portfolio, subject to client-imposed restrictions, in the appropriate allocations.

Stratified Sampling

Stratified Sampling carves the index into divisions – we use industries as the breakdown. We specify what percentage of the index weight to replicate and then allow the software to bring the weight of each industry in the portfolio to exactly the weight of that industry in the index. We use stratified sampling for 1. smaller accounts (less than $25MM), 2. broad indexes (more than 500 index constituents), or 3. investing small amounts of money relative to total value such as dividend reinvestment or cash from corporate actions.

Optimization

Optimizers use risk models which break down risk into 2 major components – factor risk and specific risk. The factors include such things as beta, size, volatility, growth and value. Specific risk is the remainder of a stock's risk not explained by factors. The optimizer builds portfolios with risk profiles as close as possible to the index. The portfolio manager controls a number of parameters that determine how close the portfolio comes to replicating the index.

Enhanced Index Equity Portfolios

Enhanced Index: Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, also manages accounts which seek to deliver returns that exceed the index while maintaining the same overall characteristics and risk level of the index. Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, utilizes an optimizer to manage this quantitative product with an objective of modestly outperforming an index by 1%/year.

We rank every stock in the index according to our valuation models. We use the optimizer to build portfolios favoring attractive stocks while maintaining characteristics very close to the index. Maintaining characteristics and total risk aligned with the index allows close tracking of the index with a positive performance bias if the ranking system works as expected.

Exchange traded Funds

We use ETF which is a type of investment company (usually, an open-end fund or unit investment trust) containing a basket of stocks or bonds that usually tracks a specific index or sector. An ETF is similar to an index fund in that it will primarily invest in securities of companies that are included in a selected market index or that fall into a particular sector.

Unlike traditional mutual funds, which can only be redeemed at the end of a trading day, ETFs trade throughout the day on an exchange. Like stock and bond mutual funds, the prices of the underlying securities and the overall market may affect ETF prices. Similarly, factors affecting a particular industry segment may affect ETF prices that track specific sectors. An investment in an ETF could lose money over short or even long periods. You should expect the ETFs share price and total return to fluctuate within a wide range, like the fluctuations of the overall stock market.

Indexed Bond Portfolio

A portfolio with an objective of tracking the performance of a bond index. We use an optimizer to build bond portfolios whose characteristics match those of the index but hold a relatively small number of bonds. We do not utilize research in selecting bonds to hold in portfolios. The index constituents and their weightings in an index as well as the substance and timing of any changes there to, dictate Johnson' Global Advisors Corp, primary investment strategy.

Generally, we review client accounts quarterly to evaluate the extent to which the actual allocation matches the target allocation. When we consider the variance excessive, based on an upper and lower limit band that is subject to change at our discretion, we will take appropriate actions (by buying or selling securities) to bring the actual allocation within acceptable range of the target allocation. We refer to this process as "rebalancing." The process of rebalancing offers a systematic process to buy or sell securities when investment categories (asset classes) vary from its target.

Allocation Investment Portfolios

Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, offers several different model investment strategies ("asset allocation") types for managing client accounts. Based on the client's personal situation, as described in the client's Investment Policy Statement, we will recommend managing the client's accounts in accordance with one or multiple asset allocation types.

ITEM 9. DISCIPLINARY INFORMATION

Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, nor it's principal owner Martin V. Johnson Jr. CEO, does not have any disciplinary information to disclose.

ITEM 10. OTHER FINANCIAL INDUSTRY ACTIVITIES AND AFFILIATIONS

We do not have any relationships or arrangements with brokerdealers, mutual funds, other investment advisers, or other entities that create any material conflict of interest for us in rendering investment management services to our clients. As noted below under "Client Referrals and Other Compensation," we periodically recommend that a client consult an unaffiliated individual or firm for specific professional services, such as financial planning, estate planning, or accounting related work, but we receive no compensation or other monetary benefit for making such referrals. It is possible that such individual or firm will refer clients to us, but we pay no compensation for, and have no arrangement regarding, such referrals.

ITEM 11. CODE OF ETHICS, PARTICIPATION OR INTEREST IN CLIENT TRANSACTIONS AND PERSONAL TRADING

Code of Ethics

Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, believes that we owe clients the highest level of trust and fair dealing. As part of our fiduciary duty, we place the interests of our clients ahead of the interests of Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, and our personnel. Our personnel are required to conduct themselves with integrity at all times and follow the principles and policies detailed in our Code of Ethics. We attempt to address specific conflicts of interest that either we have identified or that could likely arise.

Our personnel are required to follow clear guidelines from the Code of Ethics in areas such as gifts and entertainment, other business activities, and adherence to applicable state and federal securities laws. Additionally, investment personnel who make securities recommendations to clients, or who have access to nonpublic information regarding any client's purchase or sale of securities, are subject to personal trading policies governed by the Code of Ethics (see below).

Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, prohibits all personnel from acting upon any material, non-public information, as defined under federal securities laws and our Code of Ethics insider trading policy. Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, does not recommend securities in which there is a material financial interest to us or any related person of Johnson's Global Advisors Corp. We will provide a complete copy of the Code of Ethics to any client or prospective client upon request.

Personal Trading Practices

Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, and our personnel does purchase or sell securities for themselves, regardless of whether the transaction would be appropriate for a client account. Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, and our personnel will at times purchase or sell securities for themselves that we also recommend to clients. In order to avoid potential conflicts of interest with clients, we require all investment personnel to obtain written approval by our Chief Compliance Officer Martin V. Johnson Jr. before directly or indirectly trading in any security.

Written approval may be obtained from our Director of Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, Martin V. Johnson Jr.. In order to avoid potential conflicts of interest with securities transactions in client accounts, Johnson's Global Advisors Corp. is subject to a pre-clearance policy that seeks to make personal trading consistent with our fiduciary duty to clients. However Johnson's Global Advisors Corp. and our personnel are not required to pre-clear transactions in open-end investment companies (mutual funds) that would not adversely affect client interests. ETFs are required to be pre-cleared prior to investment personnel buy or sell transactions.

ITEM 12. Brokerage Practices Factors Considered in Selecting Broker-Dealers for Client Transactions

Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, has authority to determine which securities, the amounts to buy or sell, a broker/dealer to execute client transactions and commission costs for those transactions. Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, endeavors to select those brokers or dealers that will provide the best execution at the lowest commission rates and costs as possible. The reasonableness of transaction costs are based on the brokers' ability to provide professional services at competitive commission rates.

Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, low-cost trading techniques is specifically designed to minimize transaction costs. We incorporate directly into the portfolio construction process both commission and market impact costs. Execution venues include: crossing systems, dark pools, alternative trading systems, direct market access and program trading desks. Clients may direct the use of specific broker/dealers for execution of trades. Directing brokerage may limit the ability of Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, to obtain best execution and may result in higher costs and/or less advantageous prices.

Soft Dollars

Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, may pay higher commissions than the lowest possible commission that some brokers may charge in return for research and other services/products. Johnson's Global Advisors Corp trading platforms and other software including an optimizer, risk model and trading cost data. Soft dollar benefits are not limited to those clients who may have generated a particular benefit although certain soft dollar allocations are connected to particular clients or groups of clients. Soft dollar benefits are not proportionally allocated to any accounts that may generate different amounts of the soft dollar benefits.

Trade Aggregation

As a general matter, on days such as the annual Russell Reconstitution when Russell makes major changes to many of its US Indexes, Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, trades all its accounts tracking a Russell Index at the close. As a result, all clients receive the same price. No client is advantaged or disadvantaged. On rare occasions, Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, aggregate trades for different client accounts if it determines that aggregation will be in the best interest of those client accounts. For example, if a constituent security is added to or deleted from an index, an aggregate order will be entered and all participating client accounts receive the average price of all executions. The trades are then allocated by the executing brokers using an average price so all accounts are treated fairly.

ITEM 13 – REVIEW OF ACCOUNTS

As an Index /ETF manager, each day Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, monitor changes to the constituents of each index our client accounts track. Additionally, on a daily basis,

Portfolio Management personnel review each account's performance compared to the appropriate index and monitor cash holdings in each account. Also on a daily basis, separate reviews of portfolio restrictions and guidelines are monitored by compliance personnel Mr Johnson. Accounts are reviewed in the context of each client's stated investment objectives, guidelines or restrictions. More frequent reviews may be triggered by material changes in variables such as the client's individual circumstances or changes to the various indices.

Account Reporting

Each client receives a written quarterly statement from the custodian that includes an accounting of all holdings and transactions in the account for the reporting period. In addition, Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, provides written reports detailing performance in client accounts on a quarterly basis. We may also provide additional reporting as agreed upon with the client on a case by case basis.

ITEM 14. CLIENT REFERRALS AND OTHER COMPENSATION

Solicitor

Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, does not currently utilize unaffiliated solicitors.

Outside Compensation

Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, refer clients or prospective clients to unaffiliated professionals for specific needs such as financial planning, estate planning, or accounting related work. Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, does not have any agreements or formal referral arrangements with individuals or companies to whom we refer clients or prospective clients, and we do not receive any compensation for these referrals.

At times, it is possible that Johnson's Global Advisors Corp. will receive reciprocal referrals from these professionals. Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, only refers clients to professionals we believe are competent and qualified in their field. However, it is ultimately the client's responsibility to review the professional.

We will generally provide the client with the professional's contact information, and it is solely the client's decision whether to engage the professional. Clients are under no obligation to purchase any products or services through these professionals, and we have no control over the services they provide. Clients that choose to engage these professionals will sign a separate agreement with them. Fees charged by these professionals are separate from and in addition to fees charged by Johnson's Global Advisors Corp.

If the client desires, Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, will work with these professionals or the client's other advisers (such as an accountant, attorney or financial planner) to help ensure that the professional understands the client's portfolio and to coordinate services for the client. Johnson's Global Advisors Corp. will never share information with an unaffiliated professional unless first authorized by the client.

ITEM 15. CUSTODY

Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, has limited custody/constructive custody of client funds or securities, when clients authorize us to deduct our investment management fees directly from their accounts. A qualified custodian of clients choice which are generally large institutional custodial banks holds our clients' accounts, clients will receive statements directly from the qualified custodian at least quarterly. The statements will reflect each client's funds and securities held with the qualified custodian as well as any transactions that occurred in the account, including the deduction of our investment management fee. Scottrade serves as the Trustee of the our Pooled Trust.

Clients should carefully review the account statements received from the qualified custodian. When clients receive performance reports from Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, as well as from the qualified custodian, clients should compare these two reports carefully. Clients with any questions about their statements and reports should contact us at the address or phone number on the cover of this brochure. Clients who do not receive statements from the qualified custodian at least quarterly should also notify us.

ITEM 16. INVESTMENT DISCRETION

Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, has full discretion to decide the specific securities to trade, the quantity of such securities, and the timing of securities transactions for client accounts. This means that our clients give us the authority to buy and sell securities for their accounts at our discretion ("discretionary authority"). We do not provide services on a non-discretionary basis. Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, has the ongoing responsibility to select and make recommendations, based upon the objectives of the client, as to specific securities or other investments that we purchase or sell in client accounts.

Clients grant us discretionary authority in the Investment Management Agreement they sign with us. Clients also give us trading authority over their accounts when they sign the custodians paper work. Certain client-imposed conditions may limit our discretionary authority, such as when the client prohibits transactions in specific security types.

ITEM 17. VOTING CLIENT SECURITIES

Proxy Voting

Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, accepts and has the authority to vote client proxies pertaining to securities held in a client's account. We will vote all proxies in favor of proposals and recommendations of the management of the companies held. Any client who disagrees with this policy reserves the right to vote their own proxies. A client may request to vote their own proxies by sending a written request to our main office address listed on the cover page of this brochure.

Although it is highly unlikely, it is possible that Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, is called on to vote a proxy in a situation that cause a conflict of interest. If any vote would cause a possible conflict of interest, we will contact the client for consent prior to casting a vote on behalf of a client. Information regarding how the proxies pertaining to the client's account voted can be obtained from Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, by sending a written request for the information to our main office address listed on the cover page of this brochure.

Mutual Funds The investment adviser that manages the assets of a registered investment company (i.e., mutual fund) generally votes proxies issued on securities held by the mutual fund.

Class Actions

Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, does not instruct or give advice to clients on whether or not to participate as a member of class action law suits and will not automatically file claims on a client's behalf. However, if a client notifies us that the client wishes to participate in a class action, we will provide the client with any transaction information pertaining to the client's account needed for the client to file a proof of claim in a class action.

ITEM 18.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Registered investment advisers are required to provide a balance sheet if they require or solicit prepayment of more than $500,00 in fees per client, six months or more in advance. Johnson's Global Advisors Corp, does not require or solicit the prepayment of more than $500,00 in fees per client, six months or more in advance, and does not foresee any financial condition that is reasonably likely to impair our ability to meet our contractual commitments to clients under our Investment Management Agreements. We have never been the subject of a bankruptcy petition.
